

The homers of Drysdale and Grant were not totally unexpected. Drysdale had given up 30 in the regular season, and Grant had yielded 34.

MADE FINE PLAY

Versalles was his usual brilliant self in the field, roving the shortstop position with abandon. He went to his left to make a fine play on a grounder by Drysdale in the third and grabbed a sinking liner by Lefebvre with two men on in the sixth.

Oliva made a beautiful leaping catch in right centre at the 28-foot mark on a ball hit by Willie Davis in the first, and Hall ran into left centre to haul down a drive by Wills with two on and two out in the fifth.

The best fielding play by a Dodger was Fairly's running catch of Mincher's long ball with two on and nobody out in the seventh.

In the dressing room Mele said, "It's always nice to win the first."

Asked about reports that television viewers had the impression Grant was spitting on the ball, Mele said, "Well, we got the impression that Drysdale was using a spitter. If they can get away with it, what's the difference?"

Alston said he didn't notice any spitters.

"Drysdale had good stuff but his command of the ball was not good," said the Dodger manager. "What killed us was Baatley's blopper to right that scored two."

If Versalles didn't kill them, he certainly put the rope around the Dodgers' neck.

Brewer and finally Ron Ferraro. But the damage had been done. Brewer, a lefty, gave up the only other run in the sixth.

Although Oliva, the American League batting champ, went hitless in four trips, he did tie a series record by making seven putouts in right field.

Stampeders Travel East; Will Battle Als, Argos

By THE CANADIAN PRESS
The best of the West and the least in the East meet in Toronto Friday night in the first of two Canadian Football League interlocking games scheduled for the Thanksgiving weekend.

The Argonauts, hopelessly mired in the Eastern conference cellar for the fourth straight year, entertain the powerful Calgary Stampeders who hope to improve their first-place standing in the Western conference with two victories during the weekend.

They complete their two-game swing in the East Monday against Montreal Alouettes.

The Grey Cup champion British Columbia Lions will be in Edmonton for a Saturday night game with the Eskimos and Saskatchewan Roughriders meet the Blue Bombers in Winnipeg Monday in other scheduled WFC games.

Hamilton Tiger-Cats host Ottawa Rough Riders in a Thanksgiving Day game which may decide first place in the EFC. The co-leaders have each taken a home victory in their two meetings this season and each will have three games remaining after Monday.

While Argos still have to lose one more game before they can be mathematically eliminated from the EFC playoffs, coach Bob Shaw and his assistants are leaving right after Friday's game on a scouting trip to universities in Michigan, Pennsylvania and Ohio.

"You could say we are quite aware of some shortcomings in our present lineup," said Shaw, the former Saskatchewan Roughriders coach. However, he wouldn't elaborate on which colleges or players he was most interested in.

While admitting disappointment in the current season, Shaw refused to count his club out of the playoffs even though they would have to win their last four games while the Alouettes lose their four.

"If we win them all we could make the playoffs. Give us the first one (against Calgary) and you might see a helluva scramble in the other three," said Shaw.

However, should the Argos lose Friday's game, Shaw says he'll give some of the younger Canadians on the club more playing time during the remainder of the schedule.

UNSURE OF WIN
Calgary coach Joe Williams, meanwhile, isn't taking the Toronto and Montreal games for granted.

"Not at all," he said Wednesday as his club prepared for the eastern trip. "In fact, we haven't beaten them down East yet."

First place is particularly important to WFC clubs since the second- and third-place teams square off in a gruelling two-game, total-point series, allowing the schedule winners lots of time to rest.

Williams said he was pleased with his team's offensive blocking and the over-all play of former track star Frank Budd in last Saturday's 31-18 win over Ottawa at Calgary.

NP All-Stars Capture Title

The National Park All-Stars won the City League Softball Championship when members of the Dow's Sportsmen failed to appear for the scheduled third game of a best of five series. The National Park were leading the series 2-0.

Japan Bids For Olympics

From AP-Renters
MADRID (CP)—Japan made a formal bid Wednesday for the 1972 Winter Olympics in Sapporo.

The bid was received by the International Olympic Committee, meeting in this Spanish capital, but a decision may not be made until next year.

Sapporo, a city of 700,000 on Japan's northernmost island of Hokkaido, was awarded the 1940 Winter Olympics but they were cancelled because of the Second World War.

Japan and Canada were among the unsuccessful bidders for the 1968 winter games, awarded to Grenoble, France. Canada has never played host to the Olympics, either winter or summer. Japan had the 1964 summer games, in Tokyo.

As the session began, it looked more and more as if the West Germans will lose out in their bid to retain a combined German Olympic team, and that East Germany will be given full recognition by the committee. Germany participated as one country in the 1962, 1966, 1968 and 1964 Olympics.

