A Guest Column
By RALPH CAMERON

Red Kelly — Agile Ancient

AT THE MOMENT of writing I have no idea what is happening in Chicago, but then neither have you so we can both second guess this column in the morning while we read it.

I do know what has happened to date and so far as I am concerned it is going fairly well according to the script. As usual I am going along with my Canadiens. My favoritism is partly because Montreal was once my home town; partly because when I came back here I was almost alone in defending Rocket Richard whom I knew as a top player. Old timers here will recall countless fans deriding his ability and saying "wait till the real hockey players come back from the war and then you'll see where he belongs". I waited and I saw—and so did they. And I am still picking Les Habitants.

Might as well go all the way here and now and name them to take Leafs in not more than six and polish off Chicago in four straight. Bill Ledwell never asked me for my opinion, but then I don't think much of his either.

There has long been the hockey maxim that to beat Canadiens you have to play it rough. Toronto tried that Thursday and got a shock. The roughest playing team in the NHL ran into an outfit even rougher. Saturday night they switched to speed and everyone got a shock. So it is even steven with each team playing the other man's game and winning at it.

I cannot remember ever watching a faster game than that of Saturday night when blinding speed became so common ordinary skaters looked like cripples. It was speed and more speed with the Flying Frenchmen caught and passed by a supersonic Toronto tornado. In the doldrums too long and in the doghouse too soon, the Big M came to life with a smashing attack maintained at a terrific pace that made him look like a one man blizzard.

For the first time in a long while Mahovlich more than justified that million dollar tag.

But in spite of his performance — and fully expecting an argument — for my money the moneyman of the Leafs is, and has been all year, the incomparable Red Kelly. Supposedly old and tired and with wornout legs the redhead was the most agile ancient I have seen in years.

If I am talking only of one part of the semi-finals please remember up to now we have seen only that part. I gather from newspaper accounts, however, that Hawks as usual were better than Detroit. I think they will make up for last year's disgrace and if a little rubbing in takes place put it down to human desire for revenge.

Unreasoning Favoritism

SURE THERE ARE lots of Chicago fans in this town, some not too far from home; even the Red Wings have a solid supporter or two in our midst. But most of the money here is being placed where the greatest interest is, and that is the "eastern" semi-final.

Lots of genuine hockey fans dislike Toronto teams for no other reason than the unreasoning favoritism shown them by longtime broadcasters from the Ontario centre. It was flagant on radio, obvious on tv, and sometimes foolish when the newspaper accounts were read. So I early became a Montreal fan.

By the same token I have also called Boston and New York my home towns for varying numbers of years and saw the greats of those cities in league and playoff games. The Shores and the Hitchmans, the Colville brothers, Neil and Mac, and goalies from Tiny Thompson to Jacques Plante.

And speaking of goaltenders would you have wanted anything better than Hodge and Bower in the two games we saw? It is odd the way Hodge manages to get in the way of almost every Leaf's shot and still looks so awkward and unsure. Bower is the opposite, smooth and sure of himself and if he fans the chances are he never even saw the puck. Yet which of them won the Vezina Trophy?

We know Chicago has Pierre Pilote; but Hawks at their best never threw up a tougher defence than Toronto did Saturday. Admittedly much of its strength came from a relentless set of forwards playing both ways every minute, but regardless of that the defencemen saw that the Montreal firepower never was unleashed.

But let's be fair and give more than passing attention to that pair of kids Canadiens have behind the blueline. They are truly sensational so far and I predict will make Montreal fans forget even Doug Harvey before too many seasons have rolled around. They will also make Canadiens a more formidable foe IF, and that is a mighty big if, replacements can be found soon for Geoffrion, Beliveau and Henri Richard. Those tremendous battlers and feared scorers will take some replacing, but Quebec is noted for coming up with top players.

As a final note, and a warning to Pius Callaghan, Gus Flynn and other loopy Leafians of their ilk, watch a lad by the name of Rousseau suddenly come alive again and steal the whole show.

