Soviet Delegates Ignore Emergency Session Sunday

By Norman Alstedter
LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., June 25 (CP)—The United Nations security council today ordered North Korea to cease fire and withdraw her invading forces to the 38th parallel, which divides the Communist North from Western-recognized South Korea.

Meeting in extraordinary Sunday session, which boycotting Russian delegates ignored, the Council called on all U. N. members to give "every assistance" to the resolution ordering a cease-fire in Korea, and to refrain from helping North Korea.

The resolution, sponsored by the United States, was passed by a vote of 9-0, with Yugoslavia abstaining, after Trygve Lie, U. N. secretary-general, termed the situation "serious" and a "threat to international peace."

U. S. Is Deeply Concerned Over Situation In Korea

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—President Truman returned to Washington by air tonight to confer with his top foreign-policy and military advisers on the crisis created by a Communist invasion of South Korea.

He arrived as the United States intervened swiftly with emergency arms aid and diplomatic moves.

Obviously in a hurry to get on with a crucial cabinet-level conference on the attack on the United States-sponsored South Korea republic by North Korea, Truman cut off photographers seeking the usual "one more" picture of his arrival.

"That's all. We have a job to do," he told them.

The presidential plane was met by State Secretary Acheson, Undersecretary James E. Webb, and Defence Secretary Louis Johnson.

They all climbed into a White House limousine after Truman told reporters he would have no comment.

But he said they would go directly to Blair House, the temporary executive mansion, for dinner and a conference.

The president had cut short his "back porch" week-end holiday in Independence, Mo., because of the Communist invasion of the Korean Republic.

The Blair House conference was attended by top-ranking diplomatic and military chiefs, many of whom already had been in conference for hours.

Report U. S. Plane In Action Over Seoul

SEOUL, June 26 (Monday) (AP)—A United States fighter plane today was seen to engage in an aerial duel with a Russian-made plane over Seoul.

Observers at the American Embassy said an American Mustang drove off a Yak-3 fighter after the latter, presumably from North Korea, dropped two bombs within the city limits.

Korean police said six civilians were killed by the bombs.

It was the first aerial attack on this capital of the South Korean Republic since the Communist North began an invasion yesterday.

United States planes previously had been reported sent here from Japan to safeguard the evacuation of American women and children.

The observers reported the Yak got on the tail of one Mustang and fired before it was driven off. Its fire was presumed to have missed.

There was no comment from official sources.

The Russian-type plane conceivably could have been manned by a Soviet pilot.

However, it is more likely it was piloted by a North Korean. The North Koreans have been given considerable training in the flying of several types of Russian fighter planes.

NEW YORK, June 26 (AP)—The temperature reached a high for the year in New York City of 91.8 degrees at 3 p.m. EDT today. The previous high was 89.7 degrees June 7.

Forces From North Drive Ahead Rapidly

SEOUL, June 26 (Monday)—Northern Korean Communist forces invaded Southern Korea Sunday and by early today had thrust within 20 miles of this capital city of the Southern Republic.

(Reuters News Agency said Russian-backed North Korea declared war early Sunday after claiming South Koreans had attacked three places along the border between the two states, the 36th parallel.)

South Korean officials hit hard at the theme that the invasion was Russian-instigated and assisted.

Sihn Sung Mo, acting Premier and Defence Minister, said he had received word that 10 of 20 northern tanks captured north of Seoul had Russian crew members.

He said a southern Coast Guard vessel shelled and sank a Russian ship off the east coast and another Russian ship was driven north.

Sihn did not make clear whether he meant the captured tanks were fully manned by Russians.

Sihn said he could get no estimate of casualties, but Clarence Ryeve, public information officer, said he thought 4,000 Southern dead in the first day was probably conservative.

An American advisory group of officers estimated 2,000 to 3,000 Southern defenders killed the first day.

Came As Surprise
The invasion, which Sihn estimated was pressed by at least 50,000 Soviet-trained North Korean troops, began at dawn Sunday. Although previously predicted by the South Korean Government, it came as a tactical surprise.

Sihn had warned May 10 that attack by the Northerners was imminent.

At that time, Sihn gave this estimate of Northern strength: 183,000 trained men; 9,000 guerrillas; plus constabulary and youth corps units of unspecified strength; 173 tanks and 173 military planes; 32 naval vessels.
