Golden Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. W. Allan Stewart celebrated an important hall-mark in their lives yesterday when they observed their golden wedding anniversary with their family and friends during a reception held at their home, 25 Greenfield Avenue, in the afternoon and evening.

Nearly 300 guests were received by the couple during the happy day. With them, they recalled August 30, 1904 — their wedding day — and the marriage ceremony which was held at the home of the bride, the former Blanche Simpson, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Simpson, Bayview Mills.

Mrs. Stewart's three sisters, who attended the marriage ceremony, were also present at the reception yesterday. They are Mrs. E. C. Bell of Carleton, Mrs. M. W. Chepesuik of Moncton, N.B., and Mrs. Allison Tait of Southport.

"People have been so nice," said Mr. Stewart, commenting upon their many attentions through telegrams, letters, flowers and gifts. Their home was fragrant with the scent of golden roses and carnations.

Amongst the wires was one from the Lieutenant Governor, Hon T. W. L. Prowse, who is in Toronto attending the Canadian National Exhibition this week, and a letter from the Mayor, J. D. Stewart, who is present at a Mayor's conference in Windsor, Ont.

Home from Owen Sound, Ont., was their son, Mr. Alan Stewart, B.A., Q.C., with his wife and two children, Heather and Donald.

Receiving guests with their parents were Miss Marjorie Stewart and Mr. Stewart. Answering the door were a granddaughter, Heather Stewart, and grandniece, Pamela Stewart.

Pouring in the afternoon were Mrs. W. C. S. McLure, Mrs. H. R. Hillson, Mrs. T. H. B. Somers and Mrs. M. W. Chepesuik. Replenishing were Mrs. L. A. Stewart and Mrs. E. C. Bell, while Mrs. Gordon White, Mrs. Gordon Stewart and Miss Carol Chepesuik served.

In the evening, Miss Ethel Stewart, Mrs. W. L. Bailey, Mrs. Gordon Avard and Mrs. Lorne Stewart poured. Miss Dorothy Stewart and Mrs. Ernest Cameron replenished. Serving were Miss Margaret MacMillan, Miss Jean Grant and Miss Jean MacLean. Mrs. George Tweedy ushered.

Master Donald Stewart attended the guest book.

The tea table was centered with deep gold roses and pale golden gladioli. Tall yellow tapers were lit.

CBC Officials Review Religious Broadcast Rules

OTTAWA (CP) — CBC officials are reviewing a regulation forbidding CBC television stations to broadcast religious programs sponsored by commercial organizations.

Sponsored religious programs may be broadcast by privately-owned television stations, but the CBC is confined to non-sponsored productions.

The review follows an organized campaign in Ontario and Quebec to persuade the CBC to carry the sponsored United States television program "Life is Worth Living," produced by Bishop Fulton J. Sheen of New York. The move is headed by the Bishop Fulton Sheen TV committee.

During the last three weeks J. A. Ouiment, general manager of the CBC, has received several thousand cards urging the CBC to televise the program. The bulk were sent from Montreal, Toronto and Ottawa.

The Bishop Fulton Sheen TV committee claims that the program is education rather than religious.

CBC OUTLINES STAND

The CBC has sent each card writers a form letter outlining why the program cannot be carried by its stations.

The letter reads in part:

" . . . We want you to know that we would be happy to carry the program on a non-sponsored basis if this could be done.

"It has been a long - standing policy of the CBC not to allow religious broadcasts to be commercially - sponsored on its networks, but instead to allocate time for religious broadcastisg free of charge as fairly as possible among the major denominations. This policy was adopted on the advice of our National Religious Advisory Council. . . ."

A CBC official said there is no indication that the present regulation will be changed. However, he said he understands that a number of suggestions will be considered by the council at its next meeting Sept. 9.

Government policy reserves a number of areas, including Halifax, Ottawa, Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg and Vancouver, to CBC-TV stations. The council may consider whether the ban on sponsored religious broadcasts by these stations is unfair to the people of the reserved areas when privately-owned stations may broadcast such programs in other cities.

