THE DAILY EXAMINER.

DECEMBER 8, 1893.

ELEVEN POINTS.

As the canvass is coming to a close it may be well to sum up as briefly as possible the points made against the Peters Government—

1. They deliberately brought on the election two months before it was necessary for them to do so, and before any announcement concerning the fate of the two-thirds clause was made, in order that the electors should be compelled to vote in the dark as to the financial situation of the Province.

2. When they entered office, the Province owed the banks $55,000; they sold $255,000 worth of debentures and spent the money; they also spent the whole of the Dominion subsidies, the Land Office receipts, etc., and they are now—there is good reason for believing—indebted to the Merchants' Bank of P. E. Island and the Bank of Halifax, to the tune of at least $150,000—though they entered office upon the understanding that they were to make "ends meet."

3. Their receipts at the Land Office were unduly promoted by large discounts from the amounts owing by wealthy men, though thousands of poor and honest farmers had previously paid their instalments in full; and favoritism, gross and corrupt, has evidently been practiced in connection with the department.

4. The reduction of the Legislature— which everyone approved—was accomplished after the Liberal majority had for ten long years prevented the Sullivan Administration from doing so; it was accomplished upon a condition which is un-British (vide the two-thirds clause); and it was accompanied by enactments calculated to operate unfairly and unjustly to the end that "Mr. Peters's hands might be strengthened."

5. One of these was the Gerrymander Act, in which King's County was partitioned by an extremely crooked line, to the end that the Conservative vote might be materially lessened in the Second, Third and Fourth Districts.

6. Another of these was the disfranchisement act, by which Dominion officials were deprived of their right to vote at Dominion elections.

7. Still another was that which authorized the Government to appoint, instead of the independent High Sheriffs who have heretofore held the office, creatures of their own as returning officers in elections. An outcome of this law was seen in the illegal appointment of Hon. Mr. McNutt, one of the very men who passed the Act, over the heads of High Sheriff Strong and Mr. Gaffney, and in the illegal and scandalous agreements which were forced upon High Sheriffs Horne and McInnes.

8. Jobbery has been proved in connection with Morell Bridge and other public works, and has lately been rampant all over the Province.

9. In defiance of law, and without the authorization of the Legislature, a third Inspector of schools was appointed for the purpose of mollifying an influential supporter of the Government.

10. In defiance of the constitutional rules, numerous expensive works have been contracted for without the authorization of the Legislature and without calling for tenders.

11. Contrary to the custom throughout North America, the Education Department has, by the summary dismissal of Superintendent Nicholson and Inspectors Arbutkale and Cain, been made part of the political machine.

Upon each and all of these counts the Peters-McLean party deserve the condemnation of the electors at the polls. Let them be condemned.

STEADY BOYS!

But a few days remain in which to end the canvass and prepare for the final event. Let these days be well employed. Mind not the empty boasts of the Government candidates. No one ought to grudge them the old womanly comfort of counting their chickens before their eggs are hatched. But it is the part of reasonable and practical men to make ready quietly and energetically for the important political battle which is to be fought on the 13th inst. If good use be made by the Opposition of the time intervening, a signal victory may be confidently anticipated by the Opposition. A large majority of the people are against the Disfranchisement, Gerrymander - Mortgage administration. That majority can be overcome only by the "human devices" of Mr. Peters and his supporters. These devices ought to be in vain. The word for the next four days is "work," and hard work on election day.

WINNIPEG AND OTTAWA.

Readers of THE EXAMINER will notice in the telegraphic column, that Sir James Grant has been elected member of the House of Commons for Ottawa by acclamation. Perhaps the Patriot's "bean ideal," Mr. L. H. Davies, M. P., will eloquently explain about the reaction against the Government which seems to indicate! Mr. Davies made the election of Mr. Martin, in Winnipeg, the theme of an address in the present campaign and spoke, in glowing terms, of the magnificent prospects opening up before the Liberal party. One could hardly blame him, so few are the crumbs of comfort which fall to the grins in bye-elections or any other elections. But he might have been honest enough to have told the electors that Mr. Martin, the author of the Free School Law, was elected simply because the people of Winnipeg thought that the Government had no right to submit the constitutionality of that law to the highest legal authority. The people of Winnipeg marked their disapprobation of the Government's policy in this regard by casting their votes for Martin, who, to them, embodied the cause of Free Schools. To Mr. Laurier the return of Martin must have been a somewhat embarrassing victory! The amusing feature about the matter is that the Liberal organs treated it as a victory for what they are now pleased to call Tariff Reform—the phrase which today does duty for the hybrid policy of Free Trade, Unrestricted Reciprocity, Commercial Union, Annexation, and a dozen other things to which this accommodating party has treated the public.