SPORT ECHOES

Action At Civic Stadium

This is "hockey week" in Summerside. We'd tell you to bring your tent and camp on the field next to Civic Stadium, but the grass is a bit retarded in that area this spring. So it looks as if you'll have to travel back and forth to the Stadium, but you won't mind that when we tell you that the season's most exciting hockey will be taking place there, possibly all week—from Monday to Saturday.

Tonight and Tuesday the Junior Legionnaires will be hosting the Sydney Juniors in the first two games of a best-three-out-of-five series for the Maritime Junior Championship. This Sydney squad has quite a reputation and took Halifax Juniors' measure in convincing fashion. We suspect they'll have more trouble with Grant Grady's boys. Sydney may beat the whizz kids, but not without knowing they've been in a hockey match. Don't leave getting tickets for these games till the last minute or you'll end up hugging a rafter, and the seats up there are not nearly so comfortable.

Hawks Win Protest

Alan Warren's Texaco Combines were slated to leave for Fredericton, N.B. this morning to play Fredericton Caps tonight and tomorrow night in the first two games of a best of five series for the Maritime Intermediate "A" hockey crown but their plans were sent awry when a protest by Johnnie's Flying Hawks was upheld by the MAHA. The Combines must replay the protested game and this contest is slated for the Charlottetown forum tonight. Should the Combines win tonight or at least retain their lead in the two game total goal series, they will leave as soon as possible for the series at the N.B. capital.

Two Championship Teams?

Should these free-wheeling Combines emerge victorious tonight it could be, without surprising us too much, that we'll have two Maritime Championship teams on our hands before the second week in April is out, and you can imagine the celebrations that will be going on in Summerside if that dream happens to come true. And, by the way, we have a bantam team which won the Island Title, but players as young as that do not usually go across the strait looking for more conquests.

LAST WEEK'S BOUQUET

Last week's bouquet to the smallest defenceman we've seen yet.
A bare ten stone just after a meal, or when soaking wet.
On the blue line he's nearly as good as the Berlin wall
When he hits, the bigger they are, the harder they fall.
For performance, on Leroy Clow and his poke-check you can bet.

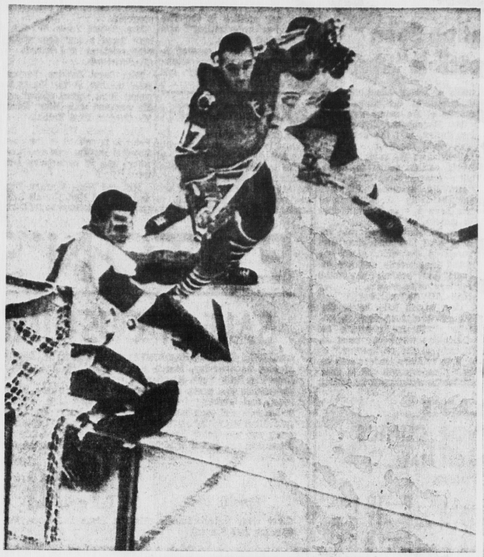
Combines Meet Royals Tonight

The Carleton Combines go against the Freetown Royals in the fourth game of a best of five series in the South Shore Senior Hockey League. The tilt will be played in the Bedeque rink.

Freetown is leading the series 2-1 going into tonight's contest. Game time is set for 8:00.

FIRE DESTROYS HOTEL

TRUCKEE, Calif. (AP)—Fire destroyed the 50-year-old Olympic Hotel here Sunday morning, but an estimated 30 guests escaped uninjured. Cause of the blaze in the two-storey frame building was not immediately determined.



INJURED STOPPING SHOT

Detroit goalie Terry Sawchuk spins around as he stops a shot at the goal by Chicago right wing Ken Wharram (17) in first period of second Stanley Cup playoff game last night. Wharram apparently injured shoulder on play and had to leave game. Behind Wharram is Detroit's Marcel Pronovost. Sawchuk's injury was described as a pinched nerve. (AP Wirephoto)

Minor Action Completed At Charlottetown Forum

A highly competitive Charlottetown Minor Hockey program was brought to a successful conclusion at the Forum on Saturday night when five City champions were declared in their respective divisions before a fairly good crowd of minor hockey supporters.

