A Statement of Facts.

On July 9th, 1891, after the present government obtained office, the actual debt of the Province, according to a statement furnished by the Assistant Provincial Secretary, amounted to

$53,442.21

Mr. Peters, then leader of the Government, declared that there after revenue and expenditure would be made to meet—but there has never been a year since he made that statement without a deficit. Here they are:—

Deficit 1891	$ 30,439.20
Deficit 1892	37,651.29
Deficit 1893	119,942.33
Deficit 1894	20,164.21
Deficit 1895	32,862.80
Deficit 1896	14,135.35
Deficit 1897	38,201.65
Deficit 1898	43,611.54
Deficit 1899	36,915.03

Total, $373,923.40

The Conservatives imposed no TAXES. The present government collected the following taxes in six years:

1894—Taxes imposed	$ 45,182.81
1895—	47,661.00
1896—	48,466.10
1897—	46,674.50
1898—	44,995.97
1899—	55,668.68

$288,649.06

The present government claim credit for having made the following reduction in the expenditure:

In the abolition of the Legislative Council	$5,000
In the administration of Justice	3,000
In the Public Lands Office	1,217
In printing, &c.	800
In abolition of the Reporter for the House	400

$10,417

The average expenditure of the Conservatives for the twelve years they had the government, was $278,959; and the above savings having been made, the average expenditure of the present government should have been $268,542. But, as a fact, the average expenditure of the present government for the past nine years was $304,511, or $35,969 per year more than they claimed it should have been.

The Conservatives obtained an additional subsidy from the Dominion Government of $20,000 per year. The present government obtained—NOTHING.

The last year the Conservatives were in power they paid for interest $2,697.44.

The present government paid for interest last year $19,075.75.

In other words, the ADDITIONAL SUBSIDY of $20,000, obtained by the Conservatives, is now paid away by the present government for INTEREST on the DEBT created by them.

In a statement furnished by the Government on the 22nd May, 1900, the debt of the Province was made up as follows:—

Balance due Banks	$159,365.63
Debentures 1891	185,000.00
Debentures 1898-1899	35,000.00
Deposits with the Government	152,435.77

$531,801.40

If you add to this, Debentures authorized last session	$48,000.00
Sinking Fund used up	11,030.30
Amount due Winsloe estate	4,538.87

$595,370.57

On the 31st Dec. next there will be due 1/2 salary of Teachers	$26,000.00
1/2 year's interest	10,000.00

$36,000.00

Making a total of $631,370.57

as the debt of the Province.

The present government says it spends more for Education than the late government. Well, the Conservatives spent for the years 1879 to 1890 the average sum of $104,181 yearly.

The present government's average expenditure on education from 1891 to 1899 was $121,868 yearly, or $17,687 more than the Conservatives.

But they saved $10,417 per year which the Conservatives had to pay, and they collected on an average $48,108 per year IN TAXES, while the Conservatives had NO TAXES.

The people may ask where the additional expenditure goes. Well, the answer may in part be found in the fact that more is spent upon the roads—BUT ONLY IN ELECTION YEARS.

In 1893 they spent on roads $50,178.

In 1897 they spent on roads $28,190.

In 1899, when there was a NO ELECTION, they spent only $14,913.

In 1893 and 1897 there were elections.

This year, as there are two elections, the expenditure will probably reach, if not exceed, that of 1893.

The government are spending about $50,000 per year more than the revenue, and are now collecting $50,000 per year in taxes.

The debt of the Province is over $600,000, and if the present state of affairs continues the debt will soon be so great that no more money can be borrowed. Then will come TAXATION with a vengeance.

The electors have now the opportunity of stopping this reckless expenditure, by voting the present acceptable and extravagant party out of office on the 12th December.

A FRIEND OF THE HORSES.

Montreal Witness.

Since the Queen issued the humane and sensible order against docking horses' tails, the chorus of approval from both sides of the Atlantic is too unanimous and cordial for one to suppose that it is prompted by a mere desire to follow a fashion set by royalty, though that, no doubt, has an effect with some people. The custom of docking and nicking horses' tails is of English origin, and has long been condemned as both cruel and unsightly. The cruelty of the operation is a trifle compared with the anguish resulting from not having the use of the tail. A horse has no more graceful feature than his tail, and to deprive him of it is in the worst of taste. To do so makes the animal's look ridiculous, and has not one argument in its favor; but the fashion, once established, has had all the force of a stupid conservatism in favor of its continuance. Lovers of animals everywhere will be grateful to the Queen for this latest proof of her good taste and kind-heartedness.

