Present Reports At Annual Meeting Summerside C. W. L.

—Following is the report of the secretary presented at the annual meeting of the Summerside subdivision of the Catholic Women's League held on Friday, April 18, at the Knights of Columbus Home with a large attendance. During the year ten regular meetings and five executive meetings were held.

Our treasurer reports a good balance on hand with all National Diocesan and other obligations attended to.

"Social Service: Throughout the past year, our convener, Mrs. Frank Arsenault, with a good committee helping her, has accomplished a great deal toward social service. Approximately thirty visits were made to the poor and needy, and three grocery showers were held and distributed among them. The League provided milk, clothing, school books and groceries as needed. Five children were outfitted for First Communion and cod liver oil pills were provided for the Sisters and children at school. A box of clothing for Christmas and a sum of money voted for the Kamen tree.

"Guides and other organizations: Our convener, Mrs. Murray Bennett, now residing elsewhere, reported the League sponsoring two companies, the second and fourth, and one Brownie pack. Money was contributed to aid these companies in their year's work. There are fifty-four Guides and twenty-four Brownies, with two Lieutenants and one Tawny Owl. Our Brownies and Guides paraded before Queen Elizabeth during her visit to Charlottetown, and about a month ago one of our Guides, Miss Patricia Watson, attained the highest award in Guiding by receiving her Gold Cord.

"The League members throughout the year chaperoned dances held at the K. of C. Home by the Newman Club and they also helped the Knights of Columbus during their carnival for the boys' camp.

"Sick Convener: Our convener, Mrs. Millie Gallant has been a very active convener, sending twenty get-well cards and seven sympathy cards. Mrs. Gallant and her committee visited all sick members and made about sixty-four visits during the year.

"Membership: We have a paid membership of seventy members including twenty-seven new members, our convener, Mrs. James Linkletter reports.

"Magazine: Mrs. George Olskamp, our magazine convener, reports sixteen paid up subscriptions to the League Magazine.

"Publicity: Mrs. Josie Murphy, our press convener, reports all meetings and other activities were duly reported in all our local papers and the Charlottetown Guardian. The convener extends sincere appreciation to all press for courtesy.

"Education: The convener, Mrs. Leo Wood reports progress along educational lines. The usual prizes were presented to the High School and St. Mary's Academy, also prizes for Catechism for the Sunday School and a scholarship awarded to the Musical Festival Association. Money was also awarded to a boy and girl to further their education.

"Programme and entertainment: As convener of programme, Mrs. Milton Doyle reports that lunch was served at eight of our regular meetings and sixty members served in the lunch committee. A social hour and card game took place at the end of most of our meetings. At practically all our regular meetings Reverend Joseph McLeod spoke words of encouragement and advice to us. At the end of the school year a banquet and dance was held at the K. of C. Home for the graduates of St. Mary's Academy. During the Provincial convention held in August, a banquet was held at Robson's Restaurant, on Thursday afternoon tea was served at the K. of C. Home and at the Friday evening session and instrumental music was provided. A card party was held at the K. of C. Home during the month of May. Mrs. James Pendergast visited our meeting during April and outlined the organization at the National convention.

"The convener wishes to express sincere appreciation to all members who helped during the year.

"Citizenship: Our convener, Mrs. D. F. McNeil, reports we are represented in the following societies: Red Cross, Children's Aid, Ladies' Aid of Prince of Wales Hospital, Local Association of Girl Guides, Home and School Group, League of Mercy, T. B. League, and the St. Dunstan's Scholarship for Girls.

"During the year members assisted in drives for the Red Cross, Salvation Army and Cancer League.

"A Mass is offered up each month for the living and deceased members in our League. In November Masses were said for the souls in purgatory and the members of the parish who have made the supreme sacrifice in both World Wars. On Armistice Day we placed a wreath at the foot of the monument for our fellow service men.

"Flowers were provided for the altar at Easter time.

"In August we were honoured in having the Diocesan Convention here with our National President, Miss Isabel Hutton in attendance.

"During the year we sold lottery tickets in aid of the Charlottetown Hospital.

"The following organizations received donations from our League during the year: Catholic Girls

Scholarship Fund, Sacred Heart program, Knights of Columbus, Sisters of Martha Building Fund, St. Paul's Boys' School, League of Mercy tea, T. B. League, Sisters of St. Mary's Academy, Precious Blood, Clergy, Our Lady's Missionaries, National Scholarship, and the Dental Clinic.

"The League helped sponsor a picture to pay for the Convent projector and also held a rummage sale, a collection, a tag day, and lotteried off two articles as a means of raising money.

"The members also organized and served a Communion Breakfast in basement of the church for the Holy Name Society.

"All of which is respectfully submitted.

Frances Perry
Recording Secretary,
President's Report

"As your retiring president I take this opportunity of expressing my thanks to all members for the wonderful spirit of co-operation I received from each and every one of you in making my term of office the success it has been, and I hope that in some small way I have helped in this success.

