CIMN - 102.3 Cable FM

Are you tired of having the 300 greatest songs of the 70's, broken only by the all-too-frequent infantile strains of a new Kids song?

Yeah, let's face it folks commercial radio can be at best...well...boring and nauseating.

That's where we come in - CIMN - "PEI's only alternative to commercial radio." We play everything from rap to soul, to heavy metal to punk, rock to dance music -Anything!!

Tune in to our signal carried on 102.3 FM on your Island Cablevision hook-up and you can also call 892-CIMN to request just about anything.

Also, if you're interested in becoming a wildly famous radio celebrity (otherwise known as a CIMN DJ) come on up to our massive studio complex on the 3rd floor of the barn or call 566-0417 and leave your name and number.

Concert Review

Mae Moore & Spirit of the West
Review by a CIMN Management type

Wow. I'll admit that I'm probably a little biased, as I've been a fan for years, but Spirit of the West was incredible. The energy the band seemed to ooze, combined with competent musicianship and sharp lyrics made the evening memorable. There can be very little doubt that Spirit of the West is primarily a crowd-pleasing or live band. The music the band performed was mostly from their last album Save This House (1990) with a few tunes from the last two albums before that Labour Day (1988) and Tripping Up the Stairs (1986). The show started for Spirit of the West with "Nature Land" from Tripping... from Labour Day they belted out "Cinema of Pain" and perhaps their best song yet "Political". Most of the tunes from Save this House were played and proved to be pretty crowd-pleasing. On an acknowledgely negative note though, I have heard some people complaining that they didn't really like Spirit of the West. I can't help but feel that if these people might have been better off if they'd known that Spirit of the West, was not a rock n'roll band and as danceable as most rock bands. I was not also very impressed with the fact that their show
