"SAVED MY LIFE."

IT'S NO HOPELESS WAIL, BUT TESTIMONY WITH A TRUE RING TO IT FOR THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN CURES.

WONDERFUL TESTIMONIALS.

RHEUMATISM.—The Great South American Rheumatic Cure is safe, harmless, and acts quickly. Gives instant relief and an absolute cure in one to three days; works wonders in the most acute forms of rheumatism and neuralgia. "I was crippled so that I had to use a stick to get about," writes James A. Anderson, of Calgary, N. W. T. "At times I suffered untold misery. I tried every medicine under the sun—spent six weeks in the hospital under special treatment, without any relief. I was induced to try South American Rheumatic Cure. After using two bottles I threw away my stick and went to work, and have worked every day since, and that was two and a half years ago."

KIDNEYS.—"I believe it saved my life," is the positive testimony of Mr. James McBrine of Jamestown, Huron Co., Ont., in speaking of the miraculous cure of a complication of kidney troubles by the Great South American Kidney Cure. This gentleman was so severely affected that his physician had to attend him daily to take the urine from him. The first dose gave him relief, and half a bottle cured him completely, dissolving all obstructions, and healing and strengthening the parts. South American Kidney is a kidney specific only, and it does all that is claimed for it every time.

STOMACH AND NERVES. — Two thirds of all chronic diseases are due to disordered nerve centres. Cure the nerves and you will control the disease. South American Nervine has proved this thousands of times. It is a powerful nerve builder and, in cases of acute indigestion and dyspepsia, has affected marvellous cures. Geo. Webster of Forest writes: "For a number of years I suffered greatly from nervousness, twitching of muscles and sleeplessness. I tried almost every known remedy without relief. I was induced as a last resort to try South American Nervine. The first bottle benefited me, and five bottles cured me. It is a grand medicine, and I owe my life to it."

Serious conflicts took place on August 27th, on the Turkish-Bulgarian frontier, near the villages Adarashittza and Kazlik. A Turkish officer and several Turkish soldiers were killed. The Bulgarians did not suffer any losses. The Bulgarian Government is reinforcing the troops on the frontier.

"In September, 1894, I made a misstep and injured my ankle. Very soon afterwards,

A Sore

two inches across formed and in walking to favor it I sprained my ankle. The sore became worse; I could not put my boot on and I thought I should have to give up at every step. I could not get any relief and had to stop work. I read of a cure of a similar case by Hood's Sarsaparilla and concluded to try it. Before I had taken all of two bottles the sore had healed and the swelling had gone down. My is now well and I have been greatly benefited otherwise. I have increased in weight and am in better health. I cannot say enough in praise of Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. H. BLAKE, So. Berwick, Me.

NEWS NOTES.

On the journey from London to Balmoral the Queen's train struck and killed a signal man.

The Soir, the French Liberal paper which was started at the beginning of the election campaign, has suspended publication, its mission having succeeded.

The Toronto News' Ottawa special says it is whispered about that before Mr. Laurier assumed responsibility for the action of Lord Aberden towards the late Government he consulted the Hon. David Mills, and that authority advised him against taking office under the circumstances. This explains why Mr. Mills was not taken into the administration, as he could not accept office under a premier with whom he had a difference of opinion on so important a subject.

"GIVE ME PROFIT!"

The Motto of Those Who Retail Common Package Dyes.

There are still a few business men in Canada who care more for money profits than they do about satisfying their customers.

These are the business men who sell inferior and imitation package dyes for home dyeing. They buy these common dyes from the makers two to three dollars per gross less than the Diamond Dyes cost, and then retail them at full price—10 cents—asked for the reliable and genuine Diamond Dyes.

This is deception pure and simple. The women of the country can soon put a stop to this kind of swindling business if they continually insist upon having the Diamond Dyes. Poor dyes mean dingy and smutty colors, ruined goods, and lost time and money. Diamond Dyes are easy to use, and you always get a grand return for the small amount of money you expend.

It is reported in Hamburg that a number of German shipping and colonization companies have purchased a large tract of land in the state of Santa Catharina, Brazil, upon which they will establish a German colony. The plan is approved of by the German press generally.

For Dyspepsia and Bad Blood Humors Manley's Celery-Nerve Compound is unexcelled.

Mr. Geo. Reid, G.T.R. Operator, New Hamburg, Ont., under date of March 3rd 1896, writes as follows: "I was troubled for two years with Boils and Dyspepsia of the worst kind. Tried several medicines, but none gave much relief. Until I tried Manley's Celery-Nerve Compound my blood was in a dreadful state, but I am happy to say your medicine cured me."

