Correspondence.

We do not hold ourselves responsible for the statements or opinions of our correspondents.

Letter from Mr. Robert Shaw, M. P. P.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

Sir,—Your correspondent "Spectator" deserves a gentle reply. The altercation between Mr. Campbell, and myself, was sharp, short and decisive. It was settled, as I thought, there and then. The game of personal abuse, however, is one at which two can play; and perhaps I can take a hand when occasion requires it. The principal is responsible for the acts of his agent, and Mr. Campbell I am sure will not regret his champion.
You have, doubtless, heard of the remark that those who live in glass houses, should never throw stones; and good old Butler in his Hudibras, describes a certain class of persons as those "Who compound for sins they are inclined to,
By damning those they have no mind to."
There are many persons by no means immaculate "as worthy as the ruffian, the rone or the blackguard. Your correspondent makes an allusion to mine." David did the same in the 40th Psalm. Perhaps Mr.
Campbell will draw the distinction between the mire and the bog. The words are by no means synonymous.
Yours truly,
R. SHAW.

Cruelty to Animals.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

Sir,—I have no desire to paint W. P.
Taylor in any other light than he has colored himself, and only wish that the facts were such as to justify me in clearing him of the charge of beating a horse with a chain on King Square, Hillsboro' street and vicinity, in the manner described in Friday's issue of THE EXAMINER. I may remark that he was either in such a rage at the time of the occurrence that he knew not what he did, or the statement made over his signature in a letter written by him and published in your issue of yesterday, that he emphatically and indignantly denies and is ready to prove false by unequivocal evidences, the charge of cruelty to a horse, is an unblushing falsehood. I prefer to believe that the former was the case. Many respectable parties and citizens witnessed the scene. The information I received was from reliable sources.
Mr. Taylor, to the contrary, I affirm that the horse does not hold marks caused by being beaten with a chain, but they would not be easily distinguishable as it would make a general swelling. I could hear the thud of some of the blows with the chain on the horse fully fifty yards distant. As to Mr. Taylor's remarks on me, they are hardly worth noticing. The public may judge how "unjust," or how "unscrupulous" I have been. My "faults" are not in question; after witnessing the scene of Thursday evening last I was not so foolish as to accept "thanks" from Mr. Taylor.
I have tried to curtail this communication to reasonable size, and could cover a couple of sheets of paper more, defending myself from the multitude of ugly expressions used by Mr. Taylor. But I now close with an earnest appeal to the citizens of Charlottetown to lose no time in forming themselves into a S. P. C. A., and to Mr.
Taylor to be reasonable with his poor horse.
Yours truly,
HUMANX.

The EXAMINER has called in the Moncton Times to aid it in the cotton warp controversy.
The EXAMINER is wise, for if there is a paper in this Dominion prepared to run full tilt against facts and to play juggling tricks with figures it is the Moncton Times.—Patriot.

This is very neat as a paragraph, but it is neither fact or argument. The Patriot intimated a few days ago that the N. P. had caused an increase in the price of cotton warps from $1.00 to $1.30 per bundle of 5 lbs. We pointed out that the increase in the duty was only equal to 7 1/2 cents on a $1.00 bundle—that is the duty was changed from seventeen and a half per cent. ad valorem to fifteen per cent. ad valorem, and a specific duty of two cents per lb.—equal to 25 per cent. It was the Patriot that "juggled with the warp figures, and ran full tilt against the facts.—Moncton Times.

One of the best jokes perpetrated of late was that in which the Grit press was the victim. When Senator McLellan was appointed to the Cabinet he was not stated that he was about to resign his seat and enter the Commons. The Reformers therefore remained in the Senate, for which they attacked him and the Government, Billings-gately. Simultaneously with the appearance of the strong language appeared the announcement that the Senator had resigned, for the purpose of sitting in the House of Commons for Colchester. The Grit papers do not know what to do about it now. They want to oppose Mr. McLellan's course because they oppose everything, but they do not know how to do it, in view of their former utterances.—Toronto Mail.

The "Monetary Times" says that the Pacific Railway Company has been offering $1.75 a day to laborers, in Toronto, to go out West. At this rate it costs more than an acre of land to pay a day's labor of a navy. The rise in the price of labor, and of other things will affect the calculations of those critics who fancied that the Syndicate would make untold millions out of their contract. The prospective rise was one of the things against which, as prudent men, the Syndicate had to protect themselves.

The O'Leary Walk.

