Colds Chaps Colic
Coughs Chafing Croup
Catarrh Chilblains Cramps

Are ills to which all flesh is heir. You can relieve and speedily cure all of these by the free use of our old reliable Anodyne. Generation after generation have used it with entire satisfaction, and handed down the knowledge of its worth to their children as a valuable inheritance. Could a remedy have existed for eighty years except that it possesses great merit for family use? It was originated to cure all ailments attended with inflammation; such as asthma, abscesses, bites, burns, bruises, bronchitis, all forms of sore throat, earache, headache, la grippe, lame back mumps, muscular soreness, neuralgia, scalds, stings, sprains, stiff joints, toothache, tonsilitis and whooping cough. The great vital and muscle nervine.

Johnson's Anodyne Liniment

It soothes every ache, every bruise, every cramp, every irritation, every lameness, every swelling everywhere. It is for INTERNAL as much as EXTERNAL use. It was originated in 1810, by Dr. A. Johnson, an old Family Physician. Every Mother should have it in the house.

"Best Liver Pill Made."
Parsons' Pills
Positively cure Biliousness and Sick Headache, liver and bowel complaints. They expel all impurities from the blood. Delicate women find relief from using them. Price 25c; five $1. Sold everywhere.

I use Johnson's Liniment for catarrh. I had tried almost everything recommended for catarrh, but find Johnson's Anodyne Liniment far superior to any. I use it as you direct.

ABOUT THE TEETH.

Their Enamel Covering Is the Hardest Tissue of the System.

A tooth in its normal condition consists of four different substances—enamel, cement, dentine and pulp Enamel is the outer covering of the crown or exposed portion of the tooth, and by a wise provision of nature it is thickest where most subject to use and wear.

It is the hardest tissue of the human system, possesses of itself no sensibility, and contains not over four per cent. of animal matter Yet it is an important fact, and one that should not be lost sight of in caring for the teeth, that this indispensable coat is almost entirely soluble in acids

Cement is the bone-like covering of the roots and neck of the tooth, corresponding for the covered portion to the enamel, with which it blends and unites about the edge of the gums, for the exposed part Dentine forms the body of the tooth It is not so hard as bone, consisting of parallel tubes about 4,500 to an inch in diameter, and more than a quarter of its composition consists of animal matter. It is somewhat sensitive, but the sensation is probably due to the nerves of the pulp.

The latter, commonly called "the nerve," is a mass of nerves and blood vessels, almost infinitesimal in size, connected and enwrapped by a very delicate tissue These nerves and blood vessels connect with the general system through a minute opening at the extremity of the root, with which exception the pulp is entirely surrounded by a wall of dentine

In fact, the pulp is the germ of the body of the tooth, the dentine is formed from it and nourished by it; when the pulp—which is extremely sensitive, as most readers know—dies, the dentine loses its apparent sensitiveness, gradually changes color, and itself becomes dead

WORTH KNOWING.

How a Silver Spoon May Become a Very Serviceable Laryngoscope.

Do you require, say for the examination of a case of sore throat, a means of brilliantly illuminating the interior of the mouth? If so; here is a method of procuring in a moment a very brilliant light just suited for that purpose Hold a tablespoon behind a candle, the concave side towards the flame, and you will find that you have an excellent reflector, enabling you not only to concentrate the luminous rays, but to direct these with ease and precision to the part of the throat you desire to examine.

A silver spoon will also enable you to study the very spurious properties of curved mirrors. Hold the hollow side before your face, and in the concave mirror thus extemporized you will see your features, upside down Turn the spoon round, and its opposite, constituting a convex mirror, will show your face, this time right side uppermost, but lengthened to abnormal proportions, narrow at top, but broad at bottom, and more of a caricature than a portrait By turning the spoon horizontally, still with the convex side toward you, your features will be reproduced in a squat and swollen form, giving you a notion how you might look if you were hanged The surface of a well-polished silver dish cover is a still better medium wherein to study these distorted reflections, many of which are irresistibly funny

His Sweetheart and His Tailor.

The old story of changing envelopes by mistake was told in Washington a few days ago, only with variations. A young man, whose income is by no means sufficient to keep up his style of living, received a tailor's bill He is engaged to a young lady, who is the happy possessor of a comfortable bank account The young man's tailor sent him a bill with the remark written on it that it was long past due. When he received the bill he was engaged in writing a note to his fiancee and in some way had his attention called away as soon as it was finished He returned to his desk, placed the tailor's bill instead of the note in an envelope and directed it on his typewriter, which fact was all that saved him When he called she was very indignant, but he was quick-witted and began berating the tailor for sending her an account which he disputed in order to prejudice her against him, out of spite because the young man would not pay an unjust claim The next morning the lover told the tailor all about the affair, paid the bill and the maker of clothes helped him out by sending the girl an apology, by which kindness he obtained an order for two suits of clothes.—Washington Post.

