House Furnishings - S'side

One of the oldest departments of the firm of R. T. Holman, Limited, had to do with supplying material for ladies in the early days who did all the family sewing. That was back in the days of homespun when practically everything that was worn was made at home. Many of the cloths used were of Island or Maritime make. Holman's carried a large stock of this material. This was prior to the days of the large clothing manufacturers who today provide stores with their ready to wear items.

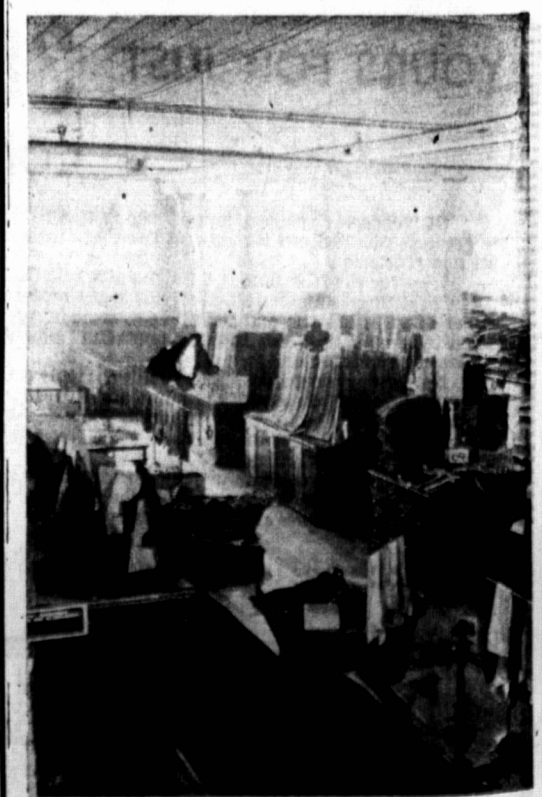

In these early years, yard goods occupied a prominent space in the Holman store. Recently the yard goods department in the Summerside store was incorporated with the large home furnishings department adjacent to the furniture department on the second floor. Here the customer may also buy such things as towels, towelling, sheets, sheeting and drapery material. There is a variety to suit every taste.

The Charlottetown home furnishings department has been expanded in recent years and the emphasis has been placed on draperies, towels, sheets and bedding supplies.