The leadoff game for the night saw Frank MacIntyre's Paperweight Jays take a 3-1 decision over the Eric Kipping coached Pelicans to win the Paperweight B Division championship, while the Falcons, piloted by Jack Morris, clipped the wings of Bill Hennessey's Larks for top honors in the Paperweight A Division by a score of 5-2.

One of the most exciting and best played games of the night was the clash between Bobby Doherty's Springers and Vernon Garrett's Coyotes for the PeeWee championship. Matching the powerful Springers stride for stride the Coyotes drove deep into opposition territory early in the game to hammer away at the Springers net and but for stellar netminding on the part of Shane Dowling might have taken an early lead in the contest. Staving off the early onslaught however, the Springers started to hit their stride and led by a four-goal effort by D'Arcy Murphy and two by Billy Doherty took a final 6-3 verdict despite the three goals that came off the sticks of Kenny MacKinnon, Philip Campbell and Derryl Scott for the Coyotes.

Led by a three-goal "hat trick" by John White, Joe Foley's Bruins captured top honors in the Bantam division by downing the Theo Ling coached Tigers in a hard-hitting contest that saw the Bruins on the long end of the scoring by a 6-2 margin.

FINAL GAME

The final windup of the night was the second half of a two-game, total goal series for the Midget title between Dr. Theriault's Pontiacs and Wilf MacDonald's Iroquois. Coming from behind a 5-1 deficit as the result of an afternoon game, the Dr. Theriault coached Pontiacs were not to be denied their right to the title. Driving hard right from the opening whistle the Pontiacs whittled away at the four-goal deficit and by midway in he game had outsniped the Iroquois five goals to one to tie up the match. With both teams matching one another goal for goal for the next four tallies the leadership changed hands twice before the Pontiacs potted two more unanswered goals to win the game 9-3 and take the series and the total 10-8. Jimmy MacDougall led the scoring for the winners with 4.

The following are the scoring summaries and scores of the games played:

Paperweight B — Jays 3 — Tommy Cullen (2), Frank MacKinnon. Pelicans 1 — John Bell.

Paperweight A — Falcons 5 — Gary Doyle (3), Gordon Lidstone, Gary McConnell. Larks 2 — David MacKinnon, Mike Hennessey.

PeeWee — Springers 6 — D'Arcy Murphy (4), Billy Doherty (2). Coyotes 3 — Kenny MacKinnon, Philip Campbell, Derryl Scott.

Bantam — Bruins 6 — John White (3), Ronnie Carmichael, Gary Mahar, Doug Stanley. Tigers 2 — Alan James, Robert Stewart.

Midget — Pontiacs 9 — Jimmy MacDougall (4), John Theriault (2), Paul Stanley, Joe MacDougall, Gordon Blanchard. Iroquois 3 — Colin Campbell, Peter Clark, Mike MacDonald. Two-game total-goal score — Pontiacs 10 — Iroquois 8.

Holding the spotlight in PeeWee Consolation Division play on Saturday morning the Frank MacIntyre coached Rams topped out Babs FitzGerald's Foxes by a 6-4 decision to walk off with the consolation honors after both teams had battled their way through two earlier games the same morning before meeting in the final round. The Rams downed the Wolves by a score of 10-1 and the Bisons by a 12-1 count, while the Foxes eliminated the Elks 6-0 and took the measure of Benny Peter's Loans 6-4.

The following are the scoring results of PeeWee elimination play:

Bisons 7 — Ken Doiron (4), Andy Matheson, Charlie Scott, Mike Grant. Caribous 3 — Louis Doherty (2), Billy Stavert.

Rams 10 — Bobby MacGuigan (4), Billy MacIntyre (2), Danny Taylor (2), Gord Bell, Doug Mobbs. Wolves 1 — Blair MacDonald.

Foxes 6 — David Roberts (2), Gary Campbell (3), Tommy Irwin. Elks 0.

