NEW YORK

NEW YORK (AP) Steels declined as stock market prices fell off irregularly Friday in the light of trading of two weeks.

Volume increased to 2,600,000 shares from 3,185,000 Thursday and was the smallest since a semi-holiday of Oct. 12 when 2,920,000 shares changed hands.

The board of a Russian-chartered ship by a U.S. Navy party had a discernible impact on stock prices. Wall Street seemed to be awaiting the news of the Cuban arms embargo situation.

The rise in the U.S. consumer price index by the greatest amount in four years also was noted by the street.

Judging by market action, the dominant factor was Bethlehem Steel, which advanced 1/2 to 49 1/2. Judging by market action, the dominant factor was Bethlehem Steel, which advanced 1/2 to 49 1/2.