DUCKS ARE ON THE WING.

The nipping wind is whistling and the gray clouds scurry by; Upon the edges of the lake the thin ice-ribbons cling; The morning breeze is sighing through the rushes, dead and dry, And guns are gayly popping—for the ducks are on the wing.

The canvas back drops quickly from the cloud toward the lake; From the marsh's weed-grown mud the lazy mallards swing; The dainty teal flies swift and low when daylight's colors break, And all the air seems throbbing—when the ducks are on the wing.

The drake's discordant clamor sounds across the wind-sirred flood, And through the frosty, bracing air the courtless pinnions sing; The old sand-blind is waiting, and the fove's in our blood, The red gods loud are calling—for the ducks are on the wing.

So get the 12-bore ready, the old hunting cut as well, Decoy all ammunition, hooks and every needed thing; Leave this dull world behind you for awhile, and go to dwell Where Nature bids you welcome, and the ducks are on the wing.

Constipated Bowels.

Constipation, or inactivity of the bowels, is probably the cause of more distress and suffering than any other organic derangement. Once the bowels are constipated, the kidneys become clogged, the liver torpid, and the stomach and whole digestive system completely interfered with.

The head aches, there is dizziness, weakness and dimness of vision, pains in the back, sides and limbs, the accumulation of wind and gas on the stomach, pains and fullness in the region of the stomach, and depression and despondency of spirits.

Constipation can never be cured by the use of salts and similar weakening and debilitating purgatives. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills not only cause the natural action of the bowels, but so strengthen and invigorate them as to enable them to regularly perform their functions without the aid of medicines. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers.

BRITISH PRESS.

The London Times admits that the crowd at Marseilles behaved on the whole with exemplary good humor and abstained from offensive demonstrations. That paper attacks Mr. Kruger's "extravagant and magnificent" calumnies on England" and adds: "It is only by our sufferance that he is in Europe at all. His friends might do well to reflect on this obvious and palpable fact when his invective grows too spiteful."

The Standard says: "Regret, rather than resentment, is the emotion with which most Englishmen will contemplate the extravagant welcome. Everything was unfriendly to England, but to make amends everything was correct."

The Daily News says: "Mr. Kruger's statements are not correct, but he is suffering from the mortification of defeat, and if anybody is inclined to feel great indignation let him remember that accusations quite as outrageous are being made by Englishmen themselves. Mr. Kruger seems to have borne himself with considerable dignity."

The Telegraph says: "No one who is any one in this country will be in the least degree irritated or impressed, or will regard except with contemptuous indifference the hollow manifestations of which the sour and damaged Cincinnatus has chosen to make himself the dup."

The Graphic criticizes "the ill-bred English tourists at the Hotel du Louvre who refused to remove their hats when the aged exile passed." It declares that their conduct was indecorous and unchivalric.

The Chronicle says that little or nothing occurred to disturb the equanimity of the French Government or to create the slightest cloud of difficulty between the British and French.

KITCHENER DISLIKED.

The forthcoming promotion of Major-General Lord Kitchener to a lieutenant generalship elicits from Mr. Charles Williams, one of the leaders of the war critics, the bitterest indictment of that general ever published in England. He declares General Kitchener meditates a reckless and ruthless extermination of the Boers, hoping to execute his atrocities amid silence, like that of the tomb of the Madhi. He believes the British officers and men will not endure this and that Kitchener will stand revealed to the country as a scourge inexorable. Mr. Williams maintains that the return of several general officers and the removal of General Kelly-Kenny from Bloemfontein confirms the suspicion that they would "have nothing to do with Kitchener's dirty work." It is almost needless to say that this bitter attack by no means represents the average opinion.

All German Youths Must be Soldiers.

McClure's Magazine.

To the old "inevitable" death and taxes, the German adds a third, military service. From the time he is old enough to go to school he looks forward and plans for it. It is said that the first great event in the life of a German boy is his confirmation and the second his first week as a soldier. A huge red placard appears one day on the bill-posting tower so familiar to German towns. It contains a list of the names of all the young men in the district who have reached military age, and his among them. He has been expecting it, and he knows that the authorities never forget. Already he and his parents have decided one important question regarding his service, and that is whether he shall enter as a freewilliger, or volunteer to serve for one year only, or whether he must take the full service of two years.
