

transmitted to their offspring. So much for the reference to the Hon. Colonial Secretary. The remainder of the article, which alludes to Benjamin Davies, Esquire, and which Maclean introduces by a pompous threat of his determination to "hold that gentleman's nose to the grind-stone," we shall dismiss very briefly, by expressing our belief that Mr. Davies would cheerfully consent to his nasal organ being held to the grind-stone or any other instrument of torture, well satisfied that nothing to which it could be applied would be half as offensive as the effluvia of rottenness, both personal and moral, to which an association with Maclean and the clique whom he is paid to support, would subject it.

We have been somewhat surprised, if not amused, by the perusal of a document which appeared in the last Islander, purporting to be the prospectus or constitution of the so-called Political Alliance, and we could not help noticing that the thing had a very appropriate part of the paper assigned to it, being inserted amongst Doctors' advertisements and other things that are scarcely ever read. We thought the Conservative party of Charlottetown had some little talent, but we find we have erred in so thinking, for no one but the most egregious blockhead could write the document in question, and none but a set of fools would identify themselves with, and sanction its publication. One half of it consists of what is called a "general declaration"—pompous, foxy, frothy, ridiculous, and disjointed, without a solitary correct and well rounded sentence in it,—and the other half consists of a string of rules for the government of the Alliance, in which there is much parade about the number of officers who shall manage it, it being deemed necessary to have no less than four Presidents and Vice Presidents—four Secretaries, and ever so numerous a Committee, nearly equal to the Forty Thieves. Yet with all this array of official gentlemen, not one of them had the courage, Presidents, Secretaries, or Committee, to append his name to the prospectus. This exhibition of the white feather at the very outset of its career, does not augur well for the hopes entertained regarding the success of the Alliance.

We shall not at present weary our readers with a review in detail of the principles or measures which the Holy Alliance proposes to advocate—they may, however, be described as the heap of twaddle about elective Legislative Councils—exclusion of officials from the Legislature, and some general nonsense; as to nullifying the condition of the tenantry, and reducing taxation, which the Tories have preached ever since they have been driven from office by the introduction of Responsible Government, and which the people of this Colony have ever since treated with profound contempt, as has been clearly demonstrated by many an election contest—knowing right well, that let the Tories make what professions they please, they never will and never can, even if they had the power, carry out a liberal and enlightened policy.

The literary scavenger, who has sold his brains and whatever conscience he had to the Obstructionists, states, in the course of some notes and comments on the Alliance Hamburg, that the principles laid down in the prospectus are precisely those which he has advocated for several years past; and in the next breath he assures us, that the movement to carry out those principles, "promises to embrace the whole Island." This is certainly saying very little for his advocacy. It is about six years since he commenced his venal and unprincipled course. He has advocated, as he says himself, the measures of the Alliance from the commencement of that period to the present; and though his measures have several times been put to the test, both in and out of the Legislature, not one of them has received the approbation of the country; while the individual alluded to is not merely more unpopular, but more generally detested than he was when he first assumed the livery of the once powerful but now utterly disgraced and routed faction of Obstructionists. At the commencement of his career he promised his paymasters and supporters that he would overturn the then newly established order of things. We have seen how admirably he has succeeded. He now promises the same deluded men that the Political Alliance will do what he has failed to accomplish; but as he has proved himself a very false prophet in his own case, we think we may conclude that his auguries in any other case are entitled to very small dependence.

LATER FROM CALIFORNIA.

ADVICES FROM NEW GRANADA, THE SOUTH PACIFIC AND AUSTRALIA.—$2,000,000 IN GOLD.—New York, Oct. 13.—The steamship George Law arrived last night with the California mails to the 20th ult., nearly two millions in gold, and advices from New Granada, the South Pacific, Jamaica and Australia.

The general intelligence from California is unimportant. Politics occupied the public mind to the exclusion of other subjects. In San Francisco there was a movement on foot to unite various elements in opposition to the Democrats, who are the bitter enemies of the Vigilance Committee. It was somewhat doubtful, however, whether the project would succeed.

