EGG PRICES

The present low price of eggs to the producer is at once a cause for some concern and some questioning upon the operation of the floor price policy.

Government Support Price Policy with respect to eggs is that it undertakes to purchase in the late Fall, out of storage, any Grade A large eggs offered at 38c per dozen plus an allowance of 15c per case per month to cover storage charges, those in the trade claim that 15c will not cover storage and interest costs for a month.

At the present time a surplus of eggs exists in the Maritimes, any operator who buys such eggs, has them oiled and pays handling charges and freight to Montreal would net in the vicinity of 29c based on the floor of 38c at Montreal. Someone, of course, is going to raise the question of storing eggs in the Maritimes. Suitable egg storage requires special accommodation with strictly controlled temperature and humidity; at the moment few such, if any, are readily available in the Maritimes and for this reason prices being offered are Montreal prices less freight, etc.

CHEESE STORM

During the first week of January Ontario farm organizations, including the Federation, Cheese group, and other dairy associations met in Toronto and the fat was in the fire over the announced intention of the Department of Trade and Commerce to issue permits for the importation of New Zealand cheese into Canada.

Secretary Milburn of the Federation said it was the worst slap in the face Ontario farmers had ever received and that if the appeal to the cabinet to hold up the permits was not successful, then every farm organization in Ontario should send men to Ottawa to demonstrate on Parliament Hill.

Most of the criticism was directed at Trade Minister Howe who was termed by some as an open enemy of the farmer.

The indignation of the individual farmers could be better understood when it is realized that during the past three years they have, at considerable expense and sacrifice, negotiated contracts with the Old Country and, under great difficulties, been successful even in the face of surpluses in bringing some stability into the market. The fact remains, however, that there is already in Canada a substantial surplus of Cheddar Cheese. Any importation would, of course, aggravate the surplus position and will, in addition, have a depressing effect on the market to the disadvantage both of the producers and those of the trade who have bought cheese for storage.

Without any doubt this cheese importation will be an important topic for discussion at both the Dairy Farmers meeting in Regina this week and that of the Federation in Edmonton next week.

C. F. A. ANNUAL MEETING

Future policies for agriculture, chiefly with respect to marketing surpluses, and price support policies will have much attention at the 19th Annual Conference of the C. F. A. in Edmonton, January 24th to 28th. Guest speakers will be the Rt. Hon. James G. Gardiner, Federal Minister of Agriculture, Dr. L. E. Kirk formerly with F. A. O. and W. B. Baker, chairman of the Saskatchewan Royal Commission on Agriculture and rural life.

It is quite understandable that attention will be given by the conference to the question of surpluses at these, in the absence of floor prices, control the price of the total production. Floor prices are thus a mechanism for the protection of the farmer against the results of surplus production, therefore, it would appear natural that the two questions must be considered together.

DAIRY FARMERS

The problems to be tackled by the Dairy Farmers at Regina this week would come under the heading of floor prices for butter, surplus stocks in butter, cheese and powdered milk, a stepped up advertising campaign, increased consumption of dairy products and last but certainly not least, government policy on imports of cheese and butter.

On a national basis the dairy industry has possibly done, among the different branches of agriculture, the best job of organizing as a commodity group and has certainly had very considerable success in the raising of funds for the carrying on of advertising and promotion on a national basis.

P. E. I. ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Directors from the various organizations which go to make up the P. E. I. Federation was marked by an extremely satisfactory attendance; out of 53 Directors eligible to attend, 45 were present. Such attendance indicates a real interest in the affairs of the Federation and certainly reflects credit on the Directors who, in many cases, went to considerable trouble to be present.

Much of the meeting's time was spent in the discussion of some 30 resolutions which had been brought forward from the different organizations, those resolutions covered matters which the Federation is expected to work upon and form the basis of policy for the coming year.

The New President, Lloyd Martin of Cherry Valley, is a young farmer who has had experience in the County Federation and was also, at one time, President of the Junior Farmers of the province. Mr. Martin is thus not a newcomer in the organization field. In agreeing to undertake the responsibilities of heading the Federation, Mr. Martin gives evidence of a commendable interest in the problems of the farmers of the province.

Archibald Johnstone of Burlington now becomes First Vice-President. Mr. Johnstone it will be recalled will be spending approximately half a year studying European agriculture and farm organizations. The Second Vice-President, Wallace Mallett of Union Road is well known in Queens County as a progressive and enterprising farmer and, while a newcomer in the circle of Federation Directors, gives every indication of ability to make a real contribution.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETING

In addressing the annual meeting of the New Brunswick Federation of Agriculture, Agriculture Minister, the Hon. C. B. Sherwood, went on record as stating his conviction that the best weapon with which farmers could check declining revenue is better marketing practices. Mr. Sherwood further assured the farmers that his department would, in future, devote greater attention to organized marketing of farm products.

WEATHER REMARKS

While there is nothing original about the weather as a topic of conversation, we, nevertheless, feel that the first 19 days of January are somewhat out of the ordinary. This period which usually contributes a great deal of cold and stormy weather has, this year, been almost entirely free of frost, with rain and drizzle replacing the usual snowfall. The earth is becoming saturated with water which is starting to make its appearance in basements.

EVERGREEN TREES

Canada has both hard and soft pine trees, but all are evergreens.

We do not forget him, we loved him too dearly,
For his memory to fade from our lives like a dream,
Our lips need not speak, when our hearts mourn sincerely,
For grief often dwells where it cannot be seen.