Carrier Pigeons In The Army.

The Russian military authorities have lately been giving special attention to the breeding and training of carrier pigeons for war purposes Lieut Biglow, the chief trainer of these aerial war messengers, a few days ago started twenty-eight pairs of carriers from Luga to St Petersburg Eight pairs reached their destination in forty-five minutes, four pairs in sixty-five minutes, and the remainders at intervals during the day One bird only was missing, and had probably become the prey of a hawk At a distance of fifty-nine versts (about forty miles) from Moscow thirty-four carrier pigeons were, on the same day, started singly on a homeward flight to the old capital They all reached their destination safely, but the average time occupied was six hours According to these experimental results it can scarcely be said that Lieut Biglow's training is as yet an entire success A regular pigeon post is to be established next year between Moscow and Nizhni-Novgorod during the All-Russian exhibition at the latter place

A Slandered Insect.

An English physician declares that the earwig is a much misrepresented insect, inasmuch as it never makes a home for itself in the car. Its favorite habitation is under inverted flower-pots and big stones, but there is no case on record to justify the dread or belief that earwigs enter the human ears The creature's expanded wings resemble a human ear hence, probably, its name.

Cured Weak Back for 25 Cent

For two years I was dosed, pilled and plastered for weak back, scalding urine and constipation, without benefit. One box of Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills relieved, three boxes cured. R. J. Smith, Toronto. One pill a dose, price 25 cents.

About Clerks.

In the consideration of ways of working by merchants, one of the most vital is that of help. How to engage help so as to reap the largest results is a serious question. The question of how much shall I pay and to whom shall I pay it, disturbs the larger number of retailers. And it is right that this should be so. But how much shall I pay Smith and how much Jones? If your help numbers even four or five, this matter is worthy of your best thought. You ought to engage your help on the competitive plan You ought to watch closely for talent and draw it out by placing responsibility on its shoulders. And that clerk who is shouldering responsibility should be paid more than the clerk whose work is to sweep, keep stock, or attend to the less important trade.—Dry Goods Bulletin.

A Friendly Suggestion.

One of the clerks of the water bureau is fond of telling a story of what, he says, was an actual occurrence. A stranger walked into the office one day and waited his turn in line to reach the desk.

"I want to make a complaint about the water pipes in my cellar," he said. "I keep chickens and, as the pipes are leaking badly, they're drowning them all."

"Keep chickens, do you?" asked the next in line abruptly.

"Yes; why do you ask?"

"Well, I think it would be a good idea in your case to keep ducks"—Family Call

Two Kinds of Farming.

"I don't know how I'm going to make out," said the agricultural statesman who had been retired; "I've got to depend on the old farm for a living now, and I'm blest if I feel any certainty about making it pay."

"But you used to make your constituents very proud of you by showing off what you knew about farming" said his wife encouragingly.

"I know it Maria, but don't forget this: farming for votes and farming for crops are two mighty different things."—Washington Star.

Nervous Prostration.

Cured effectually by Scott's Sarsaparilla.

His heart was affected.

"Overwork as a student at college brought on an attack of nervous prostration," says Mr. Gilbert, a railway missionary. "I was exceedingly nervous and if I exerted myself my heart commenced to flutter violently, and I was warned that even ordinary exercise endangered my life. But thanks to Scott's Sarsaparilla I feel better than I ever expected to feel, for I can now address meeting without effort, can walk a brisk pace for two hours or more without exhaustion and am free from that distressing palpitation. In my work I have often time recommended Scott's Sarsaparilla and have seen many cases where its effects have been most marked."

Scott's Sarsaparilla acts like magic in restoring shattered nerves because it rebuilds the nerve centres. Nervous headache, nervous dyspepsia and all nervous derangements wear off the system Scott's Sarsaparilla makes new blood and muscles and strong nerves. Of all druggists, $1 per bottle. Dose from half to one teaspoonful.

London's latest census shows for the city and suburbs a population of six millions three hundred thousand. The imagination can hardly enfold such a civic aggregation. There has been nothing in the world's history to parallel this growth, albeit it is upon a little Island on the northern limits of civilization.