The Patriot prepared its readers for the complete backdown at Ottawa by informing them, in its telegraphic columns, a few days ago, that Mr. Laurier did not favor contested bye-elections! Perhaps it was, on the whole, better for them to admit the popularity of the Government by a complete backdown, for which they could offer the excuse that Mr. Laurier is not in favor of a contest, than to go to the polls and meet such a crushing defeat as practically to "wipe them out." It is not wonderful that Mr. Laurier does not approve of contesting bye-elections, seeing that they have been so extremely fatal to the Party of Unity.

THE GOVERNMENT'S POLICY.

Hon. Mr. FARQUHARSON said at Hunter River, see the Patriot: "Farmers can make their own roads; we will supply the machine and build the bridges; this will be a saving of $15,000—a reasonable thing to ask people to do. Cut down supplements in teachers' salaries and abolish the bonuses; thus saving $12,000; cut down the subsidies to steamers, saving thereby $7,000 or $8,000." "So, the teachers of the Province are to be discouraged, and the people of Belfast, denied the advantages of a railway, are to lose the steamer."

"We understand that instructions to the returning officers are that only those who vote for candidates are to be permitted to vote on the Prohibition question. This is too bad. Clergymen and others who will not care to vote for either party will be shut out." "The Government had cared anything at all for either temperance or prohibition it would have permitted all electors take part in the plebiscite, without imposing any condition."

But it is also true that hundreds of good moral, temperance men, who do care to vote for candidates, will be shut out by reason of the Disfranchisement Act. Yet the Guardian has lately not declared that outrageous act to be "too bad." The Guardian is as dumb upon that point as Mr. L. H. Davies is.

A COMPARISON OF TARIFFS.

The Montreal Gazette makes an interesting comparison of the Wilson tariff, which is now before the United States' Congress, and the present Canadian tariff, to show that the proposed Democratic tariff measure is nowise a free trade measure, but that it is, on the contrary, as highly protective as the present Canadian tariff even before any reduction has been made:

Table with 3 columns: Canadian Duty, Wilson Duty, and percentage difference. Items include Cotton goods, Grey cotton, Gauze and plaids, Prints, Handkerchiefs, Thread, Velveteens, Towels, Clothing, Unenumbered Woollens, Blankets, Cloths, Hats, Coatings, Tweeds, Shawls, Jacks, etc., and piece goods.

Even the so-called radical measure of the tariff reform, which is under the consideration of Congress, is in these respects more highly protective than the tariff which is now in force in Canada.

A WORD FOR THE GUARDIAN.

THE GUARDIAN is anxious to know the meaning attached by THE EXAMINER to the word "perversion." Perversion is "the act of perverting"; it is a "wresting of the true sense or meaning." That is exactly what the Guardian did in respect to the use of the word "abated" by THE EXAMINER—i.e., either ignorantly or maliciously, perverted THE EXAMINER'S meaning. An educated man who speaks of abating an evil or a nuisance means not merely that the evil or nuisance shall be lessened, but that it shall be put an end to. "Abated" was the strongest word THE EXAMINER could use to signify its meaning in connection with the evil of the liquor traffic; and the Guardian tried to pervert that meaning. In charity, we at first ascribed to the "perversion" to ignorance; but the Guardian seems to be an actor that it shall be attributed to malice.

FARES ON THE STANLEY.

REFERRING to the letter of Mr. H. F. Cunnels in THE EXAMINER of yesterday, we are authorized to state that the rates of passage and freight charged by the S.S. Stanley are the same as those charged by the summer steamers. We assume that this is the result of representation lately made by the Charlottetown Board of Trade. The fact ought to have been advertised.

MR. DAVIES DECLINES.

