

Johnston-Hickey Wedding

The beautiful and historic St. Mary's Church, Indian River, was the scene at 9 a.m. Wednesday of an unusually charming May wedding, when Rev. Louis P. Callaghan performed the Nuptial Mass for Miriam Irene, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hickey, Darnley, and John Vernon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Johnston, Bedouin, in a setting of spring flowers placed about the altar.

Seated in the Sanctuary were Rev. Reginald F. MacDonald and Rev. T. P. Hammill of the Seven Mile Bay Parish. Miss Mary Hueston, Summerside, played the Mendelssohn Wedding March and the Lohengrin March while the wedding party entered and left the church; she also accompanied the soloist, Miss Helen Roach, Charlottetown, who sang "Mother at Thy Feet We're Kneeling," during the marriage ceremony; Schubert's "Ave Maria" and "O Lord I Am Not Worthy" during the Mass; and "Pans Angelicus" while the register was signed.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a simply-cut gown of bridal blush tulle, lace, over ivory tulle; the bouffant skirt was flounced and draped with silk and flower applique; her silk illusion chapel veil was held by a coronet of white lilies, she carried a snowy bouquet of better times roses, and a pearl rosary. Attending her sister as maid of honor, Anna Hickey wore a Nile green lace and net bolero gown with matching mitts and cap; she carried Pernet roses. The bridesmaids, Alberta MacLellan, wearing a similar gown in yellow net and lace, and the groom's sister, Clara Johnston in rose net and lace carried bouquets of Anisostrot and Briarcliff roses.

Mr. James Johnston, B.A., was his brother's best man, Gerald Hickey and Gerald Johnston ushered the guests. A large number of friends were present for the Nuptial Mass.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Hickey wore a two-piece ensemble of mauve with navy and white accessories, with Pernet rose corsage. Mrs. Johnston wore navy with white accessories, and Briarcliff rose corsage. Honored guests were the grandmothers of the happy couple, Mrs. Regina Smith, Emerald, and Mrs. James A. Bradley, Bedouin.

The wedding reception and breakfast for 50 guests at Mulberry Lodge was highlighted by a beautifully decorated three-tiered wedding cake. Toastmaster was James Johnston, who read telegrams of good wishes from: Austin Johnston, S.J., brother of the groom; Rev. Richard J. Johnston, uncle of the groom, both of Guilford, Ontario, and Rev. Rupert MacLellan, Calgary, Alberta. In a delightful manner the toastmaster toasted the bride, and the groom replied on behalf of his wife, Gerald Johnston responded to the toast to the bridesmaids. Congratulatory remarks by Rev. L. P. Callaghan,

Elmsdale Native Dies In Ontario

The death of Mr. John Murray occurred at his home in Streetsville, Ontario, on May 23rd at the age of 47.

A son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Murray of Elmsdale, he is survived by his wife, the former Miss Ruth Coughlin, B. N., and three young children, also two brothers, Jacob of Elmsdale, and George of Oakville, Ontario.

About six years ago he sold his farm home in Piusville and moved to Ontario. He suffered greatly from arthritis but his death came as a severe shock to his family and a wide circle of friends in Elmsdale and surrounding districts. Interment was in Streetsville.

A largely attended memorial service was held in St. Peter's Anglican Church in Alberton on Monday, May 24th with the pastor, Rev. J. R. McMahon officiating.

Alberton And Vicinity

Miss Betty Locke, O'Leary, was an overnight guest of her aunt, Mrs. Arthur Wright, Alberton, during the week-end.

Dr. A. L. Purdy has returned to his home in Alberton after spending the winter with members of his family.

Rev. and Mrs. A.R. Walls leave today for Sackville, N.B., where they will attend the Maritime conference of the United Church of Canada. They are being accompanied by Mr. Russell Leary of Cascumpec.

Miss Norma Locke, Montrose spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raeford Locke, O'Leary.

Miss Noreen Gillis is receiving congratulations on successfully completing first year Prince of Wales College studies. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gillis, Kildare.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Johnston and three children, of Roxbury, Mass., are spending the week-end with their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. James Hodson, at Brooklyn, near Alberton.

Rev. R. F. MacDonald, Rev. T. P. Hammill, and Reginald Smith, Emerald, were much enjoyed.

The happy couple left during the afternoon to begin their honeymoon trip to the Eastern States. For travelling the bride wore a rose suit with navy and white accessories, a cream rose corsage, and carried a white and blue top coat. Miriam has been the popular school teacher at Margate for the past three years, and was the guest at a number of social events in her honor previous to her marriage. They will live at Bedouin where the groom will farm the family homestead. Good wishes go with this popular couple.

