

NEWS of the WORLD in PICTURES

(NEA Cablephoto)
Whistles of harbor craft screamed and 50,000 spectators cheered, as pictured above, when the Cunard White Star Line's new Mauretania steamed from Liverpool, England, on her maiden voyage to New York. The 34,000-ton Mauretania, largest ship ever built in England, carries a cargo that includes $2,500,000 in gold and silver.

This gullible gull thought he had found a palsy-walsy when he flew over the British warship Seagull and spied the model gull that adorns the ship's flagstaff. So he settled down for a quiet chat, as pictured above.

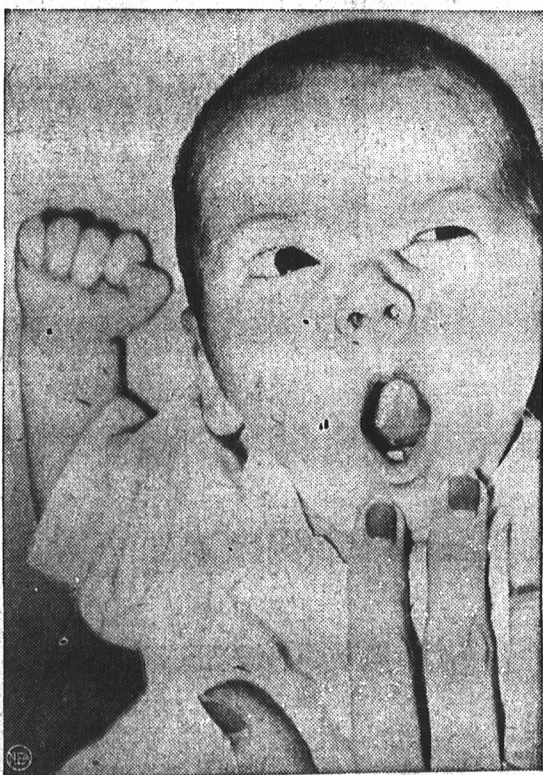

This photo taken at the Chatham Dockyard, shows the new British cruiser Euryalus entering the water during the recent launching ceremonies. The cruiser, which is the fifth ship to bear the name, displaces 5,450 tons and will be armed with 5.25 inch guns. The first vessel of this name fought in the Napoleonic Wars. Lady Camden, wife of the L.C.D. Lieutenant of Kent christened the ship.

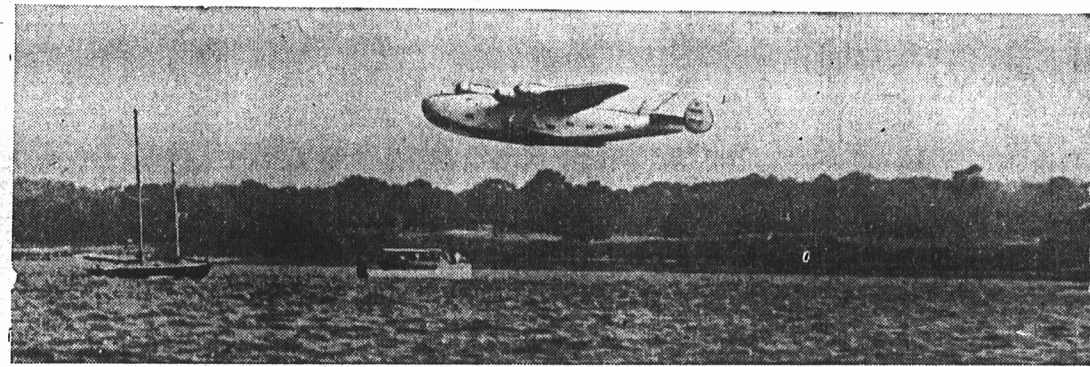

Here is an excellent photo of members of the newly formed Second Battalion, Queen's Westminster—the British "Civilian Army," marching to Westminster Abbey, London to attend service. The men are in civilian dress because they were not yet fully equipped.

Eluding Nazi police, 62-year-old Wotja Benes, former member of Czechoslovak Parliament, fled across border to Warsaw, Poland, as disorders flared in Bohemia - Moravia. He announced plans to join brother, ex-Czechoslovak President Eduard Benes, in U. S.

