Watch Tower Meet Due In Montague

MONTAGUE — Martin MacPherson, presiding minister of the Montague congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, has announced that the Montague Regional High School has been engaged as the site of the next Watch Tower convention.

The three-day semi-annual assembly scheduled for next weekend, Sept. 24 to 26, will draw delegates from all six congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses on the Island—from Alberton to Fortune. The program will be held around the theme "Increase Our Praise to Jehovah."

Mr. MacPherson, convention manager, is also in charge of the rooming department and will have to find accommodation for many of the 170 delegates. Guest speaker will be Levi Wall of Toronto who recently addressed over 3,100 delegates, 80 being from the Island, at a district convention held in Saint John, N.B.

Mr. Elliott spoke during the first plenary session of the three-day convention that ends today. The board of directors held closed meetings Monday.

The principal said little can be done to overcome some educational inequalities unless "some method is devised of providing financial assistance from the federal treasury."

"I feel that our inability to do this hampers our national growth," Mr. Elliott told about 125 superintendents and inspectors. But he said education should continue to be a provincial matter and that provinces must design a school program "that will develop the potentialities represented in a wide range of differences among pupils."

CASSI is meeting in conjunction with the 42nd annual convention of the Canadian Education Association which opens general sessions today.

Superintendents and inspectors, many of whom will also attend the CEA convention, Tuesday elected G. F. Sypher of Gagetown, N.B., as president. He succeeds Michael Ewanchuk of Winnipeg.

Dr. R. F. Sharp of Vancouver was named president-elect, and regional vice-presidents include Dr. F. C. Gathercole of Saskatoon; D. J. Wilson, Port Credit, Ont.; and D. W. Simpson of the northern affairs and natural resources department's education division in Ottawa. Re-elected as executive secretary was R. H. Wallace of Toronto.

THREAT OF

Kashmir from developing into a broader war between India and China.

China last Friday gave India 72 hours to dismantle 56 alleged military outposts on the Sikkim-claimed territory on the Sikkim frontier. On Sunday, Peking extended the deadline another three days.

Another deadline came from the UN Security Council. It demanded a ceasefire in the India-Pakistan fighting by 3 a.m. EDT (4 a.m. ADT) today. The council hinted at economic penalties and force if the combatants rejected the demand.

In New York, diplomats discussed the possibility of an emergency pre-dawn session of the Security Council on the India-Pakistan dispute. Pakistani Foreign Minister Zulfikar Ali Bhutto was due in New York possibly with his government's reply to the ceasefire order.

Prime Minister Shastri of India notified the United Nations Monday that India was ready to order a ceasefire if Pakistan does likewise.

The Peking broadcast said the Indian troops destroyed all 56 military works, apparently satisfying the Chinese ultimatum. The official New China news agency, quoted by Peking Radio, said:

"The Indian government has resorted in the last few days to various methods in a vain attempt to destroy the evidence of its crimes and to escape responsibility for its intrusions and building of many military works in Chinese territory."

Many diplomatic observers had predicted the Chinese might bring the crisis to the boiling point, then make an 11th hour announcement they consider their terms met. By saying India had destroyed or pulled back the intruding outposts, Peking could claim a triumph over the No. 2 Asian country without actually going to war.

Mao Tse-tung's regime has been an eager spectator to the India-Pakistan fighting, openly supporting the Pakistani claims on Kashmir and repeatedly protesting Indian "aggression."

India disclosed its troops pulled back in Sikkim in a protest handed to the Chinese embassy in New Delhi. The note said Chinese troops fired on Indian outposts in two mountain passes Monday and Tuesday, but rather than provoke incidents the Indians withdrew.

The note described India as "gravely concerned" by these premeditated acts of aggression and provocation and demanded of the Chinese they "stop these military intrusions."

A company of Chinese troops backed up by a battalion moved forward in the Dongchu Pass Monday morning and attempted to encircle an Indian observation post, the note said. The Indians pulled back and the Chinese have since occupied 800 yards of Sikkim territory, the note said.

India charged that Chinese troops fired Tuesday across the Nathu Pass, another old caravan route through the Himalayas between Red-rud Tibet and an Indian protectorate of Sikkim. Again the Indians withdrew—this time 300 yards—to avoid an incident, the note said.

In Pakistan, mobs attacked U.S. property in a wave of anger arising from U.S. support of the UN ceasefire motion and President Johnson's announced neutrality in the Kashmir dispute.

About 10,000 demonstrators ripped a United Nations flag and set fire to the U.S. Information Service library in Karachi. Offices of several airlines, including Pan American, also were attacked. Firemen and police dispersed the mobs and put out the flames.