WESTERN GUARDIAN

Seven Days A Week

by Anne Shannon

1. MONDAY: Last day of May, and let us hope June brings better growing weather. If it doesn't, ah pity my seedlings growing so variably in tins, boxes and flats of all sizes and shapes. One package of Unwins dahlia seed yielded sixty-seven healthy little plants. "What are you going to do?" says the Head of the House, "rent the field across the road?" Oh well, I can always plant off the surplus on a nearby flower lover. The package of giant ruffled pansy seed produced forty-one seedlings. How I love the gay little pansy faces! Then there is the box with one hundred varieties of house-plants. So far only one lone plant has made its appearance, but house plants are slow germinators; so I guess I'll not need an extra half acre for those plants when they appear! Add to the above collection slips of golden glow, roses, lilacs, lupins, bleeding heart and other American cities. Mrs. Bell went to California in company with Mr. and Mrs. Silas MacFarlane. Mrs. Bell states that the greatest problem in Southern California is the heavy traffic, and at rush hours through the day, the cars are lined bumper to bumper for miles. A new freeway from Los Angeles to the San Fernando Valley was officially opened by Bob Hope while Mrs. Bell was there, and will prove a tremendous help in relieving the unusually heavy traffic.

2. TUESDAY: "Think before you spell," says lanky Billy Cashore, age 14, who entered the national spelling bee in U. S. A. Twice before he had been knocked out of district finals but this year, after months of preparation, his efforts paid off; he landed in Washington D. C. for the finals. In the semifinals, Department he and fifty-six others gathered for the big event. The first round proved so easy that not one of the fifty six missed a word. Then little by little the words got harder. Words such as "ephalic", "hyperbolic", "souffle" came out of his mouth, and by lunch time only 34 contestants were left. Billy began to grow groggy under the bright lights but kept right on spelling such words as "leprechaun", "ichthyology", "mellifluous" and many others. Finally only three contestants were left, Patricia Brown, 14, of Alabama, William Kelly, 11, of Missouri and Billy. Patricia missed "miscible" and William Kelly missed "uncinanted" and so Billy Cashore won a scholarship of $500 for the week-end in Manhattan. "Something to remember, and don't think Billy didn't earn it." After all, he won out over approximately 5,000,000 school children who entered the preliminaries.

3. WEDNESDAY: Some of the newer inventions are these: 1. A seventeen-inch television set in a cabinet, hardly larger than the tube face, is so light and compact it can be carried easily from room to room. Made by Crosley, it has a built-in antenna to add to the convenience. No. 2. Wheat kernels puffed to twenty times their original size can be used for a new, lightweight building material, according to the inventor, Stanley P. Reed. He says he developed the idea as a way to lick the farm surplus problem. No. 3. Your plain painted walls can be made to take on a new look by rolling an attractive design right onto the surface. You use a special roller and a translucent paint called Appliquay made by Sherwin-Williams, makers of Super Kem Tone. You have a choice of several designs built right into the plastic roller. These designs so created that no matching is necessary can be applied horizontally or vertically and in many combinations to satisfy your creative interest. Like latex-base paint Appliquay dries quickly and is washable after thirty days.

4. THURSDAY: The nickle-nursing Smiths took their infant son to a movie. The usher warned them that unless the baby remained quiet, the management would refund their money and ask them to leave. Near the end of the feature, Smith nudged his wife and whispered, "What do you think of it?" "Terrible," replied Mrs. Smith. "Check," agreed Smith. "Pinch the baby."

5. FRIDAY: With cod fish in the plentiful stage we thought you might be interested in this dressing (or stuffing if you will) seven ounce can tuna or crab meat.

1 tsp. finely chopped onion
2 tbsps. finely chopped green pepper
1/4 cup finely chopped celery
1 egg
1/2 tsp. salt
1/8 tsp. pepper
1 tsp. melted butter
1/2 cup bread crumbs
1 tsp. lemon juice
1/2 tsp. grated lemon rind.

Flake the fish and add the remaining ingredients. Combine well. Fill a three to four pound dressed fish. Plain old fashioned chicken or goose stuffing makes fine fish filler too. I think.

