N.Y. Stocks Have Biggest Day Since Oct. 26
NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved to within shouting distance of a bull market high last week by running its string of weekly advances to six.

At week's end The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was at the highest level in a year.

The week's volume soared to 18,760,460 shares, most since the week ended last Oct. 26.

This helped boost July turnover to 6,496,464 shares, the heaviest for any month in 3 1/2 years and the greatest for any July since 1932.

An estimated $28,000,000,000 was added to the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange in July, based on the rise in The AP average in that month.

Last week, The AP 6-stock average rose $1.10 to $183.80. During July it rose $7.70. An average rise equivalent to that would put the average at the all-time bull market high of $191.50 reached April 6, 1956.

At week's end the Dow-Jones industrial average stood at 505.43, another new high for the year, and not far off from its closing high of 521.05.

The five most active issues this week on the New York Stock Exchange were:

Bethlehem, up 3/4 at 46 on 227-300 shares; General Motors, up 1/4 at 44 1/4; U.S. Steel, up 1/4 at 70 1/4; American Motors, off 1/4 at 14 1/4; and Studebaker-Packard, up 1/2 at 5 1/2.

Steel Men Pin Hopes On Autos
CLEVELAND (AP)—"A slow and somewhat shaky uptrend in metal-working profits is beginning."

That was the report today from the magazine Steel, which predicts the fourth quarter will show significant "though sluggish" improvement.

The price increases announced by steelmakers last week will not stop a gradual uptrend in demand, said Steel.

The third quarter probably will

Someone Steals Royal Standard
GEN-SOME ONE STEALER GOODWOOD, England (Reuters)—Someone stole the Royal Standard from Arundel Castle Thursday night and the Duke of Norfolk isn't a bit amused.

The standard disappeared during a "rather hectic" ball while the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh slept peacefully at the castle.

They have been staying at Arundel as guests of the Duke of Norfolk during the horse racing season in this southern England town.

As the annual Goodwood ball wore on, "some of the lads and lassies were in pretty high spirits," a spokesman at the castle said.

"They were tobogganing down the steep bank of the castle keep (tower) on tea trays."

The Duke of Norfolk, he added, "is exceedingly angry" about the standard's disappearance.

HAMILTON (CP)—A small Princess Margaret captured the hearts of thousands Friday in a two-hour visit to this steel city, splashed with sunlight and ceremony.

A crowd of more than 20,000 from many parts of Western Ontario jammed civic stadium to see her present new colors to the Highland Light Infantry of Canada, a Galt, Ont., militia unit of which she is colonel-in-chief.

The cheers of spectators mingled with the skirl of bagpipes and at one stage drowned out the regimental drill commands.
