Crowds Throng Bazaar Booths Last Evening

Biggest crowds of the week featured the City Hospital bazaar last night. Today the program gets underway at 1:30 in the afternoon and the special feature is the entertainment for the children by that master entertainer Big Ben Hokea. Special feature of the program tonight is probably the drawing of the grand prizes and many will be on tip toe until the winners are announced. That feature alone would well repay a visit to this mammoth bazaar.

Last night the singing of Big Ben Hokea was again the outstanding feature of the evening. Number after number was most enthusiastically applauded by the audience. The selections rendered included several request numbers.

Yesterday it might be noted Big Ben paid a visit to St. Vincent's Orphanage and the Provincial Sanatorium where he very generously entertained the children and patients. Needless to say his action was most deeply appreciated.

Today he will visit the Protestant Orphanage and give similar entertainment there. Yesterday because of the annual meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary he cancelled his visit to the latter institution.

Winner of the door prize last night was Mrs. Peasey, Charlottetown. This was a free trip to Moncton by airplane.
