

MR. AND MRS. PETER H.H. WRIGHT
Suzanne M. Palmer Weds
In Charlottetown Ceremony

The marriage of Suzanne Meredith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Palmer, to Peter Hugh Hickey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Wright of Saint John, N.B., was solemnized in St. Peter's Cathedral, Charlottetown, Monday, April 15. Rev. P. Louis Elias officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a modish dress of white peau de soie, embroidered with alençon lace. It was fastened with a high neckline and had a fitted bodice of lace with long, tight sleeves. The sheath skirt had an overskirt falling into a chapel train, and the bouffant veil of French illusion tulle was held in place with a small bonnet of peau de soie. Her bouquet was of pale pink roses and stephanotis.

The matron of honor, Mrs. John S. Henry of Montreal, and the bridesmaids, Mrs. John Smith of Windsor and Miss Pamela Wright, sister of the groom, wore floor length dresses of blue and green shadow print with matching boleros.

On their hair they wore tailored bows of the same material, and they carried white shasta daisies.

BY HAWORTH

Seducer Said To Lack Emotional Maturity

Dear Mary Haworth: In a box titled "More in Answer" by Marya Mannes (Lippincott) the author says:

"If I were a man, I'd be a rake until I married; and that, with any luck, would be unattractive. In my twenties I cannot imagine a better occupation of spare time than the seduction of a number of different women—unless, if you are a woman, it is seduction of a number of different men."

"And I find that long—pronounced daily and lengthily by the ladies, who write columns of advice in the papers—a sign of immaturity in men and distasteful in women. A seducer is a sign of immaturity in men and distasteful in women. A seducer is a sign of immaturity in men and distasteful in women. A seducer is a sign of immaturity in men and distasteful in women."

"I may comfort women by diminishing men and by increasing themselves, but it is not very convincing. A great many masculine, productive and distinguished men have led the primrose path and a great many wise and prudent men have, in their own time, tasted the delights of compliance."

"How, indeed, is one equipped to recognize and practice virtue if one has not experienced its absence? Or what right has one to control one's own life if one has not lost it?" End quotes.

"I have read your column for some time and am kind enough to comment on the above remarks. Sincerely, E.K. For this pattern, Ontario residents add 1 cent sales tax. Print plainly SIZE, NAME, ADDRESS, STYLE NUMBER."

Raises School Funds

A project to aid in furnishing the local school with electricity has been completed. It was reported at the April meeting of the Pleasant Valley Women's Institute.

Six quilts have been made and sold to raise money for the project.

The meeting, held at the home of Mrs. William MacLennan, opened by singing "The Easter Parade." Each member displayed an Easter bonnet for sale.

Members voted $10 towards Central Queens Regional High School for prizes to be awarded to students at the school.

Mrs. Miller Weeks was appointed to represent the Institute at the next home and school meeting at Central Queens, when plans will be finalized regarding a variety concert to be held in May.

It was decided to enter the school in the Rural Beautification competition, if it should be moved to a new location.

Plans were made to make a quilt for a resident of the district who lost his dwelling by fire recently.

The program consisted of a paper on agriculture, home safety and cleanliness. The paper was read and discussed and a questionnaire filled in.

The school committee reported a new water bucket and plastic was purchased for the school. Other committees gave their reports, and the following new committees were appointed:

School, Mrs. Donald Berlow; sick, Mrs. Everett MacLellan; program, Mrs. Everett MacLellan; Mrs. Atlee Baristo reported perfect housekeeper, and an all ways kind lady to everyone, she who, as in so many instances, with humans, unwittingly gave, and still gives, her time example to others in many a way.

Charge Dismissed

OTTAWA (CP)—A charge national leader of the Progressive to yield the right of way was dismissed in court Thursday. Mr. Brackley, 79, was charged after his car collided with another on a country road near his home in Manotick, 75 miles south of Ottawa.

The hearing was presided over by Justice G. J. Gauthier. The charge was dismissed because the witness, Mrs. Frank Lewis, said she did not see the accident.

Britain's Billion-Dollar GAMBLING SPREE

It has been said that Britons will bet on anything that moves. According to latest figures, the British bet more than $2 billion a year on horses, greyhounds, football and on a $135 million category called "other gambling." Posh gambling houses enable the wealthy and titled to bet as much as they desire in the grand style and for others, the U.K. has everything from bingo to dog racing. Bernard McElwaine, in Weekend Magazine this week, tells how, under the new Betting Levy Act, making a wager is not only legal but as easy as breathing.