Messrs. John L. Durkee and Charles E. Rand had been tried on a charge of piracy, for assisting in the removal of the State arms from on board the schooner Julia, in the harbour of San Francisco, during the reign of the Vigilants. The jury rendered a verdict of acquittal after but five minutes deliberation.

Trade was dull at San Francisco; but with the removal of social disorders, a return of business activity was confidently looked for.

On the 5th a destructive fire broke out in Marysville, in which some forty buildings, mostly occupied by Mexicans and Chinese, were destroyed.

The town of Colusa was entirely destroyed by fire about the same time.

From all portions of the mining regions we hear the most favourable accounts.

Extensive preparations are being made, in anticipation of the rainy season, to work the dry gulches and ravines where there is no water. We continually hear of rich strikes, and it is probable that there never were more favourable prospects in the mining region than there are at present.

From New Granada we learn that Gov. Calvo was inaugurated at Panama on the 11th instant. This event insures a peaceful condition of things on the Isthmus for some time to come.

The local journal published at Miron, Texas, gives the particulars of one of those revolting assassinations at which the heart sickens, and have become so common in these days of enormity:—"The victims were A. E. Moore, Esq., his wife and a lovely orphan girl, twelve years old, who was, by adoption, one of the family. They had just seated themselves at the supper table, in the entry of their house, when the assassin, coolly fixing a rest for his gun by propping a board between the two stems of an althea, twenty steps from the table, and in full view of his unsuspecting victims, discharged at them a double-barrelled gun. At the first fire Moore fell. His wife, who sat on his left, exclaimed, 'Lord, have mercy!' and at that instant received the contents of a second gun, fired in quick succession. She fell instantly; and the orphan girl, who was seated on Moore's right, and between Mr. Moore and the assassin, sprang into the house and called for camphor, but before the servant could get to her she was dead. Mr. Moore received three shots in the head, and four in the right side of the chest. His arm above the elbow was much shattered, and the hand shot through. He lived a few minutes, but never spoke. Mrs. Moore received four shots in the face, and never seemed to have breathed after she fell. A single shot struck the young girl a little to the left of the spine, passed through the heart, and coming out at the left nipple, lodged in her clothes."

The telegraphic reports of yesterday's election in Pennsylvania indicate a decided triumph for the Buchanan ticket. The returns are of course but partial, but they tend so strongly in that direction as to leave little doubt of the result. We believe the vote polled was generally large, the exertions on each side having been unusually spirited. We have little from the west of the Mountains, but the Buchanan majorities indicated in the Eastern Counties can hardly be overcome at this election.—Tribune.

BRUTAL MURDER.—The St. Alban's (Vt.) Messenger chronicles the particulars of a shocking murder which occurred in the town of Bakersfield on the night of Saturday, 27th ult. The Messenger says:

"It seems that a Mr. Brown and his wife, who were in the habit of living with their married children, had been staying for some time in Bakersfield with their son-in-law, Mr. Locke. On Saturday, Mr. Brown and his daughter, Mrs. Locke, left for Waterville on a visit to some of their friends who were living there. Mrs. Brown and another daughter, who were also staying at Locke's, went to bed at the accustomed hour, little dreaming that to one it was the bed of death, as it proved to be. At about 11 o'clock the daughter awoke and saw Locke standing by the bedside, who, so soon as he found that he was discovered, said, 'Jane, I have done enough to be hung for it,' and immediately seizing her choked her in a most violent manner until he thought, undoubtedly, that life was extinct, and then left her. The girl lay in the greatest terror until she heard Locke leave the house. She then arose and found that her mother who slept in a bed but a few feet from her own, lay a lifeless corpse, from a number of blows about the head and neck, evidently made by some sharp edged instrument.

The young lady immediately alarmed the neighbors, who repaired to the spot, and on examination found that seventeen severe wounds had been inflicted upon the head, neck and shoulders of the deceased. The next morning Locke was found dead in the barn, where he had hung himself. No trouble was known to have existed between the parties, and the dreadful tragedy is ascribed to the influence of intoxicating drink, as on his way home that night Locke had a jug of liquor, and offered some of it to others.

NEW BRUNSWICK.

