ELLEN'S DIARY

Mack Girls His Calf - To See If She Gains

"How do you like this day?" Jeanie asked, calling to us across the yard this morning. She was spreading Alex's small pieces of wash, more colorful now than as Granddaughter reported smilingly the other day, "he's not a baby any more! He is wearing sweater and overalls now."

"It's lovely!" we replied.

"It's good to see the sun again!" she commented. "We haven't seen much of it of late."

A cat of our company of them, strolled by on a path, a cue for the parcel of sparrows to rise as one creature from the low herbarium bush where they had been posing with pleasing effect, and in a wind of beating wings, seek the safer heights of a roof above. "Ha, fooled you that time" the cat grinned looking after them, "I have other-and better fish to fry this morning!"

"Changes the face of the day, doesn't it?" we offered to Jeanie. Now with the sunlight which had broken through the gray of the morning in a pleasant surprise,

BALTIC W.I.

On Tuesday evening, February 4th, 1958, the members of Baltic W.I. met at the home of Mrs. Keir Crafer with eight members and one visitor present. The meeting opened by singing the "Ode" and repeating the Creed in unison. Roll call was answered by naming one's favorite winter sport.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. It was moved and seconded that the following bills be paid: Attendance prizes $1.38, Treats $1.00, Apples and bags $3.50, Capsules $4.00, Fruit bills $1.00.

Correspondence was read and discussed, and the Institute News was distributed.

Mr. Keir Crafer is going to canvas the district for the Red Cross. Considerable discussion arose regarding the hooking of three mats $4.10 was realized from the sale of remnants.

Mrs. Keir Crafer and Mrs. Bruce Crozier were in charge of the program for the evening, and a "Bean guessing contest" and a "song puzzle and sing" brought much laughter.

Meeting closed by singing The Queen. A delicious lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Bruce Riley. Next meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Gordon Cousins.

ORWELL HEAD W.M.S.

The February meeting of the Orwell Head W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. S.A. MacLeod. It members answered roll call. Mrs. Jack MacLean, president, led the devotional period, which consisted of hymns, prayers, scripture reading, followed by a discussion on Philippians 3:1-16.

A reading by Mrs. Jack MacLean, assisted by Mrs. M.F. MacLeod, "What Does God Require of You?" was very much enjoyed. The Friendship Secretary gave her report on Hospital and Home Calls, Card and treats to shut-ins and sick. Mrs. M.F. MacLeod and Mrs. Jack MacLean attended the Presbyterian annual executive meeting, bringing back news and ideas which will be an inspiration to greater things in the future, not the least of which is the auxiliary gift-boxes.

Plans were made for the World Day of Prayer program to be held at the home of Mrs. Edison MacLeod. Mrs. Hudson Music invited the members to her home for the March meeting, at which meeting each member is expected to have her square for the Afghan.

40 LIFE SENTENCES

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—A military court has given life sentences to 40 conspirators in the abortive plot last spring to overthrow King Hussein's government. Four other defendants were acquitted in the mass trial which ended Tuesday at Nablus and two were given 15 years in prison.

HAPPENINGS

The Xi Chapter Beta Sigma Phi, met at the home of Miss Marion Shaw on Wednesday evening. The meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Myron Bell gave a most interesting paper on Italian art this was followed by an equally interesting one on the crafts and sculpture of that country.

It was decided at the meeting to buy two remote control educational cars for use at the school for retarded children. Lunch was served by Mrs. L.E. Wellner and Mrs. P.M. Simmonds, assisted by the hostess.

Mrs. Percy Sharam and Mrs. W.E. Scantlebury entertained on Monday afternoon at the Scantlebury residence in honor of their niece, Miss Irene Giddings, R.N. whose marriage takes place St. Valentine's Day.

The dining-room table was really lovely. The linen table cloth had been purchased in Ireland by Mrs. Scantlebury during a visit there. The cloth is beautifully hand-embroidered in yellow and mauve pansies. A low crystal and silver bowl filled with yellow and mauve baby mums centered the table. Lighted tapers to match enhanced the setting. The flowers in the living-room were large yellow and mauve mums.

Receiving with Mrs. Sharam and Mrs. Scantlebury was the bride elect's eighty-six year old grandmother, Mrs. T.L. Cooke of Murray River. Mrs. E.S. Giddings, the mother, assisted her sisters, Mrs. D.M. McKinnon, aunt, poured tea. Assisting at this happy family party for Irene, her friends and her family's friends were the Misses Margaret and Rebecca Giddings, Misses Emma and Joan Sharam, Mrs. George Scantlebury Mrs. Tom Scantlebury and a personal friend, Mrs. Grace McKinnon.

Mr. and Mrs. R.C. Parent are entertaining at their residence, Ravenwood, Thursday, February 13th, at a Valentine Party formal dance.

Mrs. F.H. Barlow, wife of the eminent Toronto jurist Hon. Mr. Justice Barlow, who has visited this province several times in the company of her husband is keeping up her busy life. Mrs. Barlow, a leader in social and club activities in Toronto, last week entertained her study club (now thirty five years as a group) at a buffet supper at her residence Oak Lyn, 50 Forest Hill Road. Miss Enid Walker spoke on her recent two year trip to Africa and the Far East.