Give Statistics For Hosiery And Knitted Goods

OTTAWA, (CP)—The factories in Canada which supply women with hosiery and knitted goods didn't do so well in 1952.

They shipped more full-fashioned hosiery for m'lady, but found less of a market for the seamless variety. They increased production of underslips, but shipped fewer sweaters and gloves.

In all, factory shipments of Canada's hosiery and knitted goods industries totalled $162,820,000 down from $169,720,000 in 1951, the bureau of statistics reported Monday in its annual survey.

The number of factories dropped to 288 from 295; employment declined to 23,234 from 25,188; payrolls to $48,962,000 from $49,000,000; material costs to $80,373,000 from $84,402,000.

Full-fashioned hosiery shipments rose to 3,814,594 dozen pairs from 3,685,088 in 1951, but the flow of seamless hosiery dropped to 6,070,591 from 6,423,520.

Combination underwear production eased to 423,255 dozen from 440,766; but separate underwear shipments rose to 2,674,783 from 2,461,773.

The underslip market encouraged a production rise to 105,347 from 101,192 dozen, but the pullover market dropped and shipments of sweaters, cardigans and pullovers eased to 877,520 dozen from 957,026.

Output of knitted gloves and mittens dropped to 252,418 dozen pairs from 300,889 and fabric gloves and mittens to 61,546 from 65,475.

Canada's West Coast Becoming Industrial Giant

OTTAWA, (CP)—Canada's west coast is rapidly developing into a strident industrial giant with her industrial production doubling in seven post-war years.

The bureau of statistics, in a special survey, estimated Monday that the expanding number of British Columbia factories produced $1,332,481,000 worth of goods in 1952, double the $628,903,000 output in 1945.

And manufacturing has tripled in the north. Output in the Yukon and Northwest Territories jumped to $2,288,000 in 1952 from $704,663 in 1945.

Rich in natural resources and water power, British Columbia is steadily gaining on the country's industrial leaders—Ontario and Quebec. Her share of the total Canadian industrial output rose to 7.8 per cent in 1952 from 7.1 per cent in 1939.

With her forest, fish, mine and water resources attracting industry, B.C.'s manufacturing plants rose to 4,225 in 1952 from 2,326 in 1945.

This increased industrial employment to 92,667 from 87,974, with the annual bill of wages and salaries jumping to $283,530,000 from $160,419,000.

These hungry plants gobbled up $751,011,000 worth of supplies, more than double the $307,954,000 in 1945.

French Assembly

West Germany, all of whom, excepting Italy, had already ratified the treaty.

LAST EFFORT FAILS

Mendes - France reluctantly agreed to the new postponement if parliament approved it, and the influential assembly foreign affairs commission backed the plan Monday by a vote of 24 to 20. But the last-gasp effort died out Monday after an eloquent appeal for rejection of EDC by 82-year-old Radical party statesman Edouard Herriot.

Speaking "very solemnly — at the end of my life," the ailing, moderate statesman emeritus told the deputies the treaty, with its provisions for West German rearmament and supra-national authority, would mean "the end of France" and could drive Germany into the arms of Russia.

Herriot recalled between fits of coughing that in 1924 he had been responsible for re-establishment of diplomatic relations between France and Russia.

"Since 1924," he asserted, "I have had no difficulty with Russia."

He said his main reason for absolutely opposing EDC was that this was "a dangerous innovation in French foreign policy which I do not accept."

CLOSER TIE-UP ESSENTIAL

Herriot, resuming his seat in the assembly for the first time since the Second World War to oppose the treaty, said that the United States and British declarations of support attached to EDC did not constitute the close tie-up from them which he considered essential.

Herriot was answered by Socialist Christian Pineau, who pleaded for one last attempt to amend the treaty into a form acceptable to all six powers. He drew loud applause when he said the German-Russian non - aggression pact of 1939 contradicted Herriot's claim of "no difficulty" with the Russians.

