

Thrill Was Real For Billy Bruton

By CHUCK CAPALOD
MILWAUKEE (AP) — It has been a long time between thrills for Milwaukee Braves' Billy Bruton.

"Sure," he said in a quiet voice, "that hit today was a big thrill to me, but it wasn't the biggest." Amid the confusion that was the Braves' dressing room after Bruton's hit in the 10th sank New York Yankees 4-3, it was difficult to hear him.

"The first homer I ever hit here in County Stadium, the one that won the 1953 opening game in the 10th, was a bigger thrill," he said.

TIDE OF FORTUNE

The changing tides of fortune that kept him out of the world series a year ago with a badly wrenched knee also swept him into action this afternoon.

Manager Fred Haney said Bruton, a left-handed batter, probably never would have played if right-hander Ryne Duren had not appeared in relief for the Yankees.

"I just played percentages," said Haney.

Bruton said he hit one of Duren's better-high fast balls for the big blow.

"He's real fast," the little outfielder added, "but I don't think he's the fastest I ever faced. I think Dick Farrell (Phillies) is on league is faster."

Photographers hauled Bruton and Warren Spahn, who went the distance for the victory, into the centre of the clubhouse to pose for pictures.

LOT OF FAST BALLS

Spahn, 37-year-old southpaw who won 22 games during the regular season, said he threw "a lot of fast balls."

Asked if any of the Yankees gave him particular trouble, Spahn replied "They all did."

He said Hank Bauer hit a screamer for his homer and Moose Skowron connected with a "good pitch, a changeup" for his circuit smash.

He said he didn't think the Yankees were any different from last year. "The only thing is I knew a little more about them because I face them before."

Several Spots Still Uncertain On Leaf Team

PETERBOROUGH (CP) — Although all players have been signed, several spots with Toronto Maple Leafs are still uncertain, coach Billy Reay said Wednesday.

Some of the prospects farmed out to Rochester Americans last week may be back with the National Hockey League club for their two exhibition games with Boston Bruins early next week, Reay said. "They'll have to show that they belong in Rochester-Leaf games here Friday."

Blues beat the Whites 2-1 in a robust inter-squad workout Wednesday with George Armstrong and Rudy Migay scoring for the Blues, Frank Mahavlich for the Whites.

Bob Davidson, chief scout for the Leafs, reported that Guyfle Flelaer, still at home in Seattle, and Willie Marshall in Kilkline Lake are both holdouts. Marshall returned home after being ordered to the Rochester club in American Hockey League.

Canadiens Beat Rochester 9-5

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (CP) — Rochester Americans outplayed Montreal Canadiens by a wide margin in the first period Wednesday night but fell back to lose 9-2 to the National Hockey League team.

Rochester of the American Hockey League led 2-0 on goals by Al McHale and Gene Mekliok going into the second period of the exhibition game.

But Canadiens came back with a bang for five goals in the second period and four in the third.

Johansson To Defend Title Against London In June

By JOHN GALE
LONDON (AP) — Ingemar Johansson, Sweden's undefeated European heavyweight champion, Wednesday agreed to defend his crown against British titleholder Brian London at Wembley Stadium, June 2.

The match was arranged by promoter Jack Golomon less than 24 hours after London stopped leading American contender Willie Pastano of Miami Beach Tuesday night.

There was one condition to the agreement, however. If Johansson can get a crack at world champion Floyd Patterson of New York in the spring he will be released from the London bout.

Johansson's manager, Edwin Ahlquist, asked for the exception and Solomons agreed.

NATURAL FOR LONDON

The Johansson-London bout is a natural for London. Both have stopped leading American contenders within the past few weeks.

Johansson, 25-year-old 198-pounder, knocked out Eddie Machen of Redding, Calif., in the first round at Goteborg, Sweden, Sept. 14.

Machen then was defeated and the No. 2 heavyweight contender of the world, Johansson's record is 21-0, including 13 knockouts.

London soared into the top flight by winning on his controversial fifth-round technical knockout over Pastano. The 22-year-old American had won a close decision over London last Feb. 25.

Willie claimed butts opened the gash over his left eye and maintained the fight should have been stopped.

Johansson now is ranked No. 1 contender by Ring magazine, and No. 2 by the American National Boxing Association.

London, 24, is a strapping 207-pounder who fights like an American. He is game, willing and free swinger.

His record is 21-3, including 13 knockouts. His father and manager, Jack London, once held the British crown himself.

Hawks Down Rangers 5-1

ST. CATHARINES, Ont. (CP) — Chicago Black Hawks defeated New York Rangers 5-1 Wednesday night in a National Hockey League exhibition game.

