

Well, this is the last issue of the SUN before Winter Carnival. Advance sale of tickets started yesterday at noon. Hope you've got yours. We feel that most events will be sold out by next Tuesday, so if you want to get into events, you better get down to the Student Union Office in the Barn as soon as possible.

Each U.P.E.I. student is allowed to buy a maximum of only two tickets per event. This allows as many U.P.E.I. students as possible to attend events and allows each student to take a date. What happened in years past was lot of non-University people were attending events and U.P.E.I. students couldn't get in. When you are buying advance sale tickets, your student I.D. must be presented. Carrying a ticket to an event doesn't guarantee admittance. Proof of age must be presented if requested by Campus Police.

Holders of Advance Sale tickets will be admitted through the side door of the Gym next to the rink. Rush tickets (if there are any left) will be sold at the front door of the Gym (facing Kelley Building).

News concerning advance sale of tickets, bands, Carnival events, etc., will be announced each day at 6 p.m. on CIMN. If you have any questions, you may call them on either 892-8980 or 892-4121, Ext. 316.

The Island Musicians I will be performing each day in Duffy Amphitheatre between 12:20 and 2:30. There is no admission charge so why not drop in and have a listen.

The pie-throwing contest on Thursday afternoon promises to be most entertaining. There will be a list of participants in next week's SUN and a scheduled time for their appearance. A number of Faculty, Staff, Administration, Student Union and members of various S.U. Committees have already been approached and have agreed to be participants (targets). So if you want to get a crack at somebody, show up Thursday afternoon at the Barn. Also, if there is a Prof. fellow student or roommate you would like to see on the firing line, drop their name off at the Student Union offices before the 23rd and we'll see if we can arrange their appearances.

The intramural Hockey, Broomball, Volleyball, and Basketball schedule has been drawn up (appearing elsewhere in this paper) as well as a pushball tournament. Mens & womens Panthers Basketball, Panthers hockey and possibly Lady Panther hockey games are also scheduled.

Monday evening will start for the resident students with a Grafetti Night in the cafeteria starting at 5 pm. All resident students who eat in the cafeteria are asked to "Grease-Up." The inter-resident awards which were so popular last year will once again be awarded this year. Following this there will be the basketball game between the Puckees and Hoopees and then the "Grease and Boogie" Residence Party in the Barn.

Plans for Tuesday evening have changed. Instead of having a disco pub there is going to be a square dance. So, everyone dress up in your old country duds (prizes for best hicks, couples, etc.) and come on down to the Barn. If you don't know how to square dance don't worry about it! There is going to be a band, a fiddler and also a caller (who will show ya'all how to dance.) Tuesday is still going to be a button pub. If you are wearing a button you will get in free. If you don't have one then admission
