

ICFG Hear Talk 'Highway Safety'

Corporal Roy Stunden of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police was the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Irwin Christian Fellowship Group last night. Taking as his subject highway safety, the corporal impressed his hearers with a most instructive talk on this important matter.

"Three important things enter into highway safety," said Corporal Stunden. "They are engineering, education and prosecution." He went on to say that it is the duty of public minded citizens to see that roads are kept in the best possible condition with proper markings, etc. Education, he said, was important and it should be the duty of every adult to be a good example to the coming generation. He stressed the importance of traffic education among high school students and strongly endorsed the idea of establishing a driving school where youth could be taught to drive properly.

Corporal Stunden said that although a police officer's job in issuing summonses for traffic violations was not a pleasant duty, they work from an impersonal angle always keeping in mind that an offender who is not caught, will not stop with one offence but continue in this practice until some injury results. A group of short films shown by Constable Griffith very graphically bore out the remarks made by Corporal Stunden.

The two police officers were introduced by Jack Kirby who said that the information that they would give to the group was timely and of great value. In thanking the speaker, President Wallace Mallett, told the members that the lessons learned during the evening, would be taken to heart and suggested that each one make an honest attempt to put into practice the things heard and seen. A brief question period which followed brought forth some interesting enquiries. These were capably taken care by Cpl. Stunden.

Return From Visit To Maine Processing Plants

Messrs. Malcolm Reeves, chairman of the standing committee of the Island Co-op Services Fruit and Vegetable Processing project, and George Wright of the Dominion Department of Agriculture have returned from Maine where they visited processing plants.

One of the plants they visited killed and eviscerated 5,000 chickens an hour or 40,000 chickens a day. Plant officials controlled the entire operation supplying the farmers with the chickens and then buying the chickens back whenever they were required.

To Lift Restrictions On Paved Roads In Few Days

Should the present favourable weather conditions continue, the weight restriction now existing in regard to traffic on paved highways throughout the Province will likely be raised within a few days," stated Hon. Dougald MacKinnon, Minister of Public Works and Highways yesterday.

He pointed out, however, that it will be some time before a complete lifting of restrictions can be made. "The unlimited traffic that would be released on our roads now would result in untold damage at the present time," he said.

Referring to the secondary roads, Mr. MacKinnon said that some of them were in pretty soft conditions due to the fact that there was little snow in some areas to prevent the frost from penetrating to a great depth. This was a condition which appeared to be unavoidable each spring. Road machines are operating in all areas where possible. Until recently, however, a number of machines were engaged in removing snow in Prince County.

The meeting closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

Civic Reception

Her hearers were left in no uncertainty that the Island is not the only place with broken pavement at this time of year. Her associations with the Island proved most interesting until Prince Mayor Whitton was particularly concerned to paint for her hearers a picture of the founding of her 100-year old city which is also the capital city of all Canadians.

Her audience was particularly delighted with such references as that Ottawa waited until Prince Edward Island and British Columbia joined Confederation before providing its Mayor with the chain of office which she now wears.

Dr. Whitton undertook to "introduce" the Queen Charlotte figure to His Excellency the Governor General at the first opportunity.

Music was provided at last night's function by the Legionaires.

Music Festival Executive Meets

A well attended meeting of enthusiastic members of the Music Festival executive was held at the Y.M.C.A. yesterday afternoon with the president, Dr. G. D. Smele, in the chair. Three county vice-presidents, Mrs. Edna Hume, Mrs. J. P. Lantz and Mr. Frank Cameron were present as well as the secretary, Mrs. E. Cook, assistant secretary, Mr. Malcolm MacKenzie and recording secretary, Mrs. Florrie Rodd and various conveners.

Matters relating to the smooth running of the forthcoming festival April 28-29-30 and May 2 to 7, were discussed.

Mr. Ralph Rupert reported that P.W.C. auditorium, Queen Charlotte High School auditorium and Hearts Memorial Hall would be used this year.

Mr. Derrill MacGuigan, reporting for the concert committee, stated that they were holding two different concerts Friday evening and also Saturday afternoon and evening who love the Lord, illustrating with the lives of David Livingstone and Dr. Maillard, devoted their lives to Jesus command to preach the Gospel. Mr. Bilson challenged his audience as he reminded them that the Lord's command was not only to men such as he, but to all who know and love the Lord. Miss Winifred Hayter sang beautifully the hymn "For He Is Precious To Me."

BLUEBERRIES STRAWBERRIES CHICKENS

Now is the time of year to clear and burn off your blueberry land to start your berry crop for the 1956 season. There promises to be a profitable market for good blueberries.

We still need more strawberry acreage. Plants and contracts guaranteeing a minimum price for strawberries next season are available.

There has not as yet been sufficient chickens sold on the Island to indicate that there will be 3,000 birds per day available after September 1. Market prospects are bright.

Thanks for your interest in producing the other crops. We believe that we have now sufficient applications through which we can arrange for this year's production. Details will be available within the next two weeks. Meetings will be held in communities where the most interest has been found. Other applicants will be contacted individually.

Improvement Noted In Employment Situation

Since April 15th the number of people drawing Unemployment Insurance Benefits in Kings and Queens Counties, has been reduced by approximately 900, but the total number of claimants is still about 1200. These figures were released by the Charlottetown National Employment Office yesterday.

Almost all of the claimants have been drawing Supplementary Benefits which terminate automatically each year on April 15th. A considerable number who are no longer eligible to draw benefits are finding work, but others are still waiting to be re-employed. The more favourable weather has made it possible for building contractors to engage more men and it is expected that the back to work trend will speed up in the next few weeks.

The Federal Building now has a working force of around 100 men and the opening of the lobster season on May 1st will make further inroads in the ranks of the unemployed throughout Kings and Queens Counties.

Now that the roads are drying up, highway construction and repair work will gradually absorb many men now idle in the rural districts. Officials of the National Employment Office believe that in the next month the employment picture will change rapidly, and that few men will be idle by the end of May. The large amount of building construction work planned will employ perhaps a larger number of men in Charlottetown, than in some years past according to Employment Office officials.

Zion Mission Guild

The regular meeting of Zion Mission Guild was held on Monday evening April 18, 1955, at the home of Mrs. Verna MacDonald. There were 20 members and one visitor present.

An invitation was received from the Evening Circle of the Presbyterian Church in Summerside for all members to attend their meeting on May 9th.

The devotions were led by Beatrice Cameron and Peggy MacDonald.

Guest speaker for the evening was Miss Joan Large, Deaconess working in Sydney, C. B., who gave a very interesting talk on her work there.

A delicious supper was served by Joyce Martin and Kay Reynolds, assisted by the hostesses. During the social hour which followed.

and Turkey's Fatmeh Zorlu attacked communism earlier in the conference. But the blunt criticism by Sir John, one of the five conference sponsors, was a surprise. Delegates said Indian Prime Minister Nehru, trying to keep controversy out of the first meeting of the Asian-African nations, was worried about the conflict over the Communist issue.

Sir John's remarks were during committee discussion of colonialism.

The Committee resolved:

1. Backed the Arab stand on Palestine and urged a peaceful settlement of the dispute with Israel.
2. Appealed to France to grant independence to Tunisia, Morocco and Algeria.
3. Supported Indonesia's claim to Dutch New Guinea and urged the Netherlands to reopen negotiations with the Indonesians.
4. Approved an Indian statement condemning racial policies, particularly South Africa's Indian against people of African, Indian and Pakistani origin.
