

HEY STUDENT WRITERS!

CAMPUS CANADA WANTS YOU!

Campus Canada magazine is offering student writers a great opportunity to become published writers.

If you are studying Journalism or writing for a student publication and are interested in getting published before you graduate, we are offering you the opportunity to submit story ideas to Campus Canada, the university and college magazine. If your idea is fresh, exciting and of interest to our readers, we will publish your story in Campus Canada, and pay you our regular freelance rate. We're looking for stories on any aspects of student life, amusing or serious.

Campus Canada is published four times a year (Sept./Oct., Nov./Dec., Feb., Mar./April).

This is a great opportunity to earn some extra money and beef up your portfolio by getting published in a national magazine!

For more information, please contact Sarah Moore, managing editor, at 287 MacPerson Ave., Toronto, Ont., M4V 1A4. Tel: (416) 928-2909, Fax (416) 928-1357.
