Fellow Students,

We, the Student Union Executive, feel that we must respond to letters directed to us through the avenue of "letters to the editor" in the X-Press. Unfortunately these letters were not signed by their respective authors, thus we will be unable to know if we have fully addressed the concerns raised by these people. However, the invitation to you as well as the entire student body remains open to drop into the Barn to chat, volunteer, help out, and/or express any concerns.

At the January 12th Student Union Council meeting Jo-Anna Murphy, President of the SU, brought forward the motion to implement a "building fee" of $5.00 per year per student. This money would go towards a new and more efficient Student Centre that would be located in Blanchard field. The motion was moved and seconded. It was then open for discussion. Cory Large, student senator, stated that we should take it to the students to see if this is something that they would want to participate in. More discussion was held on what would be involved with the centre. Heather Love, General Manager of the SU, highlighted what has happened in past years when the question was posed. Following much debate, the motion was moved to be tabled till the next council meeting so that all elected councillors could spread the word and get feedback. Everyone had the opportunity and has the responsibility to speak out in favour or in opposition to anything that is discussed or reported at council meetings. The next council meeting will be on February 16th, 7:00pm at Kelly 210, and this motion will again be brought to the table and more discussion will be had. The council meetings are open to all students.

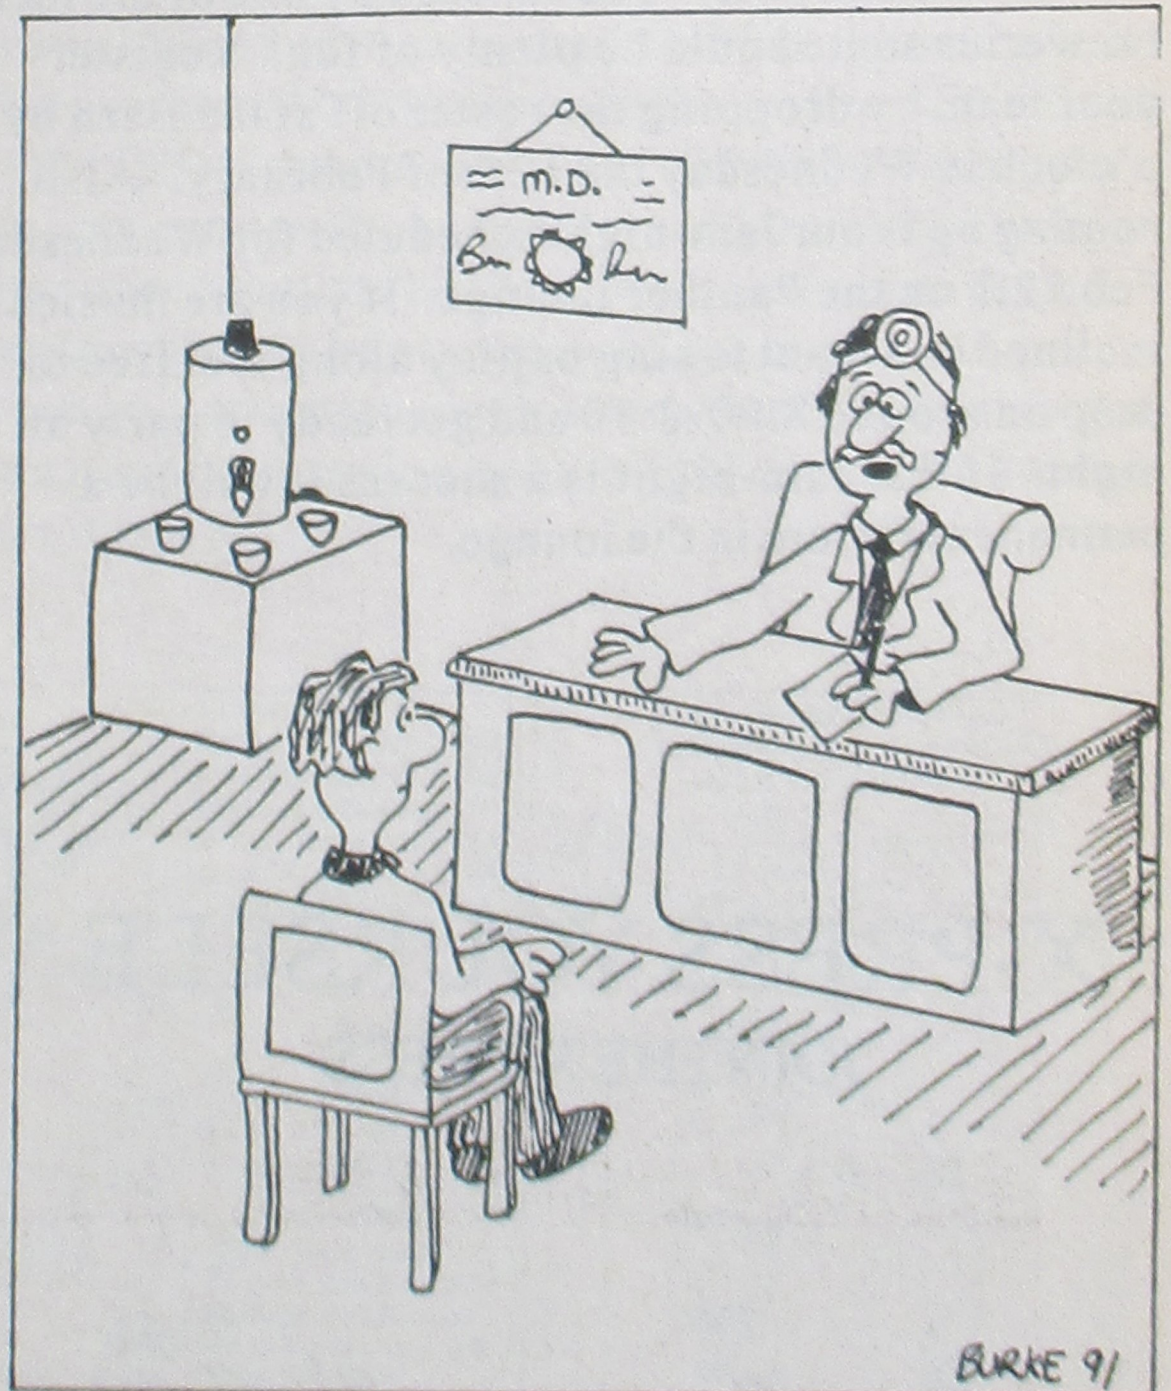

In the January 23rd edition of the X-Press there was an advertisement on the last page for "MONEY!". It was actually asking for students input on whether or not they wanted to participate on a building fund for a new Student Centre. However, the present Student Union Centre was not mentioned as a place to express ideas. Also, the advertisement was not presenting a straight forward question.

We would appreciate any further concerns or ideas be brought to us directly at the Student Union so that both parties can come to some conclusion. Unfortunately, we cannot fully address "Your" concerns. Please help us help you.

Sincerely, Jo-Anna Murphy, President
Nadine DeWolfe, VP External
Tracey Arsenault, VP Internal
David Fitzpatrick, VP Operations
Laurie Callaghan, VP Finance
