WALKING OFF THE EDGE.—A Yankee, who went over to the mother country some time ago, who was asked, on coming back, how he liked Great Britain:—'Well, he said, England was a very nice country, exceedingly fertile, well cultivated, very populous and very wealthy; but,' said the Yankee, 'I never liked to take a morning walk after breakfast, because the country is so small that I was always afraid of walking off the edge.'

No man can avoid his own company, so he had better make it as good as possible. Does a man consider a woman a poem when she is a verse to him?

AN INTELLIGENT CHILD.—We are far from being fond of those children vulgarly called 'phenomena,' of whatever nature their celebrity may be. But we love above all things those sparkling and bright natures, those charming little childish aptitudes so full of truth, of grace, and freshness. Thus, the other day, Mr. M.—had invited his doctor to dine. As dinner was being served, a beautiful little blue-eyed girl exclaimed: 'Oh! I am so glad when you come to dinner, doctor!'

'You are very fond of me, then, my child?' inquired the doctor. 'Oh! no; but we always have pie when you come!'

Even Tom Hood is inexcusable for such a description of music as this: Heaven reward the man who first hit upon the very original notion of sawing the inside of a cat with the tail of a horse.

'I like to be cheerful,' said an old publican one day, 'and so I sit in the churchyard here, on the top of a gravestone, and I feel glad that I am alive.'

A shopkeeper purchased an Irish woman a quantity of butter, the lumps of which intended for pounds, he weighed in the balance and found wanting. 'Sure, it's yer own fault if they are light,' said Biddy, in reply to the complaints of the buyer; 'it's yer own fault, sir; for wasn't it with a pound of yer own soap I bought here that I weighed them!'

PLEASANT.—Nervous Gentleman: 'Don't you think, Robert, going so fast down hill is very likely to make the horse fall?' Robert: 'Lor bless yer, no, sir! I never throwed oss down in my life, 'cept once; and that was one frosty moonlight night, (just such a night as this it was), as I was a-drivin' a gent (as might be you) from the station, when I throwed down this werry oss, in this werry identical place!'

Better black boots than characters; but by far the largest number is engaged in the latter.

Idleness is hard work for those who are not used to it, and dull work for those who are.

Relatives take the greatest liberties and give the least assistance. A bad sign, to sign your name to another man's note.

What a comedy of grief is that performed by sympathetic undertakers. Their motto should be, 'Hearse and Rehearse.' Those who weep over errors are not formed for crimes.

The paper having the largest circulation—the paper of tobacco. An old bachelor is a traveler on life's railroad who has entirely failed to make the proper connections.

How to Know a Goose.—'Mother, mother!' cried a young rook, returning hurriedly from its first flight, 'I'm so frightened! I've seen such a sight!'

'What sight, my son?' asked the rook. 'Oh, white creatures, screaming and running and straining their necks, and holding their heads ever so high? See, mother, there they go!'

'Geese, my son, merely geese,' calmly replied the parent bird, looking over the common. 'Through life, child, observe that when you meet any one who makes a great fuss about himself, and tries to lift his head higher than the rest of the world, you may set him down at once for a goose.'

PUNCTUALITY.—Thousands have failed in life from not being punctual. It is not only a serious vice in itself, but it is the fruitful parent of numerous other vices, so that he who becomes the victim of it gets involved in toils from which it is almost impossible to escape.

It makes the merchant wasteful of time; it saps the business reputation of the lawyer, and it injures the prospect of the mechanic, who might otherwise rise to fortune. In a word, there is not a profession, nor a station in life, which is not liable to the canker of the destructive habit. Many and many a time has the failure of one man to meet his obligations brought on the ruin of others. Thousands remain poor all their lives, who, if they were more faithful in their words, would secure a large run of custom, and so make their fortunes. Be punctual if you would succeed.

DYING.—There is dignity about that going away alone, we call dying—that wrapping the mantle of immortality about us; that putting aside with a pale hand the azure curtains that are drawn around this cradle of a world; that venturing away from home for the first time in our lives; for we are not dead—there is nothing dead to speak of, and we only go off seeing foreign countries not laid down on the map we know about.

There must be lovely lands somewhere starward, for none ever return that go thither, and we very much doubt if any would if they could.

It was a storm that occasioned the discovery of the gold mines in India. Hath not a storm driven some to the discovery of the richer mines of the love of God in Christ?

Kind words are among the brightest flowers of earth. Three things to think about—life, death, and eternity. A word of kindness is seldom spoken in vain.

Agriculture.

Management of Cows in Winter.