Rams 12 — Doug Mobbs (2), Gord Bell (2), Bob McGuigan (2), Dave Brown (2), Paul Saunders (2), Merv MacKenzie, Greg Doyle. Bisons 1 — Ken Doiron.

Foxes 6 — Gary Campbell (5), Tommy Irwin. Lions 4 — Bobby MacMillan (2), R. Peters, J. Burke.

Rams 6 — Bobby MacGuigan (2), Gord Bell, Doug Mobbs, Dave Brown, P. Saunders. Foxes 4 — David Roberts (2), Gary Cooper, Gary Campbell.

In Bantam B Division play the Cougars took the title by downing the Terriers 5-1. W. MacCallum and W. Gay notched two goals each and Ian Waye one for the Cougars while David Murnaghan got Terriers lone tally.

Paperweight consolation play saw the Orioles blank the Ravens 4-0 to win the A Division, while the B Division winners were the Cranes who nipped the Doves 1-0. Other elimination play results in Paperweight consolation are as follows: — Ravens 2 — Gulls 1; Bluebirds 2 — Robins 1; Doves 2 — Owls 1; Orioles 1 — Crows 0; Loons 2 — Redbirds 1; Cranes 4 — Hawks 0; Ravens 4 — Bluebirds 2; Orioles 2 — Loons 1; Doves 4 — Budgies 2.

Pictou Wins Ch'ship

STELLARTON, N.S. (CP) — Richie DeCoste's early third period goal here Saturday gave East Pictou Rural High School a 5-4 victory over Charlottetown Legionaires in a sudden-death game in Maritime Juvenile hockey playoffs.

The victory sends East Pictou against the New Brunswick champions for the Maritime title.

DeCoste scored unassisted at 3:50 of the first period after East Pictou had blown a 3-0 lead, built up during the first 10 minutes of play.

Other East Pictou scorers were Steve MacDonald, Mason Johnstone, Hillard McDonald, and Gordie McKinnon.

Charlottetown marksmen were Bill Weatherby, Mike Kelly, James Kennedy and George McMillan.

Strands Win Tourney Held At Local Centre

The powerful New Waterford Strands, paced by the one-two punch of scoring aces Karl Marsh and Don McAulay, captured the Maritime Senior "C" basketball championship over the weekend, coming out on top of a four team tournament played at the Basilica Recreation Centre.

The powerful Cape Breton entry, defending Maritime champs, defeated Saint John 78-58 in the championship game after they had downed the Summerside RCAF, 85-55 in their other contest.

Charlottetown Celtics captured consolation honors with an exciting 64-60 win over the RCAF.

Leading New Waterford in their two wins were baseball star Karl Marsh, with 26 and 23 points and Don McAulay, who performed with Mount Allison in the Maritime Intercollegiate League. He dumped 25 points in the Strands first win and 16 in their second. The other big producer for the Strands was John King who collected 20 points in the championship game.

BIG SECOND HALF

The Cape Bretoners held a slim, 35-33 edge at half time, but put on the pressure in the second half, still concentrating on defence, to win by a 20-point margin.

One of the more exciting games of the day long tournament was the opening encounter; Charlottetown's 75-66 loss to Saint John. The Islanders held a 35-33 half time lead but couldn't keep up the powerful scoring pace of Saint John in the second half. Messner and McKay paced Saint John with 28 and 21 points while Art Strang was high for the Celtics with 19 points.

Championship game:

New Waterford: McNeill 6, Marsh 23, McAulay 16, Roberts 9, King 20, Steele 4 — 78.

Saint John: Messner 18, McKay 10, Fulton 18, Spragg 1, McLaughlin 5, Skinner 4, Cogswell 2 — 58.

Consolation Game:

Charlottetown: W. McLean 6, D. McLean 13, Fox 14, Scantlebury 4, Strang 10, Grant 4. Roach 6, Farrell 7 — 64.

RCAF Summerside: Urquhart 10, Rumfeldt 11, Duncan 4, White 6, Armstrong 9, Nurmi 4, Swazara 16 —— 60.

Game No. 1:

Saint John: Messner 28, McKay 21, Fulton 15, Spragg 3, McLaughlin 16, Sogswell 2 — 75.

