Town Discusses Land Allocation

GEORGETOWN — Industrial development, housing, water and sewage were discussed here Monday evening at a special meeting of Georgetown town council, with the town's solicitor, John P. Nicholson, in attendance.

Mayor Dr. A. Kennedy presided.

The meeting discussed sewage and water installation and land allocation to Bathurst Marine Ltd. and Gulf Garden Foods Ltd.

Certain areas of common lands surrounding the town have been given over by the town to the P.E.I. Industrial Development Corporation, which is to deed them back to the town.

This was necessary because for the town to obtain title to the lands, it could deed them for industrial development purposes and for housing. Otherwise, as common lands they could not be deeded by the town to companies or to individuals.

At an earlier meeting of the council, a motion was passed authorizing the town to purchase approximately 13 acres of land between West St. and the railway to Gulf Garden Foods Ltd. for a proposed housing development.

Mr. Nicholson informed the council that a resolution which was to have been drawn up authorizing the proposed transfer of land has not yet been made.

PLAN NOT RECEIVED

It was learned that a plan for proposed development in the site has not been given to the council by the company.

The solicitor presented the council with information he had received from the two companies relating to street lighting and a water and sewage system in the proposed housing area. He also submitted a request from the firms for tax assessment figures for the new homes.

P.E.I. Centennial Bike Rodeo To Be Held Sat. At West Kent

The Prince Edward Island Centennial Bicycle Rodeo, the first ever conducted on a provincial scale, will be held in Charlottetown this Saturday.

More than 200 entries are expected from elementary schools in all three of the province's counties.

The Rodeo, sponsored by the Junior Red Cross, is being held to show young people and parents the importance of bicycle safety.

"Young people must learn that smart antics on a bicycle are very dangerous," said Rodeo director, Mrs. W. W. Reid, of the Charlottetown Red Cross. "We think the best way to make them safety conscious is to conduct this kind of Rodeo."

MAIN PROGRAM

The main program for the Rodeo will get underway at West Kent School, 10.30 a.m. Saturday, with registration by the winners in each of the Rodeos already conducted across the province.

The competition will be divided into two age groups — 11 years and under, and 12 years and over. Trophies will be presented the top three in each division.

The students' driving knowledge will be checked in a short test at 11 a.m. and the bicycles will be checked by the RCMP and City Police.

In the afternoon the actual skill tests will get underway at Victoria Park, in front of the Kiwanis Swimming Pool, 1.30 p.m.

The skill tests will consist of six manoeuvers to check the drivers' balance, clearance ability, stopping, and other fundamentals.

Agriculture, Nat. Park Seen With High Hopes

Canada's minister of northern affairs and national resources, Hon. Arthur Laing, sees an excellent future for agriculture in Prince Edward Island.

Mr. Laing was in the province during the last two days, attending the Dalvay meeting of the Canadian Council of Resources Ministers.

"Agriculture here," he said, "could go through a revolution. Taxes are very low in ratio to the productivity of the land. This should enable farmers to get into specialized production, particularly in regard to frozen and canned products.

"Accessibility of markets is excellent because you are surrounded by water and transportation to other Maritimes markets and the United Kingdom is readily available."

KEEP YOUTH HERE

Mr Laing said that he realizes that one of this province's problems is "keeping young people working here. You can do this by enabling young farmers to engage in the specialized occupation of providing crops for processing plants."

National park development comes under the supervision of Mr. Laing. He said his department is interested in developing the national park in this province "in depth." He said "it is long enough and the beaches are excellent but we need more land for tourist tenting."

He said the big demand today is for tenting grounds. "we are catering today," he said, "to the working man who has a few days off and travels on wheels. Most of his money is in his gas tank and he is looking for a place to pitch the tent."

Mr. Laing said that his department is reviewing the costs of tenting in national parks, compared to the costs in grounds operated by private enterprise. "We have no desire," he said "to compete with private enterprise and we will review our charges to see that they are not in competition with private operators."

COST MAY INCREASE

According to Mr. Laing, the review of tenting charges may result in an increase of costs to tenters in the national park of this province as charges here are "the lowest of any park in Canada."

Mr. Laing said that he would like to see more land added to the national park here so that additional tenting areas could be provided. He said, however, that additional land depends on the provincial government which must secure the land and deed it over to the national department.

"Some talks on this matter," he said, "have been held with Premier Walter R. Shaw and Industry and Natural Resources Minister Leo Rossiter and we are hopeful that additional land for tenting facilities will soon be available."

CWL Wants Margarine Sale Here

Included among the resolutions passed at the 42nd annual provincial convention of the Catholic Women's League of Canada held at Dunstan's University over the past weekend, was one requesting the provincial government to legalize the sale of margarine in the province.

Another commended the provincial governmegt for the excellent work being done in remedial classes being conducted by some 60 teachers throughout the province, requested that more of these be established and suggested that if possible the services of these teachers be transferred from the department of health to that of education.

Invitations to hold this year's regional CWL conferences were accepted from Souris, Charlottetown and Seven Mile Bay. These regional meetings will be held during the month of October.

Vernon River parish council was the winner of the $10 prize donated by Mrs. Fred Macmillan, second vice-president of the provincial council, for the best scrapbook presented on CWL activities during the past year. Mrs. Macmillan offered a similar prize for the same project for the coming year.