By J. R. Williams

Out Our Way

There Ought To Be A Law

Seven Days A Week

by Anne Shannon

1. MONDAY: Last day of May, and let us hope June brings better growing weather. If it doesn't, ah pity my seedlings growing so variably in tins, boxes and flats of all sizes and shapes. One package of Unwins dahlia seed yielded sixty-seven healthy little plants. "What are you going to do?" says the Head of the House, "rent the field across the road?" Oh well, I can always plant off the surplus on a nearby flower lover. The package of giant ruffled pansy seed produced forty-one seedlings. How I love the gay little pansy faces! Then there is the box with one hundred varieties of house-plants. So far only one lone plant has made its appearance, but house plants are slow germinators; so I guess I'll not need an extra half acre for those plants when they appear! Add to the above collection slips of golden glow, roses, lilacs, lupins, bleeding heart and other American cities. Mrs. Bell went to California in company with Mr. and Mrs. Silas MacFarlane. Mrs. Bell states that the greatest problem in Southern California is the heavy traffic, and at rush hours through the day, the cars are lined bumper to bumper for miles. A new freeway from Los Angeles to the San Fernando Valley was officially opened by Bob Hope while Mrs. Bell was there, and will prove a tremendous help in relieving the unusually heavy traffic.

2. TUESDAY: "Think before you spell," says lanky Billy Cashore, age 14, who entered the national spelling bee in U. S. A. Twice before he had been knocked out of district finals but this year, after months of preparation, his efforts paid off; he landed in Washington D. C. for the finals. In the semifinals, Department he and fifty-six others gathered for the big event. The first round proved so easy that not one of the fifty six missed a word. Then little by little the words got harder. Words such as "ephalic", "hyperbolic", "souffle" came out of his mouth, and by lunch time only 34 contestants were left. Billy began to grow groggy under the bright lights but kept right on spelling such words as "leprechaun", "ichthyology", "mellifluous" and many others. Finally only three contestants were left, Patricia Brown, 14, of Alabama, William Kelly, 11, of Missouri and Billy. Patricia missed "miscible" and William Kelly missed "uncinanted" and so Billy Cashore won a scholarship of $500 for the week-end in Manhattan. "Something to remember, and don't think Billy didn't earn it." After all, he won out over approximately 5,000,000 school children who entered the preliminaries.

3. WEDNESDAY: Some of the newer inventions are these: 1. A seventeen-inch television set in a cabinet, hardly larger than the tube face, is so light and compact it can be carried easily from room to room. Made by Crosley, it has a built-in antenna to add to the convenience. No. 2. Wheat kernels puffed to twenty times their original size can be used for a new, lightweight building material, according to the inventor, Stanley P. Reed. He says he developed the idea as a way to lick the farm surplus problem. No. 3. Your plain painted walls can be made to take on a new look by rolling an attractive design right onto the surface. You use a special roller and a translucent paint called Appliquay made by Sherwin-Williams, makers of Super Kem Tone. You have a choice of several designs built right into the plastic roller. These designs so created that no matching is necessary can be applied horizontally or vertically and in many combinations to satisfy your creative interest. Like latex-base paint Appliquay dries quickly and is washable after thirty days.

4. THURSDAY: The nickle-nursing Smiths took their infant son to a movie. The usher warned them that unless the baby remained quiet, the management would refund their money and ask them to leave. Near the end of the feature, Smith nudged his wife and whispered, "What do you think of it?" "Terrible," replied Mrs. Smith. "Check," agreed Smith. "Pinch the baby."

5. FRIDAY: With cod fish in the plentiful stage we thought you might be interested in this dressing (or stuffing if you will) seven ounce can tuna or crab meat.

1 tsp. finely chopped onion
2 tbsps. finely chopped green pepper
1/4 cup finely chopped celery
1 egg
1/2 tsp. salt
1/8 tsp. pepper
1 tsp. melted butter
1/2 cup bread crumbs
1 tsp. lemon juice
1/2 tsp. grated lemon rind.

Flake the fish and add the remaining ingredients. Combine well. Fill a three to four pound dressed fish. Plain old fashioned chicken or goose stuffing makes fine fish filler too. I think.

6. SATURDAY: Here's a nice company dessert for Sunday's meal—or serve it as a treat to your own family. (Step forward please and receive your gold medal!)

1/4 pound dried apricots
1/4 pound dried prunes
1/4 pound dried pears
1/2 cup honey
4 or 5 lemon slices
2 oranges, sectioned
1 grapefruit, sectioned
Shredded coconut

Wash dried fruit. Cover with water and bring to a boil—boil 40 minutes. About 5 minutes before the cooking is completed add honey and lemon slices. Cool and add oranges and grapefruit sections. Garnish generously with coconut.