The pedestrian contest for the O'Leary Belt, which took place in New York last week, was a most remarkable one, and stands unrivalled for the stubbornness with which it was contested by eleven out of the fourteen who started, that number being on the track on the last day. Among the competitors was Eph. Clow, of Prince Edward Island. He was looked upon as a probable winner of first prize, but suddenly retired at three o'clock on the last day when he had made 502 miles and two laps.
Says one report: "At this time an utterly unexpected and exciting incident occurred.
Eph. Clow, who had been backed heavily to secure second place, and who stood third on the score sheet, with every prospect in his favor, as he was undoubtedly the freshest man on the track, suddenly left the track and went to his room. Inquiries were at once made as to the reason for his action. He gave various excuses, all of a flimsy character, and finally bluntly said that he would not stay in the race unless $500 were placed in his hand. He was told that O'Leary would give him a check for $500 if he would stay on. Clow curtly answered that checks were no good, and donning his every-day clothes left the garden. The impression prevails that Clow has been captured by the bookmakers. Certainly his conduct afforded good grounds for such a suspicion. O'Leary was very much disturbed by Clow's withdrawal, and "damned up hill and down dale." Further on the same report says that Clow's backers were offered $12,000 to take their man off the track. On the fourth day of the race, Clow made a wonderful performance, having from the start at 1 a. m. to 2 p. m. travelled 95 1/2 miles. Clow was ploughing ahead in a dangerous manner for all others in the race. He avowed his determination to cover 830 miles by Saturday night. By 11 o'clock he had gone 104 1/2 miles for the day, forging ten miles nearer the leader than he had been in the morning. This distance for the fourth day of a race is unprecedented.
This remarkable performance led many to look on him as a dark horse, but Vint had so won the sympathy or confidence of the book-makers that they still offered 6 to 1 that Clow would not win the race.
The race was finally won by Robert Vint, a cobbler of Brooklyn, with a score of 578 miles, the next man, Sullivan, making 569 miles—both beating the record.

The use in the revised Testament of the word "love" for "charity" in I. Corinthians, xiii., is provoking a good deal of discussion. Mr. E. S. Orr, in a letter to the Montreal Witness points out the singular fact that the translators have substantially adopted the rendering which was in use three centuries ago. He says:—"In a Bible which I possess, printed in 1608 by Robert Baker, London, the word love is used. It is well known also that John Wesley, who, I believe, was no mean Greek scholar, in a translation of the New Testament which he made in 1754, uses the same word instead of charity."

CATTLE IMPORTATION.—The Board of Agriculture has decided, the New Brunswick Capital says, to make an importation of cattle, principally Shorthorns and sheep, from Great Britain. The amount of the appropriation is $10,000. An interview was held between the Government and the Board on the subject of a stock farm, and although no definite conclusion was arrived at, the prospects that a farm will be established are very good.

The Toronto "Mail's" Quebec correspondent has received the following notification from the Citadel in that city, where the Governor General is staying:—"Owing to the consequences of the injury sustained by the Princess Louise last year, her Royal Highness is ordered by the physicians not to undertake the voyage to Canada, or the journey to the North-West."

The so-called discovery of a Nihilist manufacture of explosives in Paris turns out to be a mere nest of the largest proportions.
The "Nihilists" are harmless medical students, and the "factory" is a private laboratory in which they have been conducting chemical experiments. The police are getting dreadfully roasted over their discovery.

The "Telegraph" says the point is raised that Mr. Mowatt and Mr. Blake on ascending the Bench ceased to be barristers, and that on leaving the bench they do not become barristers—a nice point, especially if an Attorney General should not prove to be a legal barrister!

Advices received from Gaspe state that salmon nets were set on the 16th inst., a few fish only having been caught since.
The fish are very large, averaging from twenty two to thirty pounds. Cod fishing has just commenced, and herrings are plentiful, large quantities being taken.

The area of the United States is 3,603, 884 square miles. The new Census returns are not yet complete; but, from a careful calculation, the population is believed to be 48,500,000, exclusive of 300,000 Indians.

Mr. West, the present Minister at Madrid, will probably succeed Sir Edward Thornton as Minister at Washington.

Remedy for Hard Times.
Stop spending so much on fine clothes, rich food and style. Buy good, healthy food, cheaper and better clothing; get more real and substantial things of life every way, and especially stop the foolish habit of running after expensive and quack doctors or using so much of the vile humbug medicine that does you only harm, and makes the proprietors rich, but put your trust in the greatest of all simple pure remedies, Hop Bitters that cures always at a trifling cost, and you will see better times and good health. Try it once. Read of it in another column.
