Among the new students of the University of Kentucky are a woman and her two sons, who have become "Freshmen" together.

There are 27,786 Irishmen in the British army. Thirty years ago the number of Irishmen in the Queen's service was 60,000.

The tug-of-war tournament was a financial failure in New York, having pulled $10,000 out of the pockets of the projectors.

The Boston board of aldermen have passed a resolution looking to the establishment of a free university in connection with the public school system.

Maine is to have a mile racing track, and about $17,000 has been raised towards it. The track will probably be situated at Old Orchard.

Disastrous floods are reported in upper Austria. Many bridges have been badly damaged by rising rivers, and hundreds of trees have been uprooted.

The cold and foggy weather spoiled the Christmas season in London, England. Tradesmen are reported to have lost $10,000,000 by the loss of holiday trade.

A maniac recently attempted to murder a Brooklyn lawyer. Another visited two New York hotels and announced his intention to blow up the buildings with dynamite.

The vital statistics for St John city and county for the year 1891 are as follows: Marriages, 475; births, 1,190; deaths, 1,063; For the past six months there were marriages, 240; births, 527; deaths, 536.

The total number of clergy of the Church of England is about 23,000. If we include the clergy in the colonies and those engaged in missionary fields the number is swelled to 27,000.

In Burmah it is the woman who does the wooing. Not only does she select her own husband, but when she tires of him she procures a divorce for the asking of it and marries anew.

A Welsh bard, Elwell Ap Barnard, has written a 110-verse ode to his cow. The English poet-laureate, being now in the milk business, may yet dash off some light and dairy thing of this kind.

An excellent idea has recently been put into practice by a drug firm in Birmingham. On every bottle or package of poison sold by the firm a label is pasted on which is printed directions as to the antidote.

You cannot swear at or abuse anybody in the Japanese language. The worst you can say is that he is a "fellow," and if you wish to express your very, very pointed indignation, you shout "there, there."

Some unknown person released the brakes on a cable car from which the grip car had been detached, at Butte, Montana, on Saturday night, causing the car to go down a heavy grade at lightning speed and jump the track. One man was killed and two injured, one fatally.

Dr. Watkins, of New York, asserts that he has, by the aid of a micro-flash light, obtained negatives of the grip germ after it had been assimulated with flesh through the mucous membrane of the nasal organs. The germ, he says, is white and is covered with fine hairs, and he added that it attacks the blood rather than the membranes.

Prof. Gray, of Baltimore, is said to have effected a number of cures of deafness with the phonograph; and in speaking of the results obtained, he expresses the belief that certain kinds of vibration, suitable to the different cases, introduced into the ear by means of the phonograph, will in the future constitute the most important part of the treatment of the deaf.

The coal product of Great Britain last year amounted to 184,529,116 metric tons (the metric ton being equal to about 2.204 pounds); that of Germany, 70,039,046 tons; France, 26,327,008 tons; Belgium, 20,365,960 tons, and Austria 8,931,065 tons; the aggregate for these five countries being 310,183,195 tons, against 299,404,331 tons in 1889. The total production of coal in Europe in 1890 was, therefore, between 317,000,000 and 320,000,000 tons, the output of the collieries of Russia having amounted to about 6,000,000.

The scandal arising from the discovery of adulterated flour at St. Petersburg is apt to make trouble for a number of people. The consignment comprised 300,000 poods (7,800,000 English pounds) purchased from dealers in Libau, with the view to regulating the price of wheat in St. Petersburg as well as to afford relief to the famine sufferers. Investigation proved that the entire consignment was so heavily adulterated with chalk dust and other substances as to endanger the health, if not the lives, of those using the stuff.

In England a rich man died recently, and 400 invitations were issued to his "intimate friends" to attend the funeral. Only twenty-nine came. Eight days afterward these twenty-nine, faithful after death, received a letter to call on the deceased's lawyer. They did so, and each received, according to the will, $1,600 if a lady and $1,000 if a gentleman. The testator further directed that the names of those who received his bequests should be published in the journals, to punish those who had not put themselves out of their way to attend his funeral.

It is selected with the very greatest care, and treated with the most approved processes for preserving the flavor of the tobacco.

