Attention Lefthanded Golfers

Calling all left-handed golfers! Do you blush self-consciously on the tee because you know you're— well—just a little different? This question was asked by a sports writer, and Gus Maue's advice is —"don't." "As a matter of fact," he says, "there are probably plenty of right-handers there who would be better off swinging from the south."

Maue is a professional at Whitevale Golf Club, near Toronto, and he's one of the host of portsiders who have just been emancipated by a fellow named Bob Charles, a lefty from New Zealand, who won the $50,000 Houston golf classic on April 21st. He is the first left-handed golfer to win a PGA sponsored event.

"The only reason a lefthander hasn't won a major tournament before is the law of averages." Maue argues. "Less than one percent of competitive golfers are lefties. However, switching left-handed swingers went out with the mashie- niblick. But the whole affair has been bungled up around the locker room until now." "It never made sense," sniffs Maue. It got started in the old days; there wasn't enough equipment for left-handed golfers, so the pros used to change them over. If you're a natural lefty, a change would do more harm than good."

So says Gus Maue, and we say: "Hear! Hear! Maybe we won't have to change over to a right-hander to break that 9-hole 52 score after all.

Sports At Low Ebb

Outside of bowling— and, by the way, Freda Paul is the new ladies' champion, having defeated Molly Pharoah Saturday — sports in Prince County is at a low ebb. But a major event in volleyball comes up Saturday at Civic Auditorium in Summerside. Two classes, Senior "A" open, and Senior "B" restricted to Prince Edward Island, will be run off. Those who would participate send your entries to Charlie Ballem by May 1st, and fans, you'll be surprised if you haven't already, at the kicks you can get from watching volleyball.

Youngster Gets Hab Offer

Allen Gaudet, son of Ernest "Lippy" Gaudet, Summerside, is getting another bid from the NHL hockey brass. Last summer Allan and Paul MacWilliams went to Niagara Falls to a hockey camp under the jurisdiction of the Bruins. Now young Gaudet's father has just received a letter from a scout in the Montreal Canadien chain inviting him to a hockey school this summer. Allen's team, the Summerside Midgets, didn't get far along the play-off trail this spring, but there is no question that this son of Lippy's is a real promising prospect.

FAULKNER GETS TEAMMATE

Detroit Red Wing rookie Alex Faulkner gets a new partner in Toronto Saturday. He married another Islander, the former Doris Reid of Botwood, Newfoundland.

Canadian Athletes Grab Three Gold Medals Sun.

SAO PAULO, Brazil (CP-AP)—Two Ontario high school girls and eight brawny oarsmen from the University of British Columbia won three gold medals at the Pan-American Games Sunday, bringing Canada's gold-medal total to four.

The winners:

Nancy McCredie, 18, of Brampton, with a record heave in the women's shot put.

Abby Hoffman, 16, of Toronto, in the women's 800-metre run where Canada also got the bronze medal when Noreen Deuling of Winnipeg finished third.

And the University of B.C. crew from Vancouver in the eight - oared final — premier event of rowing.

Canadians, having their most successful day at the fourth Pan-American Games, also won second-place silver medals in the men's 800-metre and women's 400-metre freestyle swimming relays and bronze medals in the women's 400-metre free style and 100-metre backstroke swims.

WINS SECOND BRONZE

Lynne Pomfret, 16, of Vancouver, who won a bronze medal in the 200-metre free-style. Sharon Pierce, 15, of Prince Rupert, B.C., was fourth.

Eilleen Weir, 17, of Toronto won the bronze for Canada in the 100-metre backstroke where Mary Stewart, 17, of Vancouver medallist in butterfly and free-style sprints, finished fifth.

The United States, taking tt on the chin in one or two embarrassing spots, nevertheless continued to dominate the overall picture, ending Sunday with 65 gold medals, 26 silver and 16 bronze in the trophy bag. Canada's totals are second best in the 21-country competition.

Miss McCredie, a five-foot, 10-inch 175-pound Grade 12 student, heaved the shot 50 feet three inches for her victory, beating the previous record of 42 feet two inches by more than two feet and beating her own previous best by nearly four feet. She had recovered from difficulties she was having with a muscle in her back last week.

Miss Hoffman, a frequent winner during the recent indoor track season in the U.S. and Canada, was timed in 2:10.2, which stands as a Games record since this was the first running of the 800-metre distance test.

RUNNERS COLLAPSE

The Toronto runner finished 10 metres ahead of Lea B. Ferri of the United States, who finished in 2:13.6. Miss Deuling, a 20-year-old school teacher, was third in 2:14.8 in the gruelling women's run which saw several competitors collapse at the finish.

Vancouver's powerful rowing crew stroked the 2,000-metre distance in six minutes 16 seconds and finished nearly four lengths ahead of Brazil and Uruguay. The U.S., which won four of the seven rowing events Sunday, finished fourth in the premier eighths.

In the meet's second day of track and field competition, the U.S. was a frequent loser, suffering its greatest humiliation when Cuban Enrique Figuerola won the 100-metre dash —a U.S. specialty. Ira Murchison, the No. 1 U.S. sprinter here, finished third behind the Cuban and Arquimedes Herrera of Venezuela.

U.S. athletes, however, did win four gold medals in the stadium, James Johnson winning the 400-metre run; Dave York taking the pole vault with a Games-record jump of 16 feet ¾ inch, Robert K. Humphrey winning the discus and Edith McGuire winning the women's 100-metre final.

SWEEP SWIM HONORS

The U.S. took all 16 swimming gold medals — including four won Sunday—and picked up three of the four golds in diving, including men's and women's 10-metre platform titles Sunday.