7. SUNDAY: And so seven more days have slipped by and soon another seven begin. Two birthdays we celebrated during the past week. One was baby Garth's and his cake was adorned with three blue candles—two for the years gone by and one for the year to come. Then later on in the week Ken, the second oldest of the flock, had his birthday cake. His days now are busy; one he has had few minutes to spare, for over the hills to the old home farm he hies every morning. The teacher—son came home one evening in an Oldsmobile. "No more Hillman-Minx, Mom," he informs me cheerfully. And we have a moment's regret for things that have gone. We will know, in future years, remember watching the top of the hill across the fields for a small gray car to come into view on Friday evenings—a car covered with white snow. One with a driver of the long drive home, but one which usually made the grade. Silently we hope the shiny Olds will be as faithful a chariot, and we wonder where its "journeys" will be this year.

"There is paint on your nose. Mom's nose has a moment's regret for things that have gone. We will know, in future years, remember watching the top of the hill across the fields for a small gray car to come into view on Friday evenings—a car covered with white snow. One with a driver of the long drive home, but one which usually made the grade. Silently we hope the shiny Olds will be as faithful a chariot, and we wonder where its "journeys" will be this year.

But painting is fun and one job I could stay at forever. The small shop had its face lifted, Mom's nose has a moment's regret for things that have gone. We will know, in future years, remember watching the top of the hill across the fields for a small gray car to come into view on Friday evenings—a car covered with white snow. One with a driver of the long drive home, but one which usually made the grade. Silently we hope the shiny Olds will be as faithful a chariot, and we wonder where its "journeys" will be this year.

Mavis informed me this morning that her face was sore. "I think I'm getting a new 'whistle tooth' like Tony has." A bit of investigating was in order and sure enough a "whistle-tooth" (wisdom tooth to you) was peeking through. Baby Garth wanting his share of attention keeps opening his mouth to show his shining rows of baby teeth. He is such a "good-bad baby" as Ron. "He does bad things in such a nice happy manner."

We wondered why he was so quiet yesterday evening. Turned out he was energetically polishing his small bare feet with the (black) boot brush. His ten toes had a real Sunday shine on them. He was pleased with his efforts—and broken hearted when we removed the sources of his pleasure.

No there is never a dull moment in our house on the top of the hill! So this is the end of another column. Until we meet again remember "Some people waste a lot of time talking about themselves even though they'd much prefer to have you do it!"

Miscouche and Vicinity

Aloysius DesRoches who is in the Royal Canadian Navy, recently spent several days in Miscouche, at the home of his brother, Gerald DesRoches.

Lumina Poirier who is a nurse at the Provincial Sanatorium was in Miscouche on May 23, visiting at the home of her brother, John C. Poirier.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Doucette of Halifax, recently spent several days in Miscouche, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Perry.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin DesRoches and family of Miscouche, motored to Charlottetown on May 23.

Mr. and Mrs. Ewald Herr and family, of Summerside, were in Miscouche on May 23, visiting at the home of her brother, John C. Poirier.

Nova Veno, nurse-in-training at the Charlottetown Hospital, is spending two weeks vacation in Miscouche, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Veno.

Friends of Ernest DesRoches of Miscouche, will be sorry to learn that he has re-entered the Prince County Hospital for treatment.

Barbara Arsenault, nurse-in-training in the Charlottetown Hospital, is spending two weeks vacation at her home in St. Nicholas.

An impressive ceremony took place in St. John The Baptist Church on May 23, in the form of the Living Rosary. The children holding lighted candles, entered the church in procession and took their places in the aisles forming a Rosary.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Steele, of Miscouche, motored to Charlottetown on May 24, to attend the graduation at St. Dunstan's University. Their son Gerald received a Bachelor of Arts degree.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Quinn and small daughter, Donno of St. John, N.B., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Gallant on May 25.

Gerald Steele of Miscouche, left for London, Ont., on May 25.

Northam and Vicinity

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McKinnon, Springhill, were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Ellis.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ramsay and family, Springhill, were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace McLeod.

Mrs. Harold Dymont and family, of Springhill, were in Northam recently.

With the arrival of warmer weather, farming operations got underway. Many farmers are planting potatoes while others are sowing grain.

Mr. Alfred Colwill is busy loading pulp. Several cars have left Northam.

Sincere sympathy is being extended to Mr. David Dymont upon the death of his sister who passed away in the U. S. A.

