

THE SMALLPOX.

NEW CASES. No new cases in the city to-day. CONDITION OF PATIENTS. Brenton Dawson is reported very ill. Larkins is reported better. Pickard, ditto. Other patients are reported doing as well as can be expected.

DEATHS. Mrs. McInnis' baby died last night; another of the Thompson family, a boy about thirteen years, passed away to-day. Mrs. Thompson, Euston Street, died at the Hospital this afternoon.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS. The Mayor acknowledges with thanks the receipt for use at the Hospital of a case of lemons from F. T. Newbery and George McLeod, Esq., a cartload of assorted vegetables from Mrs. John Longworth, and a barrel of oysters from an unknown donor in Summerside, besides donations of beef tea and delicacies too numerous to mention.

REPORT FROM NORTH RUSTICO. Dr. McNeill reports two cases at North Rustico—one developed and one undeveloped—in the family of Mr. Angus McKenzie. It appears that members of Mr. McKenzie's family have lately been visiting their friends in this city, and no doubt, were at the house of Mr. George Hooper, whence the boy McLauchlan was taken.

THE CASE AT VICTORIA. A correspondent writing on Monday morning says: Neil Pempfrase slept at the Rocklin House on Friday, the 13th. He came up to Victoria in the Heather Belle on Saturday, the 14th. Dr. Robertson pronounced his case smallpox on Sunday the 22nd. His house has been flagged and guarded ever since. The Board of Health met last evening and instructed some of its members to secure a house to put patient in. The members appointed have been to work since trying to get a building, but up to this, 8 a. m., no house has yet been procured. One has been offered at a price. I think the Board will accept.

PRECAUTIONS OF THE RUSTICO BOARD OF HEALTH. A correspondent at Rustico writes:— "The smallpox has made its appearance in New Glasgow and Cavendish. The Rustico Board of Health have taken prompt measures to prevent the spread of the disease. They have closed the several schools throughout the district, and have forbidden the convening of any meeting for ten days. They have also flagged all suspected houses, as well as where the disease has made its appearance. The worst case at present is the man Peters, at the residence of William Laird, Esq., New Glasgow. It is a very bad one. There are two cases at Angus McKenzie's, Cavendish. The Board are working energetically to confine the disease to its present limits."

TO THE MEMBERS AND ADHERENTS OF OUR CHURCHES.

Dear Beloved,—We, the Pastors of the different Protestant Churches in the city, being deprived of the pleasure of speaking to you from our pulpits, and also, to a great extent, of visiting your homes as of yore, take this method of address to you. We fully realize the danger to which you, with us, are exposed, by the appearance in our midst of that dreaded disease, smallpox. Your anxieties and sorrows, beloved, are ours; we share them in common with you. Very deeply do we sympathize with those who have been bereaved of their loved ones, whether Protestant or Catholic, as well as with those who are still in a critical position, remembering the Apostolic injunction: "Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ"; also, "Weep with them that weep."

We mark with pleasure the untiring efforts which are being put forth by our worthy Mayor, Henry Beer, Esq., the physicians in charge, and the different members of the Board of Health, in endeavoring to stay the progress of the plague, and pray that their efforts may be crowned with complete success. We exhort you all "to be patient in tribulation," and trust that in patience you will "possess your souls," believing that undue anxiety will only increase the danger, and render the efforts that are being made to arrest the disease, less effective than they otherwise would be. Finally, remembering that we have a friend, whose compassion fails not, who hath said, "Call upon me in the day of trouble, and I will deliver thee," let us in united, earnest persevering prayer, seek the strength and consolation which our Heavenly Father alone can impart, that we may be prepared to fulfil all His Will concerning us, and ultimately with joy be brought to the land where the inhabitants shall not say, "We are sick," but where immortality shall be swallowed up of life!

J. M. MACLEOD, J. SHERIDAN, C. O'MEARA, S. H. RICE, E. WHITMAN, J. CARROLL. Charlotte, Nov. 24, 1885.

CLOSING THE CHURCHES.

SIR,—Can you tell me when will the Board of Health rescind the order closing our Churches? I am afraid this was a very ill advised step, however well meant. It did not result in stamping out the disease. It deprived our people of a very much needed source of help in these times of trial. What an aid would the Board have in the help of the ministers of the churches to calm the minds of those in trouble. But more than this: we are shut out in our united capacity from addressing Him in whose hands is the life of all flesh. Now I believe God is a hearer of prayer, but He will be inquired of by His people; and when public benefits are sought they should be sought in public. Our Board of Health in their worldly wisdom has acted in this instance very foolishly. They could have compassed all reasonable ends by placing policemen at the doors of the churches to warn off all the unvaccinated. The rest could enter. This might accomplish good in two ways. The people would be quickly vaccinated, and the benefits of spiritual comforts and sound instruction would be enjoyed. Fear, which kills more than the smallpox (see Dr. Jackson's letters) would be despoiled of its power, and we might soon hope for a return of the blessed days when the candle of the Lord shone on our heads. At present we bear our burdens alone. The Almighty hand of God is not permitted to be asked to relieve us. Where has the like been done before. A word is enough to the wise. CITIZEN.

