SUPPLEMENT TO
"THE EXAMINER."

CHARLOTTETOWN, PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND, MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1857.

LOCAL NEWS.

(From the Protector, September 16.)

To the Reverend CHARLES LLOYD, B. A., Ecclesiastical Commissary of Prince Edward Island, and of St. Paul's, Charlottetown.

REVEREND AND DEAR SIR :

On the eve of your departure from this Island, and our consequent loss of your services as our Parish Priest, permit us to express to you our sincere regret that any circumstances should have occurred to render your removal from amongst us necessary.

We, as members of Christ's Holy Apostolic Church, render hearty thanks to Him, as our invisible Head, for His mercy in sending you as His minister among us, and in permitting you, even for so short a season, to uphold in her services, and in your preaching and daily walk, the beloved Ritual and distinctive doctrine and character of our branch of the Church Catholic, manfully and unswervingly—yourself treading and exhorting us to walk in her well-marked and righteous paths—avoiding on the one hand the fatal errors of schismatical latitudinarianism, and on the other the most spurious so-called evangelicalism of these dangerous days.

We trust it may be God's good pleasure to restore those members of your family who are now labouring under bodily indisposition to health, and that a hearty welcome may greet you and them on your return to your native land, where may you find a cure in God's Vineyard more congenial to the habits and feelings of a member and minister of our beloved Church, as also to those of a Christian gentleman,—and one who, we fully believe, humbly strives to adorn the doctrine of his God and Saviour, walking in Faith and Hope, and not omitting the exercise of that other and better Christian virtue, charity with all men.

Again asuring you, dear Sir, that our prayers to the Throne of Grace shall cease not that you and yours may be blessed by the God you serve, for His dear Son's sake, in this troublesome world, and that in that glorious immortality "where the wicked cease from troubling and the weary are at rest," you may be found with the Saints in Light.

Believe us to remain, with all respect and regard, ever your affectionate and grateful Parishioners,

[REPLY.]

GENTLEMEN AND BRETHREN IN THE LORD—

Your Address finds a ready access to my heart; but I must not suffer the tone of affection which pervades it to lull me to a forgetfulness of my unworthiness of the praise which it conveys.

I receive it with humiliation as well as gratitude,—humiliation in the consciousness that its terms so far exceed what might be expected even from the judgment of indulgent friends, and gratitude to God, who in addition to His protecting care, so ill deserved, brings friends around me to cheer my departure hence with expressions of approval so supporting.

Joined by conviction, no less than attached by love and native calling to the Church of England, I glory in the thought that my Church is Catholic and Apostolic. I have endeavoured to avoid, as I have ever disliked, all extremes in religious opinions or observances, believing that the true and narrow road of which our Saviour has spoken is pointed out by the Articles and Ritual of our own ancient and National Church, and that he who walks truthfully in her doctrines and ordinances, walks surely in the ordinances of the Lord.

I would have my moderation to be known unto all men who enquire of me, and should my Heavenly Master yet assign me a spot of ground in His Vineyard in the land of our fathers, I trust it will be where moderation, peace, and love preside.

I thank you most sincerely for your prayer that my family may have health of body while on earth, and that, for the sake of God's dear Son, we may enjoy an immortality with the Saints in Light. O! how fervently do I desire and pray, that to your endless blessings you may yourselves realize the same, and that we may together join in hallelujahs with the multitude which no man can number, before the throne of God, and of the Lamb, for ever and ever!

Believe me, gentlemen and fellow Churchmen,
Your faithful friend,
CHARLES LLOYD.

To the Hon. WILLIAM SWABEY,
STEPHEN SWABEY, Esq., &c. &c. &c.

THE GULNARE IN A STORM.

Sir,—For the satisfaction of those connected with the Gulnare, I have written out the following particulars respecting her being dismasted and disabled off Cape North.