The vote which followed, however, overwhelmingly backed Herriot's impassioned appeal.

The appeal brought immediate repercussion in Mendes-France's cabinet Monday night. Labor Minister Eugene Claudius Petit, an EDC supporter, announced he will resign today and said Justice Minister Emile Hugues and Industrial Minister Maurice Bourges-Maunoury, would probably resign also. All three are members of Mendes-France's Radical party.

What Now?

Franz Bluecher said he was "deeply shaken," but this "momentary" collapse of plans for European integration must not lead to bad feeling between France and West Germany.

Thomas Dehler, chairman of the Free Democrats, urged a "round table conference" among Prime Minister Churchill, State Secretary Dulles, Mendes-France and Adenauer. Mili' y alliances linked with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization might be the solution, as a substitute for EDC, he suggested.

An urgent call brought vacationing Italian cabinet ministers back to Rome to study the situation, which represents the collapse of the main pillar of Italian foreign policy during the last three years.

In Brussels, Senator Roger Motz, president of the Liberal international and honorary minister of state, said, "The Russians are the only winners."

A Dutch foreign ministry spokesman said, "This is very bad news, but we do not believe this means the end of European integration."

He declined to forecast what would happen next, but said the whole problem of integration would have to be re-examined.

A spokesman for NATO in Paris said that the death of EDCN "makes NATO more important than ever as the main instrument of Western defence."

FAVOR NATO ACTION

The British government is believed to favor a two-point plan as substitute for EDC:

1. Admission of Germany to NATO;

2. Restoration of sovereignty to West Germany in the immediate future in agreement with the U.S. and France. This would be effected by enforcing immediately the Bonn conventions which end the occupation of West Germany and which were hitherto contingent upon the coming into force of EDC.

(Britain will not give full backing to the direct admission of West Germany to NATO, diplomatic quarters in London believe.)

The NATO council meets Wednesday.

The European army plan was launched by Rene Pleven, then French premier, in October, 1950. Britain declined to take part but promised full support, as did the United States. The Benelux countries and West Germany ratified the army treaty this year.

There is no further change reported in the condition of the two more seriously injured children, Joyce Hill, who incurred a broken femur and Marjorie MacDonald, who suffered a slight concussion.

Chinese Reds Improve Health, Lag In Housing

By Fraser Wighton

HANGCHOW, China (Reuters)—A striking advance in public health, but continued slowness to conquer a national housing problem, are two features of life in Communist China which have struck touring British correspondents most forcibly.

Correspondents who had visited China before making the current tour with a British Labor party delegation agree that the Communists have scored their most notable success in health and sanitation measures: And looked least impressive on the centuries-old problem of adequately housing China's 600,000,000 people.

The war being waged against disease by the Communist government is paying dividends in the creation of a new hygiene-conscious national. Many citizens wear nose-and-mouth masks in the street, go around armed with a fly swatter and use scrupulous care in handling food.

CONDITIONS IMPROVED

Despite the sweltering heat, there is an absence of insect pests of all kinds to a degree astonishing to a Westerner. Conditions in upcountry hotels which some of the correspondents knew in the past were said to be vastly improved. In some the standard of cleanliness is worthy of a hospital.

On the other hand many millions of Chinese still are housed in conditions which shock Westerner and make their own big city slums seem palaces by comparison.

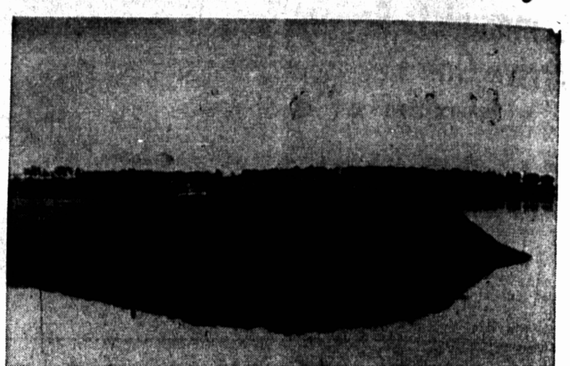
BIG SCHEMES

Big housing schemes for workers are part of Communist China's five-year plan. But the problem is so vast it looks as if it will take years to make a large-scale improvement.

