Little Boy Prefers Blindness To Death

ATLANTA (AP) — A child's small voice has been added to the debate between his divorced parents as to whether they should trade his remaining cancerous eye for a chance to live.

"I would rather be operated on than die," five-year-old Johnny Pair was quoted Thursday night by his mother.

Doctors have said that unless Johnny's right eye is removed soon he will lose what vision he has left, and it then will be too late to save his life.

Johnny's left eye was removed two years ago when he first was found to be a victim of cancer.

The mother, Mrs. Bessie Pair, favors the operation. Arnold Pair, the father, at first said he disapproved, but now says he is "thinking it over."

Petal Buns

1. Measure into bowl
1 cup lukewarm water
Stir in
1 tablespoon granulated sugar
Sprinkle with contents of 2 envelopes Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast
Let stand 10 minutes, THEN stir well.

2. Meantime, cream until soft
⅓ cup butter or margarine
Gradually blend in ⅔ cup granulated sugar
1 teaspoon salt
Add, part at a time, beating well after each addition 4 well-beaten eggs
Stir in dissolved yeast and 3 cups once-sifted all-purpose flour and beat until smooth and elastic.
Work in an additional 2¾ cups (about) once-sifted all-purpose flour

3. Turn out on lightly-floured board and knead into a smooth ball. Place in greased bowl and brush with melted butter or margarine. Cover. Let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.

4. Punch down dough. Divide into 3 equal pieces; roll each piece into an 8-inch square. Spread each square with 1 tablespoon soft butter or margarine and then with thick raspberry jam
Roll up as for jelly roll and cut into eight 1-inch pieces. Place in greased muffin pans and cut an X in each bun with a pair of scissors. Brush buns with melted butter or margarine. Cover. Let rise until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour. Bake in a moderately hot oven, 375°, about 15 minutes.
Yield—24 buns.
