

Why Does Oily Hair Often Have An Unpleasant Smell?

Don't Let Neglect Make You Pay This Penalty

Your hair is a "dust-catcher" — and the oilier your hair is, the more dust, grime and smoke it collects from the air. These combine with perspiration, dried skin particles or dandruff to coat your scalp with a tight, waxy accumulation... make it unclean and unhealthy.

Hair experts recommend plenty of scalp massage and the most thorough kind of washing for this type of hair. Yes, your hair needs washing at least once a week with a shampoo that actually dissolves and washes away all dirt and dandruff.

Fitch Dandruff Remover Shampoo is the only shampoo guaranteed to remove dandruff. And Fitch's creamy, stimulating lather works right down into the thousands of tiny hair openings in your scalp, so they are antiseptically clean and free from any clinging film of dirt, oil, or dandruff.

When you give your scalp a weekly health treatment with Fitch Dandruff Remover Shampoo, you give your hair a beauty treatment at the same time — so your hair grows lush, healthy and alive-looking.

Gives Review Of Scout Jamboree Held At Ottawa

Mr. Gordon Kerr, B.Sc., Field Commissioner for the P. E. I. Boy Scouts Association was guest speaker at the weekly luncheon of the Charlottetown Rotary Club yesterday. He was introduced by Rotarian W. W. Reid, President of the Boy Scouts Association. Two guests Messrs. William Beazley, Halifax, and Norman Black, Charlottetown, were present.

After thanking Rotarians for their staunch support of Scouting in the past, Field Commissioner Gordon said: "As you came into dinner you saw a series of photographs taken at the Scout Jamboree in Ottawa last summer. I had the pleasure of being a member of the P. E. I. contingent and would like to tell you now some of the highlights of this great gathering.

"This was the largest gathering of Scouts in the Canada ever had. There were over 2700 boys and leaders present from every Province in Canada, from the United States and from Cuba. Three different languages were spoken and ten different religions were in evidence, yet all worked and played together with absolute harmony and good will.

"Scouting is a great world brotherhood and this Jamboree gave each boy a grand opportunity of seeing this Scout brotherhood, as they lived, worked and played together for ten happy days. "Our Island, as you know, was represented by thirty-two boys and three leaders, Mr. Driscoll of Charlottetown, Douglas Hardy of O'Leary and myself. "First of all thanks to the kindness of this club, we spent four days in preparation for the main event, at Upton Farm, Charlottetown. "Here the boys quickly adapted themselves to camp life and camp routine. Patrols were organized, final touches were given to the displays and a definite Scouting Troop Spirit was established. "While at Upton, we were honored by a visit by Lt. Governor Bernard who spoke to us on the value of Scout training and wished us good speed and good Scouting. "On July 14, we packed our kits, marched to the station and boarded the train for the mainland. At Borden, we were met by Mr. A. P. Ceretti who treated us all and saw us safely aboard the train at Cape Tormentine.

First Night From Home "We spent the first night away from home, at Moncton on the special train held there for Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Newfoundland and Prince Edward Island Scouts. In the morning all Scouts had gathered and we were on our way. Owing to a breakdown, we spent the next night near St. Anne's, Quebec and finally arrived in Ottawa the following evening. "A fleet of buses met us there and transported us to Connaught Range. In a matter of some twenty minutes we were at camp and were ready for supper. "The Jamboree was unlike any Scout Camp any of you may have seen. Here the boys' only duties were cooking, and they made a swell job of it, cleaning up, keeping the campsite and tents in order and a short period of fatigue duties each day. The remainder of the time was spent in becoming acquainted, attending displays, taking part in organized sport and generally, in having a good time. "I believe there are four main points that stand out in each boy's memory:

"First, the trip in itself. For the greater number of our boys, this was their first trip off the island. They saw a lot of country and thoroughly enjoyed all the sights. "Secondly, the official opening of the camp by the Chief Scout for Canada, His Excellency Viscount Alexandria, and the mile-long parade past the reviewing stand. "Thirdly, the tour of Ottawa. Each Troop toured the city and visited: (1) the Dominion Experimental Farm and Museum; (2) the Ottawa Museum; (3) Rockcliffe Airport; (4) the Canadian Parliament Building. At each centre, we were shown all the main points of interest.