Correspondents visited a housing development outside Shanghia where a big block of apartments has been erected for workers. The buildings, with an attractive exterior and well spaced, will house 25,000 families. But each apartment will consist only of a single room, and each bathroom will be shared by three families.

The buildings are well ventilated, and have electric light, running water and other conveniences. But they would not stand comparison with modern Western standards.

At North River Causeway



Some idea of the progress being made on the North River causeway can be gained from the picture above. A huge carry-all is seen dumping one of its loads while a bull-dozer stands by to level the earth. Working round the clock, these huge machines will be a contributing factor in bringing this work to an early conclusion.

Agriculture Federation Recommends Modifications In Potato Board Policy

The Provincial Board of the Federation of Agriculture met yesterday afternoon in Charlottetown to consider potato marketing and the proposed policies of the Potato Board for the coming season. It was the Federation's understanding that the general principles of the policy have been approved but that all details of operation are not yet finalized.

After careful consideration it was recommended that the statement of modifications which follows be put into effect by the Potato Board:

1. We approve of the basic principle of producers having the organization and the right to sell their products to the best possible advantage. Past experience in this and other provinces established the fact that in order to obtain the true market price and the full net return for farm products and to bring stability in the market, it is necessary for producers to bargain collectively, a right which cannot be denied any group.

2. We confirm our belief in the right of the Potato Board to operate collective bargaining for potato producers established under Provincial and Dominion Marketing Legislation and Potato Board regulations.

3. We are not concerned as to whom the selling agency sells the potatoes so long as returns to producers are maintained at the best possible level and that all possible stability is maintained in the market. Therefore we recommend that all Class "A" and Class "B" dealers be given the right to sell potatoes for the agency to the domestic market in any part of Canada on a brokerage basis. We do feel that potatoes should be sold back to Class "A" and Class "B" dealers due to the possibility of speculative buying, storing and selling which could later upset domestic prices and market conditions. By allowing Class "A" and Class "B" dealers to act as brokers for the selling agency it will permit all possible markets to be developed. It will also provide dealers the opportunity of putting up a special quality and package which can be supplied the selling agency and arrangements made for sale to any special outlets which dealers may have. Also arrangements should be made to give dealers the financial advantages of these special sales over established prices. We suggest that brokerage fees under this policy could be on a percentage basis as a means of providing an incentive to procure the highest possible price.

4. We believe that there should be a revision of the Pool periods suggested by the Potato Board, namely:

(a) Pool No. 1—To extend from the beginning of the season to and including November 25th .
(b) Pool No. 2—November 26th to January 15th.
(c) Pool No. 3—January 16th to March 15th.
(d) Pool No. 4—March 16th to May 10th.
(e) Pool No. 5—May 11th to June 30th.

This provides for five pools rather than four as in the suggested policy

5. We support the action of the Potato Board in applying to the Dominion Government for a Marketing Agreement similar in principle to that in effect last year. We believe that such agreements should be effected each year in order that a measure of protection can be assured potato producers during years of surplus production. Without such agreements from year to year we do not believe that protection can be procured in years when the industry is in trouble. Such marketing agreements and the development of producer marketing organizations is in line with the policy of organized agriculture in Canada and is, we believe, further, the most satisfactory system of stabilization for the potato industry.

6. We believe that it is in the producers best interest to accept an initial payment at the time of shipment and the interim or almost final payment at the end of each period. The long term advantages and security offered by such a policy far outweigh any inconvenience suffered by waiting some additional time for payment.

7. We recommend that the limit of ten bushels for shipment outside the Pool be raised to thirty bushels where such quantity is being transported out of the province by the grower thereof.
