CDA President To Visit P.E.I.

The national president of the Canadian Diabetic Association, Gordon Currie, will visit P.E.I. on Oct. 11.

In a litter to the Island branch of the association, Mr. Currie, suggested two dates and from these a decision was made at a recent meeting of the local association.

In other proceedings at the meeting, concern was shown for diabetics on the Island as many local doctors were not co-operating 100 per cent. Because of this it was emphasized that diabetic patients should subscribe to the diabetic assistance program as much as possible.

To assure that the program operates smoothly diabetics were urged to visit their doctors at least once a year to assure that the necessary forms were signed by the doctor.

The possibility of a diabetic survey plan on the Island was also discussed as was the diabetic camp for 15 children at Belvedere Cove which started this year on Aug. 13.

The meeting was held in the Dominion Building with Sister Joan Mary, presiding.

ATTENDANCE

won by Hilton Barbour, Alberton: the D.L. Miller prize for best senior herd was won by J. Keir Ramsay and Son; and the Adams and Harris prize for best progeny of dam by Carolyn Ramsay, Montrose.

In the Shorthorn class the grand champion male was shown by Milford Ellis and Sons, O'Leary, and the grand champion female by Simmons and MacFarlane, Summerside. The R.T. Holman prize for best junior herd was won by Milford Ellis and Sons; O'Leary; the D.L. Miller prize for best senior herd by E.W. Turner, O'Leary; and the Adams and Harris prize for best progeny of dam by Milford Ellis and Sons.

In the Angus class the principal prize winners were Matthews Farms, Alberton, Maple Leaf Dairy Farm, Summerside, Andrew Wells and Gerald Hardy. Matthews Farms showed the grand champion female "Genevette of Rocking" and won the Holman and D.L. Miller prizes for best junior and senior herds. The grand champion male "Barbour's Sam", is owned by the Maple Leaf Dairy Farm.

Best heavy fat steers were shown by C.W. Hayes, Alberton, Bliss MacDougall, Springfield West, and Gordon Wallace, Mill River. Prizes for lighter weight ones went to F.J. Platts, Tyne Valley, Bliss MacDougall and Gordon Wallace.

Judging of dairy cattle and of horses was begun and will be continued today. The sheep classes will also be judged today.

There was a good showing of swine. Among exhibitors were Harry Pridham and Hudson Pridham, Montrose, Eric Phillips, O'Leary, Clayton Stetson, O'Leary R. R. and W. A. Moase, Kensington.

Charles Scranton, who has been judging poultry in Charlottetown for 18 years and in Alberton for 10, stated that some excellent birds were shown.

The excellent growing season was reflected in an outstanding showing of field roots, garden vegetables and grains.

ROOTS VEGETABLES

The potato championship was won by Mrs. Beecher Smallman, O'Leary and the reserve by Mrs. Harry MacDonald, also of O'Leary, who has won the championship many times in the past.

The best collections of garden vegetables were exhibited by Mrs. Errison MacLeod, Brae, Mrs. Robert Woodside, Knutsford, and Mrs. John Barbour, Montrose.

The C. R. Leard and Son special prize for best collection of fruit was won by Alvin Webb, Bloomfield.

In the display of flowers an exhibit of some three dozen dahlias from the garden of Peter White, Summerside, "stole the show." The best collection of cut flowers was shown by Mrs. Waldron Barbour, Alma.

COOKING, HANDICRAFT

The ladies upheld their reputations in their exhibition of culinary art and of needlework and handicraft.

New sections in handicraft included copper tooling and liquid embroidery and there were large number of entries in both. There were also many beautiful hooked rugs, quilts, cushions, knitted goods and sewing.

The MacAusland Woolen Mills prizes for best man's sweater knit from Island yarn were awarded to Mrs. Robert Shaw, Bloomfield Station, Mrs. Boyd MacWilliams, Carleton Lot 6, and Mrs. Everett Glover, Norboro.

The George Wotton special prize for snapshots of children was won by Gwen Smallman, O'Leary.