Charlottetown: W. McLean 14, D. McLean 7, Farrell 7, Strang 19, Scantlebury 11, Fox 8 — 66.

Game No. 2

New Waterford: McNeill 16, Marsh 26, McAulay 25, Robarts 8, King 8, Larade 2 — 85.

RCAF Summerside: Swazara 6, Rumfeldt 10, Urquhart 23, Armstrong 6, Nurmi 4, Duncan 6 — 55.

Champoux Holds The Fort As Wings Shade Chicago

By TOM WILLIAMS

Toronto Shades Canadiens 2-1

By BILL MacDOUGALL

MONTREAL (CP)—As usual, Montreal Canadiens could count on goaltender Charlie Hodge. But they couldn't count on Frank Mahovlich.

Mahovlich, 26, the million-dollar left winger-turned-centre who was hardly worth two bits early in the National Hockey League season, came to life with a flying vengeance Saturday night.

The results: A 2-1 Toronto Maple Leafs victory over the Canadiens and a 1-1 tie in their best-of-seven Stanley Cup semi-final.

Until late in the season, coincidentally about the time Toronto coach Punch Imlach switched him from left wing to centre, Mahovlich's play was little but a big disappointment to the Leafs.

Then he started skating, digging and scoring, and climaxed his spurt with Saturday night's performance—a dazzling two-way exhibition that produced a goal and an assist.

Mahovlich was the best of a fired-up gang of Leafs whose tight defensive play tied the Montreal attack into knots and gave Hodge many an anxious moment.

HAD BUSY NIGHT

Hodge, whose story of climb from a forgotten minor-leaguer to Vezina Trophy winner has been told almost daily since the NHL season ended, had several tough ones among his 25 saves, including one eye-defying leg stop on a Mahovlich backhander.

The Leafs left immediately after the game for Toronto, the site Tuesday and Thursday nights of the series' third and fourth games. The Canadiens leave for Toronto today.

The Leafs built up a 2-0 lead in the first period on goals by Red Kelly and Mahovlich, then set up a defensive wall that only Montreal centre Jean Beliveau could crack, in the second period.

The Montreal captain also came the closest to tying the game in the last minute of play, but Toronto goaltender Johnny Bower's leg shot out from nowhere to block the close-in shot. The Canadiens pulled Hodge in favor of an extra attacker for the last few seconds of play, but it was a waste of time.

The three goals had a marked similarity. All were scored from 20 to 25 feet on hard, waist-high drives, the two Toronto goals from a little to the right of centre and the Montreal goal from a little to the left.

SUMMARY

First period — 1. Toronto, Kelly 1 (Mahovlich) 8:50; 2. Toronto, Mahovlich 1 (Kelly, Armstrong) 12:03. Penalties — Rousseau 1:05; Brewer 5:15, Mahovlich, Provost 12:27; Baun 13:27; Beliveau 14:17; Brewer 16:38.

Second period — 3. Montreal, Beliveau 1 (Ferguson, Geoffrion) 15:29. Penalties — Shack 10:45, 15:19; Brewer 17:41.

Third period — No scoring. Penalties — Ferguson, Brewer 5:48, Backstrom 13:21.

Saves:
Bower	7	11	4—22
Hodge	6	10	9—25

Attendance—14,755.

College Meeting Held Saturday

SACKVILLE, N.B. (CP) — Dr. A.F. Stewart of the University of New Brunswick Saturday was named president of the 12-member Maritime Intercollegiate Athletic Association for the second successive year at its annual meeting here.

Other officers include Jim Warner of the Nova Scotia Technical College, first vice-president; A. Snow of Acadia University, second vice-president, and Fred Kelly, Secretary-Treasurer.

The hockey conference will consist of 10 teams with the addition of the University of Moncton. The full interlocking schedule will be played with the first team declared champion. In previous years, the second-place club could challenge the top team if it had defeated it during the schedule.