"I would like to express my sincere thanks to our spiritual director, Rev. Father MacLeod, for his help, guidance and encouragement throughout the year, and I may say, that without his timely suggestions I am sure that our secretary's report would not be what it is today.

"To all officers and conveners my thanks. A better job could not have been done by anyone. Your duties and tasks at all times were important factors in the smooth operation of our sub-division and you have performed them in a manner that I as your president feel justly proud of.

"I would like to extend special thanks to those who have taken part in any special work, to all the conveners and committees.

"During the year as you have heard in our record-secretary's report we have had a lot of demands for social service. I would like to ask my successor to continue this noble work. We all know it requires a lot of self sacrifice but should not be regarded as a burden but a noble work of God, for are we not our brothers' help; definitely we are, to a large extent; if we feel that we are fulfilling our duty in this very serious task, then let us offer encouragement and example to those little children especially, also to poor parents less fortunate than ourselves. Let us visit those homes, do not have to smother right down the line, as you are teaching your children catechism, are you spending your money to the best advantage, etc. Absolutely not, but let us turn a friendly call around to the real purpose of our visit with just a little tact and a whole lot of gentleness. In just one example, are we not repaid as we sit in our pews the morning of first Communion when we ask ourselves, 'What part did I play in preparation of some of these children for this, the most joyful day of her or his life?'

"In the past year our sub-division again sponsored the Girl Guide movement which needs no explanation. I would like to ask all mothers to encourage their girls to join the Girl Guides, and share in this wonderful work of community spirit. As true Girl Guides we always an outstanding member of any community. So let us stand behind our Guides and Brownies, also their bodies, and help them in every way we can.

W.C.T.U. NOTES

DR. KAGAWA SAYS:—

"After almost fifteen years of life in the slums I am convinced that two things are responsible for all the sin and shame which reign there—liquor and social diseases. Liquor is one of Japan's deadliest foes and is certainly the most costly sin there, as it is in the whole world today. It reduces men to animals without will, morality, or the ability to think clearly. A man who drinks, automatically divorces himself from life and from God, and makes himself a prey to poverty and all temptations.

"I am glad that in America people are fighting the liquor traffic, as many of us are doing in Japan." Toyohiko Kagawa, widely recognized as the foremost Christian leader of Japan, has never been content merely to tell his people about Christ. In an effort to be a living example of Christianity, he lived and worked for almost fifty years in the Shinjuku slums of Kobe. He shared his six-foot-square hut with anyone who would accept his help, and with drunks, syphilitics, criminals, and from his many years of close experience with the downtrodden and oppressed he came to regard liquor as the most dangerous enemy of his people.

In Shinjuku he was surrounded by drink-enamored men, and he exhausted every resource to help them. It was an almost hopeless task, but it taught him how completely the human body can be destroyed by drink, how men can be reduced to a complete state of depravity and poverty through the use of alcohol. From 80 to 90 per cent of the criminals he found were the matured harvest of alcohol and sexual sin, and growing poverty was the inevitable consequence in a country where the people spent fifteen times as much money for liquor as they did for education.

He could not stand and watch. His Christian principles drove him into a fight against the menace of alcohol in Japan. He has been the forthright leader of a crusade for the total abstinence that is continually winning more and more adherents. His biographer, William Axling, reports that before the war, fifty-three villages had already adopted prohibition and that more than two million people had joined temperance organizations.

The influence of Kagawa's personality and character upon this movement is immeasurable. The people of America, who received him with great enthusiasm, in the 150 cities he visited during his recent tour, as well as all peoples of the Christian world, realize that he is more than a minister more than a social reformer. He is the spiritual and moral leader of a gigantic religious reformation that is overcoming the paganism of his native land. Through his example and teaching, his people are finding a virtuous, healthful, truly Christian life.

"THE SURE WAY"
Grace Noll Crowell

Today I saw a strange advertisement. On which some bold distiller's mind had spent much time and thought. It pictured a bright road.

Leading ahead, and at the right it showed a signpost marking out the upward way. Advising men to follow it. The day seemed made for high adventure.

On the sky a jeweled crown was pictured. Lifting high.

Against the springtime clouds. A signpost read:

"The Sure Way," pointing on ahead.

I thought at first that some evangelist was calling men to follow Christ. The gist of the whole layout breathed of heaven.

The directions to the sure way being given.

When, lo, I saw it was a liquor ad. And I who for a moment had been a Christian.

To see the Christian's highroad pictured there, I felt suddenly an impotent despair. That evil mocks God in this darkened age.

Through lifted billboards and the printed page, and yet I know He will have none of it!

Soon, soon, God grant the dark way may be lit with the white flame of Thy anger. Bolt the curse.

That seemingly today grows worse and worse, Make stumbling mankind cognizant today.

That there is only one sure "upward way."