"Finally, and most important, the good fellowship and friendship that was the chief characteristic of the Jamboree. "One of the most interesting parts of the Jamboree was the display each Province put on at the Jamboree Arena. Ours was an outstanding success. I am going to read the report as printed in the daily Jamboree Newspaper:

Sport Echoes From Prince County

We start off with a casualty list; Carl Woodside, Crystal defenceman, has broken a bone in his ankle and will be out of hockey for the rest of the season; Gerard Bernard, Crystal forward, is in hospital with pleurisy and will probably not see any more action in hockey this season; Layton Schurman, Crystal forward, has aggravated an old back injury and his doctor advises one month's rest; Walter Campbell, Crystal defenceman, suffered a shoulder dislocation some time ago and it is doubtful if he will be able to play hockey for a week or two. If the Crystals fail to get in the play-offs, there seems enough material above for some sort of allbi.

But the Crystals are not in the mood for allbi. They say they will get into the play-offs. The survivors are fighting mad, and determined to beat the Meteors, and then go on to win a series against the Prince of Wales team. Good luck to you, boys, you might do it, too, but please be careful and not break any more bones or contract any more diseases.

It's time we said something about those surprising Juveniles that hail from the town of Kensington. We hadn't been taking them very seriously until they beat the Summerside Jubs by the decisive score of 11 to 3. "By Jove, they have a hockey team," we exclaimed then. "Isn't it too bad they had to have their good team the same year the Charlottetown Abegweits had a power-packed band of puck-toters?" Then those Kensington lads proceeded to make that exclamation sound silly.

asking three things of you: "First, that you help them morally, that is by example in every day living. "Secondly, physically, by supplying or helping to supply leaders. "Thirdly, financially, so that we may continue to expand and so that we may have the wherewithal to train these leaders and through them, train the boys. "The boys of today are the men of tomorrow, the type of men they will be, to a large extent, rests on us."

by beating those high-powered Abegweits 7 to 4! When we read that that we got such a surprise we darned near swallowed our gum. There is still a sixty-four dollar question unanswered, and that is — Can the Kensington boys edge out the Abegweits superjubs in a home and home series? Just now the home-and-home count is 13 to 11 against them but the Kensington juveniles will have more confidence than, next time, they visit the Forum, and they should make a better showing. Anyway, as Prince County scribe, we wish them the best of luck in their quest for a juvenile Island championship.

particular rush at this time, the fans of each centre will get an opportunity to see part of this series. We saw what was the nearest thing to an occasion for calling a penalty shot at Crystal Rink Thursday night when the Vics played the Crystals. Garth Gay broke away from the pack just over the Vic blue-line and looked to have a clear path to the net when he was tripped. The refs didn't see it that way, however, and the offender got a two-minute penalty only. We're not panicking the referees for this. It was just a matter of judgment and they chose to decide it that way.

Keen Racing At Stanley Bridge

The Stanley Bridge Racing Club came up with their best meet of the season on Saturday, February 11th, when a large crowd of spectators turned out to witness some keen racing provided by eleven entries participating in three classified events. Robert Baldwin won the Class A event, Lady Blondell the Class B and Trixie Calmuck the Class C honors. The following are the results:

P.E.I. Contingent

"Prince Edward Island's small contingent came through with one of the neatest and most compact displays to date. Deciding that the audience needed laughs as well as information, the Island Scouts popularized their chief products in a novel manner.

"The Micmac Indians introduced P.E.I.'s already well-known Jamboree map to the audience. The Hon. J. Pope, first Premier of P. E. I. after Confederation, was depicted in the opening scene.

"Dairy farming is one of the Island's more important industries. Yesterday we saw what was supposed to be one of the present Premier's prize Holsteins which, much to the amusement of the audience, simply refused to be milked in Ontario.

"Spud Island" is another nickname for this Province, and we were given a chance to see how large they really grow, or rather how large the members of the contingent claim they grow in that fertile land.

"Sea food, yet another of the Island's principal sources of income was portrayed by a huge red lobster, its antennae waving menacingly, and its stalked eyes protruding with a horrible glare, which crawled around the arena and was greeted by the delighted shrieks of the audience.

"Finally, it was fun and frolic time, as a group of P.E.I. fishermen and their 'wives' proceeded to demonstrate the Victorian dance 'The Lancers'. The music was supplied by Don Messer and his Islanders, specially recorded for the occasion.

"The P.E.I. presentation was fast and sparkling entertainment and came as a pleasing contrast to the longer historical pageants done by other groups. Well done P.E.I. Our boys were a credit to P.E.I.

"As General Spry said, when he spoke to you, these boys changed from boys in ten days, to young men. Young men who will be the leaders of tomorrow.

"On the island, we have some 600 boys receiving this training in useful citizenship and training in leadership. For this reason I am