Mr. Ernest MacAusland and Mr. Arthur Ramsay were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Major Milligan, Portage, recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred McKinnon and family, Summerside, were the guests of Mrs. McKinnon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred McDougall on May 23.

Seven Days A Week

by Anne Shannon

1. MONDAY: Last day of May, and let us hope June brings better growing weather. If it doesn't, ah pity my seedlings growing so variably in tins, boxes and flats of all sizes and shapes. One package of Unwins dahlia seed yielded sixty-seven healthy little plants. "What are you going to do?" says the Head of the House, "rent the field across the road?" Oh well, I can always plant off the surplus on a nearby flower lover. The package of giant ruffled pansy seed produced forty-one seedlings. How I love the gay little pansy faces! Then there is the box with one hundred varieties of house-plants. So far only one lone plant has made its appearance, but house plants are slow germinators; so I guess I'll not need an extra half acre for those plants when they appear! Add to the above collection slips of golden glow, roses, lilacs, lupins, bleeding heart and other American cities. Mrs. Bell went to California in company with Mr. and Mrs. Silas MacFarlane. Mrs. Bell states that the greatest problem in Southern California is the heavy traffic, and at rush hours through the day, the cars are lined bumper to bumper for miles. A new freeway from Los Angeles to the San Fernando Valley was officially opened by Bob Hope while Mrs. Bell was there, and will prove a tremendous help in relieving the unusually heavy traffic.

2. TUESDAY: "Think before you spell," says lanky Billy Cashore, age 14, who entered the national spelling bee in U. S. A. Twice before he had been knocked out of district finals but this year, after months of preparation, his efforts paid off; he landed in Washington D. C. for the finals. In the semifinals, Department he and fifty-six others gathered for the big event. The first round proved so easy that not one of the fifty six missed a word. Then little by little the words got harder. Words such as "ephalic", "hyperbolic", "souffle" came out of his mouth, and by lunch time only 34 contestants were left. Billy began to grow groggy under the bright lights but kept right on spelling such words as "leprechaun", "ichthyology", "mellifluous" and many others. Finally only three contestants were left, Patricia Brown, 14, of Alabama, William Kelly, 11, of Missouri and Billy. Patricia missed "miscible" and William Kelly missed "uncinanted" and so Billy Cashore won a scholarship of $500 for the week-end in Manhattan. "Something to remember, and don't think Billy didn't earn it." After all, he won out over approximately 5,000,000 school children who entered the preliminaries.

3. WEDNESDAY: Some of the newer inventions are these: 1. A seventeen-inch television set in a cabinet, hardly larger than the tube face, is so light and compact it can be carried easily from room to room. Made by Crosley, it has a built-in antenna to add to the convenience. No. 2. Wheat kernels puffed to twenty times their original size can be used for a new, lightweight building material, according to the inventor, Stanley P. Reed. He says he developed the idea as a way to lick the farm surplus problem. No. 3. Your plain painted walls can be made to take on a new look by rolling an attractive design right onto the surface. You use a special roller and a translucent paint called Appliquay made by Sherwin-Williams, makers of Super Kem Tone. You have a choice of several designs built right into the plastic roller. These designs so created that no matching is necessary can be applied horizontally or vertically and in many combinations to satisfy your creative interest. Like latex-base paint Appliquay dries quickly and is washable after thirty days.

4. THURSDAY: The nickle-nursing Smiths took their infant son to a movie. The usher warned them that unless the baby remained quiet, the management would refund their money and ask them to leave. Near the end of the feature, Smith nudged his wife and whispered, "What do you think of it?" "Terrible," replied Mrs. Smith. "Check," agreed Smith. "Pinch the baby."

5. FRIDAY: With cod fish in the plentiful stage we thought you might be interested in this dressing (or stuffing if you will) seven ounce can tuna or crab meat.

1 tsp. finely chopped onion
2 tbsps. finely chopped green pepper
1/4 cup finely chopped celery
1 egg
1/2 tsp. salt
1/8 tsp. pepper
1 tsp. melted butter
1/2 cup bread crumbs
1 tsp. lemon juice
1/2 tsp. grated lemon rind.

Flake the fish and add the remaining ingredients. Combine well. Fill a three to four pound dressed fish. Plain old fashioned chicken or goose stuffing makes fine fish filler too. I think.

6. SATURDAY: Here's a nice company dessert for Sunday's meal—or serve it as a treat to your own family. (Step forward please and receive your gold medal!)

