Outstanding Records In Red Cross Work

A glowing tribute was paid to the women of the Province, particularly the Women's Institute and the Ladies of the Summerside Red Cross Branch, by Mrs. E. A. Foster, Chairman of Women's Work, yesterday at the regular meeting of the Executive of the P.E.I. Division of the Canadian Red Cross Society.

The Junior Red Cross report contained the good news that 630 classrooms were organized as Junior Red Cross Branches during the year. This means that 89% of the classrooms in the Province were active—the highest percentage reached for a number of years.

Demands for the loan of Sick-room equipment, especially beds, wheelchairs and crutches, continue to be heavy according to the report given by Miss Katherine MacLennan, chairman of the Nursing Committee, and the Home-nurse Service is being used to advantage in Charlottetown and Summerside.

The Swimming and Water Safety Programme is now in full swing under the direction of Mr. Paul Cudmore. 20 candidates were present at the Instructors' School conducted between June 24th and July 4th.

INCOMPLETE campaign reports revealed that over $25,000 has been collected to date which is considerably better than the 1951 results but still far short of the $33,000 objective. The President, Judge L. G. Lewis of Summerside, expressed the hope that all campaign returns would be received by the end of August.

For Eisenhower. The candidates were pledged to Stassen as a result of the state primary which he won. As the first ballot drew to an end, Eisenhower had 505 votes and Stassen had 495.

At the end of the roll call, the chairman recognized Minnesota. "Mr. Chairman," came a voice from the floor. "Minnesota wishes to change its votes to Eisenhower."

Minutes after learning of his victory, Eisenhower made a bid for unity with the Taft forces. He visited the Ohio Senator at the Taft headquarters.

There, before newspaper men, the battle cry that set the plains ablaze!

newspaper cameras, television and radio microphones, Taft pledged to co-operate with Eisenhower in his coming campaign for victory over the Democrats in November.

In a brief statement, Eisenhower said he needed the support of Taft forces for the election fight. It was a sharp contrast to the scenes of the last few days on the convention floor when Eisenhower backers hurled charges of "steal" against supporters of Taft.

A Last Try For Taft it was the end of a last determined bid to win the presidency. He had lost the nomination in 1944 and 1948 and had said this would be his last try.

Down with Taft went Governor Earl Warren of California and Stassen. Like Taft, they too, had tried before and lost. Down with them went Gen. Douglas MacArthur who never had a chance after his keynote speech to the convention which failed to start a boom for him as many had predicted.

Once Minnesota provided the first-ballot victory margin, other states stampeded to the Eisenhower standard. The count mounted to 645 for Eisenhower, four for MacArthur, 77 for Warren and 280 for Taft.

Then Senator John Bricker of Ohio took over. Now, he said, the Republican Party must be dedicated to "driving the plunderers out of government and bringing order out of chaos."

"The last vestige of the new deal, the fair deal, the mink deal and the ordinal must be destroyed. I come here on behalf of Senator Taft to move that the nomination of General Eisenhower be made unanimous."

Warren's floor manager, Senator William F. Knowland of California, made a similar gesture.

"General Eisenhower," Martin pronounced, "is hereby nominated as the Republican Party's candidate for president of the United States."

will be without wages. Although Ford of Canada at Windsor has not as yet announced a shut-down, company officials said the plant is operating on a "day-to-day" basis.

IN TORONTO, C. H. Millard, national director of the United Steel workers of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.), proposed Canadian ore shipments, such as those from Steep Rock in Northwestern Ontario, be diverted from steel mills in Canada.

He said iron ore stockpiles in Canada are sadly depleted and steel production may be affected here next winter. In Ottawa, K. S. Harris, steel controller of the Defence Production Commission, said he hopes to be able to reply Monday to the Millard proposal.

Mr. Harris said the situation is complicated by an involved transportation problem on the Great Lakes and because Canada imports and exports iron ore across the border.

president of the Winnipeg Livestock Exchange, said last night. Quebec, which originally banned Western livestock and fresh-killed carcasses, now is allowing these to enter under a permit system. The step is described as a gradual removal of barriers.

May Lift Quarantine Expectations are that—if current indications of eradication of the disease hold—another quarantine in the area around Regina may be lifted late this month.

Test animals now are grazing on the 40 farms where foot-and-mouth has been found or suspected since the original outbreak last November. At the end of a 30-day test period ending next week, Federal officials are expected to lift the quarantine if the animals continue to show no disease-free.

If United States authorities also come to the conclusion the area is clear of disease, another 60-day period must elapse before they can open the international border. U. S. animal experts now are studying the situation in the 62-municipality Saskatchewan zone.