ABSOLUTELY PURE

ELECTRIC STROKE.

It Affects the Workman as Does Fierce Sun Heat.

One of the most extraordinary modern diseases is a peculiar affection, most aptly termed electric sunstroke, which not infrequently befalls workmen employed in melting metals by means of electricity. It appears from observations made at the great steel and iron works at Creuzot, that the intense voltaic arc between the carbon and the metal to be melted emits rays which, even at a distance of ten meters, produce a painful, hot, prickling sensation, like that of a burn, on such uncovered portions of the body as the throat, face and, more especially, forehead.

The skin of the parts affected becomes either copper colored or assumes a bronze hue; the eyes, in spite of black glasses, are so intensely dazzled as to be useless for some minutes, after which xanthopsia (yellow vision) sets in, everything appearing saffron colored, the conjunctives are inflamed, and there is a gritty feeling as of sand under the eyelids. There is frequently great pain, accompanied often by sleeplessness, and, in some instances, fever.

After a few days these symptoms subside, the skin of the affected parts peels, and the patient is restored to health.

Now, the remarkable thing about all this is that very little heat is radiated from the electric arc used; all the trouble arises from the light rays, and although it has not yet been experimentally proved, there can be little doubt that the blue and violet, that is, the chemical rays are to blame.

Measuring an Odor.

Eugene Mesnard, a French botanist, is reputed to have discovered a simple and easy method of measuring the intensity of an odor. He takes advantage of the delicate qualitative power of the sense of smell—that is, of its ability to discriminate between odors, be they different only by a very little. He finds that if some very characteristic odor be mingled with the one to be measured there is a certain point where they balance, and form what he calls a "neutral odor." In this state the addition of a minute quantity of either scent causes that one to predominate. The way M. Mesnard goes about making his measurement is to continue under a bell glass the perfume whose intensity is to be ascertained, or the object that gives it off, say a bunch of violets. The odor of turpentine is pumped in by squeezing a rubber bulb till the "neutral odor" is obtained, the experimenter observing carefully the developments by smelling through a connecting tube. Then the mixed scents are admitted, gradually, into a jar containing glowing phosphorous. The amount admitted is registered by the turns of a handle, and the number of turns necessary to put out the phosphorus gives the measure of the quantity of turpentine, and hence the intensity of the odor that was neutralized by it. The faculty of smelling is comparatively feeble in the human being, and it is suggested that if such measurements as these are to be systematically and continuously made a great increase in the delicacy of olfactory nerves may be looked for in those who perform them.

Racked with Rheumatism

Unable to Walk, owing to excruciating pain.

After ten years' terrible torture, Cured by Scott's Sarsaparilla.

A. H. Christiansen, writing from the Clifton House, Niagara Falls, says: "I owe you more than I can ever pay. For ten years I suffered the tortures of the damned with rheumatism. Father had it before me, and I believe it is an hereditary disease. My knee joints would get inflamed and if I was out in any "weather" I was sure to be laid up, which to a travelling man is a calamity. In a score of Canadian towns local doctors treated me, some giving relief, others none. I read that Sarsaparilla was a rheumatic cure, and I asked a druggist for "a bottle of the best Sarsaparilla on the market." He gave me Scott's, remarking that it was an improvement on all others, and that he could honestly recommend it. I have taken four bottles, and am as free from pain as a man can hope to be. I was out in a rainstorm two days ago and never felt a twinge. As I said before, to Scott's Sarsaparilla I owe more than I can ever repay."

The best remedy for rheumatism, sciatica, and neuralgic pains—all arising from the presence of poison in the blood—is Scott's Sarsaparilla, a modern concentrated medicine, prompt in its curative effects. Doses from one half to one teaspoonful. At $1 per bottle of your druggist.

in a surprisingly short time. It's a scientific certainty, tried and true, soothing and healing in its effects.

W. C. McCOMBER & SON, Bouchette, Que., report in a letter that Pyny-Pectoral cured Mrs. C. Carosse of chronic cold in chest and bronchial tubes, and also cured W. G. McComber of a long-standing cold.

MR. J. H. HUTTY, Chemist, 528 Yonge St., Toronto, writes: "As a general cough and lung syrup Pyny-Pectoral is a most invaluable preparation. It has given the utmost satisfaction to all who have tried it, many having spoken to me of the benefits derived from its use in their families. It is suitable for old or young, being pleasant to the taste. Its sale with me has been wonderful, and I can always recommend it as a safe and reliable cough medicine."
