

SENIOR and JUNIOR CLASS HAPPENINGS

Well, the Senior Class Party was held and I believe it can be determined that either Friday night isn't a good time to have it, or you don't want it in the Barn, or perhaps you don't want one at all! Anyway, the party wasn't a success, this time, but we won't give up. We would really like your suggestions about when you would like to have a party, where you would like to have it and what kind of a party you would like to have. It's your class and we want to make it the best year ever but we need your suggestions.

For you Seniors who haven't ordered your class ring, there will be a final ring day on November 2. A $20 down payment must be paid when you order. These rings are being ordered from a new company (not the same as last year's) so there is not expected to be any delay on delivery.

Graduation photos will be taken on November 14, 15 and, if necessary, November 16. There will be a $10 sitting charge to be paid at that time and these pictures will be taken by Heckbert's Studio. The proofs will be back early in December but, unfortunately, the final orders of pictures will not be back before Christmas.

Regarding the class sweaters, a sample has been ordered which should arrive some time this week. If you would like to have a look at the sample, you can drop down to the bookstore sometime during the week and see it. It should be in by the time the SUN comes out.

We are now looking for suggestions for a class theme. If you have an idea for one, you can drop it in a box that is placed in Main Building by the mail room. And remember that the person whose theme is chosen will receive a free class sweater.

And finally, since the deadline for suggestions for the Convocation Speaker has arrived, the Selection Committee begins reviewing the list of names this week. However, all is not lost if you have just come up with the name of the person you want to see. If you do have anyone in mind, you can give the name to Steven Fitzpatrick or to any member of the executive.

In closing, we would like to wish you all the best of luck in your midterms and hope you can spare a little time now and then to remember that you are a Senior and that this is your year to enjoy it.

JUNIOR CLASS STORY-

It's time once again for the big Annual Junior Class Party! At the last Junior Class meeting it was decided to hold the party on Friday, Nov. 4. As it was last year, the party will be held at the Labour Union Hall (see ad. pg. 12 for map). Besides providing a much needed break from the Barn, the Labour Hall has the advantage of being licensed for both beer and liquor which will be practically free at 75¢ a shot. We hope that lots of Junior Class members will in a party mood and flock down to the Labor Hall to enjoy the good music, cheap booze and make the party a big rip-snorter as it was last year.

Several topics were discussed at the class meeting. Once again we will be sponsoring the Christmas Dance so we will need lots of juniors to help decorate the Hotel Ballroom.

Unfortunately the effort to sponsor a bus to take fans to the Acadia football game didn't work out this time. However, we are willing to try again perhaps to a Dal. or S.M.U. hockey game if enough fans want to go.

It was also decided to run a lottery this semester, the prize for which will be tuition money for one course. The kick-off for this will also be on Nov. 4th. Tickets will be available at the party.

This wraps up the class activities confirmed so far for this semester although other suggestions are still under consideration. Any of your proposals will certainly be welcomed by the executive.

As well as being a good home, we hope the class party will provide an opportunity to get to know each other and develop some class spirit since we will be graduating together next year.