A correspondence of the Agriculturalist inquires: "When cows are stabled nights in winter, how long should they be allowed to remain in the yard during the day?" This depends a good deal on the weather, and also on the food and weather the cows are expected to give milk or not. When the object is to obtain milk in winter, if water is supplied in the stable we would seldom turn them out at all. And if necessary to turn them out to water, we would let them out twice a day, say for ten or fifteen minutes. Cows like to be humored a little in regard to watering. They will not drink as readily as a horse. They should be allowed plenty of time. When cows are not giving milk and it is desirable to have them eat coarse fodder, they should be turned out for several hours during the day. They will eat this class of fodder much better in the yard than in the stable. Judgment, however, should be exercised. If the weather is stormy, they will be better in the stable, and at all times, if they seem cold and are not eating or enjoying themselves, let them be immediately tied up. Let the stable be well ventilated and cleaned out twice a day, and made as dry and comfortable as possible. The great defect in most stables is in not having sufficient ventilation. The ventilators should be so arranged that they can easily be adjusted to suit the weather. Make it a rule to visit the stable before retiring for the night, and see that everything is right.

CARE OF THE COWS.—One would think that any kind-hearted man, when he sees how grateful this operation is to a cow, would be willing to spend a few moments daily in carding her. It pays as well to clean a cow as a horse. All who have fairly tried it find great benefit from the operation. And yet not one farmer in a hundred makes it a practice to use the card or curry-comb in the cow-stable. We know stupid men who laugh at the idea as a mere notion of some fancy farmer. But, in point of fact, no cow can give the best results at the pail unless this matter is attended to especially in winter.

Established 1845. NEW YORK LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

Assets, January 1st, 1868, Over Ten Million Dollars! PRESIDENT: MORRIS FRANKLIN, ESQ., Vice President and Actuary: WILLIAM H. BEERS, JR. HEAD OFFICE 112 & 114 Broadway, N. Y. General Agent for the Dominion of Canada: WALTER BURKE, Esq., Herald Buildings, Montreal.

The New York Life Insurance Company IS ONE OF THE OLDEST INSTITUTIONS OF THE kind in America, having been chartered in the year 1841, and commenced business in May, 1845. During the twenty-three years of its existence, it has issued policies upon the lives of more than Fifty Thousand Persons, and has paid in losses $5,000,000 to the families and representatives of those who have deceased while members of the Company.

Annual Income EXCEEDS Four Million Dollars. A SAFE INVESTMENT.

The instances are many within the experience of every Life Insurance Company, in which the proceeds of a Policy has saved from poverty the survivors of those who have thus made provision for their wants in the times of prosperity and health. A wife may insure the life of her husband for her own benefit, and should she survive him, the amount of the insurance will be payable to her free from any claims against his estate; and in case of the death of the wife before that of the husband, the amount of the insurance may be made payable to her children.

THE COMPANY DECLARES ANNUAL CASH DIVIDENDS, which are available in payment of each Annual Premium. All the insured in this Company receive dividends which can be used in part of the second and each subsequent Annual Premium thereafter; or the dividend may be allowed to accumulate, and subsequently used in whole or in part in the payment of Premiums. The business of the Company being PURELY MUTUAL, each member pays only the average cost of insurance, all surplus being annually returned to the Policy holders. (Companies having a Stock Capital usually retain a large portion for the Stockholders.) The Dividends paid to Policy holders exceed $3,000,000.

Endowment Assurance Policies. These Policies are coming into general request. As a sure and profitable investment for one's declining years, they deserve the attention of all. The sum secured by an ordinary life policy becomes available upon the death of the assured; or the Endowment plan the amount is received by the assured himself upon his attaining a specified age, while full provision is made for death occurring prior thereto.

THE NON-FORFEITURE PLAN. This company originated and introduced the valuable feature known as the Non-Forfeiture Plan, which is rapidly superseding the old system of life long payments, and has revolutionized the system of Life Insurance in the United States, and which has been adopted generally by a less favorable form by all Life Companies. A party, by this table, after the second year, cannot forfeit any part of what has been paid in.

Tables of Rates, Circulars, Examples of Dividends, Forms, &c., can be had by applying to the Agent, at Charlottetown.

INK. INK. INK. CARTER'S Combined Writing & Copying INK!

THIS COMBINATION INK has been awarded the highest premiums over all others in the United States, and pronounced by the most celebrated Chemists the best ink ever offered to the public. It is used in many of the largest commercial houses, Banks, Railroads, and other Corporations, and gives perfect satisfaction. The Advantages of this over other Inks, are: FIRST.—It flows freely from the pen, and does not thicken by exposure to the air. SECOND.—It will give a perfect and instantaneous copy. THIRD.—It will not mould. FOURTH.—Being equally as good for copy in as for Book-keeping, it entirely does away with the use of two kinds of ink. FIFTH.—It is more permanent than common Inks. SIXTH.—The color, when first written, is a beautiful dark green, but in a remarkably short time it changes to a brilliant jet black—not a brownish black. SEVENTH.—It is admirably adapted to the most delicate writing, and always 'makes its mark.' The Ink is warranted to flow as freely as any other writing fluid now in use; to give as perfect a copy as any copying Ink; and not to mould. This Ink is for sale at HARVIE'S BOOKSTORE, Queen Street, Ch'town, Nov 4, '68.