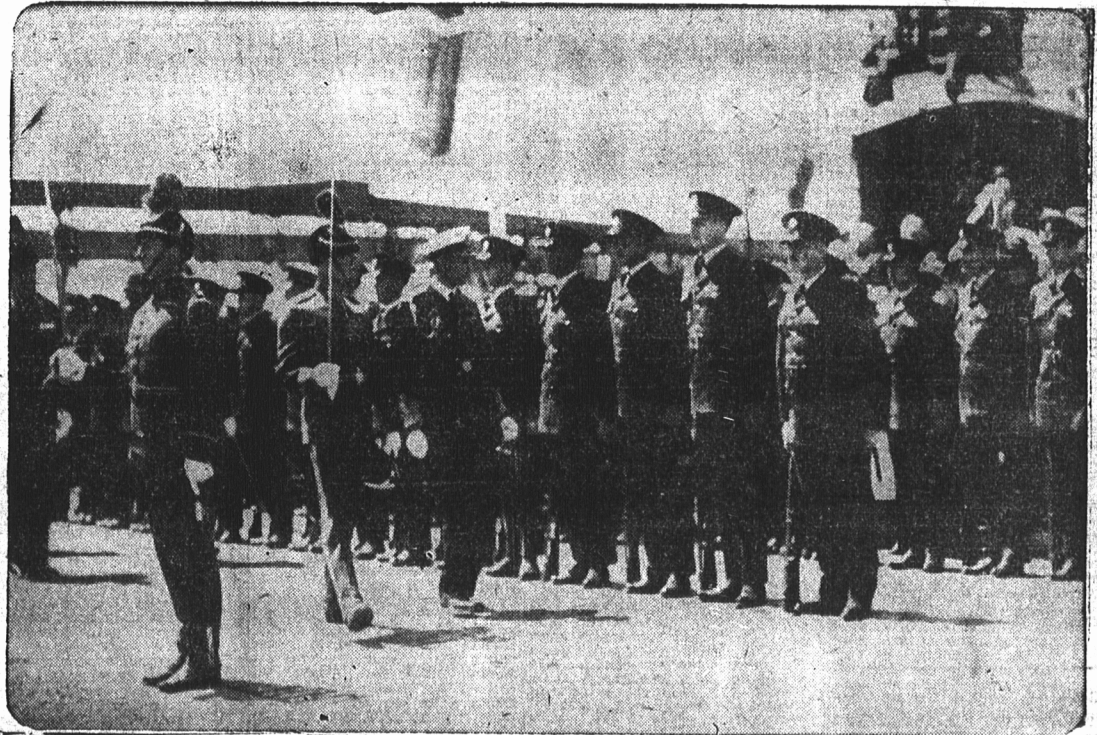

ABOVE: Rumors that sabotage caused the plane of Francisco Sarabia, Mexico's greatest ace, to crash in the Potomac River, Washington, killing him instantly, led to riotous anti-American demonstrations in Mexico City by students. Above, police and soldiers are shown suppressing one of the outbreaks.

The Atlantic Clipper takes off from Port Washington, L. I., on her first passenger flight. Today's marvel, tomorrow's commonplace — another of Man's longtime dreams come true — Regular Passenger Flights between America and Europe! Aboard the Pan American Airways' proud Atlantic Clipper

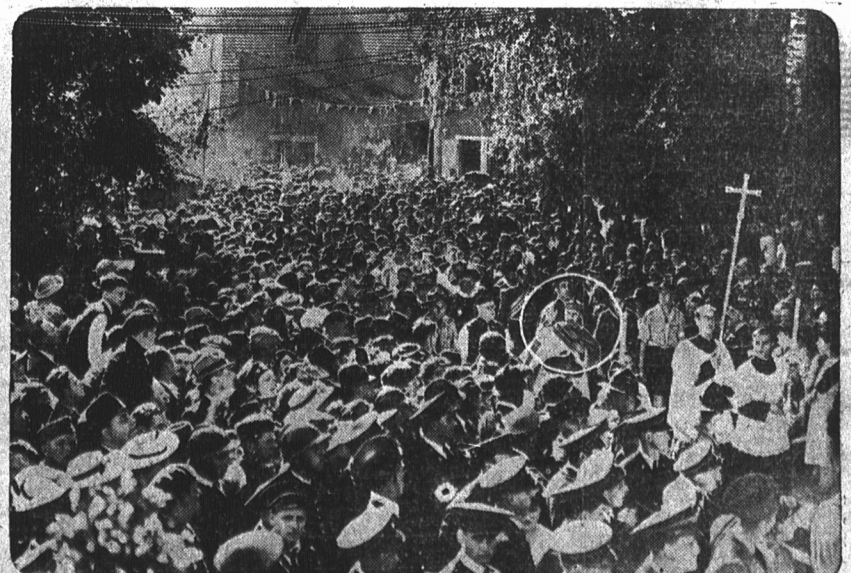

BELOW: Francisco Sarabia's body, flown to Mexico City in a U. S. Army "flying fortress," lies in state before the Presidential Palace. Thousands filed past for a last glimpse of Mexico's great flier, after his death in Washington, D. C.

King George reviewing the Guard of Honor at Halifax.

Repulsed by tear gas barrage, laid down by deputy sheriffs, pickets flee scene of attack on street car, carrying office workers to strikebound Allis-Chalmers plant at West Allis, Wis. Pickets smashed car windows, roughed nonstrikers. Thirteen were injured in rioting.

Here are impressive photos of the important religious ceremony that took place in Domremy, France, recently, when the church there was advanced to the rank of Basilica by Pope Pius XII. Roderigue Cardinal Villeneuve, Archbishop of Quebec, officiated as the Pope's Legate and in (top) this picture showing the crowd attending the ceremony, Cardinal Villeneuve (in circle) can be seen at the head of the procession. (left) This picture shows the Cardinal signing the Golden Book after visiting the house where Joan of Arc was born.