Federal Action In Education Is Urged By Alberta Senator

OTTAWA (CP)—An outspoken independent Liberal senator from Alberta has called for bold federal intervention in education to ensure Canada's "economic survival."

Senator Donald Cameron, a retired university professor who makes his home in Banff, told the Senate that "provincial parochialism and negative sectarianism" are standing in the way of economic and social progress in Canada.

He realized that the constitution gave jurisdiction over education to the provincial governments, but this had been used "as an obstacle to progress or as an excuse for inaction."

The federal government was already giving financial aid for universities and vocational schools, but this was not enough.

He urged massive federal grants to the provinces to support elementary and secondary schools and increased grants to universities and industries to stimulate scientific research.

The 59-year-old English-born senator touched on several sensitive subjects while speaking in the continuing throne speech debate

He said the northern territories should not be allowed to achieve provincial status, but should be annexed to bordering provinces when they are sufficiently developed.

He favored the retention of the Red Ensign as the national flag and the use of both God Save the Queen and O Canada as national anthems.

Anglican Hopes Vatican To Take Look At Policies

LONDON (AP)—The Archbishop of Canterbury expressed hope Thursday that the Roman Catholic Church, at the Vatican ecumenical meeting, will take a fresh look at some of its policies, which he said offend other Christians.

The archbishop, Dr. Michael Ramsey, said in an interview in the weekly Catholic Herald:

"A good example of this is the question of mixed marriages, where some of the procedures and demands are very painful to Anglicans.

"I am thinking, of course, of the invitation to the future husband or wife to abandon their Anglican faith, and the insistence that the children of the marriage must be brought up as Roman Catholics.

"Another thing that hurts us very much is the principle that converts to the Roman Church should be baptized again, albeit conditionally, as this is a reflection on Anglican baptism—which in fact, you recognize in theory."

The interview, with Catholic Herald assistant editor Hugh Kay, was the first ever given by a head of the Anglican Church to a Roman Catholic publication.

Mother Loses Child Custody

DETROIT (AP) — A circuit Court judge has ruled that a three-year-old white girl whose parents are divorced should remain in the custody of her father rather than her mother who has since married a Negro doctor in California.

Judge George E. Bowles specified that the girl, Donna Potter, should be allowed to visit her mother six weeks each summer in California.

Permanent custody was awarded to Donald Potter, a teacher in suburban Taylor Township. He lives with his former wife's parents and Donna.

Both Potter and his former wife, now the wife of Dr. Percy D. Baugh of Riverside, Calif., were in court when Judge Bowles handed down his opinion.

Judge Bowles said in his ruling:

"Sandra Potter Baugh did not violate any law or public policy of the state of Michigan when she married Dr. Baugh. We have found no legal authority that living in a interracial home which is otherwise favorable is injurious to a minor child."

But Judge Bowles said of Potter: "So far as stability is concerned he presents a better picture than does Sandra (his former wife). He is living in the home of maternal grandparents (Mr and Mrs. Stephen Macek) and enjoys a good relationship with them and his own parents and relatives. Donna is happy and well adjusted."

Law Is Upheld Putting Bar On Freedomites

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mr. Justice F. Craig Munroe of British Columbia supreme Court has upheld an injunction barring sons of Freedom Doukhobors from Agassiz.

Mr. Justice Munroe said the municipality's bylaw is valid until proven otherwise and must be enforced by the RCMP.

He agreed with Kent officials that serious problems of law enforcement, health, education and employment could result if the more than 1,000 marching Freedomites are permitted to move into Agassiz.

The sect, now camped at Hope, 30 miles east of Agassiz, is trekking west from their former homes in the Kootenay mountains to be near relatives and friends jailed on terrorist charges in the new federal Mountain Prison.

Earth Innards Probe Started

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian scientists have launched a long-term project here to learn whether the earth's interior is heating or cooling.

Work began at the Dominion observatory on the drilling of the first of a series of holes into the earth's crust to measure the flow of heat from the mantle to the crust.

This information is being sought as part of the federal mines department's contribution to the Upper Mantle Project, a three-year international study of the earth's innards.

The hole now being drilled at the observatory will be two inches in diameter and reach a depth of more than 2,000 feet. Other holes will be drilled later at Halifax and Penticton, B.C., and other locations still to be selected.

EXERCISE CAUTION

Keeping back from the car ahead at least one car length for each 10 miles an hour puts you in a safer position if the driver ahead brakes sharply.

Opening lead—ace of clubs.

Something is usually wrong with the bidding if you wind up in five spades as a result of trying for a slam. Every once in a while you'll find yourself going down one at this awkward contract— and remember, you get no extra bonus for having undertaken to make eleven tricks instead of ten.

For example, look at the problem faced by declarer in this hand where he had to make five spades. West led the ace of clubs and shifted to a singleton diamond. Declarer took it in dummy, played a spade to the king and a spade back to the jack, West properly refusing both tricks.

South was now in trouble. He knew he could probably make the hand if he guessed West's distribution, but it was too early in the play for him to be certain of that.

Suppose he had led another spade at this point and West took the ace and returned a club. South could discard a heart, but he would then be faced with the question of how to return to his hand to draw West's last trump.

If West had two diamonds and two hearts, it would be necessary to lead a diamond to make the hand, but if West had one diamond and three hearts, it would be necessary to cash the A-K of hearts and ruff a heart to bring home the contract.

South had no way of knowing which was the case, but he solved the problem by avoiding it altogether.

Instead of leading the third round of spades at once, he first cashed the king of clubs, discarding a heart, and then cashed the A-K of hearts. Now he led the spade and could sit back and relax.

He didn't care what West returned— whether a spade, a heart, a diamond or a club. In all these cases he could win the trick in his own hand and draw West's trump to claim the balance.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