While these steps are going on, Federal moves to prop up the sagged livestock trade are continuing. A support price of $25 a hundredweight for good steers is in effect, and the government is taking up cattle to be shipped to Britain under its three-way deal.

with Britain and Australia. About 60,000,000 pounds of beef are expected to be shipped through this transaction. Up to now, about 4,000,000 pounds have been sent to Britain.

As a partial offshoot of the U. S. embargo, the Government also is buying surplus pork at 26 cents a pound. So far, it has bought and canned about 37,000,000 pounds.

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. HARRY MACNEILL In the Montague Hospital on June 12 Mrs. Harry MacNeill went to be with Jesus. Mrs. MacNeill was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Luther Jordan of Beach Point.

She was loved and respected by all who knew her and a great pall was cast over the community when it was learned that she had passed away. She leaves to mourn, besides her sorrowing husband, five sons: John, Gerald, George, Wilbert and Lester, all of Beach Point. Also two daughters: Sylvia (Mrs. Leslie MacKay) of Murray Harbour and Lynda at home.

She leaves to mourn in the Jordan family: George, of Summerside; Mass. Carl, Hassard, Will and Roy of Beach Point, and Florence, of Beach Point. Mrs. MacNeill was born in Murray Harbour; Beatrice (Mrs. F. M. Ginn) of Boston and Julia (Mrs. Albert MacNeill) of Beach Point. Two brothers, Fletcher and Wilfred predeceased her some years ago.

The funeral was held from the Murray Harbour Christian Church and was largely attended. It was conducted by her cousin Mr. Louis Harris, assisted by pastor D. Wallace MacPherson and Mr. W. D. Johnstone of Montague. The hymns sung were, "Rock of Ages," "The Holy Rest" and "Abide With Me." After the sermon "Sunrise," a favorite hymn of the departed was sung by Mrs. Laurie Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Harris and Mrs. Louis, Jr.

As the friends viewed the remains the choir sang "In the Arms of Jesus." At the grave, as the body was being lowered, to await the resurrection morning, when the dead in Christ shall rise, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Harris sang, "Shall We Meet Beyond the River." The pall bearers were: Emerson MacLeod, John Jackson, William Baker, Elliot Williams, Bert Penny and John Williams.

Goodnight dear wife and mother Thou art gone to that fairer shore Some day we will say, good morning When we meet at part no more.

MRS. JAMES KENNEDY The death of Mrs. Kennedy, widow of the late James Kennedy, Murray Harbour North, occurred after a brief illness on Monday, May 5th, 1952, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. E. Fraser, Montague.

The deceased, born 98 years ago, was the daughter of the late Archibald MacRae and Flora MacLeod of Point Prim and was the last surviving member of a family of eight.

A woman of wonderful character, an ideal wife and mother, she made her home a place of love and happiness for her family and of gracious hospitality for her friends.

In the passing away of Mrs. Kennedy the church has lost a valued member, one who was most loved and respected by all. Her fine religious faith upheld her in times of sorrow and lightened all her pathway of life. She was a charter member of the Ladies Aid and Women's Missionary Societies, and was an ever ready source of help to any in need. Such lives as hers do not end with their passing, though we have lost them from our midst they are never forgotten. We are also fourteen grand-children and twelve great-grandchildren.

Hope may whisper with the dead by bending forward where they are, but memory with a backward tread commutes with them afar. But we love we love them all once more, we look behind us for the past, but lo! 'Tis all before.

Following a short service at Montague on Wednesday afternoon May 7th, her funeral service was held at the Presbyterian Church, Murray Harbour North and was conducted by Rev. F. N. Young, assisted by Dr. A. D. McKenzie, pastor of United Church, Montague.

Taking for his text Revelation, 14th chapter, verse 13 "That they may rest from their labours and their works do follow them," Dr. McKenzie paid high tribute to the Christian life of the departed. Hymns sung were "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," and "Abide With Me," also a solo, "Beyond the Sunset," by Mr. Willard McLean.

Beautiful, floral tributes spoke a silent message of love and sympathy. Pallbearers were: Harry Millar, Laurie McLure, Edward Millar, Willard McLure, Neuton Hicken and William Dunn.

Her remains were tenderly laid to rest in the family plot in the Murray Harbour North Cemetery. "To await the glorious resurrection."

POLICE TESTIMONY

Continued from page 1 dealing with the actual time of the crime came from Michael Francis McDonald, Little Harbour, who was in the MacKinnon home at the time of the fatal shooting. He had gone over that night intending to stay there as he would be working on their farm within two days. He told of Mrs. MacKinnon coming home that evening in the car of Sheriff Edw. Reid and of being in the kitchen with the family when Mrs. MacKinnon started to say her Rosary.

There were three of her children also present and all but Mrs. MacKinnon were kneeling. He heard a sound like the cracking of the lamp shade of an Aladdin lamp and looked up to see Mrs. MacKinnon falling to the floor. She was carried by her son Alban who carried her to the hallway where he laid her on the floor at the foot of the stairs.

