

Ferry Site Selection Is Up To Federal Gov't

The federal government will have to make the final decision between Shediac and Buetouche as the New Brunswick terminal for the proposed West Point - N.B. ferry service, Peter McCaull, president of West Point Ferries Ltd., said yesterday.

Mr. McCaull explained that his company will make its own decision on the port they prefer, but it will not be announced until after the annual meeting of the organization on March 2.

Working with the chairman are Alton Rayner, O'Leary; Keith Matheson, O'Leary, who operates a business in Alberton; and W.G. Ellis, Springfield West.

Mr. McCaull was not surprised at the reaction of Queens County federal representatives Hon. Angus MacLean and Heath MacQuarrie, to the ferry when they told this paper's Ottawa correspondent Saturday they did not know enough about the proposal to comment intelligently on it.

"We have not approached them yet on the proposal, as the plan is still underway", Mr. McCaull explained.

5 Children, Baby-Sitters Die In Fire

NORTH BAY, Ont. (CP) — The Bell of St. Philomena's Roman Catholic Church in nearby Bonfield tolled slowly Monday to mark the death of five children and their two teen-aged babysitters in an early morning fire there.

The parents of the dead children, Mr. and Mrs. John Henry Foisy, left the youngsters in the charge of the sitters when they went on a business trip Sunday night. They returned hours later to find their new, self-built frame home in ashes. The children had been inside when fire roared through and reduced it to ground level within 10 minutes.

Police were still searching Monday for the bodies of the children: Rachelle, 11 months; Micheline, 3; Angelle, 7; Gerald, 8, and Julien 3; and babysitters Denise Foisy, 14, (a relative) daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mederic Foisy, and Monica Bourdon, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bourdon.

Gov't Proud Of Record But Liberals To Attack

BY DON MACLEOD
Guardian Patriot Staff Writer
Eyes though government leaders have been predicting that the next session of the Legislature, which opens at 3 p.m. Thursday, will not see "more than the usual amount" of legislation considered, it appears that the session is shaping up into an interesting one.

Opposition leader A. W. Matheson, who has held recent meetings with his House colleagues, has said he will have many questions to ask on the government's last year of financial operations. Some sources close to the government have indicated that the opposition feels several cabinet ministers are particularly vulnerable to questioning and the main attack will be concentrated on them.

Premier Walter R. Shaw has said that "the record of the government is one to be proud of" and he will welcome all questions from the opposition.

DISEASE CONTROL
In the event that a federal election date is set while the House is in session, Mr. Matheson said he will then concentrate on criticizing provincial-federal dealings.

As to legislation, it appears that under the department of agriculture a bill will be introduced to provide for more rigid controls designed to eliminate the spread of crop diseases.

A new Civil Servants Act has been drawn up and it is expected to provide for a civil service commission. The Trade Union Act has been redrawn and legislative approval will be sought. The new act may lead to an expansion of labor department activities in the province.

Veterinarians To Hold Clinic

Veterinary medical men from the three Maritime Provinces will meet here March 8 to hear an outstanding member of their profession speak to them in a one-day professional clinic, it was learned last night from Dr. H.H. Kelly, director of veterinary medicine for the province.

The Maritime veterinarians are members of the Maritime Veterinary Education Organization which arranges for clinics like this to be held twice a year, to supplement the Maritime veterinary convention held last year at Sackville, N.B. and bring in outstanding men for a one-day conference.

Dr. F.J. Milne, department of medicine and surgery, Ontario Veterinary College, will lecture at the one-day clinic here next month, Dr. Kelly revealed.

Wide Choice Of Selections For Choral Groups Is Noted

A wide choice of selections for choral groups, solos and instrumental music lies in the syllabus of the music festival, offering something to attract every individual interested in the festival performances, states a release from Mrs. Frank Ross, convener of choral reading for the P.E.I. Music Festival Association.

Choral reading might be better interpreted as choral speaking or verse choir, it was said. A speaking choir is a balanced group of voices speaking poetry and other rhythmic literature together, with a unity and beauty born of thinking and feeling as one. It is analogous to musical interpretation by a glee club or symphony orchestra.

However, a verse choir is more than a group of people speaking poetry in unison, it was emphasized. Like a singing choir, it is made up of several groups of blended voices that may speak together or separately. Unlike the singing choir, in which so much emphasis may be placed on unity and beauty of tone, in the effort to preserve a pure musical quality, the speaking choir must project every word clearly and expressively.

The objectives of choral speaking in the elementary school are the enjoyment of poetry and the development of the children, it was said. Choral speaking improves speech and voices.

In anonymity, a valuable by-product of the speaking choir, both the shy child and the showoff learn to submerge themselves in the group, developing a pride and sharing a sense of achievement. The strong discipline of choral speaking in itself is valuable training for the child, it was stated.

With the growing interest in this part of the curriculum, the Music Festival Association looks forward to increased interest in this year's choral reading at the festival, Mrs. Ross, stated.