COMPULSORY VACCINATION.

At a meeting of the Board of Health held last evening, it was:— Ordered:—That vaccination in this city be compulsory, and that all persons, male or female, of full age, neglecting to have themselves vaccinated, and all parents and guardians neglecting to have those under their legal authority and control (over the age of three months) vaccinated, shall severally and respectively for each neglect be liable to a penalty of ten dollars, or imprisonment for thirty days.

Further Resolved:—That in order to effect such compulsory vaccination, the Board do hereby appoint the following gentlemen with authority to enter the houses and premises of the citizens, and to examine every person found therein as to whether he or she has been previously vaccinated, and to report to this Board the name of every person who has not been vaccinated during the past twelve months:

MR. CULLEN, THE BOATMAN, EXPLAINS.

SIR,—In the Patriot of yesterday is an editorial paragraph, reflecting harshly upon me, as one of the men in charge of the Quarantine Officer's boat, for having refused, on Sunday evening, to take a patient to the Hospital. That I did so refuse is perfectly correct—it was no part of my duty as a boatman to do so. My duties were plainly defined as being to take the Doctor on board of a vessel and back again, and to take supplies to the Hospital whenever required. This I performed, and more too, for after Jones was taken to the Hospital the other day, I drove Dr. Warburton there several times on account of the water being rough, and took a stove and other supplies in the boat. I may further say that, some years ago, I made enquiry of the Department of Agriculture whether I was bound to convey sick seamen to the Hospital, and was instructed as follows:— "In reply to your letter of 7th inst., I am to inform you that there is no rule or regulation specifying how sick sailors are to be conveyed from their ships to the Hospital, but it is necessary for the captain of a vessel on which disease exists to convey his sick seamen to Hospital. For Sec'y. Dept. Agriculture. If it was my duty to convey sick patients to the Hospital, how is it that I was not requested to take Jones there? Knowing my duty, however, when I was asked to take a patient there on Sunday, I promptly declined. I may further say that the boat belongs to myself, and that the Quarantine Officer has no boat. Yours, etc., P. CULLEN.

SUSPECTED CASES AT MEMRAMOOC.

A special to the Moncton Transcript says:—"It is feared that Mr. Theophilus Boudreau, of Memramooc, has the smallpox, though all the symptoms are not pronounced. Dr. Gaudet, who is in attendance, deems it wise to take all precautions, and has notified the Board of Health of his fears. Mr. Boudreau returned a few days ago from Charlottetown, where he has been working this summer for Mr. T. C. Connor, on the Dominion Building there. Steps will be taken by the Board of Health to have a general vaccination throughout the Parish. There is much alarm at the reappearance of the disease here, and it is feared that it will spread, as many workmen have recently returned from the Island."

NOTES.

The weather—just what the doctor ordered. Question of the day: Have you been vaccinated?

A very fair market to-day with good supply of beef, mutton, fowl, etc.

The remedy for smallpox, commended by Dr. Russell, of Boston, in last night's EXAMINER, is the Mice-mac Remedy, for which Mr. Watson is taking orders. The supply is expected in a few days.

The Gospel Army left Summerside to-day for Chatham, N. B. They write that it is their intention to return again to the Island as soon as the epidemic is over. The Town Council at Summerside, owing to the alarming reports from Charlottetown, have closed down all public meetings for the present. Moncton and other places in New Brunswick are sharing in the general excitement.

The Reichstag Opened.

The Reichstag opened Nov. 19 with the usual formalities. The Imperial speech, in substance, was as follows:—"The Pope's mediation is expected to settle the Carolines question in a manner corresponding to the friendly relations existing between Spain and Germany. The foreign relations of Germany are peaceful and friendly with all nations. The Emperor confidently hopes that the Balkan conflict will not disturb the peace of Europe, and trusts that the signers of the Berlin treaty will succeed in securing respect for the treaties by the people rendered independent by them." The Emperor says he is animated by confidence that God's blessing in future as in the past will be granted to Germany's efforts to maintain peace. The speech points out the necessity of increasing grants for the army and navy and announces that Bills will be presented dealing with the taxation of sugar and brandy, the extension of the Accident Insurance law, formation of the canal connecting the Baltic Sea with the River Elbe and the North Sea, and the administration of justice in German colonies. It adds that negotiations are proceeding with England, Spain, France, Portugal and Zanzibar regarding the extent to which German trans-oceanic establishments and acquisitions will henceforth be placed under the immediate protection or supervision of the German empire. The passages of the speech referring to the Caroline and Balkan troubles were loudly applauded.