1/4 pound dried apricots
1/4 pound dried prunes
1/4 pound dried pears
1/2 cup honey
4 or 5 lemon slices
2 oranges, sectioned
1 grapefruit, sectioned
Shredded coconut

Wash dried fruit. Cover with water and bring to a boil—boil 40 minutes. About 5 minutes before the cooking is completed add honey and lemon slices. Cool and add oranges and grapefruit sections. Garnish generously with coconut.

7. SUNDAY: And so seven more days have slipped by and soon another seven begin. Two birthdays we celebrated during the past week. One was baby Garth's and his cake was adorned with three blue candles—two for the years gone by and one for the year to come. Then later on in the week Ken, the second oldest of the flock, had his birthday cake. His days now are busy; one he has had few minutes to spare, for over the hills to the old home farm he hies every morning. The teacher—son came home one evening in an Oldsmobile. "No more Hillman-Minx, Mom," he informs me cheerfully. And we have a moment's regret for things that have gone. We will know, in future years, remember watching the top of the hill across the fields for a small gray car to come into view on Friday evenings—a car covered with white snow. One with a driver of the long drive home, but one which usually made the grade. Silently we hope the shiny Olds will be as faithful a chariot, and we wonder where its "journeys" will be this year.

"There is paint on your nose. Mom's nose has a moment's regret for things that have gone. We will know, in future years, remember watching the top of the hill across the fields for a small gray car to come into view on Friday evenings—a car covered with white snow. One with a driver of the long drive home, but one which usually made the grade. Silently we hope the shiny Olds will be as faithful a chariot, and we wonder where its "journeys" will be this year.

But painting is fun and one job I could stay at forever. The small shop had its face lifted, Mom's nose has a moment's regret for things that have gone. We will know, in future years, remember watching the top of the hill across the fields for a small gray car to come into view on Friday evenings—a car covered with white snow. One with a driver of the long drive home, but one which usually made the grade. Silently we hope the shiny Olds will be as faithful a chariot, and we wonder where its "journeys" will be this year.

Mavis informed me this morning that her face was sore. "I think I'm getting a new 'whistle tooth' like Tony has." A bit of investigating was in order and sure enough a "whistle-tooth" (wisdom tooth to you) was peeking through. Baby Garth wanting his share of attention keeps opening his mouth to show his shining rows of baby teeth. He is such a "good-bad baby" as Ron. "He does bad things in such a nice happy manner."

We wondered why he was so quiet yesterday evening. Turned out he was energetically polishing his small bare feet with the (black) boot brush. His ten toes had a real Sunday shine on them. He was pleased with his efforts—and broken hearted when we removed the sources of his pleasure.

No there is never a dull moment in our house on the top of the hill! So this is the end of another column. Until we meet again remember "Some people waste a lot of time talking about themselves even though they'd much prefer to have you do it!"

Mr. William Turner, medical student at Dalhousie University in Halifax, N. S. spent the holidays with his mother, Mrs. Alice Turner and other relatives in O'Leary. He left on Monday afternoon for Wainwright, N. S., where he will take a position for the summer months.

Mr. Lester Gay motored to Summerside where he visited his wife who is a patient in the Prince County Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hudson and family, were visitors to O'Leary and Cascumpec on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Moreshead, O'Leary, motored to Montrose on Sunday, and visited with Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Dunbar. They also visited in Alma in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hastings and daughter Karen of St. John, N. B. spent the holiday at the home of Mrs. Hastings' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Matthews in O'Leary.

Miss Olive Jelley, employee of the Bank of Nova Scotia in Summerside, spent the holiday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Jelley in O'Leary.

The many friends of Mrs. Gilbert Gaudet of Woodstock, are glad to see her out around again after

Seven Days A Week

by Anne Shannon

1. MONDAY: Last day of May, and let us hope June brings better growing weather. If it doesn't, ah pity my seedlings growing so variably in tins, boxes and flats of all sizes and shapes. One package of Unwins dahlia seed yielded sixty-seven healthy little plants. "What are you going to do?" says the Head of the House, "rent the field across the road?" Oh well, I can always plant off the surplus on a nearby flower lover. The package of giant ruffled pansy seed produced forty-one seedlings. How I love the gay little pansy faces! Then there is the box with one hundred varieties of house-plants. So far only one lone plant has made its appearance, but house plants are slow germinators; so I guess I'll not need an extra half acre for those plants when they appear! Add to the above collection slips of golden glow, roses, lilacs, lupins, bleeding heart and other American cities. Mrs. Bell went to California in company with Mr. and Mrs. Silas MacFarlane. Mrs. Bell states that the greatest problem in Southern California is the heavy traffic, and at rush hours through the day, the cars are lined bumper to bumper for miles. A new freeway from Los Angeles to the San Fernando Valley was officially opened by Bob Hope while Mrs. Bell was there, and will prove a tremendous help in relieving the unusually heavy traffic.

