Successful League Of Mercy Tea

—A highly successful League of Mercy display tea was held yesterday afternoon in the Baptist Hall, Summerside, where beautiful and numerous gifts were shown. The hall was attractively decorated for the occasion with evergreen and the tea table centered with a beautiful bouquet of carnations and mums presented by Mr. George Wiliams.

Mrs. Heath Strong, president of the Ladies Aid of the Prince County Hospital received the guests at the door. Presiding over the tea cups were, Mrs. Mark Delaney and Mrs. J. F. MacNeill, Mrs. J. Frank Arnett and Mrs. J. A. MacPhee.

Members of the Aid and the wives of local doctors assisted in serving the guests. Miss Millicent Strong was convenor of the gift committee and was assisted by Mrs. J. Leroy Holman. Mrs. Keith Compton was in charge of the silver collection. Soft music during the afternoon was furnished by Miss Betty Harper, Mrs. Kaye Hansen and Mrs. C. Roy Ahern. Steamer Begins Loading Potatoes At Summerside

The S.. S. Sparta, about three thousand tons, of Italian registery docked at Marine Wharf in Summerside on Tuesday afternoon, and loading operations commenced immediately.

The ship, which is being loaded for Hubert Agnew and J. L. Raynor, by W. J. Salter, will take 50,000 bags of seed potatoes to Jacksonville, Florida.

The ship is expected to be loaded and ready to sail on Friday.

About a hundred men are employed in the actual job of loading. It is expected that the next trip of the "Sparta" will be from Cuba to Italy with sugar, and then from Germany to the U. S. A. with fertilizer.

It is expected that another ship will arrive in Summerside early next week for 75,000 bags of potatoes, to be loaded jointly for Agnew and Ryner, Simmons and MacFarlane, and Associated Shippers Incorporated. —S as long as it was economically possible to do so.

He complimented them on the fine specimens on exhibition at the show and said that his department will continue to contribute in some small measure to the fur industry. With reference to the future of the industry, he said that better buying power in Europe may be needed before prices rise to any appreciable degree.

Commends Showing

Dr. E. Rendle Bowness, director of fur animal research, Toronto Elevator Company, said that he was proud to see such a show put on, with well filled classes and high quality right down the line, when similar shows have been discontinued temporarily in Ontario He observed that the mink industry had benefited from the mistakes made in the fox industry, and through better advertising, and in the wide appeal and wide variety of the shades of fur, the desire for mink will continue. Over production and lack of quality was blamed for the present slump in the fox fur industry by George A. Callbeck, who is judging the exhibits again this year. He said he had noted a great improvement in finish, and observed that it is bloom which wins a lot of classes. He felt that when an animal which has the glamour that a good fox has, it will never die out and the day will come when the fox fur will again be in demand.

Reference to the wide advertising resultant upon the bestowing of the gift of a fox fur cape to Princess Elizabeth was made by Mr. John C. Molony of the Hudson's Bay Company. He said that two copies of the cape had already been made and sold by Morgan's of Montreal, and enquiries had been received by that company from fashion designers in New York.

Wide Publicity

Pictures of the cape are being distributed throughout Canada and the U. S., and the cape itself will be on exhibition shortly in Brussels. "You people have a lot of good common sense, astuteness, and courage in persisting with the development of the industry," he said, "which still has a good future."

The spirit and enthusiasm of the breeders was commended by W. R. Shaw, Secretary of the Association, in a witty and forthright address. He compared the present day banquets with those of the past, and urged that some of the features which made past banquets memorable should be restored.

Other speakers addressing the meeting briefly were Dr. C. K. Gunn, Supervisor of the Dominion Fur Branch, Summerside, L. W. Hancock, D. O. Stewart and P. G. Clarke.

A sing song was led by Mr. Hencock, with Al Blanchard at the piano, and an eloquent and humorous recitation was rendered by J. R. Compton.

Icebreakers Taking Supplies North

MONTREAL, Nov. 21 — (CP)— Transport Department officials here said today that because of lack of commercial ships, the department is sending three icebreakers to the R. C. A. F. station at Goose Bay in Labrador with supplies for the big air base.

The ships are the N. B. McLean, Chesterfield and C. D. Howe, all just back from trips to the Arctic. Two have already sailed from Montreal.

Trucks, snowblowers, furniture and other goods went on the McLean and Chesterfield. The Howe, Canada's newest icebreaker, will take a firetruck when she sails later this week.

25 Children Attend Clinic

—About twenty-five children attended the clinic held by Dr. Acker, well known Halifax orthopaedic specialist, in the Town Hall in Summerside yesterday.

These children, who were treated, were suffering from polio, club feet, dislocated hips, bad posture, etc. Of these, ten were new cases. Because of icy road conditions, five or six little patients were unable to report.

Assisting Dr. Acker in the examination and treatment of the children were Miss Kathleen Jackson, Red Cross physiotherapist; Miss Verna Darrach, director of crippled children's work; and Miss Barbara Smith public health nurse.

Another clinic will be held by Dr. Acker in three months time. —S.

Library At R.C.A.F. Base One of Finest

The past week was officially designated as National Library Week and reports indicate that many communities made an effort to stimulate greater interest among local residents in their libraries, with the gratifying result that many new names were added to library lists, and many more books are in circulation among both new and former members.

A visit to the library at the R.C.A.F. base at Summerside reveals one of the finest libraries of its kind and size that may be found on Prince Edward Island.

Although not directly connected with the Provincial public library system that is so familiar throughout the Province, its purpose and internal organization is similar.

The library is in charge of a full time librarian, Miss Auldine Arsenault of Summerside, who has acted in the capacity of librarian at the R.C.A.F. Station for the past two years.

The library is housed in an attractive building, the deminsions of which are about 60 by 25 feet.

It is comfortably heated and adequate lighting is provided by many windows and by fluorescent lighting. The walls and ceiling are in white, and the floor is of nicely polished hardwood.

The library contains several large bookstands and magazine racks on which are neatly arranged an excellent assortment of books and magazines. The provision of reading tables, comfortable chairs and lounges completes this very pleasant atmosphere and the use of this library is free of charge to all Air Force personnel, their wives and families during library hours every week on Monday through Friday from 11.00 a.m. to 9.30 p.m.

In this library can be found the latest copies of leading Canadian daily newspapers from Vancouver to Charlottetown, and also latest publications of the leading Canadian and American magazines and periodicals

The library is maintained and expanded by the personnel of the station from allotments from various messes and to a lesser degree by fines imposed on overdue books. It is under the control and supervision of a committee which meets once each month and is composed of a president, F/L Alex McRae, a chairman, F/O C. R. Foster, and ten airmen.

About four thousand books are available in this library classified according to subject and each subject is again classified alphabetically according to the name of the author so that the librarian or any visitor to the library may quickly and easily locate any particular book that might be desired.

In addition to the usual books of fiction found in many libraries there are books on economics, agriculture, commerce, labor, history, mathematics, chemistry, sculpture, biography, travel, latest edition of the Encyclopaedia Britannica, plays, short stories, children's books, books on aircraft, technical books primarily of interest to airmen and also the R.C.A.F. station papers that are published by and for most R.C.A.F. stations . . . and which always are of great interest to airmen who have lived on these stations or have friends living there

When asked for comment on the reading preferences among the airmen, the librarian stated that there was a great diversity of tastes in reading, but that all the airmen seemed to have a very keen interest in current world affairs, and that daily papers, magazines and periodicals, specializing in the field of news, were always in demand and well read. —S
