
OIL DRILLING OFF BRITAIN

John Wigman (left) and Bill Hallam rest during oil drilling operation in the coastal waters of Britain. The well is being drilled with a small land rig and an 87-foot mast mounted on a barge. The barge is fitted with four retractable legs which rest on the sea bottom and raise the barge 30 feet above the water when drilling is in progress. The underwater well is expected to go down to 2,500 feet. (CP Wirephoto from British Information Services).

Industrial Stocks Reach New Highs On N.Y. Market

NEW YORK (AP)—Industrial issues rose to new highs last week as the stock market broke out of a three-week consolidation pattern in heavy trading.

Stock prices were pushed ahead by sharply increased profits reported for the third quarter and the nine months by many blue chip companies.

Wall Street also had the benefit of a broad assortment of bullish economic news, including price increases, rising production, record car sales and rising rail carloadings.

The rise in popular averages attracted increased buying, with the result that the weekly volume of 27,079,140 shares was the highest since the week ended Sept. 14 when 27,797,350 shares changed hands. The previous week's volume totalled 23,798,-299 shares.

PROFIT TAKING

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial issues advanced 8.84 to 750.60 — slightly below its latest historic peak of 750.77 made at the close of trading Thursday.

Considerable profit taking occurred on Friday, with the result that the Dow Industrials, after rising early in the day, closed with a net loss. On the same day, however, Standard and Poor's 500-stock index rose .06 to 73.32, just making a new historic high by topping its previous record of 73.30 made Sept. 24.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 3.1 to 280.9, its biggest weekly gain since it has advanced 4.1 in the week ended Aug. 16. The AP average, however, remained below its historic closing high of 281.5 reached Sept. 24.

The week's trading began in unimpressive fashion with a slight loss on Monday and a small gain Tuesday. Wednesday, however, put the Dow Industrials at the first of its two record peaks made this week. The market continued to advance Thursday.

One of the sensational gains of the week was a rise of 21¼ to 114¼ by Johnson and Johnson on news that it soon would produce a cheaper oral contraceptive pill.

Steel Shipments May Slip Soon

CLEVELAND (AP) — Unless U.S. automobile manufacturers step up their orders for steel soon, steel industry shipments in November may fall short of October shipments, Steel magazine says.

The magazine notes that demand from the construction industry, "the market's mainstay in recent weeks, is starting to falter seasonally."

"Orders in most mills are simply keeping pace with last month's, but many steelmakers are hoping for a last minute surge."

Ingot production has reached the highest level since mid-July, Steel says, with mills operating near 63.5 per cent of unofficial capacity. Last week's output was estimated at 1,950,000 tons, and production was expected to increase this week for the 10th straight week.

Steel says its price composite on No. 1 heavy melting grade scrap held steady at $27 a gross ton for the eighth straight week.

Elderly Lady Lone Church Supporter

FLEMINGSBURG, Ky. (AP) Three strangers walked into the Clover Hill Methodist Church one Sunday morning, looked around and discovered they were alone except for an elderly woman deep in prayer.

"Where's the rest of the congregation" they asked.

"I'm it," replied Miss Ollie Spencer.

She also is the steward, treasurer and trustee of the white frame structure with its twin front doors. The church was built in 1856 in a remote community outside Elizaville. It had 50 members at the turn of the century.

She pays $400 a year for the pastor's salary and donates at least $300 to missions and charitable groups.

Miss Ollie, who is 81, keeps the interior of the church spotless, tunes the piano when necessary, and in winter fires up an old iron stove so that the place is warm when Rev. Harry Oldaker arrives.

He holds services at Clover Hill twice a month. On alternate Sundays he takes Miss Ollie to his other church.

The minister considers her "one of the most dedicated people I've ever met."

"She lives a very frugal life to support Clover Hill," he said.

The house—Miss Ollie was born there—has a telephone but few other conveniences. She raises her own garden and cans the vegetables and fruit that grow on the 130-acre tract.