Hawks, who close their training camp here today, held a margin in play and led the way.

Eric Nesterenko, Lorne Ferguson, Danny Lewicki, Tod Sloan and Bobby Hull were the goal-getters.

New York captain George Sullivan got the single Ranger goal.

Warmer Today For 2nd Game

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The second game of the world series will be played today in slightly warmer weather than Wednesday's chilly series opener.

The weather bureau predicts afternoon temperatures in the low 60s, compared with Wednesday's official maximum temperature of 57.

Wednesday's sunny skies will be replaced by considerable cloudiness with a slight chance of light showers late this afternoon. However the weatherman says the game should be over before any showers occur.

Charlie Conacher Voluntary Coach Of Saguenens

CHICOUTIMI, Que. (CP) — Charlie Conacher, one-time hockey great with Toronto Maple Leafs, donated skates Wednesday and watched Chicoutimi Saguenens work out in his capacity as vice-chairman of the Quebec Hockey League club and as a voluntary coach.

Announcement of Conacher's election to an executive position was made by owner Paul Murdoch.

The Saguenens this season are a farm club of the Leafs, and Conacher flew in from Toronto to look them over at their training camp.

The Toronto troupe of 16 Shakespearean actors, travelling by Canadian National Railway, set out Monday on its second tour of the Maritimes.

The first play will be staged at Woodstock Thursday. A performance is scheduled for Moncton, Oct. 4 under auspices of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. From here the company continues by CNR to Halifax.

Ronson Firm Gets Damages

OTTAWA (CP) — The Exchequer Court of Canada has approved a settlement out of court for a fraction of the $5,000,000 sought in a damage suit by Ronson Products of Canada Limited against another firm dealing in cigarette lighters.

Belgo-Canadian Manufacturing Company of Montreal agreed to pay $3,000 to Ronson which alleged "unfair competition" by Belgo-Canadian.

The damage suit, initiated in 1956, claimed the "unfair competition" resulted from Belgo-Canadian's importation and sale of low-priced Japanese lighters which Ronson said were "slavish imitations" of Ronson lighters.

To Mark British Sub Launching

HALIFAX (CP) — About 230 officers and men of the Royal Navy's 8th Submarine Squadron stationed here will commemorate today the launching of Britain's first submarine and the founding of the British Submarine Service 57 years ago.

The 8th Squadron is based here to provide Canadian naval ships and aircraft with the means to exercise in anti-submarine warfare. There are three British subs here.

SPORTS FRONT

By PIUS CALLAGHAN

NATURALLY YOU have imagined by now that we were a wee bit disappointed with the outcome of yesterday's world series game. For awhile it looked as if it was in the bag but we were counting our chickens a bit too fast.

Even if our choice was defeated in yesterday's opener, we want to state right now that it was just about as thrilling a ball game as one could wish for. Warren Spahn, that old foxy southpaw, barely managed to hang in there in the opening innings but as the game wore on, Spahn became the great hurler he really is. He pitched two bad balls and those two very nearly cost him the ball game. All the Yankees runs came on those pitches to Skowron and Bauer. They were not enough however and the Braves never stopped trying to get rid of Whitey Ford. They succeeded in chasing Ford in the eighth and for a short time it looked like his successor, Ryne Duren was going to make the Milwaukee crew look really silly.

HE WAS DOING a pretty fair job of accomplishing his task when the Braves suddenly took a real liking to him in the tenth. Ryne had come on in the eighth and had done an excellent job of a really difficult chore. He started the tenth by striking out Hank Aaron and it looked like the teams would go at it in the eleventh. But Joe Adcock singled to give the Braves new hope. Duren bore down and got Covington to fly to Howard in left. There were then two down and the closest the Braves were to that winning run was Adcock perched on first.

THE SITUATION wasn't alarming, especially the way Duren was fogging them through. But Crandall came through with his second hit of the day and Billy Bruton smashed one to right centre and home came Adcock with the winning run.

It was a thrilling finish to a world series battle, a great one to win and a tough one to lose. Yankees must get a win from Lew Burdette today or go back home to New York trailing the world champs 2-0. Turley will be the gentleman hurling for the Bombers today and Stengel is hoping Bullet Bob is at his best.

So are we. And despite that loss yesterday we are still calling it for Stengel and company in six games.

SINCE CASEY Stengel took over at the helm of the New York Yankees back in 1949, the Bombers have got home in front every year in the American League with the sole exception of 1954 when the Cleveland Indians qualified to meet the New York Giants in the world series. That was the year that the Yankees won over 100 ball games because the Indians had gone on to a new high.

