During the final months of her life, her mother, Mrs. Kier Bernard, waited on her with loving care and solicitude. The deceased was greatly loved and respected by all from her childhood, as she was so kind and willing to help every one.

RINSO is a new, scientific soap product in the form of fine granules that have wonderful power to loosen and dissolve the dirt in clothes while they soak. Rinso is new and absolutely different from ordinary washing powders. Do not put it straight into the tub from the package, make the famous Rinso liquid first. MIX half a package of Rinso in a little cool water, until it is like cream. Then add two quarts of boiling water; put it into your washing tub, or machine, adding sufficient cool or lukewarm water.

Austin Sheehan, son of the late John Sheehan, Kensington, died in Vancouver, B.C., some time ago, and interment took place there. Mr. Sheehan was a member of a family of eight children, and was born near Kensington in 1884. He, early in life realized that opportunities awaited young men of courage and enterprise, so he decided that he would venture forth and seek fortune in the far west. Hence, in 1907 he crossed the continent to the Pacific Coast, and was shortly thereafter engaged in the advantage of his acquaintance, and he was effectively productive. By skillful labor and rational habits he turned labor to beneficial ends, and thus was gratified to see his practical endeavors attended with desirable results. He was held in high esteem by all who had the advantage of his acquaintance, and this adequate recognition was the natural effect of his plenteous acts. Now, that he has been called to a higher and holier life we will cherish his memory with fond recollection.

The surviving members of his family are Mrs. John L. Chaisson, Cambridge, Mass., Mrs. Chas. Kehoe, New Glasgow, N. S., Mrs. Arnold Rose, Worcester, Mass.; James Sheehan, St. John, N. With universal regret the residents of Green Bay learned of the death of an old and respected member of their community, Mr. James Costello, which occurred on the 12th, inst. in his 76th year.

Being in feeble health for some time and although no hope was entertained for his recovery, still the news of his death was received with feelings of sorrow, for in his passing away almost the last landmark was removed from their midst. During his long life he enjoyed the good will and friendship of his neighbors by his upright character and open opposition to everything that savored of wrong doing. A practical member of the Catholic church his last days were consoled by the devout reception of her sacraments. A large funeral cortege conveyed

Professor Drumme has been a member of the faculty of St. Dunstan's for the past year and is considered as one of the cleverest students graduating from Harvard University. St. Dunstan's University has been fortunate in obtaining his services. All the classes under Professor Drumme during the scholastic year have made a wonderful showing. At the closing of the University, which took place last Wednesday, the Rector, Rev. Dr. McLeellan, D.D., Ph. Professor Drumme will return to St. Dunstan's next year or not. He has had several offers from different universities and colleges in the States.—St. John Standard.

A bad accident occurred yesterday afternoon on Water Street when little Frank Hughes, six year old son of Conductor and Mrs. John Hughes, was knocked down by a heavily loaded team, the front wheel running over his face, fracturing in two places his jaw and injuring other injuries about the body. The injured lad was picked up by Mr. Harry Hermans and others from under the sloven and after medical help had been summoned, was rushed to the City Hospital, where an operation was immediately performed. The lad last night was resting quietly and though very severely injured has still a good fighting chance.

Knocked Under Wheel. It was directly opposite the home of the boys' parents, on Water Street, between Queen and Pownall Streets, that the accident happened. About four o'clock Frank, his brother and sister and another child were returning from a carriage drive and had stopped the horse opposite the Hughes' home. The children alighted and started to cross the street, with Frank leading. Unnoticed by him a heavily loaded team was coming down Water Street. It appears that the driver did not notice the boy until he was directly upon him. The horse veered the wrong way; the shafts of the sloven caught the lad on the shoulder, throwing him under the front wheel, which ran over his jaw. Mr. Hermans, who was passing about out to stop the team and rushed forward, pulling the boy away. He was carried into the home of his parents, his face covered with blood and the fractured bones of the jaw protruding through the skin. Drs. S. R. Jenkins and J. S. Jenkins were hastily summoned, and the patient was soon on the operating table at the Charlottetown Hospital. The compound and indirect fractures necessitated delicate wiring of the bones of the jaw. There were lacerations about his neck and minor injuries on the body, but no limbs injured. The lad came out of the anesthetic all right and later was able to speak to his parents. "Daddy, stay with me tonight," he said plaintively.

Successful Operation While the operation has been very successful the danger of infection is great, as the injury is so near the mouth and teeth. "A good fighting chance" is the last word from the doctors and with that the anxious parents are waiting for the next forty-eight hours will bring about.

The injured lad is physically sound and has a very good heart. In April, 1919, he underwent in the City Hospital an operation for appendicitis, a very severe operation for a child of his years. Since then he has been in good health and this will certainly count to his advantage in the fight he is now making.

To Conductor and Mrs. Hughes the sympathy of everyone will be extended. Known from one end of the province to the other, Conductor Hughes is particularly popular with children travelling on the trains, who are not a bit afraid of his burly form and gruff voice, which does not at all disguise the kindly qualities that children instinctively look for. They too will be lifting little hands in prayer for the recovery of the injured lad. Recovery in any case will be slow as the knitting together of the fractured bones will require many weeks.

The funeral of the late Aaron P. Connor, took place at his home, Cambridge, Mass., Saturday morning April 22nd at 9.30 a.m. to the new Calvary Cemetery and was very largely attended, there being an auto cortege of fifteen.

Our Babies and Theirs

THESE pictures are from life. The Canadian children were photographed in Montreal—the other little soul in the famine district of Russia.

THE FAMINE IS STILL ON. Until August nothing can come from the ground.

We have food aplenty. Our babies are chubby, healthy and happy—and theirs are emaciated, miserable and racked with the agonies of starvation.

In your baby's name do something—let it be a gift from him or her to him or her in Russia. Likely your baby will never know what you have done, nor will the stricken mite in Russia, but God and you will know.

The Russian Relief Fund, Chairman Lord Emmott, with whom is associated Sir Arthur Stanley, Chairman of the British Red Cross; The Friend's Relief Mission and the Save the Children Fund, with Lord Weardeale as Chairman, have been unified under the Chairmanship of Sir Benjamin Robertson—the greatest living authority on famine conditions. These organizations are feeding 300,000 children in the Saratov area and are helping some of the millions of adults who are in the direst need of food.

Cheques and money orders may be forwarded through your bank, the local committee or sent direct to Sir George Burn, Treasurer, Save the Children Fund, Elgin Building, Ottawa.

Lovell was unanimously elected as 2nd Vice President to fill a vacancy. Several new members were enrolled.