On Thursday morning the Gulnare left Sydney harbour to sound off Cape Smoke, the wind at West veering to S. W. Weather through the day fine, but the falling barometer and appearance of the sky led me to expect bad weather. After sounding for some hours in 70 to 80 fathoms of water, as no secure harbor was near, the Gulnare was placed under snug sail and we run in under the lee of the North Cape. The wind was at S. S. W. and S. W., and blew so furiously in squalls of the high land that at 10 p. m., the wind having veered to W.S.W., with a heavy sea from West, we lowered the mainsail, took in the foresail and wore, standing to S.S.E. The weather became a little more moderate, and the master who had charge of the watch had set the double-reefed foresail and mainsail and forestaysail. At 3 30 the head sea was high and made her plunge and labor much; and at 3 45, dipping her whole bowsprit into the sea up to the windlass, away went the bowsprit short off at the gammoning. The foremast, unsupported, followed immediately, falling to leeward, and carrying with it the maintopmast and mainstay. The helm was put up immediately the bowsprit went, and the mainsail lowered, but she only fell off a few points and then came to the wind again. Every exertion was promptly made to clear the wreck and secure the mainmast, and this was happily done without more disaster; and as the daylight broke we were able to get a spare jib hoisted to the stem, and hoisting up the peak of close-reefed mainsail, to lay her by the wind. She shipped little or no water, although the sea ran very high. Nevertheless the fact was forced upon me that we were disabled and unmanageable, and drifting at the rate of two or more miles per hour from the land, and that, lumbered as we were with two sail boats on deck, without assistance of any effectual kind, in the course of a few hours we should be out of sight of land, and even a change of wind would then be of little use to us. On this account, at daylight we hoisted signals of distress, with the determination to secure the services of any sailing vessel, if possible, to tow us into Sydney harbor, hoping that before long the wind would shift to the N. W. Several vessels appeared in sight running to N. W., and we were at length gratified by seeing one, the Industry, Captain Mc Neily, Sligo, bearing down direct for us. She passed within hail to leeward. We called out—We want you to stand by us. "Are you leaky?" "No, but we are disabled, and want to be towed into Sydney." "I will stay by you and do what I can," was the ready answer of the master. He then passed us, hove to, and reefed his sails. Having few hands, this took up some time—however, the wind being still at S.W., and sea very heavy, nothing could have been done;—for the next two hours it rained in heavy showers. At 11 the Industry bore down to us and passing close to us, spoke us, and arranged about taking us in tow. At 12 30 this was done, in a very seamanlike manner, by Capt. McNeily, and his stout new hawser being well secured and parcelled, and our mainsail lowered, he commenced towing us West, the wind having veered to N.N.W. in a squall just before he gave us his hawser. The tow was heavy and trying to vessel and hawser at the commencement, on account of the sea, but we held on; and having rigged a spare topmast and lashed it to the stump of the foremast, we were able to set a studding sail and jib on this, and to set the mainsail also, close-reefed. This lightened the tow a little, and at 5, having got well in the land, we bore away towards Sydney, where we arrived and anchored at 8.30 off the N. W. Bar.

We had been sounding the previous day off Cape Smoke, and towards night, as no harbor was near, the vessel was put under snug sail. It blew hard, and the sea was very high, and before midnight, when on the starboard tack, we lost one of our quarter-boats. After that it moderated; but the high pitching sea right ahead was very trying. Towards 4, a.m., in one pitch of the sea, we lost bowsprit, foremast, maintopmast, leaving the vessel a wreck, and unmanageable in the trough of the sea. Providentially no persons were injured by the fall of the masts; and I was satisfied no blame could attach to the master, who had charge of the watch, and who throughout behaved with great promptitude, zeal, and ability.

I have the honor to be, sir, yours,
—Pro. J. ORLEBAR.

MELANCHOLY ACCIDENT AND LOSS OF LIFE.—On Thursday last, as the crews of a number of fishing boats were pursuing their avocation, off the harbors of New Glasgow and Rustico, a squall of wind and rain suddenly came on, which caused them to make for the shore. One of these boats belonging, we understand, to W. B. Dean, Esq., manned by four men, and having on board 2000 mackerel, unfortunately upset, and, melancholy to relate, three out of the four men perished. The boat was found the next morning, but when near the shore, another squall coming on, it was found necessary to abandon her. One of the young men lost, named Hewett, had gone into the cuddy of the boat for shelter previous to the accident. His body is supposed to be still in the boat. Hewett is the third son of a poor widow residing at Cascumpec, and is the third son she has lost by drowning within the last five years. The young man saved is named Howden, formerly of this city.—Mon.

The Westmorland arrived here last Thursday night from Shediac, bringing the news that on Friday morning last between one and two o'clock, a fire broke out on the premises occupied by a man named Dawson, as a boarding house, in Portland-street, Portland, New Brunswick. Full thirty-nine houses had been burned to the ground; more than a hundred and fifty families had been rendered houseless and homeless; and, at a rough guess, some ten or fifteen thousand pounds worth of property had been destroyed.—Isl.

DROWNED.—On the night of Thursday last, John Stewart, jun., son of Mr. John Stewart, of Brackley Point, who had been a few weeks on trial as apprentice with Mr. Jabez Barnard, jun., carpenter, of this City, went to a vessel at the Pownal-street wharf to return a rope which had been borrowed from said vessel; he remained conversing with the hands in the cabin of the vessel till about nine o'clock, and left to proceed home, as they thought. The night was very dark and windy, and it is supposed that, on his suddenly emerging from the lighted cabin to the darkness outside, he had missed his footing between the vessel and the wharf, and falling, must have struck himself a stunning blow, as no noise was heard from him, not even his falling into the water. He was found on Saturday last, in the dock, between the above wharf and that of Hon. W. W. Lord's.—Com.