Mrs. Barlow entertained one hundred of her friends at the Granite Club recently at luncheon. On this occasion Mrs. J. Keiller MacKay, wife of the new lieutenant-governor of Ontario, received with Mrs. Barlow, Mrs. Barlow's friends then had the opportunity to greet Mrs. MacKay.

Mr. and Mrs. W.D. Tanton and Mrs. L.H. Arbing, City, were passengers to Moncton in their private plane piloted by their son, Darold. They were attending the funeral of their uncle, the late Wallace Duke.

Miss Georgina Collins was the guest of honor at a small dinner party given by her friends at the Queen Hotel Saturday evening. The occasion was Miss Collins' birthday.

Mrs. Augustine Cormier of the Magdalen Islands is registered at the Queen Hotel. Mrs. Cormier has been having some treatment at the Charlottetown Hospital. Mrs. Cormier was the former Miss Lynn Sullivan whose parents came from Prince Edward Island.

Mr. Joseph G. Kays and Mr. Joe Jabour have returned from a two weeks visit to relatives and friends in the United States. They visited Detroit, Rapid City, Toledo, Cleveland, Lowell and Boston. Although the trip was most enjoyable the weather was very bad.

Hon. Mr. Justice Barlow and Mrs. Barlow leave later on for a short trip South.

Mr. J.H. Currie, Provincial chairman of the Air Cadet League of Canada and Mr. G.M. Mullholland, national director of the Air Cadet League of Canada left Monday, Feb. 10th, to attend the annual meeting of the League to be held at the Seigneurie Club at Montebello, Quebec. They will return Friday.

Mrs. Thomas Hannon, Toronto, arrived by plane recently and is registered at the Queen Hotel. Mrs. Hannon is here to see her father Mr. Jerome MacDonald, Souris East, who is a patient in the Charlottetown Hospital.

MARY HAWORTH

"Turn The Other Cheek"

Dear Mary Haworth — My brother is 15 and I am 16. He is getting to be a real problem and frequently has the house in an uproar.

Although he goes to a good school and receives fair marks, he walks around the house talking very ignorantly and without thinking. He has absolutely no consideration for other people's feelings and acts like a five-year-old.

He becomes very irritated when anyone tries to correct his mannerisms and violently rejects any good advice. He is snappy; answers my parents back and must always have the last word.

He loves to tease both our smaller brother and me and often wears himself out trying to make us mad. If his teasing doesn't work, he then begins to throw his body around; he's five feet '0 and weighs 130 pounds—and that is when the real trouble begins.

Should I stand up to him, he takes on a tough guy attitude. And if he sees I am still facing up to him, he becomes very pugilistic. All I have to do is lift one finger to him and he gets enraged, shouts threats at the top of his voice and generally acts violent. He often loses his head so much that he actually shoves mother aside, to get at me.

The whole household is disgusted with his childish violent attitudes; and our mother is sick with aggravation. I really think he needs a doctor. But meanwhile I would like to have your opinion. Thank you, R. R.

ELUSIVE TACTICS

Dear R. R.—There is an old saying: "It takes two to make a quarrel." And the Scriptures abound in suggestions for preventing strife. For example we are told "Agree with thine adversary quickly, whilst thou art in the way with him..." (Meaning don't let anger carry over; deal it then and there.)

Also we are advised to "turn the other cheek"—which, freely translated, means don't strike back. Rather try to bear the bad actor's misbehavior with good grace, and with charity of mind, without losing your poise.

As for how to put these precepts into practise—the operation is quite simple. When your brother is trying to pick a fight, stir up trouble, get a rise out of people, etc., by needing their feelings, the family ought to give him the silent treatment. They shouldn't give him the satisfaction of a noisy exchange. They should ignore him.

It would be a good protective mechanism, practically guaranteed to keep him from getting under your skin. Also it would be a powerful squelch; because as someone (was it Chesterton?) has said: "Silence is the unbearable retort—" when dealing with injustice or malice.

LESSONS IN JUDO

Your brother couldn't get your goat with his "last word" if you didn't give him a chance as dialogue. As for what to do when he starts throwing his bulk around — Why doesn't somebody in the household take a few lessons in judo, and get in shape to loss him on his ear?

The other afternoon I watched a student of judo — a muscular young man—show a few tricks to a trio of girls. And in a half hour's time, the learners had him off balance, and reeling.

Success with judo isn't a matter of beef or brawn, but of practised know-how. It is a form of self-defence that girls and younger brothers and sisters of bulky types would do well to acquire. I am sure you could find classes in judo instruction, in the big town through which you write.

It is unfortunate that your mother can't take charge of the situation with real authority. To be sick with aggravation, when adolescents are misbehaving, instead of belting them into line with moral vigor, is a pretty sad showing in the role of parent. If your brother continues to be a disciplinary problem on the home front, he ought to be sent to a good military school—and taught to obey orders and keep his neck in. M. H.
