Italian movie actress Gina Lollobrigida holds bonnet and bootees, part of layette for baby she expects around July 20. Child will be first for Gina and her husband, Dr. Milko Skofic, a physician. They celebrated their eight wedding anniversary last week. This picture was made in Rome, Italy. (AP WirePhoto)

Sees No Difference Between Wife Of Jap And Journalist

LONDON (AP)—A British journalist touring Japan who sent back word that he was so impressed by Japanese women that he intends to "Orientalize" his wife faces a lot of explaining when he gets back.

Frederick Ellis described Japan as a "man's paradise" in a dispatch from Osaka last week. Why, he said, the men "Boss, with a capital B. Women are near-serfs—self-effacing, devoted women-Fridays, whose job it is to serve their masters."

Ellis told of going to a dinner "Japanese style—that is, sitting cross-legged at a 15-inch high table, eating often exorcising local dishes like rice wrapped in green seaweed."

WIVES STAY HOME

The Japanese wives stay home, he said, but geisha girls were quick with a light when he reached for a cigarette, kept his wine-cup full. And, he added with glee: "Women here know their place. They chatter when chattered to. Never interrupt, never disagree with men."

"Their sole task is to keep men happy. They must be not only decorative but entertaining. Oh, for service of this magnitude in Britain, where women (unhappily) equal men."

COOK'S CORNER

ALMOND COOKIES
1 cup shortening
1/2 cup white sugar
1/2 cup brown sugar
1 egg, beaten
2 1/2 cups flour
1 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. soda
1 tsp. cream of tartar
1 tsp. almond extract
Cream shortening and sugar, add egg, then sifted dry ingredients. Dough may be divided, nuts and raisins added to part. Roll in balls and place on cookie sheet. Decorated with nuts, cherries, fruit, etc. Bake 10 mins. at 350 deg. F.

MORNING SMILE

An aged Yorkshireman was being shown around the Royal Observatory, and was impressed by what he saw.

"This clock," said his guide, "is the one from which all the world takes its time."

"Wonderful," said the old man. Then, drawing a dilapidated silver watch from his pocket, he said: "an' it's nobbut foive minutes fast an' all."

To Wed Inventor Of Love Letter Writing Set

LONDON (CP)—Nell Dunn, 20-year-old grand-daughter of the late Canadian millionaire Sir James Dunn, has announced her engagement to Jeremy Sandford, 26. The marriage is to take place in February.

She is the younger daughter of Sir Philip Dunn, who inherited £1,000,000 after his industrialist father died early in 1956. Sir Philip now lives in Canada.

Sandford recently made a broadcast describing experiments in writing love letters by means of an electronic brain machine, but he told a reporter this had no connection with his romance.

"I just blurted out that I wanted to marry her, and she accepted," Sandford was quoted as saying.

British newspapers say that at Oxford Sandford was among the leaders of the "smart set."

"His rooms were papered in scarlet and gold," says the Sunday Express.

She Enjoys Every Minute Of Being A Celebrity

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—A sprightly author and television personality, Nancy Spain, at 39 has become one of Britain's best-known women, adored by some, barely tolerated by others.

Friend of Lord Beaverbrook and great-niece of the Mrs. Beeton who wrote the famous cookery book, she's a celebrity, and she enjoys every minute of her newfound fame.

"I really am having the happiest time of my life right now," says the candid and rather unorthodox woman who is book critic for Beaverbrook's Daily Express, gossip columnist of the monthly magazine She and author of 15 books.

FAVORS INFORMALITY

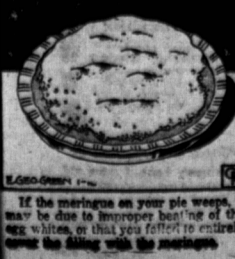

She likes good living. Drop into an exclusive fish restaurant in Soho these days and you'll see there a tomboy figure, in yellow sloppy-joe sweater and blue jeans, dark brown hair cut short and shaggy.

"When I wear these clothes," she explains in a husky voice, "I feel that my real personality comes through."

With dresses, a different personality envelops her. She becomes irritable, perhaps because of "those bust-bodies you have to wear with dresses."

A fainter trenchant comment has made her something of a female equivalent of Gilbert Harding, the gruff character of radio and television. When Nicholas Monsarrat's last book came out, she called it one of the "most re-