Canada, with its four swimming medals Sunday and a silver and two bronze won in the pool Saturday, had six silvers and nine bronze medals in the swimming competition which ended Sunday. In addition, the divers picked up a gold and a silver.

Venezuela and Uruguay also got into the gold-medal-winning act Sunday with Gregorio Carrisalles of Venezuela winning cycling's individual road race title and Uruguay taking the team title in the same event.

Diver Tom Dinsley, 22, of Voncouver who won Canada's first gold medal here when he took the men's springboard diving championship, finished fifth Sunday in the 10-metre platform won by Olympic champion Bob Webster of the U.S.

PLACES FOURTH

Judy Stewart, 19, of the Toronto suburb of West Hill, silver medallist in springboard, was fourth in the women's platform event, slipping back in Sunday's optional dives after placing third in Saturday's compulsory program.

Linda Cooper of the U.S. won the event with Nancy Poulsen of the U.S. second and Mexican Maria Teresa Adames third.

In other action Saturday:

Puerto Rico trimmed Lethbridge, Alta., Nationals 84-74, giving the Canadian team its second loss in three starts in the men's basketball competition. Gordon Fester of Edmonton was top-scoring Canadian with 20 points.

The U.S. handed Canada its third loss in water polo, trimming the Canadian team, made up mostly of Hungarian immigrants, 9-0. Canada has won once.

Canada's five-man gymnastics team placed third after the first six compulsory exercises. The U.S. led with 341.30 points, Cuba was second with 336.70 and Canada third with 273.45.

Cardinals, Athletics Head Major Loops

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

St. Louis and Kansas City, representatives from the state of Missouri, showed the rest of the major leagues how it was done Sunday. Each was in first place in its league.

The Cardinals made it seven in a row, defeating Los Angeles Dodgers 9-6, while the Athletics downed Washington 6-5 for their sixth victory in the last eight starts.

Pittsburgh kept pace with the Cardinals in the National League, defeating New York Mets 5-3 for their fourth straight triumph. Milwaukee climbed into third place, sweeping the three-game series from San Francisco Giants 5-1. Houston Colts nipped Cincinnati 3-2 to move into ninth place past the Mets. Chicago Cubs topped Philadelphia 4-1.

Whitey Ford won his first game of the season as New York Yankees shut out Cleveland 5-0 and took over second place in the American League race, one game behind the Athletics. Boston zoomed into third place with a 4-3 and 6-2 doubleheader sweep of Chicago White Sox. Detroit blanked Minnesota 4-0, and Los Angeles edged Baltimore 3-2.

WINS FOURTH STRAIGHT

Ken Boyer drove in three runs with a pair of homers to enable righthander Ernie Broglio of the Cards to register his fourth straight victory over the Dodgers. Broglio now has a 3-0 record for the season. Bill Skowron hit his first National League homer for the Dodgers.

Henry Aaron socked his seventh home run and Warren Spahn spaced 11 hits for his fourth triumph in the Braves victory over Juan Marichal of the Giants.

Bill Mazeroski looped an eighthinning single to score Bob Skinner with the tie-breaking run that gave Pittsburgh relief pitcher Elroy Face his second victory. It was the third straight loss for the Mets.

Ron Santo hit a three-run home run in the eighth and Ernie Banks followed with a solo blast as the Cubs rallied for four runs against Chris Short to overcome a 1-0 Philadelphia lead. It was the second victory for Bob Buhl.

Bob Aspormonte singled home a run in the ninth inning to break a 2-2 tie with Cincinnati and give the Colts the rubber of the three-game series.

C.K. Yang Sets Record In Decathlon

WALNUT, Calif. (AP)—C. K. Yang of UCLA ran his total to 9,121 points Sunday to smash the world record in the decathlon.

The 29-year-old Chinese Nationalist bettered the so-called magic number of 9,000 in the 10-event grind with a brilliant performance that erased the world standard of 8,685 points set in July, 1960, by U.S. athletic Rafer Johnson.

Yang turned in his performance as part of the Mount San Antonio Relays. Only a scattered handful of track and field fans were on hand when he finished the final event, the 1,500-metre run.

FIRE ON TRAWLER

LONDON (AP) — The 81-ton trawler Millward was reported fired on Saturday by an Icelandic gunboat off Iceland, the British admiralty said. It said the British fisheries protection frigate Palliser had been sent to investigate. Britain now recognizes Iceland's 12-mile limit — but only after long dispute in which British trawlers defied the limit under protection of warships.

Sunrise County Takes Handicap

NEW YORK (CP) — Sunrise County, given a real run for the money in the stretch at Aqueduct Saturday, came on strong at the finish to edge out Crimson Satan and win the $89,850 Grey Lag Handicap.

Crimson Satan, who never has won on a New York track, finished 1½ lengths ahead of Decidedly, the 1962 Kentucky Derby winner.

Greek Money came in fourth followed by Misty Day, Sensitiyo, Tutankhamen, Guadalcanal and Prego.

Sunrise County, owned by Townsend B. Martin, ran the 1¼ mile distance in one minute, 50 secods and paid $17.90, $8.20, and $4.50. Crimson Satan, off on the board as the 3-to-1 co-favorite with Decidedly, returned $4.70 and $3.10. Decidedly was $3.50 to show.

A crowd of 54,169 saw Johnny Rotz on Sunrise County outbreak Greek Money at the start and open a lead of almost two lengths down the back stretch.

NOW THRIVES

The American bison dropped from 60,000,000 in the early 19th century to only 20 in 1900 but now thrive on protected pastures.