A Lawyer's Fat Fee.

AN INDIANAPOLIS LAWYER GETS $200 FOR ADVICE OF ONE WORD.

(From the Indianapolis News.)

Not long ago Mr. Morris Butler, son of John M Butler, who had just arrived home from an evening party at two o'clock in the morning, heard a carriage drive up to the house, and a moment later answered a ring at the door bell. A young man of handsome face and energetic manner blurted out without ceremony:

"What State can cousins legally marry in?"

"I don't know," said Mr. Butler as soon as he could recover from the effects of his visitor's bluntness, "but I will ask my father."

He went up stairs and, after much knocking, aroused his father.

"Father," said he, "what State can cousins legally marry in?"

"Kansas," was the single word in response, between like what sounded suspiciously like snores.

Mr. Butler returned down stairs.

"Well, what does he say?" asked the visitor.

"Kansas," replied young Mr. Butler, laconically.

"Thank you!"

The door was closed and the young visitor was gone.

Nothing further was thought of the incident until yesterday's mail brought Mr. Butler a certified check for $200 for "legal advice" from his hitherto unknown client. This is probably the highest rate per word ever paid for legal advice. It divides into $100 per syllable and $33 33 per letter.

Patent New Year Resolves.

I will get up and dress when the breakfast bell rings.

I will not complain when everything goes to suit me.

I will treat my wife as politely as though she was a perfect stranger.

I will strive to be more thoughtful for my own comfort, that others, seeing me happy, may also endeavor to be contented.

I will not spend so much money this year on the useless frivolties of life.

I will remember the poor if I have to make a memorandum to that effect every morning.

I will endeavor to impress upon my family the duty of greeting, with cheerful voices and laughing faces, the father of a family when he returns home, wearied with the depressing cares and labors of a long business day.

I will go out by myself oftener, in order that my family may enjoy the tranquil and improving pleasure of a long, uninterrupted evening in the quiet sanctity of a happy home.

I must be more unselfish, and take better care of myself that I may long be spared to be the joy and light of the house which it has pleased an appreciative Providence to bestow upon me.

I will pay my pew rent this year, if I have to deny myself a new overcoat, and my children have to without shoes. I feel that we have not heretofore sufficiently denied ourselves to little luxuries for the sake of maintaining a good appearance at church.

I will be, in all things, an affectionate husband, a loving father, a good provider; and I will rear up a family that will love and respect me, and render to me prompt and cheerful obedience, with perfect deference to my wishes and thoughtful regard for my comfort, or I will break their backs in the attempt.—Burdette, in the Ladies' Home Journal.

A Unique Magazine.

A unique experiment will be tried in the February issue of the Ladies' Home Journal. The entire number has been contributed in prose, fiction and verse by the daughters of famous parentage, as a proof that genius is often hereditary. The work of thirty of these "daughters" will be represented. These will comprise the daughters of Thackeray, Hawthorne, Dickens, James Fenimore Cooper, Horace Greeley, Mr Gladstone, President Harrison, William Dean Howells, Senator Ingalls, Dean Bradley of Westminster, Julia Ward Howe, General Sherman, Jefferson Davis and nearly a score of others. Each article, poem or story printed in this number has been specially written for it, and the whole promises to be a successful result of an idea never before attempted in a magazine.

THE originator of Estey's Emulsion spent several years of his life in perfecting this preparation. Not a bottle of it was put on the market until he was satisfied that it was the best ever introduced for the cure of coughs, colds, bronchitis and all wasting diseases. Thousands of bottles have been sold, and he has never heard a complaint regarding it. jan2 1m d&w

THE NEW TOILET GEM.—Philoderma owes its immense success to the fact that it is radically different from any preparation in the market. It is a bland and soothing liquid, nicely perfumed, and when applied to the hands and face produces a delicious sense of coolness and comfort, exercising also a direct curative action. It is entirely free from the sticky quality of glycerine and the greasy nature of camphor ice or cold cream. To those who are unable to to use glycerine, from its irritating effect, Philoderma is a necessity. Those who use it have a beautiful complexion. It is harmless as milk. Sold by druggists everywhere.