This year when the New Yorkers clinched the flag in the junior circuit it was number 9 with Casey doing the bossing. That matched the record of the late Connie Mack and was just one less than the achievements of the one and only John McGraw.

NOT COUNTING the series now going on, Old Case has completed in eight fall classics and has emerged the winner on six occasions. His two failures were in 1955 and 1957 when the Brooklyn Dodgers and Milwaukee Braves came out on top. However on each of these occasions, the Yankees forced the issue to seven games before conceding defeat.

Stengel's mark of six wins in this annual October championship, is only one shy of the all-time mark of former Yankee manager, Joe McCarthy who has seven to his credit. If the Yankees can win this series for Stengel (and there seems no good reason why they won't) the professor will be on a par with McCarthy.

WHETHER YOU like this guy Stengel or not, you have to stop and admit that his antics with the Yankees since 1949 have been simply amazing. Just because they are the Yankees doesn't mean they must win pennants. Some experts of the game will point out many weaknesses in the New Yorkers, yet they go happily on their way crushing all American League opposition in their path. There was a time, like back in 1927 for instance, that the Yankees were really a murderous row. That can hardly be said of them today. Yet they are still winning pennants and world championships too.

HOW WOULD you like to have your team face those Yankees of 1927. Here they are with their batting averages: Coombs, cf, .356; Koeling, ss, .285; Ruth, rf, .358; Gehrig, 1b, .373; Meusel, lf, .337; Lazzari, 2b, .309; Dugan, 3b, .269; Collins, c, .275.

Ruth, Gehrig, Meusel and Lazzari each drove in more than 100 runs and among them had the amazing RBI total of 544 in 1927. Gehrig himself drove in 175 and Ruth was close behind with 164.

Ruth hit 60 home runs that season and Gehrig had 47. In 1957 it took Mantle, Berra, Bauer, Skowron and MacDougald to get the New Yorkers total of 106.

The modern day Yankees are not the vicious type that characterized the Bombers thirty-one years ago. They may not slaughter the opposition in the same manner that Ruth and Gehrig and Company went about their work but with what they have they are certainly doing an excellent job of living up to the Yankee name.

One American sportswriter puts it this way: "The Yankees are no supermen. They win because they have a smart manager who keeps them hustlin' and because the rest of the league is strictly without the will to win."

He may indeed have something there.

Pick Your Hero In Series Opener

MILWAUKEE (AP) — You can take your pick between Milwaukee Braves' 37-year-old Warren Spahn and Bill Bruton as the hero of Wednesday's world series 4-3 triumph over New York Yankees.

For the amazing Spahn, it was a "great birthday gift" for his son, Gregory, who turned 10 Wednesday.

Bruton, who missed last year's world series because of knee surgery, slammed the winning hit in the 10th fast-balling Ryne Duren.

But Spahn, improving in his 10th year, turned in a courageous pitching job to avenge his 3-1 loss to Whitey Ford in last year's series opener.

In the joyous Braves' dressing room, both Bruton and Spahn tried modestly to shrug off the attention of boisterous well wishers.

SURPRISED AT CHANCE

Bruton, whose big league career nearly was ended by a wrenched knee a year ago, said he was surprised he even got a chance to play. Manager Fred Haney started Andy Pafko in centre in a last-minute switch.

Bruton got in the game as a pinch-hitter in the ninth.

About his game-winning smash, Bruton said:

"I was expecting a fast ball and he (Duren) came in right with it. I met it square and that was that."

Outfielder Wes Covington shouted, "Don't tell them too much, Billy, save some for tomorrow."

Bruton yelled back "Maybe tomorrow, I won't be able to play a hit."

Spahn, who retired 14 straight Yankees late in the game, said he felt as strong at the finish as he did during a somewhat shaky start.

"I'm even ready to go tomorrow in relief, if Fred Haney asks me," said Spahn.

"I thought I did a great deal to hurt their running game with the pickoff of Bauer in the first inning."

Spahn felt that he held New York's Mickey Mantle hitless because "he was looking for a lot of things I didn't throw him today."

HAS EXCLUSIVE SEAT FOR GAME

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Anthony Albano of Brooklyn, N.Y., had the most exclusive seat the world series Wednesday. Its only drawback: it took an aerial ladder truck plus squads of policemen and firemen, to get him out of it.

The 61-year-old Albano watched the game from atop a swaying 135-foot light post in centre field at County Stadium.

He was spotted three hours before game time and after extra-aided help, more direct methods of helping him down were postponed until after Milwaukee Braves defeated New York Yankees 4-3 in 10 innings.