2. TUESDAY: "Think before you spell," says lanky Billy Cashore, age 14, who entered the national spelling bee in U. S. A. Twice before he had been knocked out of district finals but this year, after months of preparation, his efforts paid off; he landed in Washington D. C. for the finals. In the semifinals, Department he and fifty-six others gathered for the big event. The first round proved so easy that not one of the fifty six missed a word. Then little by little the words got harder. Words such as "ephalic", "hyperbolic", "souffle" came out of his mouth, and by lunch time only 34 contestants were left. Billy began to grow groggy under the bright lights but kept right on spelling such words as "leprechaun", "ichthyology", "mellifluous" and many others. Finally only three contestants were left, Patricia Brown, 14, of Alabama, William Kelly, 11, of Missouri and Billy. Patricia missed "miscible" and William Kelly missed "uncinanted" and so Billy Cashore won a scholarship of $500 for the week-end in Manhattan. "Something to remember, and don't think Billy didn't earn it." After all, he won out over approximately 5,000,000 school children who entered the preliminaries.

3. WEDNESDAY: Some of the newer inventions are these: 1. A seventeen-inch television set in a cabinet, hardly larger than the tube face, is so light and compact it can be carried easily from room to room. Made by Crosley, it has a built-in antenna to add to the convenience. No. 2. Wheat kernels puffed to twenty times their original size can be used for a new, lightweight building material, according to the inventor, Stanley P. Reed. He says he developed the idea as a way to lick the farm surplus problem. No. 3. Your plain painted walls can be made to take on a new look by rolling an attractive design right onto the surface. You use a special roller and a translucent paint called Appliquay made by Sherwin-Williams, makers of Super Kem Tone. You have a choice of several designs built right into the plastic roller. These designs so created that no matching is necessary can be applied horizontally or vertically and in many combinations to satisfy your creative interest. Like latex-base paint Appliquay dries quickly and is washable after thirty days.

4. THURSDAY: The nickle-nursing Smiths took their infant son to a movie. The usher warned them that unless the baby remained quiet, the management would refund their money and ask them to leave. Near the end of the feature, Smith nudged his wife and whispered, "What do you think of it?" "Terrible," replied Mrs. Smith. "Check," agreed Smith. "Pinch the baby."

5. FRIDAY: With cod fish in the plentiful stage we thought you might be interested in this dressing (or stuffing if you will) seven ounce can tuna or crab meat.

1 tsp. finely chopped onion
2 tbsps. finely chopped green pepper
1/4 cup finely chopped celery
1 egg
1/2 tsp. salt
1/8 tsp. pepper
1 tsp. melted butter
1/2 cup bread crumbs
1 tsp. lemon juice
1/2 tsp. grated lemon rind.

Flake the fish and add the remaining ingredients. Combine well. Fill a three to four pound dressed fish. Plain old fashioned chicken or goose stuffing makes fine fish filler too. I think.

6. SATURDAY: Here's a nice company dessert for Sunday's meal—or serve it as a treat to your own family. (Step forward please and receive your gold medal!)

1/4 pound dried apricots
1/4 pound dried prunes
1/4 pound dried pears
1/2 cup honey
4 or 5 lemon slices
2 oranges, sectioned
1 grapefruit, sectioned
Shredded coconut

Wash dried fruit. Cover with water and bring to a boil—boil 40 minutes. About 5 minutes before the cooking is completed add honey and lemon slices. Cool and add oranges and grapefruit sections. Garnish generously with coconut.

7. SUNDAY: And so seven more days have slipped by and soon another seven begin. Two birthdays we celebrated during the past week. One was baby Garth's and his cake was adorned with three blue candles—two for the years gone by and one for the year to come. Then later on in the week Ken, the second oldest of the flock, had his birthday cake. His days now are busy; one he has had few minutes to spare, for over the hills to the old home farm he hies every morning. The teacher—son came home one evening in an Oldsmobile. "No more Hillman-Minx, Mom," he informs me cheerfully. And we have a moment's regret for things that have gone. We will know, in future years, remember watching the top of the hill across the fields for a small gray car to come into view on Friday evenings—a car covered with white snow. One with a driver of the long drive home, but one which usually made the grade. Silently we hope the shiny Olds will be as faithful a chariot, and we wonder where its "journeys" will be this year.