He looked around and saw a hole in the window. He got weak at the sight of the blood and went upstairs to lie down. He returned later. Previously he had testified to meeting the accused in front of McLean's store in Souris. He knew him only slightly. The accused asked him if he had heard of the "Mackin" he had gotten into. He said it was a rape case. The witness remarked that he said to himself "I thought that wasn't very much." The accused then said "I'll get the old son of a wh--- I'll shoot her."

Under cross examination by Mr. McPhee witness was vague about details. When asked why he had borrowed money from a man he knew only slightly he did not answer. Also questioned as to why he had changed his testimony from that given at the inquest he said he did not want to use the words then because there were ladies at the inquest. Mr. McPhee quoted his testimony at that time when the witness in telling of the conversation with accused stated that MacKinnon had said "I'll get her." He was reminded that there were many ladies in court yesterday including those present at the inquest.

He was criticized by counsel for his action the night of the slaying when he let two children go in the dark for help while he went to lie down. He said eight of blood made him sick so he left Alban, deceased's 17-year-old son alone. He said his own age was 30. He did not examine the deceased, but knew she was dead because she did not speak any more.

Neighbor's Evidence

Mrs. Peter Mossey, next door neighbor of the MacKinnons, told of the children coming to her home crying the night of November 8. They said their mother had been shot, so their father and grandfather went to call a doctor. She went to the MacKinnon's and spent most of the night there. Several other neighbors also came in. She felt heart and pulse of deceased and finding no movement knew she was dead.

Mr. Luke Powers, farmer, Choptow, said his farm was between the MacKinnon farm and that of Aeneas MacDonald, father of the accused. He had been plowing his fields on November 8, and in fact all that week when it was raining. On Sunday the 11th he saw horse tracks crossing the field he had plowed on the 8th. They were in both directions, going in the general direction of the MacKinnon farm and returning.

The first witness yesterday morning was Constable Ralph Sordberg who was stationed at the R.C.M.P. detachment in Souris at the time of the murder, but who has since been transferred to Alberton. He had gone with others to investigate the night of November 8, 1951. That night he examined by spotlight a clump of trees where he found a horse had been tethered. He found a piece of rope and a handkerchief as well as what he took to be horsehairs. A week later he found horse tracks leading over the top of a disc harrow nearby the trees and took from the harrow several short hairs.

On a search warrant he visited the farm of Aeneas MacDonald and took some hairs from an unshod horse there. These samples were sealed and sent to the Crime Detection Laboratory at Regina.

He had also followed tracks of an unshod horse across fields to the farm of S. Morrison. They were easy to follow as both front feet had odd shaped gouges. He examined a horse in the MacDonald barn. Its front feet had similar markings.

The constable had also found a

Believe Black Bass Landed At Sturgeon Mill

"Mr. Harvey Moore, Milltown, landed yesterday morning what is supposed to be a small black bass, an unusual fish in these waters as it is customary to find them in fresh water and on the mainland. The fish was taken in the salt water run below Ross' mill at Sturgeon, and Mr. Moore stated that there were several more there waiting for interested fishermen.

"The fish is at present on display at Aboon Drug Montague, for anyone who may be able to offer further information as to its identification. It is also supposed by some to be a silver perch, found to some extent in these waters. However, no one seems to know definitely and the matter will remain a mystery until further knowledge is acquired.

rifle in the MacDonald garage. He could smell powder from it as though it had been fired recently.

Cross Examination

Under cross-examination by Mr. James Johnston, associate defence counsel, he said that a wide search had been made on the MacKinnon property for the expended shell but it had not been found despite the use of a mine detector. A thorough search had been made for it to include the area around the summer cottage, but it did not include the marsh section to the north of the house.

Regarding the search made for wire cutters he said the pliers seized had a wire cutter on the side. He thought it was a poor rig but they would work. Under the circumstances of rain falling most of November 8 he agreed that it would be natural for boots and clothing worn by a farmhand to be damp at night. He had seen footprints in a plowed field about a mile from the MacKinnon property. There were several pointing westerly, none pointing east.

The four bottles of suspected horsehair were received by the Hair and Fibre Section of the Crime Detection Laboratory at Regina by registered mail. Microscopic examinations had been made of the contents. As a result of these examinations it was possible to express an opinion that the two bottles containing long hairs—some found in the clump and some taken from the MacDonald horse—all had the same characteristics and could have come from the same animal, or another with hair displaying the same features. The other two bottles contained "body hair" as distinct from that coming from a mane or tail.

Mr. McPhee suggested to the witness that animals of like breeding and similar feeding living in the same climatic conditions would have the same features.

The Court adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning and is expected to sit all day and perhaps into the evening in an effort to bring all the witnesses to the stand and end the presentation of evidence.
