Council Sits This Morning

With a provincial election today taking the attention of most citizens, civic authorities have had to make some adjustments regarding the holding of the regular monthly meeting of City Council scheduled for today.

Tentative plans call for the holding of the meeting at 9 a.m. instead of 7 p.m., in the belief that a majority of the members would like to be at home to receive the returns.

Another factor is that several members are actively interested in politics in other than civic fields and will be taking a part in today's proceedings.

Ayrshire Cow Tops In Class

An Ayrshire cow owned by Willard Prowse, Brackley, was the class leader in this province in production with the abnormally high breed class averages of 183 in both milk and butter fat which should rate her close to the top in Canada, it was learned over the weekend from James Williams, Ayrshire fieldman for the province.

Greendale Elizabeth Ann produced 12,544 pounds milk, 520 fat for an average of 4.19 per cent. She is sired by a bull from the Wilfred Furness and Son herd at Vernon Bridge.

The heifer calved in May in 1961 and hit a top of slightly more than 70 pounds milk, calved in May again this year and was milking 70 pounds per day and more through the summer, Mr. Williams reported.

City Native Is Author Of N.B. History

A native of Charlottetown, W. Stewart MacNutt, Fredericton, N.B. has written a history of the province of New Brunswick. It is titled "New Brunswick: A History 1784-1867."

Mr. MacNutt is the son of Major T.E. MacNutt of Charlottetown.

The book has been referred to as the only one to bring together the history of pre-Confederation New Brunswick in such a skilful and scholarly way and so brilliantly portrayed important political figures of the era.

"The whole history is mainly concerned with the province's political development, but valuable material on social and economic development is also included," one reviewer has stated.

Notre Dame Home, School To Purchase Record Player

At the regular meeting of the Notre Dame Home and School Association held last week, it was decided to purchase a record player to go with the new sound system for the auditorium. It will be in the auditorium for the Christmas concert.

A summary of the semi-annual meeting which was held in Morell last month was given by Miss Catherine Bolger of the high school staff.

Some of the high schools girls presented a program of singing. They were Miss Margaret MacIntyre, Judith Murphy, Sylvia Philips, Rosalia Murphy, Patricia Lappin, Melvina Phalen danced the Highland Fling.

Eric Kipping, chairman of the national community life committee, explained the general work of the committee on the local and provincial levels. He mentioned the role of the woman in community life and said that about 80 per cent were inactive in community efforts, quoting from a report given in Toronto last year. A discussion followed Mr. Kipping's talk.

Discussed were two questions he left with the association: the advantages and disadvantages of a longer school year for the Charlottetown schools, and in what way is the problem of school drop - outs a community problem?

Funeral Held For Princess In Holland

DELFT, The Netherlands (Reuters) — A simple, all-white funeral ceremony was held here Saturday for Princess Wilhelmina, Holland's ruler for 50 years who died 10 days ago at the age of 82.

The body of the "mother of the fatherland" was carried in a plain oak coffin down to the royal crypt of the flower-filled 14th-century "new church," to lie with those of her ancestors of the House of Orange.

The coffin was brought from the Hague, where the princess had lain in state since Tuesday. It was carried in a white-draped hearse, drawn by eight white-clothed and hooded horses, and flanked by four white ostrich plumes.

In accordance with a request by the late princess, only one wreath was allowed on the hearse. This was a huge mass of lilies and chrysanthemums from the Dutch resistance movement which fought against the Nazis.

Some 2,700 mourners crowded the church, headed by Queen Juliana, Wilhelmina's daughter who became queen on her mother's abdiction in 1948.

The church was decorated with 3,000 white carnations, 8,000 chrysanthemums, and 1,500 hyacinths.

More Bodies Seen In Mine

CARMICHAELS, Pa. (AP) — Rescue workers Sunday night sighted the bodies of two more miners 650 feet underground, several hours after they recovered the bodies of four others from a U.S. Steel Corporation mine.

Still missing were 30 of the 37 miners who were entombed by a violent explosion last Thursday in the Robena No. 3 mine, 50 miles southwest of Pittsburgh.

The discovery of the bodies brought to seven the number of known dead. The first victim was taken out Saturday.

James Girod, an assistant general superintendent of U.S. Steel Corporation's Frick district, said rescue workers were encountering fewer fires as they advanced toward the working face of the mine. He said absence of fires indicated a lack of oxygen.

The recovered bodies were identified as Albert Cavalcante, 48; Paul C. Zvolenski, 40, father of seven; John E. Martonclk Jr., 45, the father of one; and Arthur Labons, 37.