In the needlework section a quilt made by Mr J.R. Gall, an 94-year-old resident of O'Leary, was awarded a special prize.

Received to late to be judged was a crocheted afghan made by Mrs. Charles Perry of Alberton South, who, in spite of her 81 years, travels to Alabama each autumn to spend the winter with one of her daughters who lives there.

4-H DISPLAYS

One of the most pleasing and encouraging features of Alberton Exhibition is the participation of 4-H Club members. Calf club members from a number of centres proudly displayed some first class specimens of both dairy and beef breeds. For the second successive year Kay Forbes of Lot 16 won first place in showmanship. She was presented with a trophy awarded by the Exhibition Association.

Inside the building there was a display of garment club work.

The day concluded with a variety concert which was attended by a large audience..

Today the fair will continue and again music and lunches will be served on the grounds.

In the evening the fair will conclude with the annual exhibition dance.

Island Blood Donors Continue Good Attendance At Clinics

The Red Cross blood donor clinic held yesterday at Souris exceeded its quota by 31 pints as 181 donors attended. 96 attended the clinic at Morell.

The quota for Souris had been 150 pints but the 181 pints were gladly received. This was, however, less than was received last year.

Assisting the Red Cross workers at Souris were: Mrs. James Dunn, Mrs. James R. MacDonald, and Mrs. Major Reid. Refreshments were served by the women's organizations of Souris under the supervision of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Royal Canadian Legion.

Assisting at Morell were: Mrs. J. Rooney, Miss Anna Gillis, and Mrs. Emmett MacDonald. Refreshments were served by the Women's Auxiliary of the Legion.

Disabled Craft Towed To Safety

SUMMERSIDE — Two Summerside fishermen, Bud Ramsay and Joseph Metcalfe ran into difficulties off Salvation Cove in their Cape Island fishing boat last evening when their battery went dead. They were rescued by the Summerside detachment of the RCMP.

The plight of the two men was noticed by Allan Jenkins who was at his cottage at Lower Bedeque about 8:15.

Mr. Jenkins saw the men waving and notified the RCMP who hired a boat owned by Sinclair MacKinnon to tow the stranded men in.

PROMOTED

Group Captain Donald M. Holman, 47, graduate of the Royal Military College and the University of Toronto, has been promoted to Air Commodore August 1st, and named Chief of the Logistics division, Air Material Command, R.C.A.F. Station, Rockcliffe, Ottawa. Air Commodore Holman is the son of the late Prof. William L. Holman of Summerside, P.E.I. and of Toronto University.

NEW APPROACH

dren qualifying for family allowances and those who won't. In some cases, said Mr. Steiner, parents can lose more in taxes than they gain through family allowances—and they are the ones who need the money most.

No one should have to pay more than 40 per cent of his income in tax. The present rates reach a seldom-used peak of 80 per cent.

The surtax on investment income should be re-established, and the 20-per-cent tax credit on dividends should be abolished. Income derived from capital invested in private homes should be subject to tax; corporation taxes should be based on the ratio of profit to working capital, and more money should be made available to municipalities so property taxes could be eliminated.

OTTAWA ATTACKED

The brief from the property owners groups, which tackled every phase of government money-raising operations, was processed a little faster than usual after the commission members had difficulty getting direct replies to questions about it. A note of irritation crept into the hearings after Mr. Graham likened the income tax department to a Communist organization. At another point he referred to the "Iron - Curtain minds" in Ottawa.

The brief he presented said that, on the basis of living standards, Canadians are paying 40 per cent more taxes than people in the United States. At the same time Canadian productivity per worker remained at only 60 per cent of that in the U.S.

The brief said labor tries to close the gap by seeking wages equal to those in the U.S., while the government taxes Canadians as if standards and productivity were equal to the U.S.

"Instead of budgeting our money to meet our needs, we foolishly strive to keep up with our rich neighbors."

Quebec Men Are Charged In Robbery

SUMMERSIDE — Charges in connection with a break at Amalgamated Dairies last Friday were laid against four Quebec men in police court here yesterday.