The vote on the issue is not expected until Friday.

S'side Experts Side With LA

By NORMAN MacDONALD

Congratulations to the Summerside Intermediate for winning the Island Intermediate "A" Championship, and success in their efforts against opponents. You have to admit the fact that the Summerside Juniors were eliminated from competition early and were able to help their big brothers and gave the intermediates a real shot in the arm. But the team packs a pretty good punch in the attack, and we fairly steady in the field.

This is the time of year when fans are picking who will win the World Series and how long it will take them. It occurred to us that it would be a good idea to ask some of the high school teachers their opinions. You see, these fellows use slide rules, logarithms and such like to arrive at their conclusions so maybe they will be more accurate than the ordinary gas fan. Well, here goes:

Clem Gallant: The Twins are statistically in fourth place in the American League, parallel to Pittsburgh. Dodgers could always clobber the Pirates, therefore they will clobber Minnesota. Q.E.D.

John Gallant — Koufax will win. (He didn't even mention the Dodgers.)

Jack Murphy — The Dodgers in six games. (Jack can tell how a horse will finish by how he holds his head and tail in the backstretch, but he may not be quite so sharp on baseball.)

Charles Reed — Minnesota in seven. (He uses the new Mathematics to figure it, so look out.)

Mrs. Webster — Who is playing what?

Now for a new of the high school students:

Paul MacWilliams — Minnesota in seven. I hope so anyway.

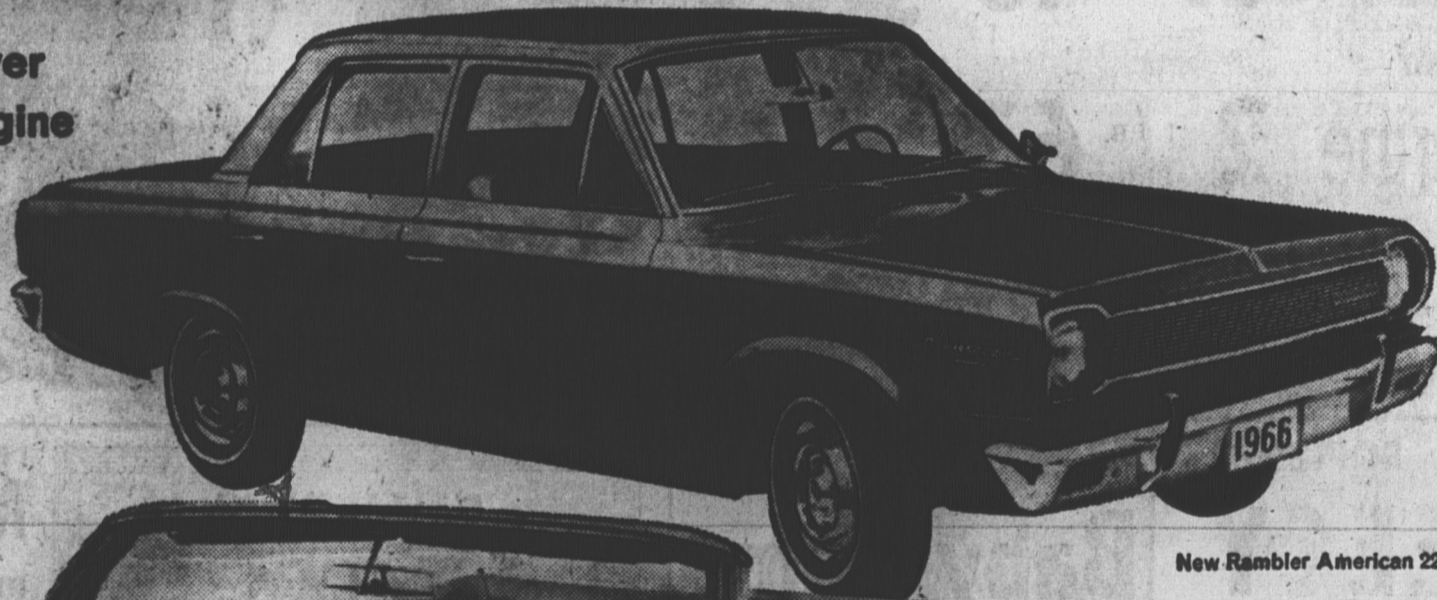

Preston Stevens — The Dodgers in seven. They've got the pitching.

Tony Gallant — Four straight for the Dodgers. Koufax and Drysdale will murder the Twins.

Myles Arsenault — Dodgers in six. Their pitching is too sharp.