C. R. SMALLWOOD, Esq., Secretary of the Liberal-Conservative Association: Sir,—In this morning's Guardian, I notice an advertisement calling a public meeting of the electors of Charlottetown on Monday evening next, at which I am invited to be present and speak. I regret that I will be unable to do so; but in order that there may be an opportunity for the joint discussion you seem to desire, I have written to the Secretary of the Liberal-Conservative Association, requesting him to invite Messrs. Owen and Fitzgerald to a meeting which I promised, some time ago, to address in the Market Hall on Tuesday evening next, the 12th instant. Yours faithfully, L. H. DAVIES. Charlottetown, Dec. 8, 1893.

L. H. DAVIES, Esq., Barrister, &c., City:

DEAR SIR,—I am in receipt of your letter of to-day's date. I am requested to say in answer that it will be utterly impossible for either Mr. Owen or Mr. Fitzgerald to be present at the meeting on Tuesday evening, as you suggest, as they must be present at a meeting of their own supporters in the Lyceum.

It is to be regretted that you decline to attend on Monday, as this will be the only opportunity for the joint discussion which we desire.

Monday evening was selected, as on that night no meeting of either party was advertised to be held.

I trust that, under such circumstances, you will find it convenient to attend the meeting on Monday next.

Yours faithfully, C. R. SMALLWOOD, Secretary Liberal-Conservative Association.

THE STANHOPE MEETING.

The meeting at Stanhope last evening was largely in favor of Blake and Stewart, notwithstanding the presence of a large gang of hoodlums, who followed Messrs. Peters and Cunnisley from meeting to meeting, and by noise and interruptions give them an appearance of support. After a short and not very convincing speech from Mr. Cunnisley, Mr. Stewart addressed the meeting in an able and convincing speech, dealing in a most pointed manner with the main issue before the country, and challenging the Government with making a deficit of over $100,000 in the present year, and with the not reckless extravagance and corruption in the public works, and gross favoritism in the Land Office.

The Premier's reply disgusted the right-thinking portion of the audience. He proceeded to indulge in snarls and sneers and personalities, but neither denied nor explained the fearful debt which Mr. Stewart charged him with creating, and announced no policy by which the financial equilibrium can be restored.

Mr. Blake followed him with a speech which will long be remembered by the people of Stanhope. He manfully contended what he believed to be wrong in the acts of both parties, and declared that he would support no party in the Legislature that would not introduce effective measures to relieve the financial situation.

David Douglas, Esq., asked Mr. Peters if he boasted of a speech which he claimed in the House of Administration of justice that to his act which deprived a poor man of his right by jury unless he gave timely notice and paid a fee of ten dollars! He also asked if it were true that Mr. Pielau, of Whelan, an elector of Mount Stewart, against whom a Scott Act conviction was standing for a long time, was recently put in jail because he announced his intention to vote against Peters. The Premier did not seem inclined to answer the first question. In regard to the second he said he did not know any man named Pielau or Whelan at Mount Stewart; he did not recall the name of that name was a voter there. The people of Mount Stewart will be able to judge of Mr. Peters' truthfulness by the above statement.

Mr. Peter Brodie took up some time in reading and commenting on some figures which he got from the Patriot.

Senator Ferguson spoke briefly. He said that Mr. Peters claimed that he had not time to do a great deal, and that "Rome was not built in a day." Mr. Ferguson said that if Rome was not built in a day, it came high indeed in a day, and Nero fiddled while Rome was burning. He presented an object lesson to the meeting in the cases of two farmers sitting side by side in the meeting—Mr. John Martin, of Stanhope, and Mr. Isaac Sellers, of Union Road, who paid their accounts in 1891. Mr. Sellers paid an indebtedness of $49.22 with $34.20, getting a reduction of 22 per cent., while Mr. Martin had to pay $226.51 in paying off an indebtedness of $228.29, the reduction being only 12 per cent., and Mr. Martin was compelled to pay a very large amount of compound interest.

Mr. Ferguson was frequently interrupted from Mr. Peters' gang. But at the conclusion of the meeting he proposed three cheers for Blake and Stewart, which were enthusiastically given. Three cheers were called for Peters and Cunnisley, but the weak and feeble response showed the feeling of the meeting. Stanhope will give a large majority for Blake and Stewart.

