In Line With Fashion

Dress designers decide on certain fashion trends for the season or are influenced by a certain era, a play or a movie. Once the clothes are completed and shown, they leave it up to the women to fit into them!

Sometimes it takes a little doing, too, as some of us have discovered when struggling into the ubiquitous "sheath". Unfortunately, we're not all made on these long, slender lines the designers dream about!

FOUNDATION GARMENTS

But just as a wide range of cosmetics enables us to wear almost any color, so there are new girdles, foundations and bras that can be depended on to keep pace with outer fashion and to make things easier for us. This season most of us will find the long-line bras and the high-top girdles will help in wearing the new sheath dresses and the high-waisted Empire silhouettes.

Firmly entrenched in evening fashions, especially the holidays, is the dinner dress with a deep plunging back neckline. That, too, is taken care of nicely by new bra construction as well as by handsome, low back, all-in-one foundations.

If you're a one-piece garment devotee, the new models will smooth the midriff, lift the bust-line and bare the back without any pressure or discomfort.

And what luscious colors you'll find in the new foundation garment line - up! Such shades as pastel red, silvery gray, taupe, apricot, rose beige, turquoise are all there, along with the usual black, white and navy.

There are beautiful trims, too. Ribbon appliques, embroidery, brocade for an exquisitely cut long sheath, demure with its tiny puffed sleeves. The drawing look at the high-waisted back is marked by two pink silk roses.

lace, are all used effectively.

COLOR AND STYLING

One of the nicest compliments paid to American women is the variety in color and styling of her foundation garments. For it assumes that each of us considers a foundation garment wardrobe as essential as our regular outer wardrobe—which indeed it is! It assumes, too, that we don't wear the same garments over and over—that we actually wash them as frequently as we know we should.

Take care when washing the colorful models. Don't worry if they "bleed" a bit; just wash each color separately. And wash them frequently. It's the acid perspiration and soil that affects the delicate fibres, not the soap, the water or the handling!

A what is to be held Dec. 28th at the home of Mrs. Alyre P. Arsenault. Committee in charge for the evening will be Mrs. Amand and Mrs. Alyre Arsenault also Mrs. Theodore Gallant.

It was decided to treat the school children, also to buy gifts for the teachers at Christmas. Roll call to be answered at next meeting by "A New Year's Resolution". There will also be a sale of lunches.

Members voted money to buy a gift for a girl recently married, and also to buy cod liver oil capsules for the school children.

HOUSEHOLD HINT

To keep the family overshoes neat and out of the way, also properly mated, fasten a metal towel bar to a wall, then attach spring clothespins with thin wire—one clothespin to hold each pair of boots.

Before hanging the boots, though, clean them with soap or detergent suds, to prevent soiling the wall, also to have them ready for the next wearing.

ST. CATHERINES W. I.

The monthly meeting of the St. Catherine's W. I. met at the home of Mrs. W. R. Shaw, Charlottetown, on December 10. The president presided and the meeting opened by repeating the Creed in unison, followed by singing "Hark The Herald Angels Sing."

Roll call was answered by the exchange of Christmas gifts. There were seven members and three visitors present. Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Correspondence was read and discussed.

A "Get-Well" card was signed by each member and sent to a

Workshop Patterns
by Ruth Wyeth Speers

This Santa on the roof is starting down his own private chimney with his pack of gifts for all the family. The piece is cut out of a panel of hardboard with enough left over to make the words Merry Christmas in letters nearly a foot high. By using the pattern available to readers, no special skill is needed. All one has to do is to tape the pattern to the material and trace the saw lines and spaces for the realistic colors. The pattern is complete in all details including mounting direction. The price of the pattern is $1.50. It will be sent by first class mail if 10 cents is enclosed for the extra postage. CHERRY VALLEY W. I.

The December meeting of the Cherry Valley Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. George Hayden on Tuesday evening, Nov. 6th, with the president, Mrs. Bennett MacIsaac presiding.

Meeting opened with the Ode, followed by the Creed in unison. 11 members responded to roll call by an exchange of Christmas gifts and a gift for both Orphanages.

Minutes of previous meeting were read and approved. The treasurer reported $41.06 on hand. Several "thank-you" cards were read for sick treats received.

It was decided to purchase flannel blankets for each Orphanage rather than Indian blankets. It was moved by Mrs. Ed Macdonald, seconded by Mrs. Malcolm Irving that each member subscribe to the Institute News. On motion of Mrs. John MacIsaac, seconded by Mrs. Lewis Hayden, the treasurer, Mrs. Russell Ings is to send $5 to Springhill Disaster Fund.

A guessing contest conducted by Mrs. Stirling Ings caused much fun, the prize going to Mrs. Bennett MacIsaac with Mrs. George Hayden receiving the consolation. Collection for the evening amounted to 75 cts. One new member, Miss Mariell, joined.

Next meeting is to be held on Thursday evening, January 3rd at the home of Mrs. Ivan Docherty when roll call will be answered by a "New Year's Resolution". The card parties are to resume in the school on Tuesday evening, January 8th.

On motion of Mrs. Russell Ings, meeting adjourned. A delicious luncheon was served by Mrs. Hayden, assisted by her daughters Misses Beverly and Sandra and several Institute members. An enjoyable social period was then enjoyed by all present.

member who is ill.

Mrs. F. W. Stretch and Mrs. Alex MacQuarrie gave a very interesting report on the Leadership Course which they attended.

The Birthday Box was opened and the sum of $400 realized. It was moved and seconded to send flowers and candy to the sick and shut-ins in the district for Christmas. Roll call for the coming year is to be answered by a current event.

Mrs. Ralph Darrach is in charge of programme for next meeting. Meeting adjourned and a dainty lunch was served by the hostess.