The Attorney-General has authorized that the cases be disposed of before a magistrate in Truro where the men are being held in connection with three breaks in the Nova Scotia town.

John Henry Richards was committed to Prince County Jail for 20 days for loitering by Magistrate Hinton when he failed to pay the fine of $20 and costs.

Charged with a similar offence, Lester Leo pleaded not guilty and his case was adjourned until tomorrow (Thursday).

A warrant was issued for the arrest of William Allan Gay of Summerside, who is charged with the theft of wheat from Robin Hood Flour Mills.

Co-op Housing Progressing

A total of 103 homes have been completed under the co-operative housing program in this province.

Work on six homes, three each at Wellington and St. Chrysostomes, is progressing well, a member of the housing commission said yesterday. Foundations have been completed on five of the homes with the sixth set for completion in a few days.

The buildings will be boarded in so that inside work can be carried on during the winter months.

CS Association Denies Raiding

OTTAWA (CP) — The Civil Service Association of Canada Wednesday rejected as "spurious and unfounded" allegations of membership raiding hurled at the association.

W. L. Grey, executive secretary of the Department of Veterans Affairs Employees' National Association, charged Tuesday that the CSAC, using "an assortment of unproven claims and downright lies," had persuaded some of the "more gullible" members of the DVA Association to leave it and join the CSAC.

CSAC national President J. C. (Cal) Best said Wednesday in a letter to Mr. Grey there is a feeling among members of the DVA Employee Association that it is "too much influenced by officials of (veterans) institutions and does not independently represent the employees' legitimate interests."

Mr. Best called the raiding charges an obvious attempt to use the CSAC as a "foil against internal failures" of the DVA association, and said that in three locations members of the DVA association have voluntarily approached the CSAC.

The DVA Employees' Association represents about 7,500 workers in the department of veterans affairs.

ENJOYS FIRST PONY RIDE

The little girl shown above was one of many who enjoyed their first pony ride at the Alberton Prince County Exhibition yesterday afternoon. The ponies are owned by Robert Campbell and Randall Boates and the rides were part of the Holmes Midway.

New Organization Is Formed To Seek Out Business Ideas

By JEFFREY GARLICK

MONTREAL (CP) — At this stage in Canada's economic development, it is important to encourage progressive men with new ideas to build successful enterprises, says A. Bruce Matthews, chairman and president of Canadian Enterprise Development Corporation Limited.

CED was formed last October to "seek out creative men with the vision of things to be done and help breathe life into new processes and products with money."

The company raised $5,000,000 of capital by selling shares to 27 concerns, including two banks, 11 insurance companies and firms such as Power Corporation and Du Pont of Canada.

Mr. Matthews says CED is not a lending company, but a "builder of enterprises, investing long-term venture capital in worthwhile projects and participating in their subsequent growth."

MUST CHECK PROSPECTS

John A. Easton, general manager of CED, says the company is in the unsecured area of investment, putting money into the equity side of a company. "We must spend considerable time sizing up people, checking ideas to see if they are feasible and investigating the timing of the introduction of new production of new products," he said.

"We are looking for unique projects. Competition for competition's sake doesn't make sense, but if you can do something better or cheaper and make a profit, you are away to the races."

CED has looked at 300 companies, studied 70 closely and invested in three so far.

The first investment went to Central Dynamics Limited, a supplier of aircraft parts and computer equipment. The company has tripled its sales in four years.

BACK NEW INVENTION

Gunter Schmidt, an engineer, came up with a plan to substitute a moving air cushion for the clumsy, mechanical bearings and chains in film-processing machines. CED invested $100,000 in the project and Houston-Schmidt Limited now is turning out 10 film processors a month.

Geo - Met Reactors Limited, Canada's only industrial metallurgical research company, received $200,000 worth of help from CED and now has a monthly production rate of 10 tons of ferro-columbium, a material used to strengthen steel.