"There is paint on your nose. Mom's nose has a moment's regret for things that have gone. We will know, in future years, remember watching the top of the hill across the fields for a small gray car to come into view on Friday evenings—a car covered with white snow. One with a driver of the long drive home, but one which usually made the grade. Silently we hope the shiny Olds will be as faithful a chariot, and we wonder where its "journeys" will be this year.

But painting is fun and one job I could stay at forever. The small shop had its face lifted, Mom's nose has a moment's regret for things that have gone. We will know, in future years, remember watching the top of the hill across the fields for a small gray car to come into view on Friday evenings—a car covered with white snow. One with a driver of the long drive home, but one which usually made the grade. Silently we hope the shiny Olds will be as faithful a chariot, and we wonder where its "journeys" will be this year.

Mavis informed me this morning that her face was sore. "I think I'm getting a new 'whistle tooth' like Tony has." A bit of investigating was in order and sure enough a "whistle-tooth" (wisdom tooth to you) was peeking through. Baby Garth wanting his share of attention keeps opening his mouth to show his shining rows of baby teeth. He is such a "good-bad baby" as Ron. "He does bad things in such a nice happy manner."

We wondered why he was so quiet yesterday evening. Turned out he was energetically polishing his small bare feet with the (black) boot brush. His ten toes had a real Sunday shine on them. He was pleased with his efforts—and broken hearted when we removed the sources of his pleasure.

No there is never a dull moment in our house on the top of the hill! So this is the end of another column. Until we meet again remember "Some people waste a lot of time talking about themselves even though they'd much prefer to have you do it!"

Mr. William Turner, medical student at Dalhousie University in Halifax, N. S. spent the holidays with his mother, Mrs. Alice Turner and other relatives in O'Leary. He left on Monday afternoon for Wainwright, N. S., where he will take a position for the summer months.

Mr. Lester Gay motored to Summerside where he visited his wife who is a patient in the Prince County Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hudson and family, were visitors to O'Leary and Cascumpec on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Moreshead, O'Leary, motored to Montrose on Sunday, and visited with Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Dunbar. They also visited in Alma in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hastings and daughter Karen of St. John, N. B. spent the holiday at the home of Mrs. Hastings' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Matthews in O'Leary.

Miss Olive Jelley, employee of the Bank of Nova Scotia in Summerside, spent the holiday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Jelley in O'Leary.

The many friends of Mrs. Gilbert Gaudet of Woodstock, are glad to see her out around again after

Seven Days A Week

by Anne Shannon

1. MONDAY: Last day of May, and let us hope June brings better growing weather. If it doesn't, ah pity my seedlings growing so variably in tins, boxes and flats of all sizes and shapes. One package of Unwins dahlia seed yielded sixty-seven healthy little plants. "What are you going to do?" says the Head of the House, "rent the field across the road?" Oh well, I can always plant off the surplus on a nearby flower lover. The package of giant ruffled pansy seed produced forty-one seedlings. How I love the gay little pansy faces! Then there is the box with one hundred varieties of house-plants. So far only one lone plant has made its appearance, but house plants are slow germinators; so I guess I'll not need an extra half acre for those plants when they appear! Add to the above collection slips of golden glow, roses, lilacs, lupins, bleeding heart and other American cities. Mrs. Bell went to California in company with Mr. and Mrs. Silas MacFarlane. Mrs. Bell states that the greatest problem in Southern California is the heavy traffic, and at rush hours through the day, the cars are lined bumper to bumper for miles. A new freeway from Los Angeles to the San Fernando Valley was officially opened by Bob Hope while Mrs. Bell was there, and will prove a tremendous help in relieving the unusually heavy traffic.

2. TUESDAY: "Think before you spell," says lanky Billy Cashore, age 14, who entered the national spelling bee in U. S. A. Twice before he had been knocked out of district finals but this year, after months of preparation, his efforts paid off; he landed in Washington D. C. for the finals. In the semifinals, Department he and fifty-six others gathered for the big event. The first round proved so easy that not one of the fifty six missed a word. Then little by little the words got harder. Words such as "ephalic", "hyperbolic", "souffle" came out of his mouth, and by lunch time only 34 contestants were left. Billy began to grow groggy under the bright lights but kept right on spelling such words as "leprechaun", "ichthyology", "mellifluous" and many others. Finally