NEW HAVEN MEETING.

Sr.—Mr. Farquharson is not satisfied with the malicious spirit shown towards Mr. A. C. Shaw at public meetings, but his unkind letter in the Patriot, of the 4th inst., signed "Elector," goes further. After the candidates had spoken at New Haven, Mr. Shaw was called on by scores to speak, and when he arose to do so Mr. Farquharson instantly jumped to his feet and gave a nod to his howlers from Long Creek. He made for the door, followed by the gang, while the respectable and intelligent electors of New Haven sat in their places to hear Mr. Shaw. Seeing that they came back again to the door, ready to do Farquharson's bidding, Mr. Shaw then took his hat, saying: "This is the Liberal Farquharson," while the words, "It is a disgrace," "It is a shame," escaped the lips of Liberals and Conservatives present. In justice to Mr. Wise, he strongly disapproved of the conduct of Farquharson and his brigade. But the results have been very satisfactory, as the twenty or thirty votes that he expected in that vicinity will go solid for Mr. Jenkins and McKay.

Next day, at Wyton Road, the indignant looks of electors present taught Mr. Farquharson a lesson, and though invited to wait, although challenged to meet discussion, he took a sudden leave for Kingston leaving Mr. Wise alone. The meeting was a most enthusiastic one, and all the votes Farquharson will get here he can put in his vest pocket. The meeting was addressed by the candidates, Mr. Shaw and Mr. Bradley. The meeting at Shawvale on the previous day was overwhelmingly Conservative, it being addressed by Messrs. Campbell, McLeod, Sinclair, Westerton, Dr. Jenkins, McKay, A. C. Shaw and others. The meetings were orderly and well conducted, and reflect credit on the honest farmers of these places.

By the Value we Offer we Stand!

"Common sense," said the cynic, "is very uncommon." He may have spoken the truth about himself, and we won't disagree with him. In the matter of shopping, then, his common sense would not be conspicuous. The multitudes who do their Dry Goods shopping at JAMES PATON & CO'S., however, disprove the "cynical" insinuation as far as Charlottetown and country are concerned. Many times have we said:—

"Never Pay More Than is Necessary."

To do so shows want of common sense regarding dollars and cents. To be economical is par excellence. Common sense regarding dollars and cents is getting the best value for your money—that is, making it go furthest. Now low prices do not prove value, nor does getting many things for a little money prove it. Best value is to Get the Best at the Lowest Prices.

Many people with slender purses keep them so by buying (as they say) cheap! cheap! No, but high! high! High, for they are never done buying. To all such we would respectfully recommend that they try

TO-DAY the two famous Illinois murderers, Frank Starr and Harvey Pate, are hanged at Danville in that State.

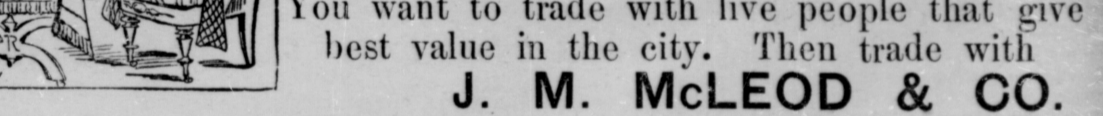

The crime which they are to expiate was the killing of farmer Henry Helmick on August 25th last, on the highway near Danville. Starr and Pate attempted to hold up Helmick while returning with his wife from church in a buggy, and shot him for resisting.

If you transgress the laws of the land you may look out for punishment. If you throw away ten cents on every dollar without getting value received you deserve to be poor. If you patronize the Star Tailor and save ten cents on every dollar you will be ten per cent. better off anyway; as you know, that means something those extremely close times. Such a difference may seem improbable, but step in to-day and examine our goods and prices, and if you don't coincide with the above we will allow you to retire with the best grace possible, but will still believe that you dropped your ten per cent. We have elegant Underwear and Furnishings, and we are placing them on the market so long that if paper was not so cheap you would have to furnish that useful commodity yourself. Christmas is upon us. Ladies, treat your best fellow to a nice Silk Handkerchief or a Smoking Coat, or something useful, and he will bless your memory, as well as stand a much better chance with your friend.