ITS FAME SPREADING.

A New Remedy in General Use in Manitoba and the Northwest.

WINNIPEG, June 1.—The effects of the regular wave of sickness which sweeps over this portion of the Dominion in the spring are noticeable in the increasing amount of the druggists' sales. There has been quite a run on the kidney remedy remedy now so well known under the name of Dodd's Kidney Pills. The recovery from Bright's disease of Mr. Arthur Coley, of Somerset, through their use, an account of which appeared in the papers, gave a considerable impetus to the sale and the remedy has become indispensable in many Manitoba households, its fame having penetrated into the remotest parts of the province and the Northwest Territories.

Cured of Chronic Catarrh

A Remarkable Cure.—J. W. Jennison, Gilford, spent between $200 and $300 in consulting doctors; tried Dixon's and all other treatments but got no benefit. One box of Chase's Catarrh Cure did me more good than all other remedies, in fact I consider myself cured, and with a 25 cent bottle at that.

Carmen Gonzalez, aged 19 years, the daughter of a poor peasant in Barcelona, Spain, has developed a muscular strength that astonishes her neighbors. She can lift 900 pounds dead weight with ease, and can lift a man weighing 200 pounds with one finger.

Chase's K. & L. Pills Cure Dyspepsia.

For the last eight years I have been sufferer from constipation and dyspepsia—I tried dozens of different medicines, but nothing gave me relief until I used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, which cured me.

IN PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND.

(Montreal Gazette.)

The Government's active agricultural policy is likely to be a considerable help to it in the election contest in Prince Edward Island. Like a good many parts of Quebec, the Island Province was somewhat late in falling into the dairying procession. There may have been several causes contributing to this. Some of the fault may have been with the people, and some with those whose duty it was to watch over their interests. At any rate, it was not till 1892 that the first Government dairy experimental station was opened at New Perth. The course of the Government and its officers in connection with the management of this institution, and the handling of the dairy products of the Island, has been freely criticised by the trade as well as by the Opposition press. Only a fortnight ago, at the meeting of the Brockville Cheese Board, an attempt was made, admittedly for political purposes, to obtain an expression of disapproval of the course of the Government and of the Dominion Dairy Commissioner in regard to the P. E Island station and its operations. On the Island itself, however, the arguments advanced in this section against the course pursued are not likely to have much effect. From nothing in 1891 the product of co-operative dairying establishments has risen to $180,000 in the past summer and winter. This, though small in comparison with the dairy outputs of Ontario and Quebec, is very considerable for a province with a population of only 110,000. It represents practically a gain of that amount in the agricultural earnings of the Province. It is true the gain is offset by a decrease in the price of oats, hitherto the great staple of the island, but this was a decline that was to come in any case, as it results from causes that are affecting the prices of all articles of general consumption, and that has lowered the price of No. 2 oats, the standard grade, in Chicago to 18½ cents a bushel, that being the cash market quotation telegraphed on Friday, while in New York the rate was 21½ cents, a good three cents under the Montreal quotation. What is unsatisfactory, therefore, in the agricultural conditions the farmers of the island are confronted with is the result of causes which they cannot control. What is tending to improvement, the dairying industry taking the lead, is the outcome of the direction of their effort in new departments of work, aided, in the first place, to a very considerable extent, by the Dominion Agricultural Department. This aid was given in face of the adverse criticism by Liberal politicians and papers that has met every scheme of the Agricultural or any department of the Government calculated to promote the industrial interests of the country. These facts are not likely to be forgotten when the islanders' ballots are being cast. They are what the Conservatives are counting on to restore the old order, when Prince Edward sent more Conservatives than Liberals to Parliament.

CROPS IN MANITOBA

The general superintendent of the Canadian Pacific railway speaking about the acreage of wheat under crop in Manitoba and the Territories, said that the area was surprisingly large considering the backward season. "Our agents were instructed to get as full and correct reports of the acreage under crop as it was possible to secure, and from what was received, the last being sent in Saturday night I believe there is not more than 10 per cent. less under crop this year than last. When seeding is completed there will not be any more than these figures. The increase in the acreage in the Territories will go a very long way to make up whatever deficit there is at some of the wheat producing centres in Manitoba. What wheat has been sown is coming along nicely." Mr. White said the agents' reports have been carefully compiled, and although the grain dealers were of the opinion that there was twenty per cent. less under crop this season than last, he consid red the railway figures more reliable than other statements.