SHEDIAC RAILWAY.—We are happy to learn that the Railway between Shediac and the Bend is progressing more rapidly than was anticipated. Mr. Walker, of Quebec, the contractor at the Shediac end of the line, has 300 men at work, and adds to their number daily. He is pushing on most vigorously. The other two contractors have each nearly the same number, and we observe that Mr. Brookfield, the contractor near the Bend, has advertised for 200 more men in Prince Edward Island.

The locomotive at Shediac is being put in working order, and in another fortnight the scream of the steam-whistle will be heard along the railway for three miles from the Harbor of Shediac. It is anticipated, that by the first of December next the locomotive will be running 9 miles from Shediac towards the Bend; and from the general progress of the works, there seems little doubt that the whole line from Shediac to the Bend, will be traversed by railway cars early in April next.

While the massive stone bridge across the Seadown river (near Shediac Harbour) is being finished, a temporary wooden bridge has been erected, and the ballasting of the line, by means of steam, will go on expeditiously. Mr. Light is doing his work very quietly, but in the most expeditious manner.—Courier.

DEATH BY LAUDANUM.—Yesterday morning an inquest was held before Jacob Wortman, Esq., Coroner, and a Jury, on view of the body of Nathaniel Purinton, who died suddenly on Tuesday evening about 8 o'clock. At the examination the following facts were elicited:—On Tuesday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock, deceased went to the shop of Messrs. Miles & Wood, Druggists, and procured an ounce of Laudanum from Abraham Wood, a young lad in the employment of M. & W., and in a short time afterwards retired to bed; no suspicion, however, was excited until tea-time, when Mr. Purinton's daughter-in-law went to his bed-room with a cup of tea, thinking the old gentleman might be unwell and did not wish to get up, alarmed, however, by his appearance, she communicated with the rest of the family immediately, but it was too late, and before medical aid could be procured he had ceased to breathe. Various causes have been assigned for the commission of the rash act, but we forbear making any comments.—Westmorland Times, Oct. 9.

NOVA SCOTIA.

MURDER.—Last Monday evening, the 6th instant, a number of persons assembled at one of the houses a few yards above the railway depot, to attend a raffie. The meetings seems to have been attended by all the drinking and noise usual on such occasions. One George Izat, who resided in a part of the same house, became, from some cause which we have not heard, exasperated with some of the party. A little after midnight a number of them went out of the house to go home, but still remained about the door outside, making, it is said, a good deal of disturbance. About this time Izat came down stairs from his room and fired a gun at the crowd. A slug with which it was loaded took effect in the groin of a young man named McKown, or McEwen, a painter, of this city. The injury resulted in death in a very short space of time. Immediately after committing the act, Izat returned to his room, armed himself, and about one o'clock in the morning crossed the Narrows in a boat, to the Dartmouth side. On Tuesday a Coroner's inquest was held upon the body of the deceased, and a verdict of "wilful murder" was returned, against Izat. Mr. Wilson the Deputy Sheriff of this county, was immediately despatched in pursuit of the fugitive. Izat having the reputation of being a bold, determined man and being armed, it was supposed that he would not be taken without difficulty, if at all. Such was not the case. After beating about the country all day Wednesday, Wilson discovered the object of his search in the house of a Mr. Brown, at Musquodobit. On learning that Wilson was about the premises, Izat expressed a wish to see him, and on doing so immediately gave himself up. He was brought to town the following day and lodged in jail.—Acadian Recorder.

SHIPWRECKS.—The ship Britannia, Bartlett, of Plymouth, was wrecked at Hungry Cove, Aspy Bay, on the 24th ult. We regret to learn that three of her seamen were drowned, the remainder of whom, with the Master and Officers, escaped with their lives. The ship was in ballast, and had been five weeks on the voyage. A vessel belonging to P. E. Island, bound hence to Charlottetown, was lost on Scattari on Sunday night last. Crew saved; vessel and cargo of coal a total wreck.—Cape Breton News.

A man-of-war sailor, who was taken to the lock-up, about five o'clock last evening, was shortly after attacked by another sailor confined there, and severely cut and beaten. The poor fellow was sent to the Poor's Asylum in an almost insensible state.—Colonist.