Geo-Met has developed a process to extract gold from the discarded tailings of gold mines by passing the finely crushed ore through a heated reactor to combine the dust with hydrogen.

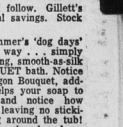
CONFIDENTIALLY YOURS

—by Byrne Hope Sanders

MONTREAL, August 22nd—If you have a son or daughter with ambitions for a university education . . . now is the time to begin your financial planning with the comprehensive University Education Programme sponsored by the BANK OF MONTREAL. Through this practical, combined savings loan programme you can open the doors to Higher Education while your child is still in High School. The cost will be less than for a straight loan plan and payments are spread over seven to nine years. Why not discuss the life-insured University Education programme with the people at your neighbourhood B of M branch soon? You'll be glad you did!

IT'S A GOOD FEELING, isn't it, to see a sparkling kitchen sink. But no matter how clean it looks, it really isn't clean . . . until the drain is clean as well. The best way I know of to keep drains clean and free running is with GILLETT'S DRAIN CLEANER. Gillett's works with a boiling, churning action that's really effective in even the most clogged drains. Use two tablespoons of Gillett's in every drain, every week. That's the tale I follow. Gillett's Drain Cleaner is now being offered at special savings. Stock up and save money.



BEAT THE HEAT AND DISCOMFORT of summer's 'dog days' this wonderfully refreshing way . . . simply step into the tension-relieving, smooth-as-silk water of a CALGON BOUQUET bath. Notice how delicately scented Calgon Bouquet, added to your bath water, helps your soap to lather more easily . . . and notice how completely it rinses away, leaving no stickiness on your skin, no ring around the tub!

You come from your bath relaxed and refreshed. Incidentally, one teaspoonful of Calgon Bouquet in your husband's shaving water makes the razor glide smoothly . . . gives a close, clean shave.

WHEN YOU'RE PACKING for a holiday trip, there's one small but important item I suggest you slip into your suitcase. It's CORRECTOL, a gentle laxative that helps Nature help you. I've noticed, haven't you? — that the change of routine during travelling often means that a laxative is needed. Correctol, developed by Pharmaco (Canada) Ltd., is my choice and I'm sure once you've tried it, it will be yours as well. Correctol's secret of gentleness is a non-laxative regulator that makes its action both prompt and unhurried. It is so mild it is recommended even after childbirth.

IS THERE A 'HAMBURGER-FAN' or two in your family? Most folks love hamburgers and they'll love you when you add FRENCH'S HAMBURGER LIFT to your hamburger meat. What is it? French's Hamburger Lift is an all-in-one blend of spirited spices and other (secret!) ingredients . . . all combining to make your hamburgers plumper, juicier and more flavourful. Believe me, good red meat plus French's Hamburger Lift is all you need to help you make the very best 'burgers you've ever tasted. Ask for French's Hamburger Lift . . . three envelopes in each package . . . with enough Lift in each envelope to season one pound of meat. Costs only a penny or two a serving!

PLANNING A 'COOK-OUT' ON THE BEACH or the patio? Please don't forget the Hot Dog Relish! Actually, your family won't let you forget, if it's your very own specialty, made like this, with the added dash of COLMAN'S DRY MUSTARD—HOT DOG RELISH

12 medium-sized cucumbers
12 onions
2 green sweet peppers
2 red sweet peppers

Put all through chopper, sprinkle with coarse salt and let stand overnight. Drain in morning and cover with half vinegar and half water. Cook ½ hour and drain. Then add: 1 bunch celery chopped fine, enough vinegar to cover, and 4 cups brown sugar. Let come to a boil and add:

¼ cup Colman's Dry Mustard
¼ cup flour
½ tablespoon turmeric
Seal in sterilized jars.

I give 'honourable mention' to Colman's Dry Mustard because it's the special ingredient that 'makes' this relish . . . just as it adds dash to many and many a dish. I use it often as a seasoner and am stocking up on it now for pickling purposes. I'd like to suggest that you do, too . . . and watch for more pickling recipes to appear in this column very soon!