Best Man At Royal Wedding Granted Divorce

LONDON (AP) — Dr. Roger Gilliat, a neurologist who was best man at Princess Margaret's wedding, has been granted a divorce on grounds of adultery by his wife with playwright John Osborne.

Dr. and Mrs. Penelope Gilliat were married in December, 1954, and have no children. Dr. Gilliat is 35. Osborne was ordered to pay costs of the case. When Princess Margaret married Antony Armstrong-Jones, now the Earl of Snowdon, the neurologist, who was a close friend of the groom, acted as best man.

Dr. Gilliat's late father was surgeon-gynecologist to Queen Elizabeth.

Mrs. Gilliat, 30, is a writer and critic. She is a striking red-haired woman who as Miss Penelope Ann Douglas Conner was a leading social figure.

Osborne, 25, was the first of Britain's "angry young men" of the theatre. His play, Look Back in Anger, shook traditions and became the forerunner of a down-to-earth approach on the British stage as opposed to the old Mayfair drawing room sort of play.

Osborne was twice married. His first wife was actress Pamela Lane whom he wed in 1950 and divorced in 1957. That year he married actress Mary Ure. He has since filed for divorce.

Relation Of Smoking To Lung Cancer Is Depicted In Film

A film made last year for use in high schools across the country is one of the most interesting developments in the fight against cancer, Kenneth A. Gardner, Toronto vice-president of the Canadian Cancer Society said here yesterday.

The film "To Smoke or Not to Smoke" was completed late last year, and is getting a good response from high school students, he stated.

There is no attempt to tell the teen agers what they must or must not do, it was explained, but the aim is to bring to their attention certain facts relative to smoking and the incidence of lung cancer.

Famphlets are made available to school teachers so that they may speak to the students who see the film, Mr. Gardner stated. The program is being carried on with the co-operation of the departments of education and teachers in the various provinces.

Definite progress is being made in the fight against cancer, stated Mr. Gardner who said that a service now available in British Columbia can detect susceptibility to cancer of the cervix and prevent it, 10 years before the disease would have developed. This, he emphasized, is the first major break through in the fight against the disease.

ISOTOPES AVAILABLE
He recalled that some $10,000 worth of isotope equipment has been available for use here by Dr. Temple, director of cancer control, for the benefit of people in this province.

Mr. Gardner conferred with W.H. Beaton, president of the P.E.I. Cancer division and other people connected with the work in this province. He had luncheon in the Charlottetown Hotel with the president and some of the directors at noon yesterday before leaving for Toronto.

George Pflizer, national secretary-treasurer accompanied Mr. Gardner to the province and will be here until Wednesday afternoon.

Additional figures released by Mr. Green indicate the increase in pension payments in the last 10 years. In 1953, he said, there were 6,500 active accounts compared with 7,500 at the present time. Total payments in January of this year of $425,000 compare with $295,000 for the corresponding month 10 years ago, he said.

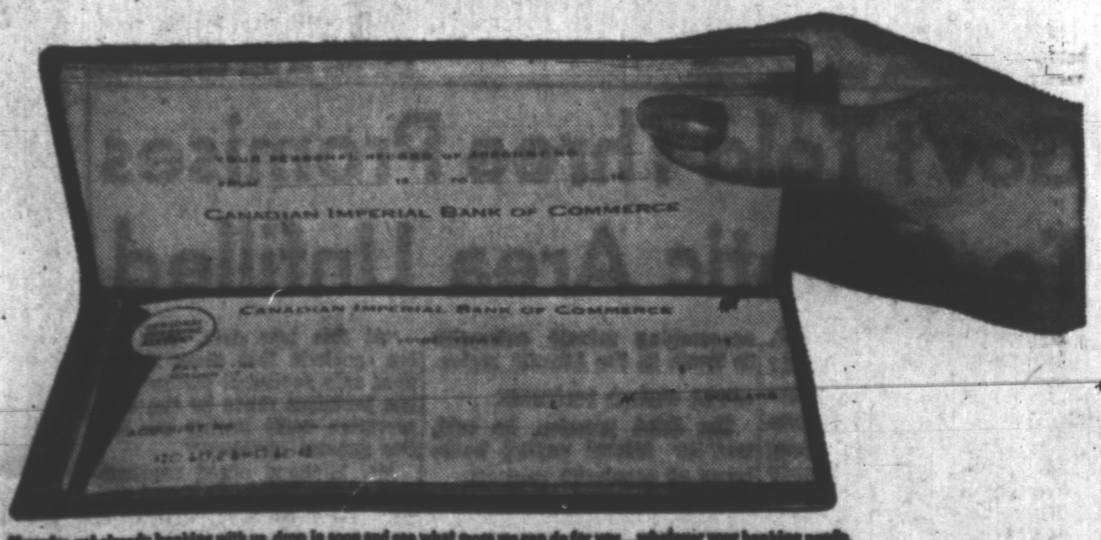

TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario Federation of Labor expects about 300 delegates to attend its annual educational conference this weekend. The conference will discuss broad questions of full employment planning, education, politics, patterns, welfare services and human rights.