Similar outbreaks were reported in Lahore, Pakistan's second city.

"Our cause is just and the world must take cognizance of the facts," Bhutto told reporters in Karachi before leaving for New York for the 20th session of the UN General Assembly. "This is not a time for decisions of expediency; we are fighting for our life."

While Chinese moves toward Sikkim and the Ladakh sector of Kashmir, 1,000 miles away, diverted attention from the Indian-Pakistan fighting, both sides made new claims of air victories.

For a while the Chinese pressure raised an important military question: Whether to strengthen its forces in the Himalayas to confront the menacing Chinese or to use Indian troops for a sustained drive against Pakistan in the three-week Kashmir conflict.

Nationalist Chinese intelligence estimated 100,000 Red Chinese troops ready to spring into action against India in the top-of-the-world region.

Her production in the 365-day division amounted to 23,000 pounds milk, 835 pounds butterfat. The BCAs are not listed in the Journal in this division.

Mr. Hall and other members of his staff advised the board not to close the school or to involve members of the staff or student body in the controversy, raging between the ratepayers and the government.

and the school was closed all day yesterday.

STORM

Mr. and Mrs. Turney Merritt reported watching their barn flattened as a pickup truck turned and over in the yard, finally coming to rest on the barn wreckage. Their home was moved three feet off its foundation and all of its windows were broken.

Electricity was restored to the area about four hours after the storm struck. Telephone communications were still out late Tuesday night.

Illie Rioux of Grand Falls, N.B., a spokesman for the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission, said the storm's path "lay approximately 10 miles south of Grand Falls and it was heading east-southeast when it appeared to die at Medford. Our reports indicated that it never came to life again."

A transport department weather office spokesman in Saint John, N.B., said storms of this type are caused by cumulonimbus cloud formations—heavy thunderstorm clouds which can cause hail, rain and severe winds in a small area. Activity in connection with such storms often reaches heights of 30,000 to 40,000 feet, he said.

The spokesman said thunderstorm activity had been recorded and traced by the weather office at Fredericton airport.

A young French River girl, Grace Brander, was fined $25 and costs or 30 days in Prince County jail after being arrested for loitering early yesterday.

This is the second incident in which the girl has been involved in recent weeks and Magistrate Hinton recalled that on the previous occasion she had been ordered to remain away from the town.

He made the same stipulations and told the accused that if she is caught again in the town she will receive a term in jail. The Magistrate ordered the commitment withheld subject to the approval of the police chief.

A resident of Freetown and a Summerside man were each fined $30 and costs on charges of drunkenness.

Parkdale Firemen On Bunbury Call

The Parkdale Fire brigade was called to Bunbury last evening about 6:20 where a vacant farm house on the Mason Road was on fire.

A spokesman for the department said the house, which was owned by William MacCarron, was destroyed and all that remained was the foundation. The fire was allowed to burn itself out as the firemen kept a watchful eye on other homes in the area, saving their water for possible fires which might have started from hot cinders.

United Fund Campaign Gets Start In Alberton

ALBERTON — The 1965 United Fund Campaign got off to a good start at Alberton Monday evening when canvassers for the regional high school area held their organization meeting at the Legion Home.

Campaign chairman, Mrs. A. C. Green, asked canvassers to remember that they are not collecting for a fund or a group of agencies but for people who have great need of the services provided by the agencies which United Fund represents.

She made mention of some of the services rendered to people in need of blood transfusions; the sick at home who need hospital beds, wheelchairs and crutches; young people who need to learn water safety and who also need the programs provided by scouts and guides; unwed mothers who need help; unhappy families who need counselling; people who need help in retaining or regaining mental health; the blind; orphans and people who suffer from crippling diseases like polio, multiple sclerosis and cerebral palsy; men and women who have been released from prison and need friendship and guidance.

KEEP PERSONAL TOUCH "We all know people in some of these categories," she said, "and so we have first hand knowledge of some of the things done with money given to United Fund. If the campaign is short the agencies will have to cut their work. It is important to keep the personal touch. By giving to United Fund, people are helping people."

The objective set for Alberton Regional High School area is $2,400. The aim is "Over The Top."

A giant thermometer has been placed on the north side of Myrick's Store to record the pace of giving.

Through the courtesy of Mayor Roy Leard, a television set was installed at the Legion Home to permit viewing of the program in which Reuben Baetz of Ottawa, executive director of the Canadian Welfare Council, spoke to the people of Prince Edward Island as the United Fund Campaign was being launched.

At the conclusion of the meeting, publicity chairman, E.D. MacKinnon expressed appreciation to members of the Legion Auxiliary who had provided refreshments.