Although the property is one of the most productive in the area, Miss Ollie won't sell it. "The Lord gives me all I need." Besides, she asks, "Who would take care of His church"

Three generations of her family have worshipped there and she's determined it won't be disbanded.

Chaput Seeks Million Yearly For Party Fund

MONTREAL (CP) — Marcel Chaput, leader of the separatist Quebec Republican Party, has announced plans to raise $1,000,-000 a year for party funds.

He said the party would launch an intensive campaign for donations and subscribers would be paid back "with interest" by the treasury when Quebec becomes a republic. He gave no other details except to say he expects the plan will be confirmed at a meeting Saturday of the party's national council.

Mr. Chaput's announcement followed the resignation Wednesday of Henri-Yvon LePage, the party's financial chairman.

Mr. LePage said he was resigning because Mr. Chaput planned to offer financial supporters 25 times the amount of their money back "after the proclamation of the republic."

Labor-Management Efforts Spark Lively Discussion

By GREG MacDONALD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Labor-management relations was the topic of some lively conversation on the Canadian business scene last week.

William Mahoney, general vice-president of the Canadian Labor Congress, and Alan A. Page, industrial relations manager of Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, Toronto, both went on record in a 50-minute debate as disapproving of strikes. But agreement between the two was ended there.

The two men took part in the unique debate at Waterloo, Ont. The debate followed a community meeting last January of labor and management representatives from the Kitchener-Waterloo area to deal with productivity.

Mr. Mahoney warned that a new approach must be taken to labor-management relations in Canada if this country is not to endure more frequent and more bitter strikes in the future.

STRIKES ANACHRONISM

Mr. Page said strikes are an anachronism in the 1960s because they substitute force for reason and logic.

Mr. Mahoney, also Canadian director of the United Steelworkers of America, suggested formation of a national organization of employers.

"Let them delegate top-flight men to sit down with their opposite numbers in labor," he said. "Let these joint sessions draw up an agenda of problems which cannot be solved in individual negotiations and work out recommendations for their solution."

He said that as a first step both sides could stop relying on legislation to save face.

"If new approaches are rejected and we continue in our present outmodded, ineffective manner, we can expect the old results. Strikes will not only remain necessary but, in spite of all the experience of 20 years, they may become more frequent and more disruptive."

Mr. Page argued that strikes are anti-social, creating serious social inequities by enabling an organized minority to improve its economic condition at the expense of its fellows.

He said strikes engender disrespect of established law and order for the rights and freedom of others. Much of the trouble stems from the fact that the strike "is a subject on which emotion often overwhelms logic."

MERCANTILE EXPANDS

Elsewhere on the business scene Mercantile Bank of Canada, one of Canada's smallest chartered banks, announced it is going to open up branches across the country.

The bank, which received its charter in 1953, has offices in Montreal, Vancouver and Toronto.

Officials of the bank said the main purpose of expansion would be to offer new commercial services to Canadian businessmen operating abroad. They said it will also offer new services in Canada to foreigners, including United States citizens, wishing to do business in Canada.

Dominion Tar and Chemical announced an $11,250,000 expansion program for its Red Rock, Ont., mill, to be completed late in 1965. Currently the mill produces chiefly cardboard products but bags and sack paper will also be produced as a result of the expansion.

Robert Simpson Co. Ltd. is going to spend $10,000,000 on its main store in downtown Toronto. Several buildings in the area will be razed to make way for a 215,000-square-foot multi-storey addition. Completion date is scheduled for 1967.

On the oil front, Canadian Kewanee Ltd., a wholly-owned subsidiary of Kewanee Oil Company, reported an oil discovery in Alberta's Snipe Lake field.

The well is reported to have shown an initial flow of 3,062 barrels of crude oil daily through a half-inch bore.

Oil industry spokesmen say it is one of the highest initial flow rates recorded in Alberta.