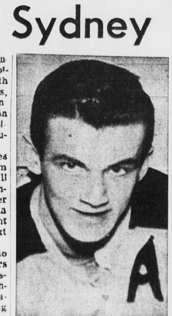
Junior Legion Hosting Sydney

Summerside Junior Legionaires, N.B.-P.E.I. champs following series' sweeps over North River and Moncton Geldarts, host the powerful Sydney Juniors at Civic Stadium tonight in the opening game of a best-of-five series for the Maritime Junior Hockey Championship.

The second game of the series will be played at Civic Stadium Tuesday night and the round will be completed in Sydney, beginning Thursday. The series winner will represent the Maritimes in a three team Junior tournament scheduled for Montreal next week.

Summerside, attempting to retain Maritime Junior honors for P.E.I. following the successful campaign of Old Spain Penguins, Charlottetown, last season, put an 11 game winning streak on the line tonight. The Legionaires wound up their Prince County Hockey League schedule with two victories, downed Borden Nationals in four straight semi-final playoff contests, took North River Juniors in three games and whipped Moncton Juniors in two straight games.

Sydney is expected to ice one of the strongest Junior squads to come out of Cape Breton in recent years. The team will be led by a number of players who performed with Sydney Academy, the Nova Scotia high school and Juvenile champs of two years ago. They are coached by "Corky" McInnis.



PAUL MacWILLIAMS

The visitors won the N.S. Junior crown by whipping Hoyt's Movers of Dartmouth, 10-2 and 7-3 in a best-of-three series. During the regular season they played in a Cape Breton Intermediate league.

Summerside downed an All Star team from the same league Hoyt's played in, 7-3, earlier this year and tied them in Dartmouth, 5-5, two weeks later. The Hoyt's team Sydney defeated is known to be equal if not stronger than the All-Star squad Summerside played, because following the completion of the Maritime Intercollegiate League schedule, Hoyt's added five players of top notch Maritime junior calibre.

Borden Ties Woodstock In Thriller At Stadium

SUMMERSIDE BUREAU OF THE GUARDIAN

When MacDonald's Borden Nationals travel to Woodstock next Saturday for the second game of a two-game total-goal series for the Maritime Intermediate "B" hockey crown they will be on even terms with the New Brunswickers.

Saturday night the Nationals, led by the brilliant play of defenceman Dale MacWilliams fought the Woodstock pucksters to a 9-all deadlock at Civic Stadium.

MacWilliams played a strong game behind the blueline throughout the sixty minutes of action plus scoring three goals and setting up a fourth. Other Borden snipers were Edgar MacDonald 2, Gerald Cutcliffe, Fred DesRoches, Willard Leard and Gabe Keough.

Bordon was playing minus two of its top players, Alan Andrews and Gord Cutcliffe, who didn't dress for the game.

One Woodstock line accounted for eight of the visiting team's nine goals. Darrel LeBlanc, a Moncton native who starred for UNB in the intercollegiate hockey circuit this year, was tops for Woodstock with a four goal effort.

Centreman Bun Veysey triggered a pair with the eighth marker going to Bob Hurry, a Charlottetonian who at one time played with Parkdale Royals before being transferred to Woodstock by his employers some four years ago.

Woodstock's ninth goal was fired by Winston Paul.

Penalties proved costly for the Nationals with the visitors scoring four times while the Island team was shorthanded. Woodstock also scored another goal while they were shorthanded. The Nationals capitalized on a Woodstock penalty for one of their nine goals.

Referee Spike Larrabie handed out a total of eight penalties, all minors, with the Nationals collecting five. Assisting him were linesmen Vance Harris and Benny Grady.

The second game of this series will get underway at 7:15 p.m. at the Woodstock arena. The Nationals will travel to the N.B. town by bus and seats will be available for anyone wishing to accompany the team.

Bulldogs Crowned

Hampshire Bulldogs won the Island Intermediate 'B' Championship when they edged MacLean's Souris Crossbones 2-1 at North River rink Saturday night. The Bulldogs won the best of three series two games straight.

B. Johnston and W. Watts scored for Hampshire while R. Jenkins fired the lone tally for the Souris squad.
