

Red Diplomats See Atomic Plant But Ban On Photos

By JOHN E. BIRD
 CHALK RIVER, Ont. (CP)—Diplomats from 12 Communist countries expected Canada's atomic energy project here Wednesday but Canadian photographers were prevented from "shooting" their tour of the multi-million-dollar project.

Russian Ambassador Dmitri S. Chuvpinn, Czechoslovakian Minister Bedrich Hruska and Yugoslavian Ambassador Obrad M. Cislavski were among the 22 diplomats from 12 Communist countries who visited the plant after attending ceremonies marking the start of construction on Canada's first atomic power project.

The photographers, including newspaper, motion picture and CBC television cameramen, shot pictures of the sod-turning ceremony at the site of the experimental power plant, three miles south of the Ontario Hydro Electric Commission's Desjardins generating station on the Ottawa river, the site is 150 miles north of Ottawa and 20 miles north of here.

Officials of Atomic Energy of Canada Ltd., crown company which operates the project, said however, that no photographers were invited to visit the plant during the tour by the diplomats and 250 members of the Toronto Board of Trade. It was the first time represent a t i v e s of Communist countries had inspected the plant.

One official of the crown company said that before the sod-turning ceremony, photographers were told no pictures would be permitted during the tour. It would have been impossible for plant officials to control a large number of photographers touring the plant.

For this reason, the official said, it was decided not to allow anyone to take pictures.

The irate photographers protested the only reason they had come to Chalk River from the sod turning ceremony was to take pictures of the three Communist diplomats who toured the project. They said they were being treated unfairly.

P.E.I. United Baptists Hear Federation Secretary Speak

Dr. T. B. McDormand, newly appointed general secretary of the Baptist Federation of Canada, and Miss Laura Bain, Missionary to India were the principle speakers at the fall district meetings of the United Baptist as they gathered in the beautiful surroundings of the recently renovated Fairview Baptist Church, Tuesday, September 18.

Dr. McDormand who was a native of Bear River, Nova Scotia, was educated at Acadia University and Emmanuel College, and has served as a pastor in the Maritime United Baptist Convention, The Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec, and the Baptist Union of Western Canada. In introducing him Rev. Harold Milton Charlottetown, said that Dr. McDormand presented Baptist from Newfoundland to Vancouver Island, and, as well, is a member of the executive of the Baptist World Alliance. The newly appointed General Secretary, spoke briefly in the morning session expressing his pleasure in visiting the island and of enjoying the hospitality of the people. He also outlined the organization of the Federation, and spoke of his duties as its first permanent officer. He said that the Federation is a unifying, coordinating body promoting home and Foreign missions and enter the work of the Kingdom of God as it is carried on by Baptists in Canada.

At the evening session Dr. McDormand spoke on the principles which have distinguished Baptist from other Christian bodies. These included: the Lordship of Jesus Christ; the priesthood of all believers; Dr. McDormand said that he was a denominationalist and that he believed in denominationalism. He said that the genius of Protestantism lies in its diversity. Baptists should have the courage to be themselves.

Miss Laura Bain spoke to the women's session in the afternoon telling of her work in India. Miss Bain told of what had been accomplished and of what was yet to be done. She said that there was still work for Canadian Baptist to relieve the missionaries of some of their burdensome tasks.

Leadership that had been developed over the years and was now being passed on to the younger generation. The morning session began with a brief but impressive devotional service led by Rev. B. R. Jones of New Glasgow. Delegates were welcomed to the church by the pastor Rev. Owen Cochran. Committes were appointed from the chair. Resolutions: Mr. J. H. McPhail, Mr. C. B. Jelly, Mrs. Walter Dixon. Nominating: Dr. E. J. Barras, Mr. S. H. Burhoe, Mr. Elvin McLure. Dr. C. A. Britten reported this as a peak year in denominational giving of Baptists on the island, the total being 7,530 he also reported that the support of the Moncton Bible School had decreased. In adopting Dr. Britten's report a 10 per cent increase in denominational giving was accepted in principle.

Rev. Keith Hobson, Summerside told of the plans of the Baptist Board of Evangelism for extensive campaigns throughout the Maritimes in the coming year. Rallies

NOT READING METHOD ONLY
 Now that the tumult and shouting aroused by Dr. Rudolph Fietch's book on Johnny's reading failure has died down, we see that the problem is as acute as ever. For no method can assure success in teaching a child to read and read the school subject and the key to self-education after school days are over. It is also the key to one of the most permanent and reliable pleasures in life.

Fortunately most children come to school with a great eagerness to read. They have seen their parents and brothers and sisters reading with enjoyment and they can hardly wait to do likewise. If they have parents who have indulged, even in a measure, their insatiable demand to "read read"—to them, they already recognize a good number of words. For these children boredom, and not the wrong reading method, may prove a good idea. I believe to keep children repeating one "Story" until they are word perfect. Attention and interest in the reading process can be better achieved through a new story that contains the unmastered words.

This however, requires more reading material than many rural districts provide. One teacher told me she is helping her slow-learners in the upper grades cut out pictures of children, pets, etc. from magazines, print "stories" under them, and make booklets for the first and second graders. The public library through its branches can often help with material.

THEIR OWN PACE
 The rapid readers are a joy to teach but take almost as much patience as the slow learners. A one-room, two or three room rural school can often give them the best chance to go at their own pace. For them enough reading matter of interest is an absolute necessity. There should be scientific books as well as fiction. The should be allowed to browse among the books meant for much older pupils.

But what about the children who lag behind the others in reading? Be in no hurry to label them "slow learners." Many children are slow to walk, slow to talk—and slow to learn new skills. In their own good time they may catch up to the average and indeed may be among the brightest.

And there are the frightened, "insecure" children. I believe it is now an accepted fact that an unhappy child may retreat into his shell and simply refuse to learn. It is a competitive world—but pushing, prodding and pitting one child against another has no place in the lower grades. A kind and understanding teacher allows small children to be at ease.

And sometimes—more often than we think—physical defects account for reading failures. Poor hearing may go undetected for a long time—and imperfect sight presents a special danger—because to many people 20-20 vision indicates there is nothing wrong with the eyesight. Yet this is not true. In his column, "Medical Speak- ing" Dr. Herman N. Bundesen states, "Frequently after a brief screening test, a person will be informed that he has 20-20 vision. All this means is that you can see at a distance of 20 feet what normal vision sees at that distance. —The 20-20 verdict doesn't indicate how good your sight is for reading and other closeup work. how good is your sidevision and dark adaptation and how much teamwork there is between your two eyes. A study of 160,000 Texas children recently showed that 53.4 per cent of them had 20-20 vision and yet lacked the ability to use both eyes properly."
