THE BELFAST AND MURRAY HARBOR RAILWAY SURVEY.

The party employed on the Belfast Railway survey is making very fair progress. Some time ago the survey reached as far as Mr. George O'Neill's, Half Way House, Lot 49, and some progress was made from that point further south. It appears, however, that the Hon. George Forbes was anxious to have the route deflected to his place of business at Vernon River Bridge. Though this has been done to please Mr. Forbes, it is generally believed that the route by Mr. O'Neill's is the best and will accommodate the most people. Some time ago a paragraph, copied from the Patriot newspaper, went the rounds stating that the mistake would not be repeated of running the proposed road to places like Mount Stewart, which had good steam communication. If we are correctly informed, this is exactly what Mr. Forbes now asks to be done. We do hope that the survey and location of the Belfast and Murray Harbor Railway will not be made a football to be played in the personal or political interests of anyone who may be temporarily clothed with some authority. If the railway to Belfast and Murray Harbor is to be of good service to the country, the survey must be made with a view of serving the greatest number and the parts of the country now most destitute of accommodation. This end should be kept in view, even if the cost of the railway were to a certain extent increased.

The surveying party has now passed through Montague West, Surrey and Gairloch, and is heading for Flat River, the native place of Mr. H. C. McDonald, M. L. A. This is all very well, if other sections are satisfied. What is to become of Caledonia, Heatherdale, St. Mary's Road, Brooklyn, Glenwilliam, Rona, Middleton, Murray Harbor Road, etc. Whilst important sections such as Eldou, Flat River, Belle Creek, Wood Islands, etc., should not be overlooked, a railway through Belfast to Murray Harbor should never be made to "hug" the shore. The heart of the country, and especially places now notably destitute of accommodation, should be tapped. Both Mr. H. C. McDonald and the Hon. George Forbes seem to be keenly looking after their own personal interests, and unless public opinion asserts its influence, the benefits to be derived from the opening of railway communication to Belfast and Murray Harbor will be greatly lessened.

The people ought to take more interest in the survey and see to it that the route will not be left to be decided upon by selfish men or political partisans. Mr. McKenzie, who is the engineer in charge of the survey, appears to fully understand his business. Indeed the whole party are well spoken of, and if it were freed from the baneful influence of the local politician the route would without doubt be more factory to the public.

ESTEEMED EXCHANGES.

Montreal Star: Funny— isn't it?—that Tarte and Blair should go to Europe at the same time.

"Coming events cast their shadows before." A few days ago whilst the railway surveying party was in the neighbourhood of Gairloch—the only cow of a poor widow suddenly dropped dead on the tether. The cow had been bought by the widows' son only the week before, and the sudden death of the poor cow is unaccountable. The poet may have been right when he wrote that "coming events cast their shadows before." Did the cow die a natural death or was her death a premonition of some fatal railway accident of the future? Being the widow's only cow, the government should give the widow the benefit of the doubt and pay for the cow.

Some United States collectors of customs have been instructed to cease collecting the 10 per cent. extra duty on goods imported through Canada. This, of course, is pending the Attorney-General's decision.

WELCOME HOME.

The unusually late arrival of Sir Louis Davies and Lady Davies last night prevented any demonstration on the part of their numerous political and social friends and admirers. This afternoon, however, a number of Liberal partisans presented an address, and many citizens have extended the hand of welcome and tendered their congratulations. But it needs not the formal address or the studied word of felicitation to assure Sir Louis of a hearty welcome to his own city and his own home. We rejoice in the distinguished honor that has been conferred upon him by the Queen and the influential position that he holds in the Government of Canada not only because he is a fellow-citizen of Charlottetown and the chosen representative of a majority of the people of Queen's County, but because we sincerely hope that his added influence will be exerted on behalf of this Province, in the development and prosperity of which we are specially interested. The Guardian and The Patriot, with the best intentions in the world, recently made the mistake of enlarging in a general way upon what Sir Louis has already done. But the fact is that, as a member of the Government of Canada, he has not yet done anything worth mentioning in behalf of either this community or of the Dominion at large. Necessarily, the work of Sir Louis Davies as a Cabinet Minister remains to be done. If that work shall consist for the most part of speeches in and out of Parliament, he will not deserve much credit from anyone. But if as a result of his representations and labors in the Cabinet, the government be prudently and economically carried on, and if needed means are afforded the people to develop the natural resources of the country and render it prosperous, he will deserve all the honors that a grateful public can bestow. Sir Louis Davies is indebted to the people of Queen's County for a great opportunity; he is indebted to the Queen for the gift of a distinguished title and all that it implies. In the hope that he will rise to the occasion and discharge efficiently the duties of a high and responsible position, we tender THE EXAMINER'S congratulations and a hearty welcome home.

OBITUARY.

Died on the 3rd ult., at the home of her brother in law at Black Pond Mills, Isabella McDonald, aged 76 years, relic of the late John Munn. Deceased was the last surviving member of a family of thirteen, children of the late James McDonald, Sen. of Kingsboro, Lot 47, her eldest sister being the mother of the Hon. D. Gordon of Georgetown. Of a gentle and retiring disposition, with a kind word for every one she met, her life passed quietly away, and when death came it found her, as in days gone by, humbly trusting in the merits of the Redeemer for a life beyond the grave. The funeral services were conducted by the Revs. Hiram Wallace, E. A. McPhee and Deacon Alexander Scott. Her remains were buried alongside her husband—who died over forty years ago—in the Baptist Cemetery at Kingsboro.

"There the day-time and night-time are one,
The seasons of blossom and snow,
The light of the moon and the sun,
The gladness of earth and its woe,
We may garland their pillows with flowers,
And water with tears if we will,
But they heed not such sorrows as ours
In that City of Sleep on the hill."

The famous Sphinx, near the pyramids of Gizeh, was thoroughly investigated by Prof. Erman, who, at a recent meeting of the Berlin Academy, delivered a lecture about its probable age. Careful researches show that it could have been built previously to the so-called "middle kingdom," for about 2,600 B.C. Between her front claws there was originally the image of a deity, all traces of which have at the present time disappeared. For the building of the colossal work more than twenty years must have been necessary, even if 1,500 men had been employed all the time.

PROVINCIAL EXHIBITION EXHIBITORS.—Among the many who will exhibit at the Provincial Exhibition, commencing Sept. 28th, are: Jas. McLeod, Summerside; Herbert Hazard, Charlottetown; Edward Woods, Pownal; Miss Alice McMurray, Charlottetown; E. Rigg Brow, Charlottetown.

How many young men and women are cut off just as the future seems brightest and fullest of promise! They are taken away by the disease which causes over one-sixth of the deaths in the world—the disease which doctors call consumption. There is absolutely no reason in the world why consumption should be fatal—why it should be even serious. It is a disease of the blood and can be cured absolutely and always by purifying and enriching the blood. The only exception to this is the case where the disease has been neglected and improperly treated until it is stronger than the body—until the body has become so weak as to have lost the ability to recuperate. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure 98 per cent of all cases of consumption if used according to directions. It also cures all lingering coughs, bronchial and throat affections. Send 31 cents in one-cent stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, illustrated.

French experts in the desert of Sahara are expressing apprehensions at the gradual diminution of the fertile oases. It is known that the large oases were much larger in the time of the ancient Romans, and that they are being constantly reduced in size by the encroachments of the sand dunes. The problem is how to stop these.