Then the fire department put up a 100-foot aerial ladder. A fireman scrambled up and after a brief conference, reported that Albano said his foot was asleep and that he was unable to climb down. Two other firemen hitched a rope around Albano and let him down, hand over hand.

Albano waved feebly to the hundreds of people clustered around and collapsed.

Albano told police that when he could buy a ticket, he shimmied up to his exclusive seat.

Albano was taken to hospital, where police said he would be held in protective custody until it was determined whether charges could be filed against him.

Joe O'Brien To Be In Kentucky Futurity Race

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Emily's Pride will try to lock up the year's three-year-old trotting championship as she faces 10 challengers in the $53,300 Kentucky Futurity.

The filly likely will be the favorite in the leg of trotting's triple crown. She already has won one leg, the Hambletonian with a record mile.

Filles have won the last two futurities, Nible Colby in 1956 and Cassin Hanover last year.

Flick Nipe will drive Emily's Pride, who is trained by Fred Egan, the winning driver last year on his 78th birthday.

Ralph Baldwin, who won with Nible Colby, is Sandalwood's pilot.

Other drivers include Joe O'Brien of Alberton, P.E.I.

Etcheverry Has Played 100 Consecutive Games For Als

By W. R. WHEATLEY
CANADIAN PRESS STAFF WRITER
MONTREAL (CP) — Sam Etcheverry, Montreal Alouettes' polished and seemingly indestructible quarterback, has played 100 consecutive football games — league, playoff and Grey Cup — since he came to Canada in 1952.

Thrown in 20 or so exhibition and intra-squad games — none of them patsy-patsy affairs — and Sam's achievement becomes even more impressive.

Until Alouette records were turned up Wednesday, Sam didn't know his big-time Canadian career had reached the century mark.

"Oh, no, I'm not durable," he told The Canadian Press. "I'm just fortunate in not having been badly injured; well, injured enough to keep me out of a game."

NOT WORRIED

"I don't know how long I can keep going. You can't tell about these things. But I never worry about getting hurt. That wouldn't do any good."

Coach Doug Walker, never given to loquacity or fulsome praise, nevertheless had some nice things to say about Etcheverry.

"I hope he will have 100 more games just as fine as the first 100," said Walker. "He has a marvelous physique which is well coordinated, and his durability and competitive spirit are a splendid example for all football players to try to equal."

Etcheverry's mark is made up of 87 Big Four league games, 10 Big Four playoff games and three Grey Cup games. His 100th game was against Hamilton Tiger-Cats except a sudden death game in 1955 against Toronto Argos. His Grey Cup games were losing ventures against Edmonton Eskimos.

NOT A RECORD

Sam's 100-game stretch isn't a record in Canadian football. It undoubtedly belongs to quarterback Harry Langford of Calgary Stampede, who has played in 151 consecutive pro games.

Long ago dubbed "the rifle" because of his brilliant passing, Etcheverry hasn't been accidental free in the big four.

"Three years ago I hurt my knee and it stayed pretty sore," said Sam. "It was a question whether I would be able to play in a game against Toronto Argos, but I played."

There was also the last game of the 1954 season — a game that meant nothing to the winning Alouettes — when coach Walker started Bruce Coulter at quarterback in order to give Etcheverry a rest. Coulter was injured and Sam went into the game.

Dates Set For Semi-Final

ANTIGONISH, N. S. — (CP) — Dates for the Maritime semi-final "A" baseball tournament between Antigonish Bulldogs and St. Stephen-St. Croix dogs and St. Stephen-St. Croix dogs were settled Wednesday. The entire best-of-three series will be played in Antigonish this weekend.

The first game is set for 4 p. m. Saturday, the second for 1 p. m. Sunday. If a third game is necessary it will also be played Sunday afternoon.

The winner of this series will advance to the Maritime finals against the Prince Edward Island champions.

Reay Completes Second Leaf Line

PETERBOROUGH, Ont. (CP) — Coach Billy Reay has completed a second leaf line, moving centre Billy Harris between left winger Dick Duff, the team's leading scorer of last season, and right winger Ron Stewart. He expects a quota of at least 55 goals from them.

"I think that Duff should have his third straight 20-goal season and I look for Stewart to top 20 goals," said Reay. "Harris should get at least 15. In fact, they have the ability to give the Bert Olmstead, Frank Mahavlich and George Armstrong trio a run for the first-line honors."

The team's third line will be left winger Bobby Pulford and the Cullens (Brian and Barry) when the Cullens return from the injured list.

Tim Horton picked up a charity horse and Dave Creighton a gashed head in Wednesday's scrimmage, won by the Blues 2-1. Reay hopes both will be back in action today.
