SHUTDOWN

Drake refused to order her to return, saying the demand was too late. Iran was reported to have a naval school nearby but Britain was known to have at least two sloops and perhaps a cruiser just outside.

Nothing happened, but Hussein Makki, spokesman for the Iranian Oil Commission, said the Dolabella "never again will be permitted to enter an Iranian port."

An A.I.O.C. spokesman said a "men tanker has been tied up at the Abadan docks since Saturday morning because of a dispute over the form of receipts.

If the shipping tieup continues for several more days, the limited tank capacity on shore would be filled up and the refinery would have to shut down.

SUGGESTION

(Continued from page 1) North Koreans invaded South Korea. The U. S. State Department said in a statement it is ready to do its share if Malik's proposal "is more than propaganda." In London, a Foreign Office spokesman said the Malik offer, if genuine, is what Britain and many others desire. He said if Malik's sentiments are shared by the Chinese and North Koreans "then we may hope that it may be possible to make progress towards bringing the fighting to an end."

Moscow's two official newspapers, Pravda and Izvestia, printed Malik's text in full without comment—underscoring that the Malik statement is a high-policy declaration of the Kremlin.

Reaction at Front Fighting men on the front in Korea were both hopeful and skeptical. However, soldiers of the 25th Canadian Brigade were reported to have greeted the news of Malik's proposal with a jubilant "yipee."

At Ottawa, officials of the External Affairs Department termed the proposal "very interesting" but added that "we always look for the joker in Soviet statements." At the end of a 15-minute speech made up largely of the usual Soviet attacks on the West-

Nine Employees Laid Off At Bruce Stewart Co.

Nine local men were reported to have been laid off at the firm of Bruce Stewart Co. Ltd., at noon today. It was intimated that the men would be re-hired when the planned work at the plant expands.

The firm, it is learned, is discontinuing its plumbing practices and will concentrate on ship building and foundry work. The men received notice that due to overhead and unproductive work they were being discharged. Eight of the nine men are said to be married.

ern Powers, Malik said the Soviet people believe the Korean war can be settled. "The Soviet people believe that as a first step discussions should be started between the belligerents providing for the mutual withdrawal of forces from the 38th parallel," he said. "Can such a step be taken? I think it can provided there is a sincere desire to put an end to the bloody fighting in Korea. I think that, surely, is not too great a price to pay in order to achieve peace in Korea."

for settling the Korean conflict, Russia and the Soviet-bloc countries have always included the conditions of Communist Chinese membership in the U. N., turning Formosa over to Red China, withdrawal of U. N. forces from Korea, and that Russia and Red China be among the participants in any parity.

No Reference To Chinese This time Malik made no reference to Chinese troops in Korea—who claim to be merely "volunteers." This led to the belief that Malik in this reference to "belligerents" was proposing a conference between the U. N. and the North Koreans.

Lie said in his statement today that a cease-fire would be the first step to Korean peace. It should involve only the military arrangements necessary to stop the fighting and ensure against its renewal, he said. Then, Lie promised, the political issues involved in a final Korean peace settlement could be argued inside the U. N.

Red Cross Council Meets

One of the three meetings each year of the P. E. I. Divisional Council, Canadian Red Cross Society, was held at the Society's Headquarters on Thursday with the President, Judge G. L. Lewis in the chair. Several representatives of the Summerside Branch were welcomed to the meeting along with the Charlottetown members.

The highlight of the meeting was a very comprehensive report of the annual meeting of the Central Council, Canadian Red Cross Society given and prepared by Mrs. E. M. Bagnall who was one of the province's two official representatives at this meeting.

All reports of the Standing Committees read revealed that the Society's many activities in the province are being well maintained.

The 1951 Campaign Report presented by Mr. E. C. Johnstone was a little more optimistic and showed that $22,000 has been received to date with a considerable number of districts, especially in Prince County, to make returns.

It was revealed that 315 persons had participated in 14 First Aid Classes and 238 of these passed the required tests at the conclusion of these classes. At the present time there are 17 prospective Swimming and Water Safety Instructors receiving training at the annual Instructors' School which will go on for the next ten days. It was regretted that so few of the centres have sent in applicants for this training.

The Blood Donor Committee report pointed out that although 990 donors registered at the recent clinics this actually produced just 965 bottles of blood (the remainder were either haemoglobin or medical rejects). When the province's indebtedness of some 150 is subtracted this leaves just 800 bottles to do for the next three months. It is hoped there will not be as heavy usage during the summer months and that in this way there may be a balance for the use of the armed services overseas and to stockpile for civilian defence since the Red Cross is now obliged to provide this by the Department of National Defence.

Junior Red Cross has made a slight gain in the number of Branches enrolled during the school year 1950-51. There are now 624 Branches representing 88 per cent of the classrooms in the province.

Those in attendance at the meeting of the Council were shown the thousands of finished garments now being packed by the Women's Work Committee for shipment to Lebanon and Greece where they will be distributed by the League of Red Cross Societies. These garments are the sewing of the winter's work of sewing and knitting done by many women's groups throughout the province, but particularly by members.

of the Women's Institutes. They will be greatly appreciated by the destitute children who will receive them.

At the Crippled Children's Clinics held early in June, 115 children reported for examination and several children were admitted to hospital for treatment.

Nursing services reported a great many articles of sick room supplies on loan in all parts of the province with a great demand for hospital beds, wheel-chairs and crutches.
