THE BOMBARDMENT OF LADYSMITH.

Heavy Firing Heard--A French Ship Fired Upon.

Reinforcements arrive daily at the Cape and vanish up country. A large number of troops already there.—Trouble between Japan and Russia is acute.—Why the Fusiliers and Gloucesters surrendered.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—A special despatch from Durban, Natal, dated November 9th, says that native runners who have just arrived here report that the Boers suffered severe defeat at Ladysmith this morning. The Boer guns were silenced after several hours fighting during which the Boer loss was heavy. No details have been received.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—Latest advices from Kimberley say that the bombardment is still going on. Reinforcements are anxiously looked for. There is heavy bombardment at Ladysmith and Mafeking. The British lost at Mafeking six men, including Capt. Fitzclarence, Third Royal Fusiliers, Capt. Marsham, Fourth Bedfordshire, and Capt. Petchell, Third King's Rifles.

ESTCOURT, Natal, Nov. 13.—A company of the Dublin Fusiliers had a sharp brush with a large force of Boers, reported to be 500 in number, near Colenso today.

The Fusiliers went out as a reconnoitering party on armoured train, and were fired on by the Boers at Fort Wylie.

The British promptly returned the fire and succeeded in driving the enemy under cover, after which the British retired, having captured considerable forage. No casualties are reported on the British side.

ESTCOURT, Natal, Nov. 14.—Your correspondent has been within sight of the Boer guns, and has seen the flashes of the big guns as they sent shells in the direction of Ladysmith.

Despatches from Ladysmith report the present bombardment as being as heavy as that of last Monday.

The British patrols around Estcourt are doing good work. The firing died away about the middle of the day, but was resumed again at five o'clock this evening. No Boers have been seen in the vicinity of Estcourt since November 9th.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—A despatch to the War Office from Capetown announces the arrival there of the troopship Armenian, with three batteries of artillery and an ammunition column, and the troopship Muria with the Scots Guards and half a battalion of the Northamptonshire Regiment.

This brings the total number of reinforcements up to 12,802, of which 6,000 are already on the way to Durban.

Troopships carrying 12,000 are due at Capetown tomorrow.

PARIS, Nov. 14.—There is considerable indignation here over the action of the British warship Magicienne in overhauling the French steamer Cordelia, off Lorenzo Marquez in Delagoa Bay. In Conservative circles, however, the news is received calmly, the belief being that the captain of the Magicienne was simply overzealous and that the action will be repudiated by the English Government.

In official circles the control of the cables by Great Britain is regarded as a much more serious matter.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—A despatch from Shanghai says that the relations of Russia and Japan have almost reached the breaking point. The trouble is caused by Japan's refusal to allow the Russians to take possession of land held by the Japanese Government at the Korean port of Massampo.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—Censorship again imposes four days of complete ignorance regarding the events in South Africa. With the exception of a short list of casualties, the arrival of troopships and brief despatches from Estcourt the movements of troops are unknown, and a belated despatch referring to earlier arrivals says that regiment after regiment arrives, lands and vanishes up country. The men do not know their destination and the officers have only the vaguest idea of where they are going.

The other night a naval brigade was slipped ashore, and almost instantly after landing the brigade disappeared as if it had never existed.

The latest news from Ladysmith is the report of a heavy bombardment on November 9th, which was heard miles away. This does not tend to relieve the anxiety.

The steamer Dahomey from West Africa brings the report that Mr. Thompson, agent of Bristol firm, and five other men were murdered near Lahore. Thompson and four men were killed by natives, and their heads cut off. The sixth man escaped and brought the news to Lahore. One hundred men were sent to punish the natives.

LORENZO MARQUEZ, Delagoa Bay, Nov. 14.—Father Mathew Mathews, who has arrived here from Pretoria, says that with reference to the surrender of the Irish Fusiliers and the Gloucestershire troops at Nicholson's Nek, after the mules stampeded the force got hard pressed by the enemy. They would have held out, however, but some subordinate, without instructions posted a flag of truce on his own responsibility. Nothing then remained but to surrender.

LATER.

A Boer Spy Captured—Krugers Wily Order.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—The war news is scarce and unimportant. One of the Boer leaders named Marks, a close friend of Kruger, has been arrested in Ladysmith as a spy.

As soon as President Kruger was informed of the arrest he telegraphed to General Joubert to shoot six British officers from those among the prisoners of war if Marks is shot.

Joubert has sent to General White a copy of this order.

The bombardment of Kimberly and Ladysmith goes on, but apparently without much effect.

Mens'woolen underwear and ready-made clothing. Also 40 fur collars at 95c at Paton & Co's.

Belgian Steamer Foundered.

[SPECIAL TO THE EXAMINER.]

LONDON, Nov. 14.—On Friday night the Belgian steamer Belgique foundered off the Caquet Rocks. Eighteen persons, including the captain, out of a total crew of twenty-six are believed to have been drowned.

TROUBLE IN VENEZUELA.

A Bloody Battle at Porto Cabello.

PORTO CABELLO, Venezuela, November 13.—General Paredes, a former commander in the army of ex-President Andrade, who had refused the demand made upon him by General Castro and the de facto authorities to surrender the town, even when this was reinforced by the request of the British, American, French, German and Dutch commanders, surrendered this morning at 10 o'clock after a terrible battle. The aspect of the city is one of ruin and devastation, and it is estimated that upwards of 650 persons were killed or wounded during the fighting.

Gen. Ramon Guerra began a land attack upon the town and the position of Gen. Paredes on Friday night. Desultory fighting continued until Saturday morning, about 4 o'clock, and the fierce struggle ensued. Gen. Paredes made a stubborn defence but Gen. Guerra forced an entrance into the town at five o'clock yesterday. As early as eight o'clock in the morning the fleet arrived and began a bombardment, but the range was too great and the firing proved ineffective.

Gen. Paredes held the fort on the hill and Fort Libertador until this morning.

(Porto Cabello is about twenty miles northwest of Valencia, on the Gulf of Triste. It is a spacious, safe port, with a mole and good wharves. The population is about 9,000. Its import and export trade has been considerable. Leading articles of export are coffee, hides, skins, fustic, logwood and indigo. Prior to the bombardment it had a large municipal building, a custom house, a hospital, a charitable institution and many large and well kept warehouses.)
